It has been said that the world needs fewer bullets and more bread—less of the lion and the eagle on the standards and more of the dove. The first "Peace Society" was organized on a Christmas morning long, long ago, and this resolution was passed unanimously: "Peace on earth good-will towards men."

The Plain Truth

Is good enough for Hood's Sarsaparilla—there is no need of embellishment or sensationalism. Simply what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, that tells the story of its merit. If you have never realized its benefits a single bottle will convince you it is a good medicine.

The highest praise has been won by HOOD'S PILLS for their easy, yet efficient action.

Biliousness Cured.

GENTLEMEN,—I have used Burdock Blood Bitters for biliousness and find it the best remedy for this complaint. I used several other remedies but they all failed to do me any good. However, it required only two bottles of B. B. B. to cure me completely, and I can recommend it to all.

Yours truly,

Why you take Cold and Cough.

Generally caused by exposure to cold, wet feet, sitting in a draught, coming from hot and crowded places, in thin dress, or wearing damp clothes, stockings, or any other cause tending to check suddenly the perspiration. The result produces inflammation of the lining membrane of the lungs or throat, and this causes phlegm or matter, which nature tries to throw off by expectoration. In many cases she is unable to do so without assistance, and this is Why you use Allen's Lung Balsam.

FRANCE'S TROUBLES.

She Is Fuming Over Egyptian, Austrian and Home Affairs.

PARIS, Jan. 31.—This has been a very exciting week, says Jacques St. Cere in The New York Herald. M. Develle, Minister of Foreign Affairs, has been passing through panics of which the public has had no idea.

Besides the Panama Canal scandal the Ministers have been busy with foreign affairs. We have had two things weighing heavily on us—the first was the affair with England, the second the affair with Austria.

England, as you know, has taken a position in Egypt directly contrary to treaties made with Europe, and in which France is a co-signatory. It is quite evident that in the discussion with Prince Abbas, the Khedive, the question is not as to mere Ministerial changes, but as to whose hand shall finally grasp Egypt. It is no longer a question of a protectorate, but of annexation pure and simple. Besides, we want to know whether France can tolerate such an illegal proceeding.

England speaks of the "interests of civilization." The question is are the "interests of civilization" really in the game? It is clear that the English occupation of Egypt is absolutely contrary to the desires and wishes of the Egyptian population, as has been proved by the demonstration at Cairo. Are not all the treaties regulating the Egyptian question and making her forever the vassal of Turkey in force? England cannot by herself tear up all these treaties.

There is now an interchange of notes between the two countries, and they have taken on a sharp character. France, who has right on her side, is now beginning to understand that she made an error in not entering Egypt in 1881. England, who is strong in the right of possession, will not even think of evacuation. Because Lord Rosebery, the British Minister for Foreign Affairs, has strong German sympathies it is possible that the hand of Germany may be seen in this aggressive political move of England.

The same reflection may be made as regards the quarrels sought by Austria this week. Count Hoyos, the Austrian Ambassador here, has reproached France with the articles appearing in the Paris newspapers, alleging that they were injurious to Austria. Count Hoyos, who has now been eight years in France, knows that the Government can do nothing in this matter. There are no press coercion laws in France.

It was thought at first that the complaints were not serious, but Count Hoyos has returned twice to the charge, demanding the second time that apologies be made, when he know the prudent character of Austrian diplomacy.

No one can believe that such a move was inspired by Austria. There must be other influences at work, and it is thought that they are German. This is the belief in France, where public opinion is always inclined to decide an accusation against the neighboring empire. But what we must emphasize, and which we beg the citizens of the great American Republic to believe, is that no provocation has come from France, which is desirous of peace.

From the very beginning of that sad Panama affair France has been showered with insults from the press of every land which does not discriminate between the guilty few and the great mass of honest Frenchmen. Is it necessary to protest against such injustice?

France wants peace. France is in a bad condition interiorly, and yet from all sides comes a bitter attack upon her.

Rescued from Starvation.

CAMBRIDGE, Md., Jan. 31.—After a seven hours' battle with floating ice the steamer Gudgeon finally reached Chincoteague Island yesterday afternoon with a supply of food for the 3000 islanders who have been cut off from all communication with the mainland for two weeks. The steamer was badly damaged by the ice. Had communication with the island been cut off for a day or two longer the consequences would have been disastrous. As it was, many persons had suffered for the want of food, fuel, and milch cows had been killed to meet the pressing necessity. Some persons had not eaten a mouthful for two days and a number of others had existed for several days on bread alone.

They Must Not Die.

It is simply an outrage to let young people die who are attacked with pulmonary troubles and incipient consumption, when Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil will save them. It should be shouted from the house tops that supposed incurable consumptives can be cured by the use of this extraordinary preparation. The rebuilding process commences in the system the moment the Emulsion is taken. It is curious to watch the effects upon emaciated persons, who begin to fill out and make new blood as often as Miller's Emulsion is administered. In an incredibly short time cadaverous looking patients again look natural and healthy. In big bottles, 50c. and $1, at all Drug Stores.

Now is the Time.

In this the season of coughs, colds, asthma, bronchitis and other throat and lung complaints, it is well to be provided with a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup which effectually cures all such diseases, and that very promptly and pleasantly. Price 25 and 50c. Sold by all druggists.

Pain from indigestion, dyspepsia, and too hearty eating, is relieved at once by taking one of Carter's Little Liver Pills immediately after dinner. Don't forget this.

Back-Ache.

Back-ache is caused by sick kidneys. Dodd's Kidney Pills will remove it. By their peculiar action on the kidneys, they impart activity and benefit the system by purifying the blood. You cannot have pure blood with disordered kidneys; health's existence depends upon their natural condition; they are the governors of the system. Continual disorder results in kidney consumption, which is Bright's disease.

For Colds and Sore Throat.

SIRS,—We use Hagyard's Yellow Oil in our family for colds and sore throat and it is excellent. My sister had asthma since childhood, but on trying Yellow Oil for if she soon was cured.

MISS LIZZIE CHAPELLE, Bald in, Ont.

A Sensible Man.

Would use Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs. It is curing more cases of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup and all Throat and Lung Troubles, than any other medicine. The proprietor has authorized any druggist to give you a Sample Bottle FREE to convince you of the merit of this great remedy. Large bottles 50c. and $1.

If sick headache is misery, what are Carter's Little Liver Pills if they will positively cure it? People who have used them speak frankly of their work. They are small and easy to take.

Worms cause serious sickness. Dr. Low's Worm Syrup destroys and expels all kinds of worms quickly and surely.

Oh! What Beautiful Hands.

Dyer's Jelly of Cucumber and Roses will cure chapped hands and make them soft and smooth. Try it. Druggists keep it. W. A Dyer & Co., Montreal.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

HOUSE DRESSES.

Two Costumes Which Are Very Attractive.

The figure at the left in the accompanying engraving wears a pretty costume of olive brown cloth with velvet sleeves. The puffed sleeves and the narrow vest are of dark green velvet and the plastron is of cream colored surah. The trimming used, both the passementerie and the marabout is black. The plastron is slightly pleated and is bordered by a narrow band of velvet, which clasps at the waist and lends the appearance of a vest. The standing collar is of cream colored surah and is partly covered by the feather trimming. There are tight fitting under sleeves.

The costume at the right is of navy blue cheviot, set off with black silk passementerie, and having a vest of salmon colored silk. The bottom of the skirt has a balayeuse, and is trimmed with a double gathered ruche of the material. The braid girdle is knotted at the left as in the picture, and hangs in two long ends to a foot from the edge of the skirt. The leg-of-mutton sleeves button at the wrists and are trimmed there with trimming similar to the girdle.

For home wear, summer dresses may be made warm-looking by adding velvet sleeves and trimmings to them. Blouses, also, instead of being made of light silk now, are made of velvet or velveteen. They are made over a tight lining to prevent bagging. If the lining is boned, no corset is needed beneath them. They look prettiest fastened at the side, and may be trimmed round with a narrow band of fur if intended to be worn out of doors.

FLORETTE.

FOR SUNDAY READING.

Opportunity is the cleverest devil.—French Saying.

I do not judge writers by their books, but books by their writers.—James Freeman Clarke.

As long as you set your sins before your face, God will set them behind His back.—Charles Kingsley.

Men have ruled well who could not define a Commonwealth, and they who understand not the globe of earth command a large part of it. They do most by books who could do much without them.—Sir Thomas Browne.

'Tis the fine saying of a noted thinker that amusements should fill up the chinks of life, not the great spaces thereof. Take pleasures as Daniel said his prayers—with windows wide open—pleasures that need not cause a blush on an ingenuous cheek.

It is very suggestively said by the author of "Ecce Homo" that "in periods which are wanting in faith piety assumes the character of caution." The church of today needs more of the old Pauline and Petrine audacity—successful because characterized by promptitude of faith.

Hast thou ever found that God hast dealt with thee unfaithfully? Or didst thou ever hear that He hath dealt unfaithfully with any other? There is no want of power in him that He should not be as big as His word. There is no want of love in Him that He should not be as good as his word.—Bishop Sanderson.

The books that do us most good leave behind them no trace of morbid self-consciousness, or mere pious sentimentalism; they make us able to go forth in the strength of the Lord and after the example of his saints to meet the evils that we must attack, the temptations that we must face in this everyday world.—Lucy Larcum.

Campbellford Speaks.

No one has better reason to be grateful for Membray's Kidney and Liver Cure than I have. I was ill for a long time under the doctor's care; I was tortured with muscular rheumatism, disordered kidneys and general debility. I was losing flesh rapidly—had gone down from 180 to 130 pounds—and was bedfast for months. If you have been there before, you know how little there was in life for me, and when I was asked to try Membray's Cure, how hopeless I was. I used two bottled only, ($2) and at the end of that time had risen from a sick bed, regained my appetite, was relieved from all pain, put on new flesh, and am now attending to business as well as ever.—D. WATERS, merchant, Campbellford, Ont. Write me if you want further particulars about Membray's Kidney and Liver Cure.

A Cure for Constipation and Headache.

Dr. Silas Lane, while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots leaves, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick-headache in one night. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50c. a package.

Safe and Sure.

Not only safety from mineral poison (of which B. B. B. does not contain the slightest trace), but prompt and certain action in the cure of disease may be confidently relied on from the use of this unrivalled natural specific for Dyspepsia, Constipation, Bad Blood, Headache, Biliousness and all diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels and blood.

A Suitable Gift.

A tube of Dyer's Jelly of Cucumber and Roses for making the skin soft and smooth will be acceptable to any lady. Druggists keep it; W. A. Dyer & Co., Montreal.

WITH INTENT TO MURDER

TWO SHOTS FIRED, BUT THE AIM WAS POOR.

Finding an Intruder in What He Claimed Was His House Walter Lacy Opened Fire Upon the Man With a Revolver —The Accused Arrested.

TORONTO, Feb. 1.—Walter Lacy, alias Thomas W. Bates, 22 Temperance-street, slept in a cell at headquarters last night with the grave charge of shooting with intent to kill against him. The complainant is John Dupree, an employed at Grand's stables, who lives at 57 Brant-street.

Dupree states that a woman known as Kate Cronk came to him at Grand's last night and requested him to accompany her to 22 Temperance-street. Being busy at the time he could not comply with her request, but promised to call during the evening.

Shortly after 10 o'clock he put in his appearance at the place, but had only been inside a few minutes when someone knocked at the door. The Crank woman pushed Dupree into an adjoining room, and opening the door admitted Lacy.

When the latter perceived Dupree in the house he drew a revolver and without other preamble than asking what he was doing there fired two shots at him, both bullets entering the wall close to his head. Detective Reburn was passing at the time and accompanied by P.C. Denning, entered the house and arrested Lacy.

The prisoner admits firing at Dupree, who, he states, had no business in his house. He qualifies this statement, however, by the remark that he could have "bored" him if he had wished so to do.

The woman denies inviting Dupree to the house and says he forced his way in against her wishes.

IN AN INTERVIEW.

Reasons Why the Dominion Should Become Part of the United States.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—The Tribune says: Goldwin Smith of Toronto, the president of the Continental Union, who for years has advocated the annexation of the Dominion of Canada to the United States, says that the farmers and the working people of his country are more strongly in favor of annexation than they ever were before, despite the fact that Sir Charles Tupper has said that nine-tenths of the people of Canada are opposed to annexation. Mr. Smith declares that the sentiment favoring it is increasing, and that the masses of the people are hoping for a union with this country. The Continental Union, which is an organization working in the interest of annexation, he says, is increasing in strength and numbers, and will some day become a power in the provinces.

"The aristocracy and the wealthy people are opposed to any change in government," said Mr. Smith, "but the masses want as close relations with the United States as can be had. The former and the workingman of Canada a few years ago did not know what benefits could be derived from a union with this country, but now they know that it would be for their benefit. In order to gain prosperity for Canada there must be closer relations with the United States. Canada is anxiously waiting to see what the attitude of Mr. Cleveland and his administration will be toward Canada. The people who are opposed to annexation are in favor of closer relations with the United States because they know the benefits of such relations, and they, as well as the farmers and the rest of the masses, are anxious to know what Mr. Cleveland's policy will be. My argument is that is close relations of any kind will do good, closer relations or annexation will do still more good.

"The United States ought not to feel timid about taking Canada. Some of the public men on this side have made the assertion that it would entirely upset the political situation here and that it would result in a great shock. That is an erroneous impression. The annexation of Canada would have no more political effect in the United States than the admission of Montana had. The vote of the Dominion would not be thrown one way or the other. The votes of citizens from the Province are so equally divided, in my opinion, between the Democratic and Republican party that the annexation of the Dominion would not change the political complexion of this country.

"The Dominion of Canada certainly ought to be a desirable acquisition to the United States. It would increase its fishing interests, would end the Behring Sea controversy, would give the United States more waterways, and would give it a country rich in mineral wealth. As Canada is a poor country it cannot afford to develop its rich mines. What it wants is a country like the United States to make it rich in every way. We have some of the best farming lands in the world, and immigration is what we want. But if immigration was stopped here it would not come to us. Canada would simply be used as a back door, and immigrants would cross the border no matter what the laws were. If Canada were part of the United States inducements in the Dominion could be provided so that a good class of immigrants would remain. Canada, however, is destined to become part of the United States. She must have close relations with the United States, and annexation is the proper way to bring about those relations."

THE STAYNER MEETING.

NOT ENDORSED BY CONSERVATIVES OF COLLINGWOOD.

Young Conservatives Pass Resolutions In Favor of the Conservative Government And Against the Formation of an Independent Party.

COLLINGWOOD, Ont., Feb. 1.—At the annual reunion of the Young Men's Liberal-Conservative Association of Collingwood the following resolutions were passed:

Resolved, That the Young Men's Liberal-Conservative Association of Collingwood take this opportunity of expressing their regret at the forced retirement through ill-health of Sir John Abbott from the premiership of the Dominion of Canada and beg to assure Sir John and his family of their sincere sympathy, with hearty good wishes for his speedy and complete recovery.

Resolved, That this association offer their congratulations to Sir John Thompson on his well-deserved promotion to the premiership and beg at the same time to assure the Premier and his colleagues that the Young Conservatives of Collingwood intend to remain Conservatives, and to give all the support in their power to the Dominion Government as long as the Government is actuated by the Canadian spirit and fair, manly line of policy which has heretofore governed the Conservative party, which is what we understand to be the true meaning of the National Policy,

Resolved, That while this association admits that representatives of the people should be allowed the fullest liberty of speech compatible with party government, and whilst for Mr. McCarthy personally we hold feelings of admiration and respect, yet we do not think history or experience warrants us in believing that independent parties can for any length of time exist or be of practical service to the country.

Therefore we do not believe ourselves justified in supporting such and we have and now repudiate the motion moved by Mr. John Nettleton, seconded by Mr. Burdett, said to have been carried at Stayner, as not voicing the true sentiment of the Collingwood delegates at large.

At the dinner President Sloan declared himself against independence and annexation, and Vice-President Douglas was Conservative from start to finish.

The idea was that whilst independence is a good thing in the abstract, Conservatism represents the concrete of Collingwood opinion, and it is the intention of this end of the riding to support the Government.

The annual dinner was in all respects up to past events and passed off most successfully.

ENORMOUS TIDAL WAVE

AND AN EARTHQUAKE THAT WRECKED VILLAGES.

The Island of Zante Has a Visitation Not Seen to Be Forgotten—Hundreds of Houses Wrecked—Thousands of People Camping in the Fields.

ATHENS, Feb. 2.—The island of Zante was shaken by another earthquake at 2 o'clock yesterday. A hundred houses are reported to have been wrecked in the city of Zante. Thousands are leaving the city to sleep in the fields. Many have been killed and injured.

On other parts of the island the shocks have not been less severe. Several villages have been entirely destroyed. Many of their inhabitants have been killed and the rest are sleeping in the fields.

An enormous tidal wave swept up from the harbor yesterday morning, smashing the small craft against the sea wall and sending the water two feet deep along the street and harbor front.

The shock at 2 o'clock was felt at Cephalonea, and several shocks have been felt since.

Hoist by His Own Petard.

DUBLIN, Feb. 2.—The Freeman's Journal makes the manifesto issued yesterday by the National League of America the text of a savage leader. The American League is hoist by its own petard, says The Journal. It evidently had arranged with the Irish wing to denounce the bill, good or bad, the day after the bill was introduced.

There appeared to be some blunder as to date of introduction, and the manifesto was launched prematurely, thus spoiling the league's little plot.

Eating Military Bread.

MARSEILLES, Feb. 2.—In consequence of a strike among the journeymen bakers of this city the military bakers are supplying the public with bread. A violent mob of strikers and their sympathizers to-day threatened to attack the military depots at which the bread is baked, while another mob attempted to plunder the bread carts. Troops were called out and dispersed the crowds.

The Deacons Divorced.

LONDON, Feb. 2.—A despatch from Paris to the Reuter Telegram Company says that a decree of divorce has been granted Edward Parker Deacon.

AS TO HAWAII.

Annexation Would Not Have Been Simple Had the Queen Asked It.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—The World editorially says:

Whether or not the United States should assume sovereignty over Hawaii is a perplexing question. It would not have been a simple question if we had been asked to do it by the Queen before she was deposed, and with the certain approval of her native subjects, or by her predecessors at any time.

The fact that she has been deposed by the action of a foreign race, residents of Honolulu, and chiefly by former citizens of this country, who offer what they have taken possession of to us as a sort of gift, rather adds to than lessens the embarrassing considerations.

The United States does not covet the Sandwich Islands. There was a time when certain of our statesmen coveted Cuba, but the main motive of that desire is no longer active, and most Americans are now glad that we are not in possession of that island and not obliged either to govern its alien population or to have it associated with us in governing the Union.

There was a time when certain of our statesmen coveted San Domingo, and serious effort was made to obtain the consent of Congress and the people to negotiations for acquiring the island, but the opposition was determined and successful. There is no general regret over that result.

The great Louisiana territory and Florida were acquired by fair purchase from a power whose right to them nobody disputed, but these territories were contiguous to ours and they were essentially virgin soil.

Alaska likewise was acquired by fair purchase from its undisputed sovereign. It had a sparse population and no organized political autonomy. By many it was considered not worth the price.

Texas was offered to us by its own people after it had achieved independence of Mexico, but its annexation involved us in a war with the latter country. Probably Texas would not have been accepted under the circumstances but for the advantage its possession was believed to secure to the then dominant slave power.

The circumstances under which the governing authorities in Texas sought annexation somewhat resemble those which have brought the annexation commission from Hawaii. The Texans had just thrown off a foreign yoke. In Hawaii the reigning monarchy has just been overthrown. The power of the Texas republic to maintain itself permanently was doubtful. We suspect that the Provisional Government of Hawaii is not sure of its tenure.

But Texas was adjoining territory on this continent. Hawaii is over two thousand miles from our westernmost port. To assume sovereignty over this island republic, if it is a republic, is to undertake a new policy of geographical extension which will be a long step in the direction of what some have conceived to be the manifest destiny of our country—the sovereignty of the West Indies as well as of the continent of North America.

The immediate proposition will probably be urged upon us by the presentation of an unwelcome alternative—the assumption of sovereignty, or at least of an exclusive protectorate, over Hawaii by Great Britain or by Germany. This is a consequence that a large portion of our people regard as entirely inadmissible for two reasons. It would be detrimental to the large commercial interests of Americans there, and would give the nation in possession absolute dominion over the only available naval depot and rendezvous between the shores of the North Pacific Ocean.

While, as we have said above, the United States does not covet the Sandwich Islands, there is a strong feeling against having them fall into the hands of any European power. The preference of a majority of the thoughtful people of the United States would be to have the islands remain independent under some form of home rule, if that be possible.

The commissioners who have come to solicit our Government to assume sovereignty of the country say that the character of the population forbids the establishment of any government grounded on democratic suffrage. This republic then must maintain there if it assumes responsibility for the government of the country a provincial aristocracy—something very different from anything else in our system. Shall this be undertaken?

UNCLE SAM'S INTERESTS.

United States Secretary Foster Has Deferred His Trip to Paris.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The principal development in connection with the Hawaiian situation yesterday is the announcement that Secretary of State Foster had given up his trip to Paris next week, whither he was going as agent of the United States to attend the meeting of the Behring Sea arbitrators.

In view of necessities of the situation suddenly presenting themselves he had deemed it expedient that he should remain in the department until the close of his term of office.

He will, however, meet the arbitrators at the date of their adjourned meeting, which has been fixed for March 23.

Senator Frye (Maine), who is a leading member of the Committee on Foreign Relations, said yesterday:

"I have for years observed with regret the acquisition by foreign powers of desirable coaling stations and harbor privileges on the several islands until there are none left save this one, by taking Hawaii into our possession. The protest by England against annexation on our part, if it were deemed wisest and best by this Government, would be presumptuous and impudent. I imagine it will be confined to a presentation of a diplomatic note to which our Secretary of State in diplomatic terms will make a reply.

"England did not consult with us or our interests when she made an agreement with Germany to divide the islands of the Pacific with that power, and she certainly can have no ground for objection if we see fit to take Hawaii, the only territory now remaining in the ocean."

The War Department, at the request of the State Department, is having copies made of a number of blue prints showing the topographical situation of Honolulu and other points in the Sandwich Islands, which are now in the possession of the War Department. The copies and the rest of the originals not duplicated will be given to Secretary J. W. Foster for reference in the conference he is to have Saturday with the Annexation Commissioners. It is also probable that duplicates of these maps will be furnished the Navy Department for transmission to the naval force in Hawaiian waters.

What Is the Queen Doing?

LONDON, Feb. 2.—M. Hofmung, the Hawaiian Charge d'Affaires, has received no despatches from Hawaii by way of New Zealand, although the Alameda has arrived at Auckland from Honolulu, and he is of opinion that Queen Lilinokalani has changed her mind about an appeal to Great Britain and has sent a statement to Washington, which will arrive on the next steamer at San Francisco.

The McKinley Bill Did It.

M. Varigny, Minister in Hawaii in the time of King Kalakaua, writes of the present trouble to The Times that the "baneful effects of the McKinley tariff are mainly responsible for the desire of Hawaii to be annexed to America. "He recalls the refusal of the United States to join the Anglo-French protocol of 1846, to uphold the autonomy of the Sandwich Islands, although the Washington Government at that time declared solemnly that it would always respect their independence. In view of this declaration, M. Varigny thinks, the islands will not be annexed.

Germany Passive.

BERLIN, Feb. 2.—An enquiry at the Berlin Foreign Office as to the attitude of Germany on the Hawaiian situation elicited a semi-official reply to the effect that Germany at present was passive, but that if the United States should annex Hawaii Germany might demand a slight compensation elsewhere.

Strengthening for War.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The Senate has passed the Fortifications Appropriations bill and is now considering the Army Appropriation bill.

Mr. Blaine's Will.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—A special from Washington says: Mr. Blaine left a will bestowing all his property upon Mrs. Blaine and making her sole executrix without bonds. The total value of the estate is estimated at $800,000.

A SUSPICIOUS DEATH.

Was He Sandbagged?—It Looks Some Like Foul Play.

TORONTO, Feb. 2.—James Alexander, who died at the General Hospital at Buffalo on Saturday night, has been identified as a barber, who came from Toronto, and whose relatives reside at Brampton, Ont., but has been employed in Buffalo for some time past. Coroner Tucker ascertained that the dead man's wife, Mrs. Martha M. Alexander, is now living in Brampton, Ont. He notified her of her husband's death.

It was reported that Alexander died of chronic alcoholism, he having been a hard drinker, but later developments lead to the suspicion that something is being withheld.

Sandbagged is one of the theories put forth, as it is said that there were marks of external violence upon the man when he died.

A FRIGID MONTH.

January Was a Record Breaker For Cold Weather.

TORONTO, Feb. 2.—The past month was the coldest January so far as the record shows with the single exception of 1857, when the average only reached 12°.8, or about 2° colder. Jan., 1893, was nearly as cold as the past month, its average being 15°. The lowest point reached by the thermometer in the cold spell on the 11th, 17°.8 below zero, has been surpassed four times in the half century: 1940—18°.6, 1857—30°.1, 1869—36°.5 and 1872—16°.4.

The average of the coldest day—7°.9—has only been exceeded three times during the same period: 1863 on the 22rd—14°.4, 1866 on the 7th—9°.5 and in 1882 on the 22rd—10°.2. During the past month the minimum thermometer has registered temperatures below zero on 8 days, 0° to 5° on 8 days and from 5° to 10° on 7 days.

BURNED AT THE STAKE.

HOW A NEGRO MURDERER PAID THE PENALTY.

Dragged by a Rope to the Scene of [illegible] Crime—Felled, Beaten, Tied to a Stake, Tortured and Cremated—The Whole Country-Side Helped to Punish [illegible]

PARIS, TEX., Feb. 2.—Henry Smith, the negro who murdered the 4-year-old daughter of Henry Vance, has been caught by Clow, on the Louisiana and Arkansas road. He was pursued by a mob of [illegible] resident citizens.

Hundreds of people came to the city to await the arrival of the guard having the negro in custody, and as soon to-day, when the Texas and Pacific train from the north arrived, it is estimated that the crowd surrounding the depot numbered nearly 20,000 people. When the train arrived a rush was made for the coach in which the negro was confined.

The deputy sheriffs and the guard of Paris citizens who accompanied the negro from Texarkana drew their revolvers and attempted to prevent the mob from taking the prisoner.

The guard was quickly overpowered and a rope was thrown about Smith's neck. He was dragged from the train and hurried to the scene of his crime.

All along the route he was pelted with missiles, struck by fists and otherwise maltreated. He was tied to a stake and after being subjected to every conceivable torture he was cremated amid the howling of the mob.

All citizens of the town and surrounding country, irrespective of class or color took part in the lynching.

Words to describe the awful torture inflicted upon Smith cannot be found. The negro for a long time after starting on the journey to Paris did not realise his plight. At last, when he was told he must die the most awful death by slow torture that human mind could conceive, he begged for protection.

He was willing to be shot and begged Marshal Shanklin to do it. But he was told he would be burned to death. His agony was awful. He pleaded and writhed in bodily and mental pain in anticipation.

Scarcely had the train reached Paris when his torture commenced. His clothes were torn off piecemeal and scattered in the crowd, people catching the shreds and putting them away as mementos.

The child's father, her brother and two uncles then gathered about the negro as he lay fastened to the torture platform and thrust hot irons into his quivering flesh.

Every groan from the fiend, every contortion of his body was cheered by the thickly packed crowd of 10,000 people. The mass of beings was 600 yards in diameter, the scaffold being the centre.

Before burning the feet and legs the hot irons, plenty of fresh ones being at hand, were rolled up and down Smith's stomach, back and arms. Then the eyes were burned out and irons were thrust down his throat. The men of the Vance family having wreaked vengeance the crowd piled all kinds of combustible stuff around the scaffold, poured oil on it and set it on fire. The negro rolled and wriggled and tossed out of the mass only to be pushed back by the people nearest him. He tossed out again and was roped and pulled back.

Hundreds of people turned away, but the vast crowd still looked calmly on. People were there from every part of this section. News of the burning was sent to every town, and anvils boomed forth the announcement.

Negroes Lynched.

RICHMOND, Va., Feb. 2.—A special from Tazewell Court House, Va., says on Monday night four negroes murdered and robbed two white men at Richlands named Ratcliff and Shortridge. The murdered men lived in Buchanan county and were at Richland for the purpose of purchasing goods. The four negroes were captured, confessed the crime and were lynched.

THE RANKIN MURDER.

Witnesses Tell About the Murder of the Policeman.

CHATHAM, Feb. 2.—The inquest on the body of Robert Rankin, the victim of the Raleigh tragedy, was continued here yesterday. Mr. Douglas, Q.C., conducted the prosecution and Messrs. Pegley of Chatham and McPhillips of London are defending the prisoners. The latter is looking after the interests of the brothers Freeman, who are supposed to have done the killing. The feeling in the community is so strong against them that no local lawyer would take their case.

Mrs. Elizabeth A. Freeman, the mother of one of the prisoners, was the first witness called. She was absent from home when the row took place. She told what she knew of the girl Lemert, over whom the whole trouble took place. The witness had always looked upon the girl as a bad character.

It will be remembered that Rankin went to arrest George Freeman on a charge of violating the Charlton Act. The girl, who was thought to be under 16, had given birth to a child and Freeman was supposed to be its father.

Jesse Freeman, the next witness, was also absent when the killing took place. When he arrived home he found Lemuel, George, Alexander, William Henry, Zack and the Hoopers, Ben Moore and Mrs. Webb. He saw the body of the dead policeman, but was afraid to go near it.

Rose Anna Webb, the neighbor woman who saw the fight, was next called. She did not see Rankin knocked down, but she saw one of the Freemans, which one she could not say, go over to where the policeman lay and give him a "tap" on the head with a stick of [illegible] about two feet long. It did not seem a revengeful blow, but merely a "tap" the policeman after receiving it [illegible] stir. She was not sure whether it first began with the parties at the house, but she declared she saw the revolver in George's hand.

The last witness was James [illegible] rett, at whose house George [illegible] night of the murder and after home. The man advised him self up, although George he what he had done, only the a man killed at his place. not ask who or what the The investigation is b

PETERBOROUGH CHEESE BOARD.

The Annual Meeting Held—Officers Elected—Financial Statement—The Matter of Weights—The Bidding of Buyers—An Inspector May be Employed.

The annual meeting of the Peterboaough Cheese Board was held in the town council chamber on Wednesday afternoon. President J. M. Drummond occupied the chair. In his opening his remarks the chairman expressed the pleasure it gave him to welcome so large a number of cheesemeu at their annual meeting. It showed the interest being taken in this important industry by the district of Peterborough. The matter of the weight of cheese and certain other clauses in reference to the rules of the Board, would come up for discussion.

The secretary, Mr. M. E. Sanderson then read the minutes of the previous annual meeting which were adopted.

Mr. S. Edwards then presented the annual financial statement of the Board, which showed the receipts to be $91.25 and the expenditure $31.25 leaving the snug balance of $60 on hand. The report was adopted.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The election of officers for the ensuing year was then proceeded with and resulted in the election of the old officers as follows:—

President—J. M. Drummond, Keene.
Vice-president—John Creuss, Mariposa.
Secretary—M. E. Sanderson, Smith.
Treasurer—S. Edwards, Warsaw.

APPOINTING AN INSPECTOR.

offered the suggestion that the Board appoint a local instructor to visit those factories which fall behind one or two months as the case may be, in the quality of the season's make. He thought it would be a good thing for the board and would help to maintain the high standard for prime cheese which reputation had won. Mr. Wrighton suggested that the Board pay this instructor $25 or $30 per year for his services, and that the cheese maker requiring his services pay the instructor's expenses to and from the factory. He was of the opinion that Mr. Wm. Cribbon would be a suitable man to fill the position.

Mr. Drummond favoured an instructor going to the factories, they paying part of the expense and the board defraying part also. He thought it would be a great benefit. Something was to be learned every season in cheesemaking. He thoughht the suggestion which Mr. Wrighton offered was a good one. Factories would not go astray, as was often the case, by this means if an instructor visited each factory once or twice a month.

Mr. Blezard favoured young men going to the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, where they would receive competent instruction in cheese making, and be able to demand better wages. He strongly endorsed Mr. Wrighton's suggestion.

Mr. Sanderson thought the idea a practical one, but the difficulty appeared to be all a matter of funds. If they could make arrangements with the Diary Commissioner for Eastern Ontario, who was spending money in this line, it would be better.

After some further discussion taken part in by Messrs. Creuss, Riddle and Middleton and others in which several suggestions were offered and the question of expense ventilated in many ways the following motion was :—

Moved by Mr. Edwards, seconded by Mr. Fisher, that the president and secretary of this board be appointed to consult with the president and secretary of the Cheesemakers Association and the cheese buyers with regard to the appointment of an instructor or instructors, this board not to be held responsible for more than $30.—Carried.

Mr. Drummond said if a cheesemaker so desired he was not compelled to accept instructions from the instructor who might be appointed by the Board, but could take pointer from another instructer if he so desired and thought it better.

THE MATTER OF WEIGHTS.

Mr. Garry, of Emily moved that the first selection of boxes by the buyers at the Board meeting be increased from 500 to 1000. The motion was lost.

Mr. Wrighton said he had no difficulty regarding the weight of cheese except in the October make. The rule of buyers was not to count that ½ or ¾ lbs.

Mr. Blezard said the matter of October cheese depended greatly on the way it was cured.

After some further discussion in the matter of weight taken part in by Messrs. Cruess and others, it was moved by Mr. Cruess, seconded by Mr. Blezzard, that all cheese sold on this board be subject to inspection at the factory and up-beam weight at the place of shipment if the first half of October cheese are shipped by the 5th of November, 1 lb. per box will be allowed off the last half if shipped not later than 15th of November in each year.

Mr. Riddle moved an amendment, seconded by Mr. Anderson, that all cheese sold at the board be subject to inspection at the factory and up-beam weight at place of shipment and in case of dispute the weight be referred to the market scales. The amendment was carried.

THE BIDDING OF BUYERS.

Moved by Mr. Fisher, seconded by Mr. Riddle, that 1-16c. bid be taken on all selections, unless the previous bid be a board bid, then not less than ⅛ of a cent be taken.

Moved in amendment by Mr. Galvin, seconded by Mr. Riddle, than an advance of 1-16 of a cent be accepted on all selections.

Moved in amendment to the amendment by Mr. Middleton, and seconded by Mr. Blezzard that the rules be left the same as before.—The first amendment carried.

The first sale of cheese for the season by the board was fixed for Tuesday, May 23rd.

Mr. Wrighton was re-appointed inspector by the board for the ensuing year, subject to usual conditions,

Mr. Creuss thought they should send their shipment of cheese to the Old country in butter boxes. Mr. Galvin endorsed the suggestion, which he said was timely. They should use better cheese boxes.

Mr. Sanderson gave a brief account of his recent visit to the Government Experimental Butter Station, Mr. McKenna manager, at Wellman's Corners. He was well pleased with what he had seen and learned.. He strongly advised farmers to pay attention to butter raising and the matter of feeding their cows. He gave a few timely points on the building of a silo.

Votes of thanks were heartily tendered the president, vice-president, secretary-treasurer and inspector of the Board for their obliging and efficient services during the past year. After arrangements had been made to notify outlying factories of the time of instructor McKeown's visit to them by the Board, the meeting adjourned.

The merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla is proveu by the many wonderful cures it is accomplishing. It is just the medicine for you.

LAKEFIELD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The Board of Health organized Monday night. C. J. Bloomfield was made secretary. The Board meets monthly. The inspector was directed to make his first visit by May 15th. The medical health officer was granted $15 for 1892 services.

The woollen mill was sold by auction on Saturday afternoon to Mr. Cassment. It will soon be started again on a better basis than before.

I notice that Norwood council is thinking of appointing a man to do all their municipal work (except the clerk and treasurer). Lakefield has tried it for a year and has proved it to be one of the best moves the council has made. We have saved money and had our work betterdone than under the old system.

On Tuesday high constable Cochrane walked into the reeve's office and handed him one of his well known "blue papers," commanding the corporation of the village of Lakefield to appear before Police Magistrate Edmison on Monday the 6th day of February, at the town hall, to answer the charge of obstructing Water and Concess streets, thus preventing Mr. J. P. Strickland the free and uninterrupted use of his lots adjoining.

NORTH SMITH.

From Our Own Correspondent.

At the last meeting of L. O. L. No. 419, the following motion was carried unanimously: Moved by Bro. Nicholls, seconded by Bro. Crowe, that the thanks of the members of this lodge be tendered Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.PP., for the presentation of mottoes for the adornment of the lodge room.—Stephen Harrison, W.M.; Robert Northey, D.M.; J. H. Davis, rec. sec. pro tem.

NORWOOD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The annual meeting of the Presbyterian church took place on Tuesday evening last week, and was well attended by the adherents of the church. The pastor, Rev. Jas. Carmichael, M. A., occupied the chair. The report of the session was very satisfactory. It stated the membership to be 186, being an increase of 15. Mr. A. R. Anderson read the report of the managers. It referred in feeling terms to the death of Mr. A. Scott, an esteemed member of the church, and also thanked the ladies for their successful efforts in wiping out the debt on the church. The financial report showed a balance to the credit of the church of $38.98. The reports of the Woman's Home Mission Circle and the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society were read by Mr. Andrew Davidson. Six points, out of many, where Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are better than other pills:

1. They're the smallest, and easiest to take—little sugarcoated granules that every child takes readily.
2. They're perfectly easy in their action—no griping, no disturbance.
3. Their effect LASTS. There's no reaction afterward. They regulate or cleanse the system, according to size of dose.
4. They're the cheapest, for they're GUARANTEED to give satisfaction, or your money is returned. You pay only for the GOOD you get.
5. Put up in glass—are always fresh.
6. They CURE Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, Sick or Bilious Headaches, and all derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels.

Sad Accident.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Last Sunday afternoon 29th inst., whilst the wind was blowing a strong gale, Adam Woodcock and Mr. P. SOUTH MONAGHAN.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The many friends of Miss Maggie Kerr, South Monaghan, will regret to learn of her death which took place on Thursday last at the residence of her father, Mr. Edward Kerr. The deceased lady had been in failing health for some three years but it was only for the past three months that she was unable to go about, and during the last three weeks of her illness she was confined to her room. For some years Miss Kerr was a faithful teacher in the Bensfort Union Sabbath school and took an active interest in its success. For two years she had charge of the Bensfort post office and her kindness of disposition and obliging nature were very marked in the capacity of post mistress. Her parents and friends have the sympathy of the community generally in their affliction in the loss of an only daughter, but they have the consolation of knowing that what is their loss is her gain, as she is doubtless reaping the reward of faithful service in the Master's cause.

TO BE OR NOT TO BE "IN IT."

A Life Agent called at a friend's place one day,
HE WASN'T IN IT;
He had seen "the boss" coming and fled from his way
HE WASN'T IN IT;
He had heard so much said, he was tired and sick
Of insurance and agents—'twas all a blank trick,
When one's coil must be shuffled to win it,
HE WASN'T IN IT.

A bit of a draft blew o'er his bald head,
HE WAS IN IT;
Pneumonia sent him straightway to his bed,
HE STAYED IN IT;
His doctor made of it a "quite special" case,
To save him for running still more of life's race,
But the grave took some chances to win it,
AND HE'S IN IT.

When approached by a gent for insuring your life,
GET RIGHT IN IT;
It's the right thing to do for your children and wife,
THEN STAY IN IT.
Remember that fires take your goods "out of sight,"
And that accidents happen each day and each night.
While insurance protects every minute,
IF YOU'RE IN IT.

A Bank Manager's Opinion.

HE IS "IN IT."

The General Manager of one of the leading banks in Canada, writing to a personal friend, says:—"I have no hesitation in saying that I place the CANADA LIFE upon the highest platform. It is in my opinion carefully, economically and honestly managed; its Reserve Funds are well invested; its rates of Premiums are low, and its future is, I think better assured than a great majority of Companies. I have my own life insured in the Company for a round amount, and would not hesitate to increase the amount of my policies should I decide upon taking out further insurance."

A Government Insurance Actuary's Opinion

On the Relation between Ordinary and Tontine Service.

It is frequently assertedby Companies whose business is nearly all tontined, that although the CANADA LIFE may and does pay large ordinary profits, yet it cannot compare so favourably on a long term distribution or tontine period, and that in the end better results can be obtained on a tontine policy in a large American Co. than on an ordinary or tontine policy in the CANADA LIFE. To prove the absurdity of this statement, the following piece of common sense is quoted from Mervin Tabor, late Actuary of the Illinois Goverment Insurance Department. In his well known book, "The Three Systems of Life Insurance," he says: "A company that gives large dividends on the ordinary kind of policies, can give much larger on the same kinds when Tontined, and a company that pays but meagre dividends on the usual forms, adopting perhaps the Tontine system to "cover up" its small surpluses, cannot be relied on for large returns of surplus under the Tontine Forms of Insurance."

The CANADA LIFE does not "cover up" its Quinquennial profits as some Companies do, but publishes them throughout the country.

It can and does surpass other Companies on Quinquennial profits. It should and will surpass them on Tontine profits.

WHY TO BE "IN IT."

BISHOP HAWKE'S REASON:—"I claim that Life Insurance is not only a humane, but I might say a Christian Institution."

LORD LYNDHURST'S REASON:—"A Policy of Life Insurance is always an evidence of prudent forethought. No man with a dependent family is free from reproach if not insured."

WHEN TO BE "IN IT."

The younger, the cheaper. Therefore insure when young. Besides by insuring in the CANADA LIFE now, you will share in three years' profits.

WHERE TO BE "IN IT."

The best place to be "in it" is in the Company that gives the best returns for the least money, consistent with absolute security. Therefore, in order to be "in it," choose the

THE SCHOOL BOARD CHAIRMANSHIP.

LAST night at the organization of the School Board, Dr. Burnham, one of the representatives of No. 3 Ward, was all but unanimously elected as chairman. Dr. Burnham by virtue of long experience is well qualified for the position he has been honoured with. He has been a member of the Board for about fifteen years, during which time he has been representative for No. 3 Ward continuously, his return being opposed only once or twice in that time, and then unsuccessfully. He was at one time chairman of the Supervision Committee, and for the last five years chairman of one of the most important committees—the Finance Committee. In these positions he showed an ability and watchfulness for the interests of the school which amply justify the Board in selecting him as their chairman for the year 1893. Without doubt Dr. Burnham, assisted by an intelligent Board, anxious to promote the welfare of the schools, will make an excellent chairman, and the EXAMINER congratulates him upon the possession, in so marked a degree, of the confidence of his associates on the Board.

—The express from Toronto due at Peterborough at 8.50 o'clock p.m. did not reach here until 1.30 o'clock this morning, The cause of the delay was the blockading of the track at Woodville by the derailment of a freight car and it took some hours to get the line cleared.

They were appointed at a meeting of St. John's chapter, No. 6, Brotherhood of St. Andrew, held on Tuesday night last.

CRISP CURLING CHRONIQUES.

What is Going on at the Rink Where Curlers Most do Congregate.

The various contests in group No. 2, for the primary competition in the Ontario Tankard series began at the rink yesterday afternoon. Mr. A. Sawers in the absence of Port Perry rinks was selected as umpire. Lakefield won the bye on the first draw, Keene was pitted against Bobcaygeon and Millbrook against Campbellford. The matches began sharp at 1.30 o'clock, the ice being in superb condition. The customary 21 ends were played but none of the curling was very exciting, however, some excellent shots were made and the games passed off pleasantly and smoothly. Following are the results:—

Majority for Campbellford, 12 shots.

Considerable disagreement took place over the second draw, Campbellford demanding the bye as her right. After some time, however, the matter was finally settled by Bobcaygeon being pitted against Lakefield, and Campbellford obtaining the bye.

Bobcaygeon played with Lakefield at the rink last night and won by 20 shots. Following are the results:

RINK NO. 1.

Bobcaygeon this morning played off the bye with Campbellford at the rink here, and succeeded in easily winning the bonspeil by 26 shots. Following is the result:

Bobcaygeon.		Campbellford.
RINK NO. 1.
T McCamus,		F W Wood,

Thus Bobcaygeon captures first place in the primary competition quite handily, and will be entitled to do battle in the Ontario Tankard series at Toronto in a few days. May they succeed well.

A rink from Keene was to have played a Peterborough quartette last night, but failed to materialize.

ON A MERRY JAUNT THEY WENT

An Outing Given to St. Andrew's Church Choir by a Couple of Their Admirers.

Messrs. T. Fitzgerald and J. J. Lundy, two ardent admirers and warm friends of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church choir, entertained that body of faithful vocalists to a jolly sleigh drive and fine supper last evening. Two 'bus loads left Peterborough about 6.30 o'clock last night on a pleasant mission, carrying about 30 young people in all, members of the choir and a few select friends. Mr. Lundy and Mr. Fitzgerald accompanied the party. Lakefield was reached about 8 o'clock, and supper served up in splendid style by mine host Robt. Munro. Afterwards an exceedingly delightful time was spent in the parlour at music, song and social intercourse. Home was reached shortly after midnight, each one voting the jaunt the "best yet." Owing to illness Miss Baker, organist, was unable to join the party. Miss Denzil choir leader, took her first Canadian sleigh ride with the young people last night and was highly pleased with it.

"When I was 4 or 5 years old I had a scrofulous sore on the middle finger of my left hand, which got so bad that the doctors cut the finger off, and later took off more than half my hand. Then the sore broke out on my arm, came out on my neck and face on both sides, nearly destroying the sight of one eye, also on my right arm. Doctors said it was the they ever saw. It was simply awful! Five years ago I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. Gradually I found that the sores were beginning to heal. I kept on till I had taken ten bottles, cost dollars! Just think of what a return I got for that investment! A thousand per cent? Yes, many thousand. For the past 4 years I have had no sores. I

ANNUAL CONGREGATIONAL MEETING.

St. Paul's Presbyterian Church is in a Flourishing Condition, Financially, Spiritually and Numerically.

The annual congregational meeting of St. Paul's Presbyterian church congregation was held last night in the Sunday-school room. A creditable tea was served from six to eight o'clock by the ladies of the church and partaken of by all. At eight o'clock the meeting began. There was a very large attendance, the Rev. Thomas Goldsmith, of Toronto, acting pastor, occupying the chair. After the preliminary devotional exercises, in his opening remarks Rev. Mr. Goldsmith gave a general expression of gratitude for the kindness of the members of the congregation tendered him. He spoke of the reason of his being there, of his blessed visits to the sick and the various assurances he had received from the congregation, of friendship and esteem especially by the presentation to him of a fur cap, coat and gauntlets for which he tendered his sincere thanks. He was pleased with the quiet way in which the gift had been made

The election of a trustee to the Nicholls Hospital Board from St. Paul's church was next proceeded with, the term of Mr. R. S. Davidson's office having expired, and he was again duly elected for a term of three years.

Mr. J. A. Fife, B.A., was appointed chairman for the remainder of the evening and after a few opening remarks called upon the secretary to read the minutes of the last annual meeting which was done and they were approved.

The clerk of session, Sheriff Hall, read the report of the session which was adopted. The report showed the meetings of the congregation had been kept up well during the year, even better than last year. The illness of Rev. Mr. Torrance, pastor, was feelingly referred to. The report spoke of the spiritual condition and benefit of the members, and how the service of Rev. Mr. Gidsmith had resulted in much profit and good. The membership of the church remained about the same.

The report of the Board of managers was presented by the secretary, Mr. J. W. Bennet. It showed a reduction on the church mortgage debt of $1,500 during the year, leaving a balance of $3,500. The current expenses of the year were all paid, and a balance of $10.54 on hand.

The pew committee asked the assistance of members in disposing of applications for seats, owing to the matter of the congested state of the church accommodation. The report referred to the South Ward Mission and a committee was appointed to take charge of the matter, and prosecute the work in this part of the town.

The treasurer's report was taken as read, having been distributed in the pews during the previous Sunday. The total receipts were $7,378.67; the expenditure, $7,364.67, and out of this $1,015.00 was paid in on the mortgage account.

The Ladies' Aid Society's report was read by Mr. W. W. Johnston, showing the society to be in a flourishing condition. The receipts were $219.15, the expenditure $161.78, leaving a balance on hand of $53.37. The society have done much good work by their active efforts along the lines of charity.

The Sunday school report was presented by the superintendent, Sheriff Hall. The amount collected for missions by the Sunday school for the year was $200.26.

The Christian Endeavour report by Mr. W. R. Johnston, the Junior Y.P.S.C.E. by Mr. W. F. Nelson, mission band by Mr. John A. Davidson, Fraser mission band by Mr. Wm. Madill, Women's Foreign Missionery Society by Geo. Stewart, congregational missionary report by Mr. J. D. Collins, sec.-treasurer. This showed total contributions during the year to be $1,011.73, which was on motion allocated as follows by the congregation: Home missions $400, Foreign missions $400, French evangelization $211.73.

The senior Christian Endeavour Society raised $150 for missions during the year. The auditors for the year 1893, Messrs. R. E. Wood and J. A. Fife, were appointed. A hearty vote of thanks was, on motion of Mr. Peter Hamilton and seconded by Mr. Wm. Tully, tendered the choir and ushers for their obliging services.

A resolution of sympathy with the pastor on account of his illness was moved by Mr. J. T. Wright and seconded by Rev. Mr. Goldsmith and carried by a standing vote. Messrs. H. S. Macdonald, C. N. Brown, A. E. Lech and J. W. Bennett were the retiring members of the Board, and were duly re-elected for a term of three years.

The benediction was then pronounced, when the meeting adjourned.

MRS. COMMANDANT BOOTH.

The Distinguished Salvationist who Will be at the Barracks To-night—Brief Biographical Sketch.

Mrs. Herbert Booth, wife of the commandant of the Salvation Army in Canada, will be at the Salvation Army barracks to-night and will deliver an address and conduct the meeting, assisted by Staff-Captains Fry and Bolton.

MRS. HERBERT BOOTH, wife of the Commandment of the Salvation Army in Canada, is the daughter of Monsieur and Madame Schoch, of Holland, and a descendant of a Swiss family, the members of which had for several generations served the cause and kings of Holland in high military positions.

After four years in the Military Academy, Monsieur Schoch wintered at the court of the king of Naples, where he first began to grow dissatisfied amidst the gay scenes he daily found himself mixed up with. Returning to his garrison in Holland he determined thenceforth he would serve God. Here, too, his marriage took place with a young heiress—the daughter of a Dutch colonel, who, by the way, fought in the Battle of Waterloo against the French, and, successfully defending the citadel of Antwerp, won the golden opinions of king and country.

At the garrison town of Hertogentosch, their second daughter, Miss Cornelie Schoch (now Mrs. Herbert Booth) arrived to brighten their home, in the midst of every luxury and comfort their heart could desire; where her parents spared no pains to provide her with the very best of teachers and governesses. She finished her education in Germany, having learned to speak in four different languages with ease. From childhood she was noted for her early devotion, and most especially for her great gift of music and song. Then, as the years rolled on, with this and her largeness of heart, she became more and more a universal favourite amongst both rich and poor, in the mansion of the aristocrat, or the hovel of the pauper.

In conjunction with her especial friend, the Hon. Miss Hartsen, the daughter of the Minister for Foreign Affairs of Holland, she threw herself whole-heartedly into charitable work, amongst factory girls particularly, also sustaining a library for poor boys, and a soup kitchen, visiting the sick and singing to the dying.

At last the Salvation Army made its appearance in Amsterdam, when Monsieur Schoch not only came to their aid financially, but afterward himself joined these despised people, and allowed his beautiful and clever children to work with them—to the great astonishment and contempt of his distinguished friends.

Miss Corry Schoch was at once asked to translate for the English officers, travelling from town to town and living in the poor little quarters with them; but it was not until after the visit of the General to Holland that she donned the bonnet and became a fully-fledged S. A. captain.

She was summoned to London, and after passing through her training, she was appointed to assist in the command of Regent's Hall, winning her way wonderfully in the hearts of the people. Here it was she met the General's youngest son, Commandant Herbert Booth. At this time Mrs. General Booth was lying at the point of death, and no doubt the wedding took place a little earlier than it would otherwise have done, owing to the wishes of Mrs. Booth, whose precarious condition increased her desire that her son should not longer delay the completion of a union which from the first gave her much satisfaction.

Only ten days before the death of the "Army Mother" this remarkable marriage service was performed in the Clapton Congress Hall, when over six thousand people were present, and when the London daily papers wrote with enthusiastic terms of the "sweet modulated soprano" of the bride.

Mrs. Herbert Booth at once took her stand by her husband's side in the war, a devoted Salvationist, not only singing and speaking in public, but helping him through all the difficulties of work behind the scenes in the office, or travelling through the country with him. Knowing that Canada was involved in some peculiar difficulties, the Commandant volunteered a year or so after the wedding, to shoulder the responsibility, and sailed for the Dominion.

Since their arrival, in addition to the ordinary spiritual work, Mrs. Booth has had more especially the oversight and care of the Rescue Homes for fallen girls, the Children's Shelter, and the League of Mercy, including the visiting of the jails and police courts and hospitals, ministering to the needs of the sinful and suffering wherever they may be.

—An excellent account of the recent Y. M. C. A. convention at Montreal, supplied by Mr. Chapman, general secretary of the the local organization, was received at too late an hour for publication to-day.

—The twelfth anniversary of the Christian Endeavour movement is to be celebrated to-night at 8 o'clock in St. Paul's church. The speaker of the evening is Rev. Dr. McTavish, one of Toronto's most talented speakers. He was in St. Andrew's church in Lindsay a few years ago, and is now as successful in Toronto as he was in Lindsay. All are cordially invited.

MR. CHAIRMAN, NOW.

Inaugural Meeting of the School Board—Dr. Geo. Burnham Elected Chairman—Standing Committees Struck—Chairmen Elected et Same.

The inaugural meeting of the Peterborough Board of Education was held at the Collegiate Institute last evening. The following members were present: Messrs. Burnham, Wrighton, Boucher, Hill, McKee, Hamilton, Corkery, McBain, Ferguson, Edgecombe and Denne.

The secretary, Mr. W. G. Morrow, called the meeting to order. He stated that Dr. Boucher and Mr. McKee had been re-appointed High School trustees, that Messrs. J. J. McBain, W. H. Wrighton and Dr. Burnham, had been re-elected public school trustees, and that Mr. Jas. Edgecombe had been elected public school trustee for No. 4 Ward, that Mr. Jno. Corkery had been appointed High School trustee, representative of the Separate School Board. All the new members present had signed the necessary declarations and oaths of office.

THE ELECTION OF A CHAIRMAN.

The first business he said was the electing of a chairman for the ensuing year. The vote by ballot for a chairman was then taken and resulted in the election of Dr. Geo. Burnham on the first ballot.

Dr. Burnham then took the chair. He thanked the members of the Board for the great honour conferred upon him and said he would endeavour to fill the position to the best of his knowledge and ability. He had been a school trustee for sixteen years and in that time had done his duty as best he knew how. He asked the co-operation of the members in the work of the coming year and hoped the sessions would be marked by activity and progress.

BOARDS' STANDING COMMITTEES.

The next business was the appointing of the standing committees for the ensuing year.

Moved by W. G. Ferguson, seconded by J. J. McBain, that the following members be a committee to strike the standing committees for the ensuing year: Messrs. Hill, Hamilton, Boucher, McBain, Denne, and the mover.—Carried.

The committee withdrew for a few minutes and soon returned, bringing in the following report:

Finance Committee—Messrs. Ferguson, Hill, Boucher, Wrighton, and the chairmen of the Supervision and Property Committees.

Supervision Committee—Messrs. Denne, Edgecombe, McKee, Corkery and Dumble.

Property Committee—Messrs. McBain, Stevenson, Hamilton, Hartley and Law.

Committee on appointments—The whole board were appointed on this committee.

The report was adopted.

The newly elected committees then met and elected the following gentlemen their chairmen:

Mr. Hill, chairman of Committees on Appointments.

Mr. KcKee, chairman of Supervision Committee.

Mr. Ferguson, chairman of Finance Committee.

The chairman of the Property Committee was not elected owing to the absence of several of its members.

The meeting then adjourned.

The first regular meeting of the Board will be held on Tuesday night next.

MAGNIFICENT FANCY WORK

Made Solely by the Singer Sewing Machine—Inspection Invited and Instructions Given Gratuitously.

When you want your eyes to feast on beauty and see an abundance of fine and unique fancy articles made by machine alone and not by handiwork, call at the local office of the Singer Sewing Machine Company, just opposite the market, where you will be warmly welcomed by the genial agent, Mr. W. Laishley. The Singer is the greatest machine extant in every way. The Peterborough office is a marvel of gorgeousness and splendour. All these costly and artistic articles are made by the Singer machine alone without any contrivance or attachment, and the best of all is that a competent lady instructor gives free lessons on the art of making this work to all who purchase an improved machine, and will take the slight trouble of calling and leaving their names at the Singer office with Mr. Laishley. The public are cordially invited to visit the company's office here and see for themselves the wonderful and almost phenomenal results achieved. Mr. Laishley has on hand here a great supply of all the various machines made by the great company and there are the handsomest finished, most light and durable as well as the most perfect and true "aids to womankind" out. He can satisfy the tailoress, the harnessmaker, the shoemaker, the corset manufacturer, the milliner, the fancy goods manufacturer, and all other classes who have any use for a sewing machine. The fancy work in the office here, it might again be mentioned, would repay a visit from any lady and she is sure to go away delighted at what the Singer can do in this line. dtf

QUARTERLY EPWORTH LEAGUE MEETING.

Encouraging Reports Presented—Evidences of Effective Work.

The Epworth League of Christian Endeavour of the George street Methodist church held the quarterly business meeting of the society last Monday evening. Mr. H. E. Armstrong, president, opened the meeting with singing and the responsive reading of the Scripture lesson for the evening, after which the pastor, Rev. J. H. Locke, earnestly besought God's blessing upon the work of the league and the business of the hour. At the call of the president, Mr. Nihil Munro gave a short but impressive address on the importance of faithful attention to the small duties of life. Two or three brief prayers followed, and then the order of business began. In the absence of the secretary the president read the minutes of the executive, which were passed without question. The report of the treasurer, Miss Bennett, came next, giving a clear and satisfactory statement of outlay and income during the quarter, and showed a balance in the treasury of $22.64. Then came reports from committees through the vice-presidents of the various departments of Christian work. Miss Stevens read most encouraging accounts of cottage prayer meetings, held every Sunday afternoon; of calls upon families not attending any place of worship, which were quickly responded to by regular attendance at both church and Sunday school; of visits to the gaol, and the interest there awakened; and of the blessed influence of the regular Sunday evening prayer meeting, half an hour before service. Then our "Lookouts" have been on the alert to meet and welcome new members, to call upon absentees, and to distribute topic cards among those who seemed desirous of joining the association. Miss Might was next called upon and reported for the committee under her charge. The "Reliefs," true to their name, found out the lonely and troubled ones, and on the even of Thanksgiving and Christmas, made many hearts "to sing for joy," as they found themselves well provided for, and able to join in the general feast of good things. These baskets were contributed and prepared by members of the society, the executive granting from the funds a donation of $5 to supplement the freewill offerings of the members. But one meeting of the Temperance Committee has been held during the quarter, owing to the absorbing interest of the special services. Active temperance work was done, however, by individual members of the committee, and it is hoped that much good will result from the careful distribution of social purity leaflets by the society, with the injunction to "read and pass on." Good seed has thus been scattered for the final harvest, and a grand emphasis put upon the truth that he who will "ascend into the hill of the Lord" must have "clean hands and a pure heart." In October the committee on mission work asked from the executive and received permission to undertake the support of a child in the Chinese Rescue Home in Victoria, B.C., with a view to her preparation for work as a teacher or Bible woman among her own people. Through an interesting correspondent the matter has been arranged, and little Jessie, rescued from dreadful slavery and happily placed in the Home, is now the adopted daughter of the league. $50 is the sum required yearly for her support, and this is guaranteed by our members in small monthly subscriptions, which already has amounted to $22.50. Miss Lizzie Rutherford's reports of the Social and Flower Committee were both concise and interesting. The Treasurer's balance sheet shows what efficient help has been received from the former; and the beautiful blossoms which adorned the pulpit until the frost king's edict banished them, and others which gladdened the eyes and cheered the hearts of sad and suffering ones, have spoken volumes on behalf of the latter. Our Society is a live one, and the members are true and earnest-hearted, seeking to know their duty that they may try to do it.

After the reports were disposed of, the question of the delegates to the Toronto Convention of Epworth Leaguers, to be held next month, was discussed. Miss C. B. Sanderson and Mr. H. E. Armstrong were chosen to represent our Association. Then singing and the beautiful Mizpah benediction closed a rather lengthy but most interesting meeting.—COM.

It is very important in this age of vast material progress that a remedy be pleasing to the taste and to the eye, easily taken, acceptable to the stomach and healthy in its nature and effects. Possessing these qualities, Syrup of Figs is the one perfect laxative and most gentle diuretic known.

A DISTURBANCE isn't what you want, if your stomach and bowels are irregular. That's about all you get, though, with the ordinary pill. It may relieve you for the moment, but you're usually in a worse state afterward than before.

This is just where Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets do most good. They act in an easy and natural way, very different from the huge, old-fashioned pills. They're not only pleasanter, but there's no reaction afterward, and their help lasts. One little sugar-coated Pellet for a gentle laxative or corrective—three for a cathartic. Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, Dizziness, Sick and Bilious Headaches, are promptly relieved and cured.

They're the smallest, the easiest to take—and the cheapest pill you can buy, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned.

You pay only for the good you get.

It won't do to experiment with Catarrh. There's the constant danger of driving it to the lungs. You can have a perfect and permanent cure with Dr. Sage's Remedy.

OLD WORLD INGENUITY.

EXAMPLES OF SOME SIMPLE BUT INGENIOUS CONTRIVANCES.

Which Lessen the Wear and Tear of Everyday Life—Enterprise in Small Things—Europeans Have yet Lots to Learn from Americans.

WHILE passing through the several countries of Europe — north to Scotland, south to Spain and east to Italy—I was much pleased and a little surprised to note a certain degree of enterprise out of keeping with my preconceived ideas of lethargy and drowsy conservatism of the popular mind abroad. True it is that in certain quarters the people are dull and unthinking—seemingly nearly without feeling. Yet it seems that no part of this world can wake up without disturbing the slumbers of the other parts; and it is certain that the new life of new continents has been felt to a degree in the old ones. In our pension in Rome the slop jars at first startled us, seeming to have no holes at all in their tops, but by trying one I found the hole closed by a round piece of tin, held in place by an S-shaped wire, one end of which was secured to the cover and on the other was a ball of lead. The wire is balanced in an ear that is fastened to the top. The weight of one or two ounces of water is sufficient to open the valve, which closes again and prevents the escape of all odors. When these buckets are kept scrupulously clean they are of utility, but under careless handling they are filthy.

Of equal utility was a carving knife I noticed in a cutler's window. On the back was a supplementary blade, short and hawk-billed in shape, underneath which the back of the larger knife was tempered and edged, so that the two blades acted as scissors in severing joints and bones. And from the arbitary way of carving fowls at our hotels I am led to suppose this style of carver is in rather general use in Southern France and Switzerland.

KNIFE ATTACHMENT TO CUT JOINTS OF FOWLS.

And while in the South one cannot do better than take a sojourn of a week in Marseilles, where one of the most familiar objects is the windlass on the rear of all carts (built like drays, with springs), with a rope passing over the load and tightened by working a bar in alternating holes in the roller or windlass. Such an arrangement must have originated from the vast number of casks to be hauled, which are given to falling off a slanting vehicle unless secured.

On these carts, as well as on the carriages, one sees the quaint screw brake. It is rather ingenious in that, on carriages, two straight rods are arranged to work around half a circle; but it is a poor contrivance, in that it is too slow in operation, a sudden halt being next to impossible without the assistance of the horse. But I saw a simpler scheme than this recently, when a porter going down a long hill in a run with a loaded handcart ran one wheel along against the curb, making enough friction to break the momentum of his load. The peasant teamster of the Roman Campagna has an eye to personal comfort, and on the poorest cart constructs a rude buggy top by sticking a scrub tree in the standard hole on the left side, in front. The branches are then trimmed and bent to the required shape, and covered with sheepskins, and often fantastically trimmed. Situated as it is, this top does not interfere with the load, and revolves to a side or front position, to suit the whim or necessity of the driver.

In the matter of transportation the European peasant is disposed to utilise all available force. A pedlar had a yellow dog hitched under his push cart, helping industriously to pull the load up a hill. An organ grinder was assisted in transporting his heavy intrument from street to street by a six-year-old daughter, who also collected the money given while he played. On other occasions I have seen, in addition to the horse in the shafts, a man and a donkey, or a woman, donkey and dog, or a cow, woman and man, helping to pull the load.

One of the best things I have seen recently is the ventilated umbrellas for carriages. This is a large umbrella with forty-two to forty-five ribs carried in a tall socket on the left of the driver and having an opening in the top from eighteen to twenty-six inches wide, which is covered by a flap that laps well over the umbrella and is fastened at intervals by buttons or rubber straps. The wind that would otherwise rend this huge affair passes out through the opening at the top. Protected thus effectually from the storms of the street the happy cabman goes home at night to sleep on an iron bedstead having no rails. The rails are concealed inside the mattress, which rests on shoulders attached to the head and foot of the bedstead.

VENTILATED UMBRELLA.

On every hand one may see displays of genius, as frequently in lowly places as in high. Here is a wine bottle stopped with oil instead of a cork; there a rustic oil stand constructed of a triple limbed scrub tree—one limb extending above the top and holding in its fork a mirror—the whole affair consisting of but three pieces; again a newspaper, printed in regulation black, has its name in brightest red; then a poor boy, retiring from the biting winds into a doorway, warming his bare feet in his hat. The little barber around the corner put a strip of raw cotton or cotton batting around my neck, when he cut my hair, to prevent the clippings from falling beneath my collar, and it succeeded perfectly, all the pieces of hair sticking to the cotton. Here is a simple appliance that has been needed for a thousand years and one that if more widely adopted would prevent much profanity and annoyance.

Perhaps no class in Europe is more fertile in invention and shifts than the beggars, who are organized and as a rule unscrupulous. A woman, impersonating a loyal daughter, feeds a so-called blind man on the street for hours from a plate of broth which she holds under his chin. Another wraps a ragged blanket around his friend and, seated on the pavement, holds him affectionately in his lap. A hag attracts sympathy to a small boy by pretending to beat him unmercifully. Like hotel servants they have learned the trick of changing places so that there is a fresh appeal always before one. But equal to these in native ingenuity are the cabmen of Europe who are thrown in contact with the travelling and cultivated publicand, constantly tempted with chances of gain, come to have their wits sharpened and their consciences hardened. One of these land pirates of Florence, when admonished by a female member of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals to cease beating his staggering horse, replied, "Signora, this horse is not baptized."

If I ask a cabman to drive me for an hour he is sure to find an excuse to take me beyond the walls where the traffic is ten centimes higher per hour, or he will wind in bystreets, stop to show me places of purely imaginary interest, or get himself blocked behind some loadedwagon till an extra hour is consumed.

The Directors, who are now the owners of the entire Capital stock, have decided, at the request of numerous friends of the Company throughout Canada, to enlarge the proprietorship of its stock, and to offer for sale, at par, ten thousand shares, of one hundred dollars each, fully paid and non-assessable.
Payments are to be made as follows:—Five per cent. on application; fifteen per cent. on allotment; twenty per cent. each in one, two, three and four months from the date of allotment. Applicants have the right to pay in full on allotment.
Applications for shares will be received until February 15th, 1893, at any of the offices of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, at the offices of the Union Bank of Halifax, and at the head office of the company, N. Y. Life Building, Montreal.
Forms of application for shares may be obtained at any of the above places, or they will be sent by mail on request.
Should no allotment of stock be made to any applicant for shares, the amount paid will be returned in full, and in the event of the Directors finding it impossible to allot the full number of shares applied for, the surplus of the deposit will be credited toward the amount payable on allotment.
The right is reserved of withdrawing the offer in whole or part at any time before allotment, and of allotting to any applicant any less number of shares than the number applied for.
As the dividends of the Company are payable quarterly, beginning with the first day of March next, allottees of stock will be entitled to receive a proportion of the quarterly dividend as declared, corresponding to the amount paid upon their subscription.
It is proposed to apply to the Stock Exchanges of Montreal and Toronto for official quotations of the shares of the Company.
The Consumers Cordage Company was organized in June, 1890, with a capital of one million dollars, to operate several of the largest Cordage and Binder Twine Factories in Canada. It, at first, operated under leases, but its operations having been successful, the Capital stock was subsequently increased to three Million Dollars, and the leased properties were purchased.
The Company has no mortgage indebtedness; and, according to the law under which it was incorporated, none can be created without the consent of two-thirds of the shares holders, represented at a meeting called for the purpose.
The Company has placed in the hands of its Bankers:—
(a) Full statements of its affairs, certified to by Messrs. Caldwell, Tait & Wilks, Chartered Accountants.
(b) The following letter from Messrs. Abbotts, Campbell & Meredith, advocates, Montreal, upon the legality of its incorporation, and the issue of its stock:—
MONTREAL, January 6, 1893.
Consumers Cordage Co., Ltd., Montreal:—
GENTLEMEN,—We have examined the books and documents connected with the organization of the Consumers Cordage Company, Limited, and are of opinion that it has been properly incorporated, and that its capital stock of $3,000,000, as issued, is fully paid up and non-assessable, according to the provisions of the "Companies Act."
We are, yours truly,
(signed), ABBOTTS, CAMPBELL & MEREDITH.
(c). A report from Messrs. Macmaster and McGibbon, Solicitors of the Company, that the titles to its Mills have been duly examined, and that no encumbrances exist.
Applicants for shares may examine these documents, copies of which may be seen at the Company's offices, and at the various offices of the Banks mentioned above.
The Consumers Cordage Company is probably the second largest Manufacturer of Cordage and Binder Twine in the world, and claims the following very material advantages over its competitors:—
1st. Ample capital to conduct its business which enables it:—
(a) To buy its raw material in larger quantities, and at lower prices.
(b) To use only the latest and most improved machinery, thus keeping its mills in the highest state of efficiency.
2nd. Economy in selling and distributing its manufactured product.
3rd. The business covers so wide a territory (its manufactured goods go to almost every civilized country in the world) that it cannot be seriously injured by local troubles; and its Manufacturing establishments are so scattered that the danger of severe loss by fire is very slight.
4th. Lower cost of production.
(a). By maintaining the sharpest competition between its several mills, it is enabled to introduce in all the best methods found in each.
(b). By spreading its commercial expenses over a larger output.
(c) By placing in one hand the purchasing of the Raw Materials and Manufacturing supplies for the several Mills, thus securing lowest prices.
(d). By manufacturing for themselves many of their supplies.
The Company has always found it in its interest to divide the economies effected in production and distribution with the Consumer, and since its existence the Consumer has, upon the average, had a better article at a lower price than previously.
The Company does not claim to have any monopoly, or to earn monopoly profits; in fact, it has not done so. Since its organization it has been able, owing to the advantages above referred to, to earn a net return on its present capital of not less than 10 per cent. per annum (as statements in their Bankers' hands will show), and the Directors believe that these profits will be maintained in the future, as the cost of production and distribution shows each year a marked decrease.
The Dividend for the year ending 31st October, 1892, was at the rate of 8½ percent. per annum. The past record of the Company and its present position justify the Directors in believing that quarterly dividends of one and three-quarters per cent. can be paid [and should the profits for the present year be as large as the outlook promises, the final quarter's dividend might be increased.
Any further information may be had at the head office of the Company at Montreal

A NEW FABRIC.

The Mirror Velvet is Fit for a Queen.

"Mirror" velvet is a new fabric which is halfway between satin and velvet. It has the softness and shadows of the one, and the sheen and brilliant surface of the other, and incidentally, the price of both put together. Ah me, are there not enough things to coax money out of our pockets as it is, without inventing more? Mirror velvet is used on gowns in the trousseaus of princesses, and then only in bands and stripes, but for just that reason some American women will have whole cloaks and even wrappers made of it.

Skirts are trimmed with rows of ribbon and fur. Frequently there are as many as five of them, and they are set wide apart so the top one comes above the knee. All this tends to the effect of width of skirt below the knee. As yet skirts do not set out all around from the knee, they hang close at the front and sides and then the lines and fulness begin. A front view presents little change from the clinging skirt we are saying a sad good-bye to. It is at the side the difference shows. To effect the setting out, crinoline is sewed back of the rows of ribbon that ornament the skirts, and at that dread word crinoline we feel our hearts sink. But that is what we are coming to.

The accompanying picture shows a use of feather trimming, which is very handsome and effective, yet which is entirely different from the method just described. The garment depicted is a visiting dress of nut-brown cloth, which is trimmed with velvet brocaded with a pale green design, and with green marabout. The large felt hat is trimmed with a knot of velvet fastened with a buckle, and with a cluster of feathers, shading from straw color to brown.

FLORETTE.

Referring to the week of prayer, an eminent divine thinks its observance is well enough on the part of churches which need reviving, but observe that Baxter at Kidderminster, and Spurgeon in his Tabernacle, did not talk much about revivals. They were always sowing and always reaping—every week was a week of prayer.

"Lift your hat reverently when you pass the teacher of the primary school," exhorts the Vanguard. "She is the good angel of the nation. She takes the bantlings fresh from the home nest, full of pouts—ungovernable little furies whose own mothers honestly admit that they send them to school to get rid of them. The lady who knows her business takes a whole car load of these anarchists, any one of whom single handed and alone is more than a match for his parents, and at once puts them in the way of becoming useful and upright men and citizens. But at what cost of toil, patience and soul-weariness! Lift your hat to her."

They Must Not Die.

It is simply an outrage to let young people die who are attacked with pulmonary troubles and incipient consumption, when Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil will save them. It should be shouted from the house tops that supposed incurable consumptives can be cured by the use of this extraordinary preparation. The rebuilding process commences in the system the moment the Emulsion is taken. It is curious to watch the effects upon emaciated persons, who begin to fill out and make new blood as often as Miller's Emulsion is administered. In an incredibly short time cadaverous looking patients again look natural and healthy. In big bottles, 50c. and $1, at all Drug Stores.

Now is the Time.

In this the season of coughs, colds, asthma, bronchitis and other throat and lung complaints, it is well to be provided with a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup which effectually cures all such diseases, and that very promptly and pleasantly. Price 25 and 50c. Sold by all druggists.

Pain from indigestion, dyspepsia, and too hearty eating, is relieved at once by taking one of Carter's Little Liver Pills immediately after dinner. Don't forget this.

Back-Ache.

Back-ache is caused by sick kidneys. Dodd's Kidney Pills will remove it. By their peculiar action on the kidneys, they impart activity and benefit the system by purifying the blood. You cannot have pure blood with disordered kidneys; health's existence depends upon their natural condition; they are the governors of the system. Continual disorder results in kidney consumption, which is Bright's disease.

For Colds and Sore Throat.

SIRS,—We use Hagyard's Yellow Oil in our family for colds and sore throat and it is excellent. My sister had asthma since childhood, but on trying Yellow Oil for it she soon was cured.
MISS LIZZIE CHAPELLE, Baldwin, Ont.

A Sensible Man.

Would use Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs. It is curing more cases of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup and all Throat and Lung Troubles, than any other medicine. The proprietor has authorized any druggist to give you a Sample Bottle FREE to convince you of the merit of this great remedy. Large bottles 50c. and $1.

If sick headache is misery, what are Carter's Little Liver Pills if they will positively cure it? People who have used them speak frankly of their work. They are small and easy to take.

Worms cause serious sickness. Dr. Low's Worm Syrup destroys and expels all kinds of worms quickly and surely.

Oh! What Beautiful Hands.

Dyer's Jelly of Cucumber and Roses will cure chapped hands and make them soft and smooth. Try it. Druggists keep it. W. A Dyer & Co., Montreal.

The number of textile mills in the country was increased by 273 last year. The new mills employ 31,500 persons.

Prof. Morse says the Japanese never mix different kinds of flowers together in one vase. A like simplicity of taste is also shown in their drinking customs.

The Sioux Indians have a newspaper published at Madison, S. Dak., called the Anpokin. Its motto is from Luke i., 78: "Wankantanhan Anpeokin hiyounhipi."

Daggers, intended for use and not for ornament and just large enough to slip inside a woman's gown, are now manufactured and sold in considerable numbers, says the Jewelers' Circular.

Staid old Beacon Hill has not had so great a shock for many a day as it received when Dr. Cilley announced that Ben Butler's brain weighed four ounces more than Daniel Webster's.

A Frenchman when asked what his political opinions were replied that it depended largely upon the person to whom he was talking. There are Canadian politicians who could fittingly answer that question in the same way.

"The Jewish Messenger" thinks that if the spirit of Elijah is still on its wanderings, according to the old rabbinic tradition, it must wonder at the opening at the foot of Mount Carmel of the Syrian Ottoman Railway, between Haifa and Damascus, whose first sod was turned on December 13.

Could we with ink the ocean fill,
Were the whole earth of parchment made,
Were ev'ry blade of grass a quill,
And ev'ry man a scribe by trade—
To write the love of God above,
Would drain the ocean dry!
Nor would the roll contain the whole,
Though stretch'd from sky to sky!
N. Y. Observer.

"Go a little deeper, Doctor," said one of Napoleon's soldiers to the surgeon who was probing his left side for a bullet, "and you will find the Emperor." So every Christian should be able to say: "Go to the core of my heart and you will find Jesus Christ." Practically, this is what Paul said, what Fenelon said, what Wesley said—what every high and saintly soul has said. Can we say it?

A man presented himself before the Czar, the other day, and requested that he might be sent to Siberia for life, and sent quickly. "Who are you?" inquired the Czar, "that you make so extraordinary a request?" "I am an American weather prophet," replied the other, "who went around last fall informing everybody whom I met that the winter of 1892-'93 was to be so mild as not to deserve the name of winter."

When it was proposed in St. Petersburg to name a street after the composer Glinka the Czar wrote to the municipal council saying: "If the name of Glinka is to be given to a street, it must be to a large thoroughfare and not a by-street. I leave you the choice." The result is that the Nicolskaia, one of the finest streets in St. Petersburg, is to be called after the composer of "Rousslane et Ludmilla."

A prominent moral teacher of our day insists upon the close relation of dress to vice, and holds that women will never be what they were made to be until they adopt a different costume: "If young women knew what young men think and say of them when they pass along the street in pyramidal hats which are but cages of dead birds; dresses displaying the bandaged, hour-glass waist and mopping skirts, with arms akimbo, and so pinched that a sausage is their only parallel; and this fashionable effigy upborne upon the same hideous slant-heeled pedestals that the demi-monde of Paris wear—if ever these young women could hear the remarks of young men as they pass by, they would never again appear in such a guise. Contrast with this a young lady quietly dressed in plaited waist, plain skirt of some soft goods falling to the ankle, low-heeled walking shoes, pretty collar, with a bit of ribbon, and neat cuffs at the wrist, hair in a simple knot, clear skin, and cheek touched with the bloom of youth and purity!" Already, continues the authority referred to, women are awakening to the facts of their physical welfare. The invisible garments of women have, within ten years, made marked progress towards compliance with nature's laws. Combination suits of flannel and cotton, long hose fastened from the waist, with leggings and arctics for cold weather, are all invaluable ameliorations of the female lot.

Campbellford Speaks.

No one has better reason to be grateful for Membray's Kidney and Liver Cure than I have. I was ill for a long time under the doctor's care; I was tortured with muscular rheumatism, disordered kidneys and general debility. I was losing flesh rapidly—had gone down from 180 to 130 pounds—and was bedfast for months. If you have been there before, you know how little there was in life for me, and when I was asked to try Membray's Cure, how hopeless I was. I used two bottled only, ($2) and at the end of that time had risen from a sick bed, regained my appetite, was relieved from all pain, put on new flesh, and am now attending to business as well as ever.—D. WATERS, merchant, Campbellford, Ont. Write me if you want further particulars about Membray's Kidney and Liver Cure.

A Cure for Constipation and Headache.

Dr. Silas Lane, while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots leaves, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick-headache in one night. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50c. a package.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

ENGLAND EXPECTED TO ATTEND TO HAWAII.

And the Dominion Government, Therefore, Has Not Communicated With the Imperial Government as Yet in the Matter.

OTTAWA, Feb. 2.—On motion to go into Committee of Supply last night Mr. Maclean asked the Government if they were pressing on the Imperial authorities the vital interest Canada has in the maintenance of the political independence of the Sandwich Islands, now in a state of revolution—islands well situated as to the trade of America, China and Australia for mining; an important station in the British cable system, and for the annexation of which islands a motion is now before the Senate of the United States.

Hon. Mr. Foster promised an answer when the First Minister took his seat later.

Just before adjournment Mr. Maclean repeated his question, and Sir John Thompson said in reply:

"A communication has been had with Her Majesty's Government in recent years with regard to the importance of the Hawaiian Islands as a possible station in connection with telegraph communication with them and Canadian interests, which are involved in the independence of that country.

"As regards the recent movement no communication has passed between the Canadian Government and Her Majesty's Government, partly on account of Her Majesty's Government being well aware of the interests involved, and partly because, as we have reason to believe, Her Majesty's Government was fully alive to the importance of them as regards Canadian interests and other interests of the Empire in these Islands."

The discussion arose over Mr. Mulock's motion, made for the third or fourth time, that binder twine be placed on the free list, and the debate was continued by Messrs. Mulock, Semple, Davin, McMillan (Huron) and McMullen, all of whom attacked the duty and held that the duty should be taken off binder twine as an offset to the combination formed in that article.

Mr. Davin, while upholding the general principles of the National Policy, held that when the National Policy was used for the purpose of forming unjust combinations it was the duty of the Government to intervene.

Col. O'Brien expressed himself as surprised at seeing the order paper studded with notices by friends of the Government of amendments to the tariff, when a prominent supporter of the Government had been read out of the party for saying that the tariff policy of the Government needed amendment. In conclusion, he moved the adjournment of the debate.

Sir Richard Cartwright attacked the National Policy in general, and "the binder twine iniquity," as he designates it, in particular, and drew one of his pictures of the Ontario farmer, whom he represented as being ground to death between the nether millstone of the National Policy and the upper millstone of the McKinley tariff.

He stated that the average price of farm land in Ontario had decreased $10 an acre in the last few years, and that very few farms were without mortgages on them.

Sir John Thompson rose at 5.50 and spoke until the Speaker left the chair. He said he was not surprised at the honorable member from South Oxford (Cartwright) opposing the proposition to postpone the vote on binder twine until after the Government had declared its policy on the whole tariff question, because that honorable gentleman always opposed any fair and reasonable proposition.

It being 6 o'clock the Speaker left the chair.

The first Conservative caucus of the session has been called for 10.30 to-morrow morning, when it is expected that some arrangement will be come to as to tariff changes proposed by several Conservative members in the way of placing corn, binder twine and coal oil on the free list.

The Department of Finance has issued trade bulletin No. 6 on trade with Great Britain, the subjects treated being hay and milk. With regard to hay it is pointed out that practically the whole of our export trade in hay is done with Great Britain and the United States, and that while up to the passage of the McKinley bill our trade with Great Britain was very limited, it is steadily and rapidly increasing. For the six years from 1885 to 1890 inclusive the annual average export to Great Britain was $76,000, while in 1891 it rose to $150,291, in 1892 to $167,604, and for the six months ending Dec. 31 last it was $95,635.

With regard to condensed milk it is pointed out that Canada appears to possess exceptional advantages for engaging in this business, and tables are given showing the imports into Great Britain, which amount to over four million dollars annually; and a very useful letter from Prof. Robertson, Dairy Commissioner, covering a report from Prof. Shutt on analyses made at the Experimental Farm of samples of condensed milk from Truro, N.S., Limerick, Ireland, and London, Eng.

In the Senate yesterday the debate on the address was continued by Hon. Mr. Boulton, who moved an amendment in favor of free trade and made one of his usual rambling speeches without any particular point to it. He was followed by Hon. Mr. Bellerose, who expressed himself pleased with the personnel of the new Government, except that he would have preferred to have an old member of the Senate made leader instead of one of the youngest members.

Hon. Mr. Angers spoke for an hour, delivering one of the best speeches delivered in the House for some time, and moved the adjournment of the debate shortly before 6 o'clock, as he had not finished his remarks.

Mr. Scriver and Mr. Dickey last night gave notice that they would on Friday ask the Government the questions with regard to the Prohibition Commission which were agreed to at the meeting of the temperence members of the House yesterday morning.

Mr. Smith (Ontario) gives notice of motion for an address to His Excellency for copies of all orders-in-council now in force regulating the slaughtering of swine for exportation in bond passed under the Customs Act, and for a copy of the quarantine regulations governing the importation of such swine into Canada for the purpose of slaughtering in bond.

Mr. Mulock gives notice of a motion for a return showing all expenditure of all kinds since Confederation in respect to the office of governor and the maintenance of Rideau Hall.

Mr. Monet proposes to move a resolution that it is expedient in the interests of Canada to remove the duties levied on all kinds of agricultural implements.

After recess the House quickly got into supply, and the evening was spent up to 10.30 in the usual annual discussion consequent on the votes for the salary and expenses of the High Commissioner, which were finally passed with less time being wasted over them than has been the case for the last few years.

It is understood that Mr. Burgess has been reinstated in his old position of Deputy Minister of the Interior.

A rumor is afloat, which cannot be verified at this late hour, that Auditor-General McDougall is about to apply for superannuation on the ground of failing health. Mr. McDougall has not been working as well as usual of late, but has been constant and regular in his attendance at his office.

Canada's Interests in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—The signatures of nearly 4000 Canadian residents of Illinois have been forwarded to the Canadian Government in connection with a petition asking for the establishment in Chicago of an agency for the protection of Canadian interests in the Northwest.

The petitioners urge among other reasons their request that the result of the late for presidential election will be attended with a more liberal commercial policy and give a new impetus to trade relations between Canada and the Northwest; that foreign countries of less prominence than Canada are represented in Chicago to their own great benefit; that Chicago, as the distributing point of Canadian immigration to the Northwest, needs an agency which may direct immigration to Canadian points and otherwise aid the Dominion's interests.

It is True

That we are doing great things with Linen Table Napkins and Towelling Goods. We have been told over and over again that there is no stock in town which affords a more satisfactory choice and in which such low prices predominate. Ladies call, go elsewhere, and come back and buy.

Half regular prices are what we have put on a beautiful line of Table Linen, nobby goods in Table Napkins, and superior makes of Towelling slightly damaged. These lines we wish to drive, and you will save considerable money by buying now.

Back of these goods there are others in which the cutting process still goes on, such as Bedspreads, Comfortables, Sheeting, Marseilles, Quilts, &c. These possess a newness that charms on sight. The assortment is plenty enough to please the most particular lady.

During the past few weeks we have been stock-taking. The results are pleasant, for we have the satisfaction of knowing that the business done during the year just ended has exceeded anything in the past. This enables us to be generous, and we are bound to retain your patronage by giving the BEST values in town.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1893.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

THE TWO ISSUES TO BE DISCUSSED THIS SESSION.

The Manitoba School Question and Tariff Reform—The School Question to Be First Dealt to the High Courts—The Tariff Reform to Wait.

OTTAWA, Feb. 3.—The first Conservative caucus of the session was held in room 16 yesterday, with Col. Tisdale presiding. There was a very large attendance of Senators and Members of the House of Commons, and the discussion lasted two hours and a half. No exact statement of what was done can be had, although it is evident that the discussion was a very interesting one.

Sir John Thompson, so the rumor goes, made the opening speech and said that the two serious questions confronting the Conservative party were the Manitoba school question and the tariff.

With regard to the first, it was clearly laid down in the British North America Act, so the separate school advocates contended, that Parliament could grant remedial legislation. Until it was ascertained whether this was so or not it was idle for Parliament to discuss the question of the Manitoba separate school. It was therefore the duty of the Government to ascertain first by the decision of the Supreme Court of Canada, and possibly thereafter by the Privy Council of England, as to whether Parliament possessed any such powers. When that question was settled the Government would have a policy in the matter. This explanation appeared to be eminently satisfactory to the caucus.

With regard to the tariff, it is believed that he said that the present was not the time to make any sweeping changes. Canada's tariff policy must of necessity be conditioned by the tariff policy of the United States, and it would be wise for Canada not to do anything in the way of change until the Cleveland administration had an opportunity of showing their intentions towards the revision of the American tariff. Sir John, however, said his Government invited the fullest and freest discussion from their followers on the subject.

Mr. Foster followed him and held that tariff revision could only be along a line of most careful enquiries into all the ramifications of the duties, and this certainly could not be done this session. Taking all things into consideration, the tariff had been a great success, and he was glad to see that they were stronger to-day than ever before by reason of maintaining it.

A long discussion followed, several members taking the ground that it would be advisable for the Government to modify in some degree the present duty on binder twine and coal oil. These two subjects were very fully threshed out and the meeting wound up in the usual way without any formal decision.

It is understood that at yesterday's caucus Sir John Thompson stated that the Ottawa Government has already taken steps to secure the co-operation of other British colonies in advocating enlarged trade relations between the Mother Country and her colonies.

It is exceedingly likely, so it is stated in Ottawa last night, that the North German Lloyds will run a fast weekly steamer to Quebec during the coming summer for the convenience of people who would come that way and return via New York, doing the Chicago Exposition and the west in the interval and on a return ticket, which no other arrangement would be able to secure. This will afford evidence of the safety or exceptional danger of fast river service, and might of course grow into a permanent arrangement.

Mr. William Mulock's motion to put binder twine on the free list has been hung up for the present by the adoption of Mr. O'Brien's amendment that the debate be adjourned.

When the motion was reached in its order Fraser, Mulock, Edgar, Campbell (Kent) and Bain (Wentworth) made short speeches opposing the adjournment of the debate.

Mr. Stairs of Halifax, who has been pretty freely attacked by the Opposition as the head of the binder twine combine, closed the debate with a short speech, in which he said that when the binder twine industry was started in Canada about 10 or 12 years ago it was classed under unenumerated articles at 20 per cent., and the duty had since been fixed at 25 per cent. without the increase being asked for by the Dominion Cordage Co. He denied that there was a monopoly, as there were two cordage companies in Canada, and the Ontario Government was also going into the manufacture of binder twine and would no doubt prove a serious competitor.

He complained that the Opposition did not treat the question of the price of binder twine fairly, as they compared the wholesale price in the United States with the retail price in Canada. He denied that the Canadian farmer paid any more for his binder twine than the farmer in the United States did. As to English binder twine, he did not think it could be sold here at as low a price as the Canadian article even if there was no duty.

If binder-twine was to be treated as a part of the National Policy, he would have to be satisfied with whatever action the Government took. But he objected to binder twine being picked out and held up as an example of monopoly created by the National Policy.

The House then divided on Mr. O'Brien's amendment, which was carried by a vote of 99 for to 58 against. The vote was a straight one and there were no bolters on either side.

The mantle of Mr. Adam Brown, ex-M.P., who three sessions ago introduced and very nearly got passed what was irreverently called "The Dicky Bird Bill," prohibiting pigeon matches, appears to have fallen upon Mr. Emerson Coatsworth, M.P., who in introducing his bill yesterday to amend the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals Act stated that one of the provisions of the act was not for prohibiting pigeon shooting, but for the preventing of unnecessary cruelty in the exercise of the sport.

The provisions of Mr. Coatsworth's bill also cover the carriage of animals by train, and in support of his bill Mr. Coatsworth cited several instances where lambs and swine had been trampled to death while on the cars. The bill was introduced and read a first time.

In introducing to-day his bill to amend the act respecting the civil service of Canada, Mr. Choquette said that his amendment provided that no one should be appointed to the civil service of Canada in the Province of Quebec or the city of Ottawa who cannot read and write both English and French, and who has not resided in Canada for at least three years. The bill was introduced and ordered for second reading, but if it passed at all, which is not likely, Mr. Choquette may find it amended out of all recognition before it gets through.

Mr. Amyot has reintroduced his bill to make voting compulsory. This is the same bill introduced by him last year, and which hung on the order paper all through the session only to share in the general slaughter of the innocents at prorogation. Mr. Amyot is starting a little earlier this year than last, but it is doubtful whether his bill will make any greater progress.

This being private members' day quite a quantity of routine business has been put through, and a really good day's work has been done. Amongst the questions answered was one of Mr. Fairbairn, who wanted to know whether the Government has reason to believe that the order of the British Board of Agriculture requiring the slaughtering of cattle at the port of debarkation in the United Kingdom will be shortly rescinded.

Sir John Thompson said that the matter has been the subject of strong correspondence between the Dominion Government and the Government of Great Britain, which could be brought down if it was desired, but he was not able to give any answer to the question until further communication had been received from the Imperial Government.

Major "Sam" Hughes never loses an opportunity of saying a good word for the militia force or of trying to further its interests. Yesterday he asked whether, in order to promote rifle shooting, the Government intended to grant volunteers and rifle associations Snider ammunition at 5 cents or less per package and Martini at 10 cents or less per package.

Hon. Mr. Patterson, in replying, said that the Government was anxious to promote rifle shooting, and that the question of a reduction of the price of ammunition was now under consideration.

Sir Hector Langevin's motion for papers in connection with the northwestern, northern and eastern boundaries of the Province of Quebec caused a little debate, in which Sir Hector, Hon. David Mills, Sir Adolphe Caron and Hon. T. M. Daly participated. The question is not a very burning one and the motion passed without objection, but it developed the fact that the new Minister of the Interior has taken hold of his department with the determination of thoroughly mastering all its details, and he showed a familiarity with the subject under discussion, unimportant as it was, which argues well for his success as a Minister. This was really the first departmental matter Mr. Daly has had to handle, and he handled it well.

Mr. Taylor introduced his motion that "in the opinion of this House it is expedient that legislation enacted during the present session of Parliament to prohibit the importation into Canada or the manufacture therein of lard adulterated with cotton seed oil or other injurious ingredients," which was debated up to 6 o'clock, when the House adjourned until to-day.

GROWING CHEEKY.

Toronto's Highway Robbers Get Funny And Write to the Police.

TORONTO, Feb. 3.—The daylight robbers who have been the topic of so much conversation lately have taken another tack and got funny. On Wednesday night about 11 o'clock Robert W. Grainger of 182 Queen-street east was surprised to find a cardboard box on his doorstep containing a quantity of cheap jewelry and watches, which had apparently been hammered and tested with acid to find out if they contained gold. The box was handed over to the police, and search revealed a sheet of such cheap ruled paper as is usually used by domestics, on which was written in lead pencil two messages as follows:

TORONTO, Feb. 1, 1893.

Ammon Davis & Co.:

DEAR SIR,—I take the pleasure of writing these few lines to let you know that we don't want your stuff, so we will give it back to you, as we have to leave town and we have to keep the best of it. No more at present.

Yours, etc.,
DALTON IMITATERS.

A word to the police detectives: You think you are smart, but not as smart as you think you are; you think we would not shoot, but try us further. The next time we raid you will see. At the bank Cuddy, or whatever his name is, saved his life by not coming in time; next time, it may be soon or it may be quite awhile, we will shoot whether it is needed or not. No more at present.

Yours truly,
DALTON IMITATERS.

Inspector Stark is of the opinion that the writing is in a disguised hand and that it is valueless as a clue. The writing is "back hand," but not to an excessive or strained degree; the pencil has been handled with the greatest ease; the letters are free and uncramped and light, with none of the heavy pressure about them that is apt to distinguish the inexperienced writer. The two notes seem to have been written with great speed, which would account for the "back hand" movement, and ended with a wild flourish which has a free, experienced touch about it. The writer seems to have been a man who writes frequently and carelessly.

FIRE IN MONTREAL.

The Whole Brigade Turned Out to Fight the Flames.

MONTREAL, Feb. 3.—Rolland Bro's. furniture warerooms, near the G.T.R. Station, and the Hood Mann Crockery Company building were quick spoil for the flames last night. The whole brigade was called out and had a terrible struggle. Loss about $70,000.

A STRIKE UNDER WAY.

CHICAGO, Feb. .—There is a prospect that the most stupendous strike on the railroads leading into the city which has ever been started may be inaugurated within a fortnight, no road being left unaffected. This strike will be organized and maintained by the switchmen, every man so employed being practically pledged to go into it and hold out to the end.

A preliminary meeting was held last night, at which over 200 representatives of the various switchmen's organizations were present. Not a single railroad was unrepresented, and the sentiment was unanimous that unless the demands about to be made to the railroad companies be acceded to promptly a concerted movement be made for a strike, which will be far-reaching and irresistible.

Final arrangements will be made on Sunday, when committees will be appointed to wait on the railroad managers.

TRAGEDY IN WATERLOO.

SHOT BY A REVOLVER BROUGHT BY HIS UNCLE.

Who Has Just Arrived From Milwaukee on a Visit—He Had Stated It Was a Revolver—She Pressed It, Pointed It at the Boy and It Went Off.

WATERLOO, Ont., Feb. 2.—A sad and painful accident occurred here last night, whereby Mr. Joseph Huber lost his Eddie aged 7 years old.

A brother-in-law of Mr. Huber arrived here last night on a visit from Milwaukee, Wis., and in unpacking his valise placed a 32-calibre, self-cocking revolver in a drawer, remarking at the time it was too dangerous to have it lying exposed.

Ten minutes later Mr. Huber's little girl of 9 took out the same revolver and pointing it at her little brother remarked: "I am going to shoot," when it went off, the ball passing through the little boy's thumb into his abdomen.

He only lived until 7 o'clock to-night, when he expired.

THE EAGLE SCREECHES.

And Shows a Warrior's Feather Into Grover's Cap.

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—The Herald prints the following from its special correspondent in Washington: The impression is general that the new administration will pursue an aggressive foreign policy. Enthusiastic members of the House are firmly impressed with the belief that Mr. Cleveland favors not only the annexation of Hawaii, but of Canada.

They think he favors the absorption by the United States of the entire North American Continent. I suggested to several members that possibly England might not stand idly by and see the United States annex such an important possession as British North America.

The reply was that Europe would be in a blaze of war within the next 24 months, and that England would be busy protecting her European and other colonial possessions, that she would not likely do more than merely protest against the action of the Government.

It is remarked that the sentiment in Canada is entirely in favor of its annexation by this country. The sentiment in the Western States is also strongly inclined towards the taking in of this country. The interests of both countries, it is argued, are identical, and the greatest good results to both can be secured by no better means than by the unification of the two countries. The annexation spirit has developed wonderfully in Washington during the last 24 hours.

The first gun, I understand, will be fired in the House next week. One of the leading Democrats has, it is said, a speech in preparation which will to a great extent reflect the prospective policy of the incoming administration. Several days ago I stated that many Democrats were averse to giving expression to their views until they had heard from Mr. Cleveland. They have evidently heard from him in an unmistakable way.

CROSSING THE CONTINENT.

The Commissioners from Hawaii Will Soon Be At Washington.

OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 3.—The Commissioners Committee of the provisional Government of Hawaii passed through Omaha last evening on their way to Washington. The Commissioners have a sealed letter from John L. Stevens, the American Minister to Hawaii, to Secretary of State Foster. The letter is supposed to contain the credentials of the gentlemen of the provisional Government of Hawaii to the Secretary of State.

If the letter is accepted the commissioners will consider it a recognition on the part of the United States of the provisional Government, which will give them authority to easily present their claims to the recognition and the protection of the Government of this country. In case the Secretary of State refuses to acknowledge the credentials of the provisional Government, the commissioners are undecided as to what action they will take, but they will not hesitate to use every expedient to have their claims promptly considered.

An appeal will be made to the President to have him send a message to Congress on the subject.

ENGLAND'S POSITION.

She Considers the Americans Will Protect British Residents At Hawaii.

LONDON, Feb. 3.—In the House of Commons yesterday Ellis Ashmead-Bartlett (Conservative) questioned the Government as to the advices they had received from Hawaii, and further desired enlightenment as to what the British Government intended to do in the matter.

Sir Edward Gray, Parliamentary Secretary of the Foreign Office, replied that information received by the Government generally agreed with the cable news published in the newspapers. He added that the Government, as at present advised, did not intend to send warships to Honolulu. The Government considered that the lives and property of the British subjects in Hawaii were safe under American protection. [Cries of "Hear, hear."]

Continuing, Sir Edward Gray said it was possible that a British warship on the way from Acapulco, Mexico, would touch at Honolulu as she was going to Esquimalt. In conclusion he said there was no foundation whatever for the report that the British Government had made a protest to the Government at Washington regarding the Hawaiian Islands.

A question put by Sir Francis Sharp-Powell, Conservative, to the Right Hon. Sir A. Kay-Shuttleworth, Secretary to the Admiralty, elicited a similar reply.

Fire At St. Thomas.

ST. THOMAS, Feb. 3.—The large planing mill owned by Henry Lindop in Moore-street was totally destroyed by fire yesterday morning about 1 o'clock.

Several dwellings adjoining were also destroyed. Mill total loss. No insurance on dwellings. Cause of fire unknown.

LOCAL NIMRODS IN DEMAND.

They Receive a Flattering Offer to Engage in a Hazardous and Hardy Hunting Expedition in British Columbia—A Compliment to Mr. Thos. Dunn's Sportsmanlike Qualities—Strolling about the Rockies.

The following communication has been received by Mr. H. C. Winch, the famous local Nimrod and well known president of the Peterborough Hunt Club. The writer is Mr. H. Elkhorn, of the Vancouver Hunt Club, and World's Fair commissioner for specimens. His offer is a generous and tempting one, and the Peterborough gentlemen referred to can hardly restrain themselves from accepting it. It is a high compliment and deserving tribute to the well known sportsmanlike qualities and abilities of these gentlemen that they with their robust frames, sturdy physiques, and unerring aim should be importuned to go so far and to kill for such a noble purpose. Following is a true copy of the letter, which will explain itself:

VANCOUVER, B.C., January 23rd, 1893.

H. C. Winch, Esq., Morrow-Winch Hunting Party, Peterborough, Ontario.

DEAR SIR,—Being anxious to organize a party of five or six hardy young men of good sporting ability, to go on a six months hunting trip, for the purpose of securing specimens of elk deer, mountain sheep and bear, for the World's Fair Exhibition, and being informed by Mr. Kent (who says he is an old friend of yours and one who has been on several hunting expeditions with you) that you would likely be able to assist me in making up the party (not necessarily by going yourself, though that would give the party tone) but by securing for me the services of two or three able young men members of your hunting party.

For your guidance and assistance I may say Mr. Kent mentioned the following persons who would likely be induced to accompany me: A. Simpson, A. Patterson, John Green, Thos. Fortye, R. B. McKee, H. LeBrun and Thos. Duan. The latter young man Mr. Kent speaks very highly of and says he is the life of any camp, besides being an experienced and brave hunter and fond of camp life in the woods. Mr. Kent informs me that Mr. Dunn bravely faced a bear with nothing in the shape of fire arms or bowie knives, but simply and bravely killed the bear with a club. This incident made such a strong impression upon him that he has ever since sung in a beary-tone voice.

I would, therefore, naturally be delighted to secure the services of Mr. Dunn. I would be tempted to put such a man in charge of the party.

The salary is, of course, not large. I, however, am prepared to offer for the right stamp of hunters, free transportation from and return to place of residence, also complimentary tickets to World's Fair, besides $10 per head for each of the above named specimens secured by the hunter. I may add that everything in the shape of blankets and food will be furnished free of cost to hunters by me.

As we are anxious to get away on the expedition by the fifteenth of next month, and the time is drawing near, I would be greatly obliged if you would endeavour to see the young men I speak and if they will accept the position, be good enough to wire me.

Thanking you for the trouble I am sure you will be put to over this letter, I remain

Yours very truly,

H. ELKHORN,
Box 551.

World's Fair Commissioner for sporting specimens.

P.S.—I will endeavour to repay you for all trouble by presenting you with the head of something secured by our party after the World's Fair. Mr. Kent would like to accompany us but cannot leave his business for that length of time, besides he says he was never very fond of camping out with snow on the ground and as you are aware of how long the snow lasts on the mountains we are likely to be in to 6 or 8 feet of it before we get back.

MRS. JOSEPH LLOYD.

If Mrs. Joseph Lloyd, of Gananoque, Ont., achieved a glorious victory over the power of suffering and disease by using Paine's Celery Compound. Will others follow her example? They must if they carefully read her letter of testimony. The evidence is strong, convincing, and cannot be disputed by any reasoner or skeptic. Mrs. Lloyd writes as follows: "I fell it my duty to tell you what Paine's Celery Compound has done for me. I was always a sufferer from nervous debility and very bad headache, and found it impossible to obtain regular rest and sleep.

Two years ago I read of your Paine's Celery Compound, and bought a bottle of it. After I had used it I found I could get rest and quiet. I have used altogether seven bottles and find myself completely cured.

Your medicine purifies the blood and regulates the system; and I would not be without it in my house if it took my last dollar.

Before using Paine's Celery Compound my weight was only 100 pounds; now I weigh 141 pounds. Is this not sufficient reason for me to praise the Compound highly?

Before I knew of your valuable medicine I was treated by the doctors, but never received any good. Five of my friends are now using your valuable medice since they have seen what it has done for me.

I wish you to use my statements as they may be of encouragement to others."

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

THE GREAT MONTREAL Y. M. C. A. CONVENTION.

A Succinct Summary of a Very Successful Gathering—Kindly Compiled by Mr. General Secretary Chapman—A Picture of the Montreal Home of the Young Men.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

A brief account of the proceedings of the recent convention of the Young Men's Christian Associations of Ontario and Quebec held last week in Montreal and which was attended by Mr. A. J. Hamilton and myself as representatives of the Peterborough Association, may not be uninteresting to your readers although many of them have perhaps read the fuller accounts contained in the Montreal papers.

The secretaries met a day in advance of the other delegates and discussed the following topics, "How to enlist and organize committees."

Paper by H. H. Distin, of Quebec, "The secretary's relation to financial management." Paper by the writer, "How best to preserve the fervour of our own spirit amid the constant waste and worry of secretarial life's. Paper by F. J. Fedarb, of Ottawa, "How to interest and retain young Christian business men in the work." Paper by F. M. Pratt, of Hamilton.

The following topics were also briefly discussed in three-minute papers or addresses by those who names follow them: "The Secretary's Relation to C. E. Societies," R. J. Colville, of West Toronto; "The Secretary's Attitude towards Labour and Social Problems," C. R. Sayer, of London; "What should a Secretary Consider Sufficient Evidence of a Call to Another Field?" C. R. Calhoun, of Lindsay; "What Means have been Successful in Retaining Members?" E. Willans, of Brockville; "The Need of Business Principles in Association Work," by the writer; "The Secretary as a Counsellor to Young Men and as a Soul-Winner," D. A. Budge, of Montreal. An excellent Bible reading on the topic "Our Consecration," was also given by G. E. Williams, of Kingston.

The evening session of the secretaries' conference was mainly devoted to observing the work carried on in the Montreal Association building.

THE MONTREAL Y.M.C.A. BUILDING.

No extra effort had been made for the occasion, but a survey of the building showed that in three different rooms workers, Bible training classes, were being taught, in two others educational classes in French and Phonography were being conducted, in two others the Association orchestra and choir were rehearsing, in the gymnasium two gymnastic classes were exercising, while the bathrooms and swimming tank were being well patronized and the reading rooms and parlours were well attended. It is probably safe to say that no less than four hundred young men were in the building at once, while the daily attendance averages about seven or eight hundred. The Association numbers 1400 members, with a Junior department containing over 400 and employs four salaried officers besides two others who devote a part of their time to the work. On Thursday evening, the 41st anniversary, was held in the new St. James Methodist church, which was filled to the doors by an enthusiastic audience.

THE CONVENTION PROPER OPENED

on Thursday afternoon and continued throughout Friday, Saturday and Sunday, the latter day being of course devoted to religious services. The number of delegates present was smaller than when the convention is held farther west, but the interest was deep and the proceedings and discussions exceedingly practical. Two prominent speakers had been secured from outside the provinces, viz., Rev. R. A. Torrey, superintendent of the Moody Bible Institutes, Chicago, and Mr. John R. Mott, one of the college secretaries of the International Committee. The principal topics discussed, and the persons who led the discussion were as follows:

"The Current Expense Problem, How to widen the Financial Constituency," Dr. J. J. Maclaren, Q. C., of Toronto.

"Our Membership, How Obtained; How Retained; How Won for Christ;" W. J. Waugh, of Hamilton.

"The Spiritual Life of a Worker, How Maintained and Developed," S. J. Moore, of Toronto.

"The Junior Department, Possible Methods of Religious, Social and Physical Work," R. Charlton, of Montreal.

"Social Work, What Lines should be Emphasized," Dr. W. G. Anglin, of Kingston.

"The relation of the College Association to the General Association work," E. Lawrence Hunt, M.A., of Knox College, Toronto.

"Physical work, its opportunities and dangers." W. H. Ball, of Montreal.

"Training classes, methods and results," John R. Mott, of New York.

"Educational work, evening classes and University extension," Dr. F. W. Kelly, of Montreal.

An hour of Bible study was conducted each day by Rev. R. A. Torrey, on the following topics: "How to study the Bible," "The life and character of St. Paul," "The Holy Spirit's power for service." These hours were intensely interesting and left a very deep impression on the listeners.

On Sunday a consecration meeting was held at 9.30 p.m, and in the afternoon meetings were held for young men, college students and boys.

These meetings were fruitful in the professed conversion of several young men and boys. The closing meeting was held in St. James' Methodist church, where after brief addresses and testimonies by Revs. Drs. Hunter and Douglas, the delegates and members of the Montreal Association joined hands and sang together as usual "Blest be the Tie that Binds," after which the Convention was declared closed. The next Convention will be held in either West Toronto or Woodstock.

The Montreal Association building, in which the sessions were held, and a cut of which appears, above is probably the best located, arranged and equipped, though not the most costly, building of the kind in the world. It stands at the corner of Dominion Square, with the Windsor Hotel, the C.P.R. station and the still unfinished St. Peter's Cathedral, each the finest building of its kind in Canada, opposite it in three different directions. Its dimensions are 128x80 ft., five stories high. It is built of limestone and red brick and cost with lot $160,000. It contains about fifty rooms, twenty-one of which are used by the Association and the remainder rented, the income thus derived more than providing for the interest on the debt. No adequate description of the attractive, inviting and in every way beneficial arrangements of this building can be given within the limits of this brief article. I can only urge every citizen of Peterborough who visits Montreal to call and see it for himself. The secretary, Mr. Budge, is known in Association circles the world over as probably the most capable and successful secretary in existence. His influence in Montreal, and indeed throughout the United States and Canada, can scarcely be over-estimated. His assistants, Messrs. Corbett, Patton and Ball, ably and faithfully second his efforts, and no young man who enters the Montreal Association building receives any but the most cordial welcome.

A former worker in the Peterborough Association, Mr. J. W. Ridgeway, now belongs to the Montreal Association and another Mr. E. A. Mannell, has just been transferred.

All who are interested in hearing a fuller description of the convention and of the Montreal building are invited to come to the rooms next Saturday and Sunday evenings.

Your very truly,
W. F. CHAPMAN.

You can never tell what a slight cold may lead to; it is best, therefore, to give yourself the benefit of the doubt, and cure it as soon as possible with Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. A day's delay, sometimes an hour's delay, may result in serious consequences.

DOURO.

(From Our Own Correspondent)

The family of Mr. Patrick Mohn have the warmest sympathy of the community generally in the loss they have sustained by the death of a loving wife and mother. Mrs. Moher who has resided in this township for many years was highly respected by all who knew her, and in her death St. Joseph's church loses one of her most devoted children, and the family, a mother who was noted for her kindness of disposition and devotion to her home. She leaves a husband and eight children to mourn her loss. Her funeral on Sunday last was largely attended.

Six points, out of many, where Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are better than other pills:

1. They're the smallest, and easiest to take—little sugarcoated granules that every child takes readily.
2. They're perfectly easy in their action—no griping, no disturbance.
3. Their effect LASTS. There's no reaction afterward. They regulate or cleanse the system, according to size of dose.
4. They're the cheapest, for they're GUARANTEED to give satisfaction, or your money is returned. You pay only for the GOOD you get.
5. Put up in glass—are always fresh.
6. They CURE Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, Sick or Bilious Headaches, and all derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels.

Biliousness Cured.

GENTLEMEN,—I have used Burdock Blood Bitters for biliousness and find it the best remedy for this complaint. I used several other remedies but they all failed to do me any good. However, it required only two bottles of B. B. B. to cure me completely, and I can recommend it to all.

Yours truly,
WM. ROBINSON, Wallaceburg.

A Great Surprise.

Is in store for all who use Kem's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs, the great guaranteed remedy. It never fails to cure acute or chronic coughs. All druggists sell Kemp's Balsam. Large Bottles 50c. and $1.

Why you take Cold and Cough.

Generally caused by exposure to cold, wet feet, sitting in a draught, coming from hot and crowded places, in thin dress, or wearing damp clothes, stockings, or any other cause tending to check suddenly the perspiration. The result produces inflammation of the lining membrane of the lungs or throat, and this causes phlegm or matter, which nature tries to throw off by expectoration. In many cases she is unable to do so without assistance, and this is Why you use Allen's Lung Balsam.

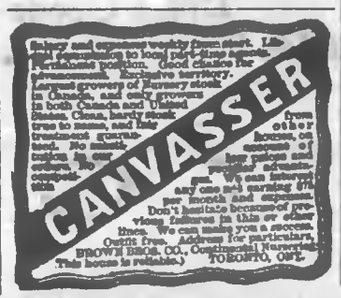
DAVID DOIG



TO BE OR NOT TO BE "IN IT."

A Life Agent called at a friend's place one day,
HE WASN'T IN IT;
He had seen "the hose" coming and fled from his way
HE WASN'T IN IT;
He had heard to much said, he was tired and sick
Of insurance and agents—'twas all a blank trick,
When one's call must be strictly to win it,
HE WASN'T IN IT.

A bit of a draft blew o'er his bald head,
HE WAS IN IT;
Pneumonia sent him straightway to his bed,
HE STAYED IN IT;
His doctor made of it a "quite special" case,
To save him for running still more of life's race,
But the grave took some chances to win it,
AND HE'S IN IT.

When approached by a gent for insuring your life,
GET RIGHT IN IT;
It's the right thing to do for your children and wife,
THEN STAY IN IT.
Remember that fires take your goods "out of sight,"
And that accidents happen each day and each night.
While insurance protects every minute,
IF YOU'RE IN IT.

A Bank Manager's Opinion.

HE IS "IN IT."

The General Manager of one of the leading banks in Canada, writing to a personal friend, says:—"I have no hesitation in saying that I place the CANADA LIFE upon the highest platform. It is in my opinion carefully, economically and honestly managed; its Reserve Funds are well invested; its rates of Premiums are low, and its future is, I think better assured than a great majority of Companies. I have my own life insured in the Company for a round amount, and would not hesitate to increase the amount of my policies should I decide upon taking out further insurance."

A Government Insurance Actuary's Opinion

On the Relation between Ordinary and Tontine Service.

It is frequently asserted by Companies whose business is nearly all tontined, that although the CANADA LIFE may and does pay large ordinary profits, yet it cannot compare so favourably on a long term distribution or tontine period, and that in the end better results can be obtained on a tontine policy in a large American Co. than on an ordinary or tontine policy in the CANADA LIFE. To prove the absurdity of this statement, the following piece of common sense is quoted from Mervin Tabor, late Actuary of the Illinois Goverment Insurance Department. In his well known book, "The Three Systems of Life Insurance," he says: "A company that gives large dividends on the ordinary kind of policies, can give much larger on the same kinds when Tontined, and a company that pays but meagre dividends on the usual forms, adopting perhaps the Tontine system to "cover up" its small surpluses, cannot be relied on for large returns of surplus under the Tontine Forms of Insurance."

The CANADA LIFE does not "cover up" its Quinquennial profits as some Companies do, but publishes them throughout the country.

It can and does surpass other Companies on Quinquennial profits. It should and will surpass them on Tontine profits.

WHY TO BE "IN IT."

BISHOP HAWKE'S REASON:—"I claim that Life Insurance is not only a humane, but I might say a Christian Institution."

LORD LYNDHURST'S REASON:—"A Policy of Life Insurance is always an evidence of prudent forethought. No man with a dependent family is free from reproach if not insured."

WHEN TO BE "IN IT."

The younger, the cheaper. Therefore insure when young. Besides by insuring in the CANADA LIFE now, you will share in three years' profits.

WHERE TO BE "IN IT."

The best place to be "in it" is in the Company that gives the best returns for the least money, consistent with absolute security. Therefore, in order to be "in it," choose the

A Somewhat Disastrous Fire.

An alarm of fire called out the brigade a few minutes before one o'clock this morning. The unused pottery which at one time belonged to Mr. J. Kingdon, but was afterwards purchased by the Allen estate, was burned to the ground. A strong eastern wind helped the flames to sweep the structure out of existence in an incredibly short time. The loss will be about $700. There was an insurance on the building. The firemen were unable to throw any water on the fire, the nearest hydrant being at the corner of Park and Sherbrooke streets, about a half a mile distant. A large brick kiln was also ruined. The building was a frame story and a half structure in good condition, dimensions 20x40 with a shed adjoining about 18x20. Two alarms were sent in, the second by a mistake coming from No. 2 box.

A Friendly Hockey Match.

In a friendly game from five to six last night, the Collegiate hockey team was defeated on a score of 4 goals to 2 by the second seven of the town. The Collegiates were badly crippled by the absence of King and Grubbe. These present, they claim the score would have been reversed. For the Collegiate, Adams and Halliday played magnificently, while for the town King did everything. The collegiate goals were scored by Heap and McWilliams. The return match will come off next week. The teams were as follows:

A GREAT CURLING CAMPAIGN.

Keen Contest Between Peterborough and Toronto—Splendid Work of the Peterborough Curlers—The Home Curlers Royally entertained.

The Four Dozen Peterborough curlers came home from Toronto this morning in an ecstasy of delight with their two days campaign. They did splendid work, and, considering the heavy odds, covered themselves with glory. They are more than pleased with the whole-souled hospitality extended them by their Toronto brethren of the "stane." At the Granite and Toronto rinks, the splendid club houses were media of a munificent repast both noon and evening and at the Prospect, though the accommodations were less elaborate, the same unstinted hospitality prevailed.

The Peterboroughs are particularly pleased with their defeat of the Granites. The latter, inspired with respect by the close outcome of the Tankard Competition last year, put on for this occasion the strongest half dozen rinks the largest curling club in the world (in the way of membership) could muster. The six Granite rinks contained 29 skips and 13 vice skips, yet in spite of this "pull" the Peterborough curlers defeated them by a score of 13 points.

The ice in the Granite and the Toronto rinks was good, but at Prospect Park it was uncertain; it neutralised skilful playing, and chance played a larger part.

WICKS.

The Empire says "Peterborough turns out a great lot of good curlers and fine fellows."

Peterborough's half century was the largest body of curlers from one town that ever visited Toronto.

The play of the outing was that of J. H. Connal—he defeated the strongest quartette in Toronto—Dalton's—by 8 points.

The talk of the town — Toronto curlers' hospitality.

Couldn't Keep on His Feet.

PETERBOROUGH, Jan. 31st, 1892.

To the Peterborough Medicine Company:

GENTLEMEN,—If there is any medicine in the world that I pin my faith to it is Membray's Kidney and Liver Cure. In my business I have to stand on my feet a good deal. About a year ago my back began to give out, weakening pains set in across my kidneys, I felt tired all the time and could hardly stand up to my work. I began to lose strength and at last had to give up work altogether. A customer advised me to try your cure which I did. Before half the bottle was used, I felt the pains and weakness leaving me and to-day I enjoy good health and can bear fatigue and work all right. One bottle was all I used.

ALF. HASKILL, barber.

THE SNOW PLOUGHS AGAIN.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—As a ratepayer I ask is this 1690, knee-deep or the 3rd day of February, 1893. At ten o'clock snow knee-deep and no snowplough on Simcoe, Hunter, Stewart or around the cathedral or convent, where hundreds of children are going to school and have to wade knee-deep in snow. I can refer you to many citizens who will bear me out on this testimony.

Yours etc.

—The club swinging class of the Young Women's Association will meet at the rooms at 8 o'clock this evening.

—Dr. R. J. Robertson, of Norwood, last week sold a magnificent team of chestnuts to W. D. Grand, of Toronto, for a fancy figure.

—Two snow ploughs came over the Midland this morning, one from Port Hope and the other from Belleville, to clear the track of the immense drifts.

—Frank Clancy, son of Mr. Wm. Clancy, had his leg run over by a sleigh runner last evening in front of the EXAMINER office. His foot was somewhat bruised.

—The ice in the town creek has been opened above the current in some places in order to be in readiness should there be a sudden thaw and by this means prevent a freshet.

—There were five heats trotted at the rink yesterday in the local race. The result of places will be determined by the remaining heats to be trotted again this afternoon.

—The charity committee meets this afternoon at 4.30 o'clock. The following committees will meet this evening: Market, health, printing, street and bridges, and finance.

—Constable Stewart stopped a runaway horse belonging to Morris & Howden, on Hunter street this morning. No damage was done to the sleigh. The driver had left the animal untied.

—The large cat owl which has been in Winch Bros. butcher shop for some weeks was sent yesterday to Montreal to Mr. C. H. Winch. The bird would eat mice and sparrows very greedily.

—Messrs. A. Parker and R. J. Winch, took part in the revival services being conducted by Rev. G. H. Raley at Bridgenorth. The meetings are very interesting and good results are being realised.

—Council Committee on Appointments met last night, and will recommend to the council that the old assessors, Messrs. W. Aldridge, T. B. McGrath, J. J. Hartley and T. McKee be re-appointed for the present year.

—Messrs. M. Milburn and T. Cunningham gave a social dance at Chemong Park last night, which was attended by some thirty couples. A delightful time was spent by all. Mr. Fobert served an excellent supper, while Boyle's orchestra furnished good music. The toboggan slide was also well patronised.

—Some citizens complain that dogs allowed to run at large, barking at passing sleighs and cutters. In a great many instances these howling canines have siezed the the robes of sleighs and torn them badly. An instance of this happened on George street last night when a well known physician had a fine robe torn by a barking dog.

—The quarterly meeting of the members of the Peterborough Mechanics' Institute will be held in the rooms of the Institute, on Monday evening, Feb. 6th, at 7.30 p.m., at which all are requested to be present. CRISP CURLING CHRONIQUE.

What is Going on at the Rink. Where Curlers Must do Congregate.

An interesting "three cornered" match took place at the rink last night between skips Strickland and Lewis. Fourteen ends were played and at the end of the 13th both sides were even. However, by some magnificent throwing, skip Strickland's quartette managed to get a five and a 3 in the next two ends, thus defeating their opponents by 8 shots. Following is the score:—

A $30,000 Port Hope Fire.

About three o'clock this morning the town buildings of Port Hope were burned to the ground by a terrible fire which swept everything. Loss will be about $30,000; partially insured. The butter market, town lock up, town clerk Saunder's office, caretaker Gamble's residence, and the town hall were all in the fine brick public building. The frame drill shed of the 39th battalion was also consumed and is, as far as can be learned, a total wreck. The walls of the town hall fell as the seven o'clock train was leaving this morning. The strong eastern blizzard rendered the efforts of the fire brigade almost fruitless in checking the great torrent of flame.

Rev. Mr. Williams Heartily Endorses Hood's Sarsaparilla.

We are pleased to present this from Rev. A. A. Williams, of the Sillabee street Christian Church, Lynn, Mass.:

"I see no reason why a clergyman, more than a layman, who knows whereof he speaks, should hesitate to approve an

and worth, from which he or his family have been signally benefited, and whose commendation may serve to extend those benefits to others by increasing their confidence. My wife has for many years been a sufferer from severe

Nervous Headache

for which she found little help. She has tried many things that promised well but performed little. Last fall a friend gave her a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It seems surprising what simply one bottle could and did do for her. The attacks of headache decreased in number and were less violent in their intensity, while her general health has been improved. Her appetite has also been better. From our experience with in different parts of Canada, one each in Toronto, Montreal, London, Victoria, B.C., St. John's, N.B., and Winnipeg. These homes are under the supervision of Mrs. Commandant Booth, who devotes her time and brilliant talents to the interests of this divinely important work. A brief sketch of her life appeared in yesterday's issue, which served to show how great a sacrifice (from a worldly point of view) Mrs. Booth is making in cutting adrift from the lofty associations of refined life in her native land, and devoting to the arduous work of rescuing the perishing, talents and abilities and mental acquirements that would grace the highest circles of society. Mrs. Booth gives her time almost exclusively to the promotion of the material interests of the work with special reference to the needs of the Toronto home, which was established six years ago, and now shelters fifteen girls rescued from the degradation of a life of shame. The great need of this work is funds, and to secure this Mrs. Booth is on her visit to Peterborough. She to-day is engaged in calling upon the citizens of Peterborough, and it is a pleasure to say that she is meeting with a kind reception and liberal response.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

LAST NIGHT'S RALLY.

A grand Hallelujah procession last night preceded the meeting. A calcium-light procession of over one hundred, headed by the army band, under the leadership of Bandmaster Arnold, paraded the principal streets, and returned to the barracks, which was crowded to the door, many being turned away from lack of room; and the importance of the subsequent occasion justified the public interest thus exhibited. The barracks was brightly decorated and the services were full of life and inspiration.

The opening selection by the band was well played and much appreciated. The platform was well filled with Salvationists who with the large audience took a deep interest in the proceedings. As Mrs. Booth entered, accompanied by Staff-Capts. Bolton and Fry, the soldiers rose en masse, a hallelujah volley was fired, and the calcium light brought into brilliant play. Another Salvationist air was sung in a spirited manner, when Staff-Capt. Boulton, superintendent of the Kingston divisional office, led in fervent prayer. A short testimony was held and several Salvationists testified to the mighty power of the Saviour to seek and save the lost and to lead them unto Christ, who alone could bless and comfort them. Mark Spencely sang a song in good voice. Staff-Capt. Fry, lately engaged in the Army's work in England, gave an inspiring testimony of his work for the Lord, and how he was glad to be guided and directed in things divine. The staff-captain also sang a solo in a clear voice, playing his own accompaniment. Mrs. Commandant Booth, whose fine musical abilities need no comment, also rendered a sacred solo in a very pleasing manner. She is an excellent vocalist. Mrs. Booth then delivered a half-hour's address, which was stirring and powerful. The well known lady is a holding with her words of graceful eloquence the closest attention of her hearers. The famous Salvationist referred briefly to her early conversion. The necessity of all being good was particularly emphasized, for without being earnest servants of the Lord, it was utterly impossible to induce others to seek salvation. She implored her hearers to take recourse more to private prayer, for without daily intercessions at the throne of grace, we could do nothing. We were but poor helpless mortals without the strengthening power of God. Many had doubtless came to the meeting with a prejudiced mind and with a view "to else her up" as it were. She prayed the Lord would remove all prejudice for prejudice could get no good. The fashions and follies of the world, the vain empty pleasures availed nothing and were passing away. We should all live for things higher, better, and get the religion of the Lord Jesus Christ into our souls which alone could satisfy, and was the only rock on which to raise our hopes. It was the one thing needful and as the text said the time was short. Mrs. Booth closed by speaking on behalf of the Rescue Home Work in Toronto and the great good being done in sheltering fallen women. As Staff-Capt. Bolton was a better officer than she was to raise funds, she would call upon him to speak a few words in the interest of the work and their pressing necessity for funds, in order to carry it on more effectually and more widely. Staff-Capt. Boulton presented the claims of the Home in Toronto in a brief but pithy speech, as a collection was then taken up, cards being passed around on which the donor could write the amount of his contribution and name. By this means $15.00 was raised in a few minutes. The Staff-Capt. announced that all donations would be thankfully received by addressing Mrs. Commandant Booth, Salvation Temple, Toronto. The needs of the work and the claims of its importance should appeal to all.

HIS EXHORTATION BEARING MUCH FRUIT,

After the singing of another hymn and the benediction being pronounced, the meeting dispersed. Afterwards the members of the Army held an enthusiastic prayer meeting.

Mrs. Booth will leave for Toronto this evening. This is her first visit to Peterborough. In conversation with an EXAMINER reporter she expressed delight at the hearty reception tendered her here by the members of the local corps and the citizens generally. She would carry away with her pleasant memories of her brief stay. Mrs. Booth further remarked that she was collecting funds to prosecute the rescue home work far and wide. She believed it was doing a great deal of good and that the blessing of Christ was upon it. The Army had received many urgent requests to establish rescue homes in other towns and cities but were handicapped owing to pecuniary matters. All gifts and contributions for this cause would be gratefully acknowledged and directed to the admirable purpose of saving the fallen young women of the country.

Mrs. Booth and her mission are cordially commended to the liberality of all our citizens who feel an interest in practical philanthrophy that goes down into depths of degradation too sordid for a great deal of the kid glove ecclesiasticism of the age.

When you want your eyes to feast on beauty and see an abundance of fine and unique fancy articles made by machine alone and not by handiwork, call at the local office of the Singer Sewing Machine Company, just opposite the market, where you will be warmly welcomed by the genial agent, Mr. W. Laishley. The Singer is the greatest machine extant in every way. The Peterborough office is a marvel of gorgeousness and splendour. All these costly and artistic articles are made by the Singer machine alone without any contrivance or attachment, and the best of all is that a competent lady instructor gives free lessons on the art of making this work to all who purchase an improved machine, and will take the slight trouble of calling and leaving their names at the Singer office with Mr. Laishley. The public are cordially invited to visit the company's office here and see for themselves the wonderful and almost phenomenal results achieved. Mr. Laishley has on hand here a great supply of all the various machines made by the great company and there are the handsomest finished, most light and durable as well as the most perfect and true "aids to womankind" out. CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOUR ANNIVERSARY

Celebrated in St. Paul's Church Last Night—Practical and Persuasive Address Given by Rev. Dr. McTavish, of Toronto—An Impressive Service—A Musical Programme Rendered—The Need of Greater Personal Work.

The twelfth anniversary of the organization of the Christian Endeavour movement was celebrated at a union meeting held in St. Paul's Presbyterian church last evening. The gathering was under the auspices of the local union of Christian Endeavour, and notwithstanding the stormy, cold night, the edifice was well filled by a large congregation. Mr. A. J. Hamilton, president of the local union, presided. The meeting opened with the usual devotional exercises. Several hymns were sung, and Rev. A. MacWilliams, of St. Andrew's church, led in the opening prayer and also read the scriptural lesson.

Mr. Hamilton said he was sorry to see so few pastors of churches in the audience and especially as it was a union meeting he would like to see them all present. The committee had been somewhat disappointed in the arrangement of their programme and the friends would have to bear with them, if it was a little short.

Mr. Armstrong then sang in a well-toned voice and with good taste, "Nearer My God to Thee," Mr. John Crane presiding at the organ in a creditable manner.

The Misses Stephens then sang a duet entitled "Jesus, Lover of my Soul," their voices blending harmoniously and with sweet effect.

Mrs. Hunter followed in a solo, "The Sands of Time are Sinking," which was sung with fine finish.

The hymn, "Onward Christian Soldiers, Marching as to War," was then sung, after which Mr. Hamilton in a few remarks introduced the speaker of the evening, Rev. Dr. McTavish, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, Toronto.

The reverend doctor expressed his pleasure at being present to take part in Christian Endeavour work. He liked the people of Peterborough exceedingly well, and if it had not been for his good friend, Mr. Hamilton, he would hardly have accepted the invitation to come, as he was almost deluged with work. He called the Christian Endeavour Society his Christian bodyguard, not because of the help they gave him, but the hopefulness and inspiration they gave him for the future. He did not wish to reflect on his session when saying this, as he had one of the best sessions in Toronto. The Christian Endeavour was a wonderful work, and although little over a decade old, there were 1,000,000 young people who had taken the membership pledge of the society. This was a magnificent showing, and to think that this great number was attained when there were so many attractions to draw young people away. What was the reason that this movement has so largely taken hold of the hearts of the young people? The organization was every day growing deeper and stronger. What were some of the elements of permanency in it? First it was because the Christian Endeavour followed the divine order, viz., "Seek ye first the Kingdom of Heaven and all these things will be added unto you." The speaker described the attempt to gather young people into Christian work by literary entertainments, social societies, etc. They were all a failure because they were not the divine method. The Christian Endeavour came squarely and fairly upon the young people and asked them to be devoted and consecrated followers of Jesus Christ. The doctor described the inauguration of the movement and how many Christians said it would not be a success, but disappointment united these and the response to all was that 1,000,000 young people came out in favor of devoted, earnest and consecrated lives and services to the Lord Jesus Christ. Another secret of its success was that it was recognized as a great need. The Y.M.C.A. was the pioneer of the Christian Endeavour Society. The Christian Endeavour Society had laid hold of the right element and natures of the young people, and was directing them in the proper channel. Another element of success was the law of adaptation in practice. The best instrument to lead a young man was a young man. This principle of adaptation was a law of human life. The Society said we are going to get young people to use and influence young people. Dr. Clarke spoke of the following four driving wheels of the Christian Endeavour as follows:—Pledged individual loyalty, consecrated devotion, energetic personal service, inter-denominational service. The speaker enlarged in a forcible manner upon the importance of the principles and the great factors they were in the success of the Y.P.S.C.E. movement.

Dr. Mr. McTavish made an urgent appeal for all to go out in this work of a personal nature and take others.

The speaker closed by stating in the Christian Endeavour movement they had all the elements which would solve the question of the unity of Christians. He emphasized the need of consecration among the members and the magnificent results which attended earnest personal work. The movement should possess both of these elements. Let consecration come first and after consecration, service, and in the name of God his blessing would be upon them and their work.

"Nearer My God to Thee," was then sung, after which Rev. Geo. Edwards of the Charlotte street church, led in prayer. Mr. Hamilton, on behalf of the local union thanked Rev. Dr. McTavish for his helpful and inspiriting address. He urged all to indulge more in the unwelcome but effective personal work.

A collection was then taken up to defray expenses, during which an excellent trio "Out in the Harbour," was rendered by Mr. W. F. Haines, and Mrs. A. J. Johnston and Miss Jessie Rose. The meeting then closed by the singing of a hymn.

Shrewd Settlers—Big Profits.

A large number of our new settlers on the lands of The North Galveston Association are farmers from the Northern latitudes who have previously eked out a bare existence on poor lands, with the additional adverse condition of rigorous climates. What was considered a fair profit to them is as nothing compared to the profits derived from the cultivation of the various fruits and vegetables which are grown so profusely in Galveston County. It is not at all unusual for farmers in this county to make from $225.00 to $1,000.00 a year per acre, in the raising of pears, plums, strawberries, etc., with about half the labor and inconvenience that attended their former efforts. The North Galveston Association, through their local agent T. Hurley Peterborough, Ont., are offering splendid inducements at present, and by taking advantage of them the investor or settler in Galveston County cannot fail to reap abundant reward. The address of the General office is Box 988, Minneapolis, Minn.

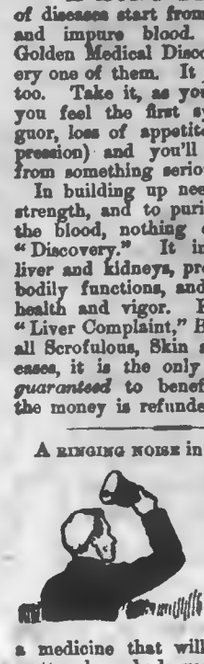
A LONG PROCESSION

of diseases start from a torpid liver and impure blood. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures every one of them. It prevents them, too. Take it, as you ought, when you feel the first symptoms (languor, loss of appetite, dullness, depression) and you'll save yourself from something serious.

In building up needed flesh and strength, and to purify and enrich the blood, nothing can equal the "Discovery." It invigorates the liver and kidneys, promotes all the bodily functions, and brings back health and vigor. For Dyspepsia, "Liver Complaint," Biliousness, and all Scrofulous, Skin and Scalp Diseases, it is the only remedy that's guaranteed to benefit or cure, or the money is refunded.



A RINGING NOISE in the ears, headache, deafness, eyes weak; obstruction of nose, discharges falling into throat—are symptoms of Catarrh. There's a medicine that will cure you, no matter how bad your case or of how long standing. That's Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy.

TRADES THAT KILL.

HOW HUMAN LIFE, THE CHEAPEST THING ON EARTH, IS USED UP.

Lead Has Slain Its Thousands and Mercury Its Hundreds—Effect of Too Much Silver on a Man's Complexion—Phosphorous and the Jawbone—Results of Working in an Atmosphere Impregnated with Copper.

My lady, delicately tracing embroidery upon fine linen, knows nothing, and cares less, about the men who fashioned the needle she holds in her tapering fingers. But those men shortened their lives in the making of it. Perhaps by the infinitesimal fraction of a second for that particular needle, but when they ground it and polished it they inhale into their lungs the invisible particles of steel that flew from the whirring stone. Consumption is a very common disease among needle-makers.

Human life is the cheapest thing on earth. "How many lives will it cost?" is a question that never enters into the calculation of architect, bridge-builder, manufacturer—of any one who supplies the necessities of the world, forwards its progress or adds to its comforts. Human life is the one raw material of which the crop never fails, in producing which there are no strikes. And while there are a vast number of trades and manufactures in their very nature dangerous to life, you cannot induce the men who work at them to take up other occupations. Not even the offer of higher wages will tempt them. Which goes to show that a man has as little regard for his own life as any one else has for it.

No need to mould lead into bullets to make it deadly. Workers of lead, house painters, artists, gilders, calico printers, type-founders and typesetters, shot founders, potters and braziers will tell you that. So will the workmen who handle vulcanized rubber, those who wrap goods in tinfoil, even the fishmongers who handle lead counters covered with brine. Lead poisoning, next to alcoholic poisoning, is perhaps the commonest toxic condition. And "alcoholic poisoning" is vulgarly known as a "jag," so it is easy to judge of the frequency of chronic lead poisoning. "Lead colic" is almost as prevalent as that other colic that rouses the happy father and sets him to pacing the floor with his squalling son and heir.

When a man suffers with chronic lead-poisoning his digestion is disturbed. He has no appetite, and his skin usually takes on a peculiar yellow hue. His gums show a characteristic blue line, which is sulphide of lead deposited there. He has pains in his joints and ofttimes paralysis. His paralysis usually affects the extensor muscles of the hands and fingers, and so produces what is popularly called "drop-waist." Once in a while lead-poisoning affects the brain. A case is recorded where a painter suffering from it thought he saw "wind-bags blown up to look like men," and other apparitions which made remarks to him and caused him a great deal of anxiety. With all due deference to the medical faculty, it would seem doubtful whether talk about "wind-bags blown up to look like men," should be taken as an evidence of insanity. There surely are such things in real life.

Workmen employed at extracting gold from its ores, those who silver mirrors, makers of barometers and thermometers have, of course, to live in an atmosphere more or less impregnated with mercury. So do those who etch, who color the finer sorts of wool and who take part in the manufacture of felt hats. In these latter occupations the mercury is in the form of its nitrate. Mercury is the delight of every dentist whose heart is really in his work. Too much of it salivates a man and makes his teeth drop out, so that a mirror-silverer is extremely apt to go mumbling, toothless, through life like a "lean and slippered pantaloon."

Photographers, makers of hair dyes and of marking ink handle a great deal of silver. That lot might seem to be very enviable, but in those cases the silver is the nitrate or one of its various other compounds. It is extremely liable to change the color of the man who handle it, particularly that much of him as is exposed to the light. First his nails and fingers, then his hands and face turn from white to grayish blue and then to black. That must be extremely annoying. Such a man like the Prince of Morocco in "The Merchant of Venice," would be "mialiked for his complexion." Besides, he would suffer from all sorts of constitutional effects very much like those that follow lead poisoning.

Copper is another metal that it is mighty dangerous to handle habitually. It breaks down the health of those who work in it. Copper enters into the composition of any number of alloys, into the common bronzing processes, into the lilac and purple fires of the pyrotechnist and into many pigments. A green line appears on the gums of the unfortunate poisoned by copper. So that if one has a desire to ornament his gums he has at least the choice of his colors—one with lead, green with copper. Antimony is another health-destroyer, at least so far as men are concerned. "Kermes mineral" contains antimonious acid. It is used in vulcanizing rubber. Type founders are also exposed to the deleterious effects of antimony.

But however unhealthfully antimony acts on men there has long prevailed an idea, the truth of which is doubtful, that antimony given to animals improves their condition. Says one old author, "A horse that is lean and scrubby, and not to be fatted by any means, will become fat on taking a dose of antimony for two months together. A boar fed for bacon, and having an ounce of antimony given him every morning, will become fat a fortnight sooner than others put into the stye at the same time and fed in the same manner, but without the antimony."

It is an undoubted fact that in Brunswick the breeders of fat geese add a small quantity of antimony to the geese's food as a traditional custom.

Matchmakers—by which is not meant fortune-seeking mothers, whose pursuit is, however, sufficiently hazardous—are engaged in a most dangerous occupation. So, of course, are those who make phosphorus itself. The fumes of phosphorus have a peculiar tendency. They cause necrosis of the bones of the faces, particularly of the lower jaw. When a match-maker poisoned by phosphorus he might as well make up his mind to live, if he lives at all, on liquid food. His lower jawbone loses all vitality and his teeth decay and fall out. Besides the most profound constitutional symptoms manifest themselves. Chronic phosphorus poisoning is sometimes suddenly fatal. Turner and Olliver relate the case of a girl, fourteen years old, who, after working four years in a phosphorus factory, was suddenly affected and died comatose.

Arsenic, so deadly in acute poisoning, is also greatly dangerous to those who use it in their daily work. Much cheap wall-paper is colored with arsenic. Chronic poisoning by it, in its earlier stages, is particularly disagreeable. The eyes, nose and throat are inflamed so that the patient continually complains of having a cold in his head. A cold in the head was one of the ten plagues inflicted upon the Egyptians—probably because they had done nothing to deserve such a terrible infliction. As arsenical poisoning progresses the person suffering with it is salivated. He shows nervous symptoms, his limbs may be numb, or, on the other hand, painfully awake to the slightest sensation. He faints, he has convulsions, he dies of exhaustion.

Nitric acid is employed as a solvent for tin in making dyes; by engravers to etch copper; in the gilding trades, and in preparing the felt for hats. The fumes of it are more irritating to human throats and lungs than is a red rag to a bull, and they cause no end of bronchial and catarrhal affections. The workers in various branches of trade suffer from the fumes of ammonia. They cause inflammation of the eyes and a peculiar skin disease, which it has been suggested may be due to the formation of a soap by the union of the ammonia with the liquid of the lubricating skin glands. If that be true every man could be a perambulating soap factory. Men employed in guano works become deaf, and the skin of their noses and foreheads is peculiarly discolored by the ammonia. Their strength fails and they suffer from anæmia.

Gilders, photographers, and those who handle the hydric and potassic cyanides are liable to suffer from chronic poisoning by hydrocyanic acid. They have headache, giddiness, noises in the ear, difficult respiration, pain over the heart, loss of appetite—in short, show all the evidences of mild poisoning. Zinc workers, too, suffer. Zinc is used as a pigment in calico printing, in discoloring glass, in polishing optical glasses and making artificial meerschaum pipes.

So men die in the harness in these and a hundred other occupations, killed by the very air they breathe. And other men step into their shoes.

KILLED BY THE TRAIN.

A Well-Known Local Politician and a Woman Hurled Into Eternity.

MONTREAL, Feb. 2.—A well-known man and, at present, an unknown woman were last evening hurled into eternity while out for an evening's enjoyment. The fatality was a sudden one, and from the story told by the only witness who has yet been discovered it seems that carelessness or foolhardiness were responsible for the affair. Nearly everyone in Montreal knows the dead man. He is Joseph Versailles, jr., a well-known insurance agent, and special agent of the French Department of the Imperial Insurance Company. Outside of the insurance business he is known in political circles for his active work at the last election in Hochelaga County. He was nominated as an Independent Conservative against Dr. Lachapelle, M.P., and his chances were supposed to be generally very good. However, at the request of the Conservative leaders, he retired and allowed Dr. Lachapelle to be elected by acclamation. He had also been mentioned as a possible candidate for civic honors in Hochelaga Ward. Who his companion was no one can say at present.

Near the Cote St. Luc rifle ranges on the Canadian Pacific Railroad is a crossing, not guarded by gates, as it is not often used. A man, however, is kept on duty at the spot. Last night about a quarter to 6 o'clock a shunting engine running along was coming towards the city. At the same time, coming down the road towards Notre Dame de Grace, was a cutter drawn by a spirited horse, in which were seated Mr. Versailles and his companion. The guard, John O'Connor, says that he saw them coming at a fast gait and shouted to the driver, Versailles, to stop. He swung his red lantern, but it was no use, and in less than a minute the horse dashed across the track, just in front of the engine. The horse and the front of the sleigh passed all right, but not so the occupants of the vehicle. The seat of the sleigh was struck and its two occupants were flung high into the air. The woman was thrown into a ditch 50 feet from the crossing, while Versailles was hurled over a fence into the orchard alongside the track. The engine was at once stopped and the bodies picked up. At first there was a little life in them. They were taken to Cote St. Luc station, and Chief Masse of St. Henri and the General Hospital were notified, but long before either arrived both the unfortunates were dead, and by orders of the chief the bodies were taken to St. Henri, where they now lie. Messages were sent to the family of Mr. Versailles and his wife and brother identified the remains, but said that they did not know who the woman was. As she lies in the station unclaimed she presents a gruesome sight. Her age is evidently between 25 and 30. She has light brown hair and is very well dressed.

The Thieves Fled.

LA JUNTA, Cal., Feb. 2.—Several trains came in from the south on the Santa Fe yesterday minus their crews, except the engineers and firemen, the remainder having deserted their posts and fled, even before they knew that warrants were out for their arrest on the charge of stealing goods in transit.

Fire in Brandon.

WINNIPEG, Feb. 2.—The Beaubier Hotel of Brandon, one of the best known hotels in Manitoba, was totally destroyed by fire last night, with all its contents.

The City of Peking.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 2.—The steamship City of Peking is now eight days overdue and nothing has been heard from her since she left Yokohama. It is stated her machinery was in bad condition when she left here for China, and that there is nothing to fear beyond broken machinery which has caused the delay.

The Peking carries sufficient sail to make about 100 miles a day and sanguine people have not yet given up hope that she is safe. The English underwriters do not share this feeling of security, and to-day they offered 10 per cent. to reinsure the vessel. The would-be insurance men took up their offer, for their confidence remains unshaken.

They Must Not Die.

It is simply an outrage to let young people die who are attacked with pulmonary troubles and incipient consumption, when Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil will save them. It should be shouted from the house tops that supposed incurable consumptives can be cured by the use of this extraordinary preparation. The rebuilding process commences in the system the moment the Emulsion is taken. It is curious to watch the effects upon emaciated persons, who begin to fill out and make new blood as often as Miller's Emulsion is administered. In an incredibly short time cadaverous looking patients again look natural and healthy. In big bottles, 50c. and $1, at all Drug Stores.

Now is the Time.

In this the season of coughs, colds, asthma, bronchitis and other throat and lung complaints, it is well to be provided with a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup which effectually cures all such diseases, and that very promptly and pleasantly. Price 25 and 50c. Sold by all druggists.

Dr. Low's Sulphur soap is a delightful shampoo. It cleanses the scalp and darkens grey hair

Back-Ache.

Back-ache is caused by sick kidneys. Dodd's Kidney Pills will remove it. By their peculiar action on the kidneys, they impart activity and benefit the system by purifying the blood. You cannot have pure blood with disordered kidneys; health's existence depends upon their natural condition; they are the governors of the system. Continual disorder results in kidney consumption, which is Bright's disease.

For Colds and Sore Throat.

SIRS,—We use Hagyard's Yellow Oil in our family for colds and sore throat and it is excellent. My sister had asthma since childhood, but on trying Yellow Oil for it she soon was cured.

MISS LIZZIE CHAPELLE, Baldwin, Ont.

A Sensible Man.

Would use Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs. It is curing more cases of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup and all Throat and Lung Troubles, than any other medicine. The proprietor has authorized any druggist to give you a Sample Bottle FREE to convince you of the merit of this great remedy. Large bottles 50c. and $1.

If sick headache is misery, what are Carter's Little Liver Pills if they will positively cure it? People who have used them speak frankly of their work. They are small and easy to take.

Worms cause serious sickness. Dr. Low's Worm Syrup destroys and expels all kinds of worms quickly and surely.

Oh! What Beautiful Hands.

Dyer's Jelly of Cucumber and Roses will cure chapped hands and make them soft and smooth. Try it. Druggists keep it. W. A Dyer & Co., Montreal.

WIDE REVERS.

A Very Plain Dress That is Stylish and Chic.

Here is a dress made of dark blue velvet and drab or gray cloth, the gown being made of the former, and the V-shaped plastron and broad revers, which form a short collar behind, being of the cloth. The top of the skirt is gored nearly as far as the back breadths and the hip darts must be carefully ironed in order to make them set smoothly. The skirt is ball-shaped and perfectly plain. The back breadths are very firmly sewn and the pleats are very scanty and flat. The waist is narrow and long, the lining fastens in the middle with hooks and eyes. The plastron is fastened on the right side as is also the stiff velvet collar, although the lining of the latter hooks in the centre also. The ordinary darts are used, and from the right hand one a piece of material is either sewn on or cut at the same time as the rest of the material. This is fastened on the left side as shown in the engraving, by a single large velvet button and divides beneath the waist in two sharp points. The cloth plastron is fastened to the lining but is seamless in the middle and must be very carefully adjusted to obviate any danger of its stretching out of shape, is therefore advisable to line the plastron with stiff muslin before laying it on the foundation so that it keeps in position, and the same must be done with the revers. The long bias velvet bands that edge the plastron are mounted on stiff muslin, also, and extend down behind in a similar manner. The plastron is hooked on the side, and the collar of the revers is closed at the back and must be lined with soft material so as to avoid any appearance of stiffness. The leg of mutton sleeves are slit up on the inside of the wrist, and have a small frill or band of the cloth underneath.

TEA TABLE TALK.

She: You sware you love me? He: Why—er-er—yes; damn it, I do.—New York Herald.

A rich St. Louis girl is about to marry an Indian. In fact, fortune seems to favor the brave.

Since St. Louis got the contract to supply the World's Fair restaurant with beer, she has seemed utterly indifferent as to what Chicago may make out of the big show.

There is a woman in Kansas who is not only supporting her husband, he being too busy with politics to work, but who is also paying, in installments, the bill of his first wife's funeral.

Mr. Pepper: I don't believe there was a dry eye in the house when the curtain went down on the third act. Mrs. Pepper: No, but there seemed to be the usual number of dry throats.—Inter-Ocean.

Featherstone: My boy, you want to be particular with those Eastern girls. When you shook hands with the one I introduced you to this morning you didn't exouse your gloves. Young Featherhead: I don't know why I should. They are a brand-new pair. —Clothier.

"Forget not this: God's loving hand
Sows blessings over all the land;
The morn with heavenly food is white,
The dews drop fatness in the night,
Forget not this."

Patti's Deformed Sister.

Adelina Patti's sister Carlotta, but for a physical deformity, might have been as great an opera singer as the diva. Her voice was of singular sweetness and compass, reaching to G sharp in altissimo, but her stage presence was so bad, owing to a lameness, that she could never appear in opera save in one of two parts where no walking was required.

Campbellford Speaks.

No one has better reason to be grateful for Membray's Kidney and Liver Cure than I have. I was ill for a long time under the doctor's care; I was tortured with muscular rheumatism, disordered kidneys and general debility. I was losing flesh rapidly—had gone down from 180 to 130 pounds—and was bedfast for months. If you have been there before, you know how little there was in life for me, and when I was asked to try Membray's Cure, how hopeless I was. I used two bottled only, ($2) and at the end of that time had risen from a sick bed, regained my appetite, was relieved from all pain, put on new flesh, and am now attending to business as well as ever.—D. WATERS, merchant, Campbellford, Ont. Write me if you want further particulars about Membray's Kidney and Liver Cure.

A Cure for Constipation and Headache.

Dr. Silas Lane, while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots leaves, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick-headache in one night. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50c. a package.

Safe and Sure.

Not only safety from mineral poison (of which B. B. B. does not contain the slightest trace), but prompt and certain action in the cure of disease may be confidently relied on from the use of this unrivalled natural specific for Dyspepsia, Constipation, Bad Blood, Headache, Biliousness and all diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels and blood.

A Suitable Gift.

A tube of Dyer's Jelly of Cucumber and Roses for making the skin soft and smooth will be acceptable to any lady. Druggists keep it; W. A. Dyer & Co., Montreal.

ORANGEVILLE, April 4th, 1892.

DR. L. A. SMITH & CO.:

DEAR SIRS,—Anti-Dandruff is evidently giving satisfaction. I have sold about half of the gross I bought from you on the 23rd of January last. I use it in my own family and like it well. Can recommend it to all who are troubled with dandruff.

Yours truly, THOS. STEVENSON.

HARRISON'S MESSAGE.

ADVISES A REVISION OF THE TREATY LAWS.

Sends a Message to Congress Stating that Treaty Obligations Will Permit a Whack at the Canadian Pacific Railway Company.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—The President sent in his message to Congress on the Canadian bond transit question. It commenced as follows:

To the Senate and House of Representatives:

On the 23rd of July last the following resolution of the House of Representatives was communicated to me:

Resolved that the President be requested to inform the House, if not incompatible with the public interests, what regulations are now in force concerning the transportation of imported merchandise in bond or duty paid and products or manufactures of the United States from one port in the United States over Canadian territory to another port therein, under the provisions of section 3006 of the Revised Statutes, whether further legislation thereon is necessary or advisable, and especially whether a careful inspection of such merchandise should not be had at the frontiers of the United States upon the departure and arrival of such merchandise, and whether the interests of the United States do not require that each car containing such merchandise while in Canadian territory be in the custody and under the surveillance of an inspector of the Customs Department, the cost of such surveillance to be paid by the foreign carrier transporting such merchandise.

The resolution is limited in its scope to the subject of the transit of merchandise from one port in the United States through Canadian territory to another port in the United States, under the provision of section 3006 of the revised statutes, but I have concluded that a review of our treaty obligations, if any, and of our legislation upon the whole subject of the transit of goods from, to or through Canada is desirable, and therefore address this message to Congress.

It should be known before new legislation is proposed whether the United States is under any treaty obligations which affect this subject, growing out of the provisions of art. 29 of the Treaty of Washington.

The President reviews at length the legislation of Congress placing a construction upon art. 29 of the treaty, and quotes Mr. Bayard as holding that art. 29 was unaffected by abrogation of the fisheries articles, and was still in force. In August, 1888, however, Mr. Cleveland, in a message to Congress, expressed his opinion of the question in the following language:

"In any event, and whether the law of 1873 construes the treaty or governs it, sec. 29 of such treaty I have no doubt terminated with the proceedings taken by our Government to terminate arts. 18 to 25 inclusive, and art. 30 of the treaty.

"If by any language used in the joint resolution it was intended to relieve section 3 of the act of 1873 embodying art. 29 of the treaty from its own limitations or to save the article itself, I am entirely satisfied that the intention miscarried."

Mr. Harrison says: I have asked the opinion of the Attorney-General upon this question and he is of the opinion that art. 29 has been abrogated.

But the question whether art. 29 is in force has less practical importance than has been supposed, for it does not, if in force, place any restraints upon the United States as to the method of dealing with imported merchandise destined for the United States, or of merchandise passing through Canadian territory from one place in the United States to another.

It would be no infraction either of the letter or the spirit of the treaty if we should stop, unload and carefully inspect every vehicle arriving at our border with such merchandise.

Nor, on the other hand, would Canada violate her obligations under the treaty by a like treatment of merchandise imported through the port of New York on its arrival in Canada.

He quotes and discusses at length the sections of revised statutes bearing on this subject and concludes as follows:

The following are the conclusions at which I arrived:

1. That art. 29 of the Treaty of Washington has been abrogated.

2. That even if this article were in force there is no law in force to execute it.

3. That when in force the treaty imposed no obligation upon the United States to use the concessions as to transit made by Canada and no limitation upon the powers of the United States in dealing with merchandise imported for the use of our citizens through Canadian ports or passing from one place in the United States to another through Canada upon the arrival of such merchandise at our border.

4. That, therefore, treaty or no treaty, the question of sealing cars containing such merchandise, and the treatment of such sealed cars when they cross our border is, and always has been, one to be settled by our laws, according to our convenience and our interests as we may see them.

5. That the law authorizing the sealing of cars in Canada containing foreign merchandise imported from a contiguous country does not apply to merchandise imported by our own people from countries not contiguous and carried through Canada for delivery to such owners.

6. That the law did not contemplate the granting of transit cars to any person nor a "port" nor delivery of such cars to the owner or consignee, to be opened by him without the supervision of a revenue officer.

7. That such a practice is inconsistent with the safety of the revenue.

The statutes relating to the transportation of merchandise between the United States and the British possessions should be the subject of revision. The Treasury regulations have given to these laws a construction and a scope that I do not think was contemplated by Congress. A policy adapted to the new conditions growing in part out of the construction of the Canadian Pacific Railroad should be declared and the business placed upon a basis more just to our people and to our transportation companies.

If we continue the policy of supervising rates upon railroads in the United States we cannot in fairness at the same time give these unusual facilities for competition to Canadian roads that are free to pursue the practices as to cut rates and favored rates that we condemn and punish if practised by our own railroads.

I regret that circumstances prevented an earlier examination by me of these questions, but submit now these views in the hope that they may lead to a revision of the law upon a safer and juster basis.

I transmit herewith the correspondence between the Secretary of the Treasury and the Attorney-General upon some phases of this question. (Sgd) BENJAMIN HARRISON.

Compulsory Cannibalism.

HAMBURG, Feb. 3.—Three of the seamen of the Norwegian ship Thekla from Philadelphia, who were rescued by the Danish bark Herman after enduring terrible suffering on the foundering vessel, have been arrested on a charge of murder, the charge being based on their own confession that they killed and eat a sailor of the ship to save themselves from death by starvation.

The sailor was a Dutchman and the starving men drew lots as to which should die, the lot falling on the victim twice in succession. They fell on him and strangled him and ate his flesh.

It is True

That we are doing great things with Linen Table Napkins and Towelling Goods. We have been told over and over again that there is no stock in town which affords a more satisfactory choice and in which such low prices predominate. Ladies call, go elsewhere, and come back and buy.

Half regular prices are what we have put on a beautiful line of Table Linen, nobby goods in Table Napkins, and superior makes of Towelling slightly damaged. These lines we wish to drive, and you will save considerable money by buying now.

Back of these goods there are others in which the cutting process still goes on, such as Bedspreads, Comfortables, Sheeting, Marseilles, Quilts, &c. These possess a newness that charms on sight. The assortment is plenty enough to please the most particular lady.

During the past few weeks we have been stock-taking. The results are pleasant, for we have the satisfaction of knowing that the business done during the year just ended has exceeded anything in the past. This enables us to be generous, and we are bound to retain your patronage by giving the BEST values in town.

ALL ABOUT ANNEXATION

ST. GEORGE'S SOCIETY DISCUSSES GOLDWIN SMITH.

An Annexation Meeting at Simcoe That Declares for Political Union — York County Council Against a Radical Change of Policy—The United States Showing Increasing Interest.

SIMCOE, Ont., Feb. 4.—At a public meeting held here last night to hear a discussion on the question of Canada's future speeches were delivered by Elgin Myers, Q.C., and A. F. Jury of Toronto.

A ballot taken at the close of the meeting resulted in the following vote: For Canadian independence 6, for Imperial Federation 4, to remain as we are 17, for political union with the United States 272.

A concerted attempt by the opponents of political union was made to prevent the ballot being taken, and failing in their object they marched out of the hall. Although great efforts had been made by them to outnumber the unionists they were in a considerable minority, hence their objection to a ballot.

GOLDWIN SMITH.

Says He is Not Disloyal to Canada While Advocating Annexation.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Prof. Goldwin Smith left New York yesterday, and it is supposed he has gone to Washington. Within a few days he is expected to call upon President-elect Cleveland at Lakewood to discuss the proposition for United States control over Canada.

Previous to his departure from this city, in referring to the assaults of the Tory organs, Prof. Smith declared that no threats of this kind could deprive him of the right of free speech.

"I am not disloyal to Canada," he said, "but if I could bring about annexation I should regard it as the greatest boon ever conferred upon my country."

TO VISIT LAKEWOOD.

Again They Discuss Annexation With President-Elect Cleveland.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—The Herald says that Goldwin Smith, president of the Continental Union of Canada, which advocates the annexation of the Dominion by the United States, has left the Victoria Hotel for Washington.

While there he will learn the views of Senators, Congressmen and other public men on annexation. Before leaving the city Professor Smith told me that the attacks of the Tory press would not silence him. He might, he said, spend a day or two at Lakewood before returning to Canada, but he declined to say whether or not he would talk annexation to President-elect Cleveland.

AFTER CANADA.

Mr. Cummings Introduces a Bill to Admit Her to the Union.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Mr. Cummings of New York introduced in the House Friday a bill providing for admission into the Union of all states formed in the Dominion of Canada, and for their representation in Congress in accordance with their population, upon their own application and with the consent of Great Britain.

An appropriation of $250,000 is authorised to defray the expenses of missions and negotiations to fix and agree upon the terms of admission.

The last section of the bill provides that there shall be commercial union between the two countries until the Dominion is admitted, and that import duties or other taxes shall not be levied by this country on Canadian products, provided the Dominion of Canada admits free of duty the products of this country. The bill was referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

GERMANY WANTS SAMOA.

That Is the Washington Interpretation of a Berlin Despatch.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—A Berlin despatch stating that "Germany is passive now, but if the United States should annex Hawaii, Germany may demand slight compensation elsewhere," was discussed with much interest in official circles here.

Only one construction could be placed upon it—that Germany would insist upon the United States retiring from its joint control with Germany and England of the Samoan Islands. That is the only place where Germany and the United States have interests in common and, of course, the only place where Germany's demand for "slight compensation" would have any footing.

The situation of affairs in Samoa has been the subject of considerable diplomatic correspondence between Germany and the United States for several months past. Cedarkrantz and Von Pilsner, respectively chief justice and treasurer for Samoa, appointed under the tripartite agreement, have proved unsatisfactory, and the appointment of a successor to Cedarkrantz has already been determined upon.

Samoan matters took on quite a serious phase a few weeks ago, but a turn for the better occurred and all is now peaceable in that quarter.

The interests of the United States in Samoa are relatively like those of Germany in Hawaii, being comparatively nominal, except for the harbor privileges at Pago Pago.

If the right of the United States to the undisputed possession of that harbor and the privilege of maintaining a naval station there were confirmed in a satisfactory manner, it is intimated that this Government might be induced to forego its share in the arrangement to govern the Samoan Island, which has so far, it is alleged, proved not altogether satisfactory.

Mint Statistical Tariff.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—By direction of the President, Secretary Foster of the Treasury Department has directed the collectors of customs at New York, Philadelphia and Boston to suspend the refund of duties upon hat material until further advised.

The Counter Case.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British Minister, went to the State Department yesterday and in person handed the British Behring Sea counter case to Secretary Foster.

BANDITS IN NEW YORK.

Hold a Young Woman Under $2,000 Ransom.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—The mysterious disappearance some time ago of Miss Moore, the 23-year-old Kentucky girl, from the home of her brother-in-law, Wilbur W. Cornell, at No. 133 West 133rd-street, is still far from solution. Mr. Cornell advertised a reward of $250 for information about Miss Moore's whereabouts. This he raised a few days ago to $500. On Monday Mr. Cornell received the following letter:

"The advance from $250 to $500 is too trivial for us to consider. Not a cent less than $5000 would even tempt us. This is the riskiest work ever attempted by us, and must be correspondingly profitable. Up to this time not a hair of her head has been harmed, but unless something happens soon my influence to protect her life and honor will lose its power, I will not be responsible for results. One more week is given. Say by Wednesday's papers what will be done, and remember that this is a life and death game. Treachery means certain death. (Signed) N.Y.B.W."

Mr. Cornell replied with a newspaper personal saying $5000 was too large and asking for a compromise. Yesterday he received another note, signed with the same initials as follows:

"Proposition submitted to you is ultimate."

The notes are carefully printed with a fine pen. The envelopes bear the stamp of the General Postoffice.

GRAB ALL CARNEGIE.

He Makes Possible Another Strike at Homestead.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 4.—Andrew Carnegie went to Homestead and Braddock yesterday on an inspection tour of the mills. Simultaneously with his appearance came the announcement at both places of a reduction of wages. Common labor was paid 14 cents per hour, with 10 hours as a day's work. These figures have been reduced to $1.25 for the same number of hours. In other departments the reduction is about on the same basis, or about 10 per cent.

It would not surprise anybody here if the Homestead men came out on strike. Only about one-third or one-fourth of the men are non-unionists, and they claim the company has not dealt fairly with them. When the strike collapsed a new scale was put into effect. The men found themselves receiving less wages for 10 hours' work than they formerly received for eight hours. They were promised that by working on tonnage they could make higher wages. The rate per ton was advanced, but the men found themselves unable to turn out enough material.

The company has closed a contract with the Metropolitan West Side Elevated Railroad of Chicago for all its iron work. If a strike occurs this work will be delayed.

HIS LANTERN WENT OUT.

And a Snow-Plow Dashed Into a Freight Train.

ROME, N.Y., Feb. 4.—Between 5 and 6 o'clock a freight train left this city for the north on the Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg Railway followed by a snowplow. At McConnellsville the freight became stalled in the snow. A flag man was sent back to warn the snowplow. Before he had proceeded far his lantern went out. He placed a torpedo on the track and undertook to re-light his lantern, but before he could do so the snowplow, running at a high rate of speed, dashed by and crashed into the freight train.

The force of the collision was so great it threw several cars to the top of the snowplow. Eight pair of trucks crashed through the plow.

George Aiken and Thomas Kearney, who were inside the plow, were instantly killed, and Conductor Wright of Richmond was so badly hurt that he may die.

FIRE IN PORT HOPE.

The Town Hall Destroyed—Town Papers Saved.

PORT HOPE, Feb. 4.—About 5 a.m. yesterday an alarm of fire was sounded, when it was discovered that the Town Hall, a large isolated two story brick building, situated a little to the south of the centre of the town, was on fire.

The fire originated in a butcher stall in the north end of the building, and although the firemen were promptly on the scene and put forth every effort to stay the progress of the flames, they were unable to do so, on account of a very strong wind, which carried the fire completely through the building.

On the first floor were the market rooms, market clerk's residence and a butcher stall occupied by J. Elliott. Beneath this were the market cellars and lock-up, in which were confined two tramps, who, upon being liberated, promptly showed their heels.

On the second flat were the council chamber, large public hall and Mayor's office. The most important books and records of the town were saved. Estimated value of buildings and contents, $25,000; insured for $10,000.

Satolli's Program.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 4.—On March 9 next Archbishop Satolli will take up his temporary residence at St. Mary's Seminary and give a course of lectures to the seminarians and clergy, besides assuming spiritual charge of the Italian residents that are Catholics.

Later in the year he will go to New York and there establish permanent headquarters in a building to be fitted up especially for him.

Paid the Reward.

PARIS, Texas., Feb. 4.—The reward of $500 offered for the arrest and delivery of Henry Smith in Paris was paid by Mayor Cate yesterday to the parties who effected the capture.

The end of the trouble may not be yet, but it is believed that there will be no further violence unless Governor Hogg insists upon prosecuting the leaders who took part in the affair.

Hawaii's Advance Guard.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—The commissioners of the provisional government of Hawaii reached Washington yesterday. They were met at the station by Dr. Mott-Smith, who had previously received by mail the commission of President Dole of the provisional government, appointing him the representative of Hawaii at Washington under the new regime. The commissioners spent the entire evening in their hotel.

Suspended Payment.

BUENOS AYRES, Feb. 4.—The Banco de Romany La Plata has suspended payment in consequence of the losses sustained in gold speculation by the management of the concern. These losses amount to $1,000,000.

GODOLPHIN CAPTURED.

HE WAS TREASURER OF HUNTSVILLE AND SKIPPED.

Scotland Yard Detectives Captured Him in London, England, Yesterday—Will Inspector Rogers Will Go Across the Ocean to Bring the Prisoner Back.

TORONTO, Feb. 4.—The Attorney-General's office received a cablegram from Scotland Yard, London, England, yesterday announcing the arrest in the metropolis of R. W. Godolphin, the defaulting treasurer of Huntsville, Muskoka, district.

Detective Rogers will leave for England in a day or two to bring the prisoner back.

Godolphin was a native of Exeter, England, and when a boy sang in Exeter Cathedral choir. When the Attorney-General's department was notified of his flight it was considered that he might return to his native town and Scotland Yard was communicated with and his arrest is the result.

Godolphin, who is son of Rev. [illegible] Godolphin, a highly respected citizen of Huntsville, has a wife, two sons and three daughters. He was a prominent resident and for a time was organist of the English Church. He had been treasurer of the village for some years. Early in January he came to Toronto and registered at one of the leading hotels. Failing to return, an examination of his books took place, when it was discovered that he was a defaulter to the extent of $7000.

Godolphin seems to have cooked all the accounts, deficits being discovered in the Government school grant moneys, the municipal taxes and the liquor license receipts.

A large number of persons have turned up with receipts for their taxes of which no account has been kept by the tricky Godolphin. This will amount to quite a large sum, as receipts are coming in every day.

There is a more serious charge against Godolphin, however, as he is charged with having committed several forgeries. Two notes, one for $300 and another for $200, supposed to have been given by the municipality, have been produced, both of which have been pronounced forgeries by the reeve. There is still another note for $700 held by one of the local banks, which is also thought to have been manufactured by the accused.

Ex-Reeve Dr. Holt swore out a warrant for Godolphin's arrest on two charges, forgery and embezzlement.

Godolphin induced the council not to sell certain parcels of land for arrears of taxes. By this movement he succeeded in keeping from his townsmen the fact that he had already collected and spent the taxes on the property. He also increased his stealings by getting the council to withhold part of the school grant from year to year and spread his peculations over a period of three years.

MONTREAL'S FIRE.

Some Twenty Streams Were of No Use Whatever.

MONTREAL, Que., Feb. 4.—One of the most destructive fires that has visited Montreal for years broke out shortly before midnight last night in the immense brick building occupied by Rolland & Sons, wholesale cabinet makers, 444 St. James-street. It was a six story building, and the fire started in the fourth story, running down the elevator to the ground floor, where a very large quantity of furniture was stored. The flames spread across the wide street, communicating with the wholesale crockery warehouse of Hoodman & Co., completely gutting the building and destroying thousands of dollars worth of property. The fire spread along the two sides of the street to G. N. Labbe & Co., wholesale furniture; Sing Kee, Chinese laundry; O. St. Jacques, hair dresser; William Graham, coal and wood merchant; J. H. Smith, cigars; Porter Teskey & Co., fancy goods; N. & A. C. Larivier, carriage manufacturers, and the new Ogilvie block, where a $50,000 electric plant was completely destroyed. There was a number of wooden dwelling houses in the neighborhood, and the inmates had to get out in the piercing cold with their effects. Rolland's building had some time ago been condemned, and the firemen were afraid to enter it. The water also would only reach three stories high, and for upwards of an hour the firemen were utterly helpless to stay the progress of the flames.

The thousands of people who had gathered were almost roasted by the intense heat. Some 20 streams were of no use whatever. The Derval, Skinner & Hayes ladders, which cost the city $20,000, were completely ruined. Several hose were frozen in the slush, which was knee deep in the city.

Some of the firemen were frozen and some injured by falling pieces of wood. The Rolland building and the establishment of Hoodman & Co. were completely destroyed, the walls tumbling in, while there was heavy damage in the other buildings. The total loss will amount to at least $300,000.

SENTENCE SUSPENDED.

Young Latremouille Receives Lenient Treatment at Niagara Falls.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Feb. 4.—The examination of young Hyacinthe Latremouille, the express car robber who stole a package of $743 from the express messenger on the Grand Trunk train, Jan. 10, between Palmerston and Hamilton, was concluded yesterday before Police Justice Hill of this place. Detective Day of the Grand Trunk interceded in behalf of the boy. The police, under Chief Tom Young's aid, have secured some $200 of the money Latremouille squandered. The boy's father put up an additional $200, leaving but $343 as yet not refunded. Judge Hill took a fair view of the case and allowed Latremouille to return home to Hamilton this noon. George L. Staunton of Hamilton defended the prisoner.

Charles Patterson, the Woodstock youth who stole $100 from Latremouille while he lay in a drunken sleep, has been arrested, and has confessed to Detective Day that he took two $50 bills. He will be brought up for sentence on Saturday morning next.

TWINE TANGLED IN THE MOULDERING BRANCHES.

The latest news from the seat of Government, Ottawa, conveys the information that, in spite of Sir John Thompson's willingness to "lop away the mouldering branches" of the rotten tariff Upas tree, there is to be no tariff reform, at least of the radical character demanded. It seems that the chief reason of the Government's hesitation is that Mr. Foster is "looking to Washington" to see what the United States will do in the matter of tariff reform. The order has been issued to vote down all motions for tariff amendment, and we may expect the obsequious majority to vote down Mr. Mulock's motion for the abolition of the duty on binder twine. The interesting debate on this motion brought out some interesting facts in relation to this special tariff burden. Last year the customs duty on the over two and a quarter million pounds of binder twine imported from the United States was $42,000. This however represents only a small fraction of the money filched from the farmers' pocket by the combine. Last year Canadian farmers used 16,134,372 lbs of twine to tie up the harvest that grew on 4,058,749 acres of land or 2½ lbs to the acre. The combine bled the farmers on this to the tune of two cents a pound, equal to a total of $202,687. This may seem a trifling matter to those who do not have to pay the tax, but to the farmers' when grain sells for less than cost price, every addition is like taking a piece out of the bone itself. The combine that controls the binder twine business has a capital of three millions, one half of which is "water" and the ten per cent dividend declared from the profits of the business, is really one of twenty per cent on the actual stock. And it is for an "infant industry" like this that the farmers are taxed about $300,000 a year, to permit it to "rake in" twenty per cent. dividend,—with wheat 65 to 70 cents and barley at 35 to 40 cents. But the binder twine duty is only a sample burden. In his speech in Parliament Mr. Mulock said :

"The Government said last year that this was a trifling tax, only $2 or $3 a year from each farmer. But if you can establish in Canada an institution which is to be allowed to take a tax of $2 or $3 from every farmer, you establish a principle, and where are you going to stop? And it does not stop with binder twine. You take a little on cottons, on iron and on everything else the farmer buys, and it is this system of petty larceny, legalized by Parliament, that is partly responsible for the condition of the farmer."

The N. P. has not kept its promises in any respect. It has not made a home market for the farmer, but it has added burdens on his back grievous to be borne; it has not found employment for labour, but on the other hand it has held labour down, while capital hit it. For instance when this same binder twine combine—the National Cordage Co—an infant industry with a capital of $3,000,000—closed down the factory at Lachine, it guaranteed the owners $6,000 a year for not running their factory, but did not guarantee anything to the 60 men who were thrown out of employment. If electors would vote as they pay, the N.P. would soon give place to a rational trade policy.

As a preventive of the grip, Hood's Sarsaparilla has grown into great favor. It fortifies the system and purifies the blood.

SPRINGVILLE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

An interesting Foresters' concert took place at Springville on Thursday night under the auspices of Court Springville Canadian Order of Foresters. The entertainment was held in the town hall, which was crowded to the doors with an attentive audience, a large number being in attendance from Peterborough. The Y. M. C. A. quartette, consisting of Messrs. Squires, Stiers and Wesley Brothers, were present and rendered three fine selections. Solos were contributed in excellent style by Messrs. P. McArthur, Wismel, W. Squires, W. E. Wesley, Jas. Stiers and others, and deservedly encored. Mr. A. Clegg gave a couple of splendid readings, and Mrs. Dr. Goldsmith a good recitation, which was well rendered. Dr. P. D. Goldsmith was the obliging and agreeable chairman of the evening. After the excellent programme was concluded, an adjournment was made to the Foresters' hall where supper was eagerly partaken of, the Springville Foresters entertaining their Peterborough friends in a manner that they will be slow in forgetting.

OTONABEE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

A matrimonial event of interest took place on Wednesday evening last at the residence of the bride's father's, Mr. John Kent, Mathers Corners, Otonabee, when Mr. Fred Taylor, of the same township, was married to his second daughter, Miss Maud. The ceremony was performed in the presence of about thirty relatives and friends, Rev. Mr. Howard, of Keene, tieing the nuptial bonds. The bride was assisted by her sister, Miss Annie Kent, while Mr. J. W. Kennedy, of Peterborough, was the capable groomsman. After the ceremony the happy couple and company partook of a fine wedding dinner amid hearty felicitations. The presents were pretty and desirable. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor will take up their residence in Otonabee where their many friends will wish them all success and happiness.

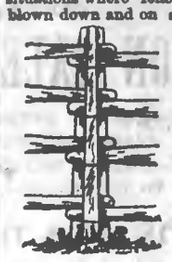
Six points, out of many, where Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are better than other pills :

1. They're the smallest, and easiest to take—little sugarcoated granules that every child takes readily.
2. They're perfectly easy in their action no griping, no disturbance.
3. Their effect LASTS. There's no reaction afterward. They regulate or cleanse the system, according to size of dose.
4. They're the cheapest, for they're GUARANTEED to give satisfaction, or your money is returned. You pay only for the GOOD you get.
5. Put up in glass—are always fresh.
6. They CURE Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, Sick or Bilious Headaches, and all derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels.

POSTS AND FENCES.

Novel Ideas Advanced by a New England Farmer.

A fence post is shown in Fig. 1 for any kind of fence—board, picket or post and rail. In making it dress one side flat and point the end that is planted in the ground, as shown. In planting it, when you get it set where desired, strike the top of the post a few blows with an ax, or maul, which will keep the post in position. The object or pointing the post is to keep the bottom from slipping out of position and also to cause the fence to settle straight. Fig. 2 is a gate post which shows a convenient way of connecting a rail fence to a gate post. Place a large flat stone on the ground on the side of the post you want to build your fence. Set on the stone the post or stake to hold the rails against the gate post Wind wire of a sufficient size around the stake and post, as shown in the cut, laying a rail on each wire until it is finished. Fig. 3 shows a post and rail fence. This is a good fence for exposed situations where fences are liable to be blown down and on steep hillsides where it is difficult to keep a common rail fence standing. It is built on the same general principle as No. 2 A pair of wire pliers should be used to get the best results. This makes a cheap fence and one well adapted to sections where there is an abundance of timber. The fence is easily built and at the same time has the quality of durability.—James F. Bryant, in Farm and Home.



You can never tell what a slight cold may lead to ; it is best, therefore, to give yourself the benefit of the doubt, and cure it as soon as possible with Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. A day's delay, sometimes an hour's delay, may result in serious consequences.

Back-Ache.

Back-ache is caused by sick kidneys. Dodd's Kidney Pills will remove it. By their peculiar action on the kidneys they impart activity and benefit the system by purifying the blood. You cannot have pure blood with disordered kidneys ; health's existence depends upon their natural condition ; they are the governors of the system. Continual disorder results in kidney consumption, which is Bright's disease.

The Directors, who are now the owners of the entire Capital stock, have decided, at the request of numerous friends of the company throughout Canada, to enlarge the proprietorship of its stock, and to offer for sale, at par, ten thousand shares, of one hundred dollars each, fully paid and non-assessable.

Payments are to be made as follows :—Five per cent. on application ; fifteen per cent. on allotment ; twenty per cent. each in one, two, three and four months from the date of allotment. Applicants have the right to pay in full on allotment.

Applications for shares will be received until February 15th, 1893, at any of the offices of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, at the offices of the Union Bank of Halifax, and at the head office of the company, N. Y. Life Building, Montreal.

Forms of application for shares may be obtained at any of the above places, or they will be sent by mail on request.

Should no allotment of stock be made to any applicant for shares, the amount paid will be returned in full, and in the event of the Directors finding it impossible to allot the full number of shares applied for, the surplus of the deposit will be credited toward the amount payable on allotment.

The right is reserved of withdrawing the offer in whole or part at any time before allotment, and of allotting to any applicant any less number of shares than the number applied for.

As the dividends of the Company are payable quarterly, beginning with the first day of March next, allottees of stock will be entitled to receive a proportion of the quarterly dividend as declared, corresponding to the amount paid upon their subscription.

It is proposed to apply to the Stock Exchanges of Montreal and Toronto for official quotations of the shares of the Company.

The Consumers Cordage Company was organized in June, 1890, with a Capital of one million dollars, to operate several of the largest Cordage and Binder Twine Factories in Canada. It, at first, operated these under leases, but its operations having been successful, the Capital Stock was subsequently increased to Three Million Dollars, and the leased properties were purchased.

The Company has no mortgage indebtedness ; and, according to the law under which it was incorporated, none can be created without the consent of two-thirds of the shares holders, represented at a meeting called for the purpose.

The Company has placed in the hands of its Bankers :—

(a) Full statements of its affairs, certified to by Messrs. Caldwell, Tait & Wilks, Chartered Accountants.

(b) The following letter from Messrs. Abbotts, Campbell & Meredith, advocates, Montreal, upon the legality of its incorporation, and the issue of its stock :—

MONTREAL, January 5, 1893.

Consumers Cordage Co., Ltd., Montreal :—

GENTLEMEN,—We have examined the books and documents connected with the organization of the Consumers Cordage Company, Limited, and are of opinion that it has been properly incorporated, and that its capital stock of $3,000,000, as issued, is fully paid up and non-assessable, according to the provisions of the "Companies Act."

We are, yours truly,

(signed), ABBOTTS, CAMPBELL & MEREDITH.

(c). A report from Messrs. Macmaster and McGibbon, Solicitors of the Company, that the titles to its Mills have been duly examined, and that no encumbrances exist.

Applicants for shares may examine these documents, copies of which may be seen at the Company's offices, and at the various offices of the Banks mentioned above.

The Consumers Cordage Company is probably the second largest Manufacturer of Cordage and Binder Twine in the world, and claims the following [illegible] advantages over its competitors :—

1st. Ample capital to conduct its business which enables it :—

(a) To buy its raw material in larger quantities, and at lower prices.

(b) To use only the latest and most improved machinery, thus keeping its mills in the highest state of efficiency.

2nd. Economy in selling and distributing its manufactured product.

3rd. The business covers so wide a territory that a commercial panic in any one country [illegible] it cannot be seriously injured by financial troubles, and the following considerations are considered that the danger of severe loss by fire is very slight.

4th. Lower cost of production.

(a). By maintaining the cheapest competition between the several mills, it is enabled to introduce in all the best methods found in each.

(b). By spreading its commercial expenses over a larger output.

(c) By placing in one hand the purchasing of the Raw Materials and Manufacturing supplies for the several Mills, thus securing lowest prices.

(d). By manufacturing for themselves many of their supplies.

The Company has always found it in its interest to divide the economies effected in production and distribution with the Consumer, and since its existence the Consumer has, upon the average, had a better article at a lower price than previously.

The Company does not claim to have any monopoly, or to earn monopoly profits; in fact, it has not done so. Since its organization it has been able, owing to the advantages above referred to, to earn a net return on its present capital of not less than 10 per cent. per annum (as statements in their Bankers' hands will show), and the Directors believe that these profits will be maintained in the future, as the cost of production and distribution shows each year a marked decrease.

The Dividend for the year ending 31st October, 1892, was at the rate of 5½ per cent. per annum. The past record of the Company and its present position justify the Directors in believing that quarterly dividends of one and three-quarters per cent. can be paid [illegible] should the profits for the present year be as large as the earliest promises, the final quarter's dividend might be increased.

TO BE OR NOT TO BE "IN IT."

A Life Agent called at a friend's place one day,
HE WASN'T IN IT ;
He had seen "the bore" coming and fled from his way
HE WASN'T IN IT ;
He had heard so much said, he was tired and sick
Of insurance and agents—'twas all a blank trick,
When one's coil must be shuffled to win it,
HE WASN'T IN IT.

A bit of a draft blew o'er his bald head,
HE WAS IN IT ;
Pneumonia sent him straightway to his bed,
HE STAYED IN IT ;
His doctor made of it a "quite special" case,
To save him for running still more of life's race,
But the grave took some chances to win it,
AND HE'S IN IT.

When approached by a gent for insuring your life,
GET RIGHT IN IT ;
It's the right thing to do for your children and wife,
THEN STAY IN IT.
Remember that fires take your goods "out of sight,"
And that accidents happen each day and each night.
While insurance protects every minute,
IF YOU'RE IN IT.

A Bank Manager's Opinion.
HE IS "IN IT."

The General Manager of one of the leading banks in Canada, writing to a personal friend, says :—"I have no hesitation in saying that I place the CANADA LIFE upon the highest platform. It is in my opinion carefully, economically and honestly managed ; its Reserve Funds are well invested ; its rates of Premiums are low, and its future is, I think better assured than a great majority of Companies. I have my own life insured in the Company for a round amount, and would not hesitate to increase the amount of my policies should I decide upon taking out further insurance."

A Government Insurance Actuary's Opinion
On the Relation between Ordinary and Tontine Service.

It is frequently asserted by Companies whose business is nearly all tontined, that although the CANADA LIFE may and does pay large ordinary profits, yet it cannot compare so favourably on a long term distribution or tontine period, and that in the end better results can be obtained on a tontine policy in a large American Co. than on an ordinary or tontine policy in the CANADA LIFE. To prove the absurdity of this statement, the following piece of common sense is quoted from Mervin Tabor, late Actuary of the Illinois Government Insurance Department. In his well known book, "The Three Systems of Life Insurance," he says : "A company that gives large dividends on the ordinary kind of policies, can give much larger on the same kinds when Tontined, and a company that pays but meagre dividends on the usual forms, adopting perhaps the Tontine system to "cover up" its small surpluses, cannot be relied on for large returns of surplus under the Tontine Forms of Insurance."

The CANADA LIFE does not "cover up" its Quinquennial profits as some Companies do, but publishes them throughout the country.

It can and does surpass other Companies on Quinquennial profits. It should and will surpass them on Tontine profits.

WHY TO BE "IN IT."

BISHOP HAWKE'S REASON :—"I claim that Life Insurance is not only a a humane, but I might say a Christian Institution."

LORD LYNDHURST'S REASON :—"A Policy of Life Insurance is always an evidence of prudent forethought. No man with a dependent family is free from reproach if not insured."

WHEN TO BE "IN IT."

The younger, the cheaper. Therefore insure when young. Besides by insuring in the CANADA LIFE now, you will share in three years' profits.

WHERE TO BE "IN IT."

The best place to be "in it" is in the Company that gives the best returns for the least money, consistent with absolute security. Therefore, in order to be "in it," choose the

A Horse Breaks Through the Ice.

This forenoon as Mr. John Mann was driving a team of horses belonging to Mr. Yelland across Little Lake after a load of ice, one of the animals broke through at a point where ice had been recently taken out. The equine was in the water for some time and was rescued with no small amount of difficulty. All persons cutting ice should mark the spot where it was taken out by planting ever-green trees, or in some other manner marking the place, and thus many accidents would be averted.

The market was rather small this morning, owing to the excessively cold weather, but prices ruled high in consequence. There is very little agitation in grain, wheat and oats being offered in the largest quantities. Quotations to-day were:—Spring Wheat 65c (standard), fall 70c (standard), oats 30c, small peas 55 to 60c, mummies 60 to 66c, rye 45c, barley 35 to 40c, oats 30c. Hay is selling at $8.00 and $8.50, only two loads offered to-day. Yesterday a large amount of straw was selling readily at $2.50 to $3.50 per load. No change in the wood market. Few potatoes on to-day selling at 70 to 75c per bag, apples selling from 60 to 90c, very scarce. Pork was selling at $3.00 per cwt., and a large amount of beef at 5 to 6c per lb, with a slow demand. Butter was very scarce and was disposed of at 25, 28 and 30c per lb. and the limited supply all exhausted by 11 o'clock. Then eggs, too, are quite costly and sold at 28 and even 30 cents per dozen. Geese sold from 75 cents to $1, while turkeys went all the way from 75 cents to $1.60. No other change in prices.

WEEKLY LITERARY ENTERTAINMENT.

A Good Attendance and a Good Programme.

A large company of ladies and gentlemen met in the assembly room of the Catholic Association last night to enjoy the entertainment of the evening. A long and excellent programme was presented. The various parts were well rendered and enthusiastically encored. All did well, especially Mr. Jas. McDonald, of Ansonia, Conn., who sang two baritone solos with excellent taste and expression. The debate of the evening was on the subject:—Resolved, "That the influence of the stage is not beneficial to mankind. Much thought and study were shown by the debaters in the able manner in which they handled the subject. Eloquence and humour flowed freely. The gentlemen on the affirmative side argued that the evil influences predominated so far over the good that the tendency of the stage was decidedly immoral and detrimental to mankind. As proof of their assertion they cited the immorality of the majority of the players and play-writers, the immodesty and indecency of most theatrical performances and the class of people that are most frequently found in the audience. Man being an imitative being, the sight of so much evil will sow seeds of corruption in his his heart. The managers wish to make money and knowing that an immodest play will draw a larger crowd than a moral one, pander to the evil desires of the human heart to attain their object. The gentlemen on the negative admitted that the stage like every other good thing is sadly abused, but called attention to the utility of the stage in teaching the untutored savages the truths and mysteries of the Christian religion, in moving the hardened sinner to repentance, when he sees represented before him the result of vice and sin, in reforming many a drunkard when he witnesses such a play as "Ten Nights in a Bar Room," in teaching historical truths as in "Uncle Tom's Cabin" and Shakespearse's plays, in giving us a knowledge of human nature so that we will be better prepared to battle with the deceit and treachery of the world.

Rev. Father Collins, Dr. Brennan and Mr. A Gough were appointed a committee to act as judges upon the debate. Their decisions were given, upon the merit of the arguments, in favour of the negative.

Rev. Father Collins briefly addressed the audience, expressing his pleasure on being present and complimenting the debaters and others who had taken part in the programme.

The following subject will be debated next Friday:—Resolved, "That Intemperance is the cause of more misery than the Sword." A musical programme will be a part of the evening's entertainment. An interesting feature of the programme will be the "fan drill" by a number of girls, with Miss Daisy Dolan as captain.

On Wednesday evening the Rev. Father Ryan, the learned Jesuit priest-orator of St. Michael's, Toronto, will lecture in the cathedral here under the auspices of the Catholic Association.

Couldn't Keep on His Feet.

PETERBOROUGH, Jan. 31st, 1892.

To the Peterborough Medicine Company:

GENTLEMEN,—If there is any medicine in the world that I pin my faith to it is Membray's Kidney and Liver Cure. In my business I have to stand on my feet a good deal. About a year ago my back began to give out, weakening pains set in across my kidneys, I felt tired all the time and could hardly stand up to my work. I began to lose strength and at last had to give up work altogether. A customer advised me to try your cure which I did. Before half the bottle was used, I felt the pains and weakness leaving me and to-day I enjoy good health and can bear fatigue and work all right. One bottle was all I used.

For the Good of Others

Rev. Mr. Williams Heartily Endorses Hood's Sarsaparilla.

We are pleased to present this from Rev. A. A. Williams, of the Sillsbee street Christian Church, Lynn, Mass.:

"I see no reason why a clergyman, more than a layman, who knows whereof he speaks, should hesitate to approve an

Article of Merit

and worth, from which he or his family have been signally benefited, and whose commendation may serve to extend those benefits to others by increasing their confidence. My wife has for many years been a sufferer from severe

Nervous Headache

for which she found little help. She has tried many things that promised well but performed little. Last fall a friend gave her a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It seems surprising what simply one bottle could and did do for her. The attacks of headache decreased in number and were less violent in their intensity, while her general health has been improved. Her appetite has also been better. From our experience with

Hood's Sarsaparilla

I have no hesitation in endorsing its merits."

POLICE COURT.

Saturday, Feb. 4th.

Michael Horan, sent up on a week's remand, faced the court this morning for sentence on the charge to which he pleaded guilty a few days ago, viz., of stealing a silver watch from Daniel Shannaghan on January 28th.

P. M.—Have you anything to say?

Prisoner No, sir.

P. M.—I am sorry to see a young man like you here on such a charge. The sentence of the court is that you be confined in the county jail for a period of one month at hard labour.

The magistrate gave the young man some wholesome advice, advising him to lead a straightforward, honest life, and stating he made the sentence light in order to give him a chance to reform.

A young man was picked up by Police Constable Stewart on the market square last night in a hopelessly intoxicated condition. Prisoner was allowed to go this morning, it being his first offence.

A complaint was laid by the wife of a Douro farmer against her husband, charging him with making threats to do her bodily harm on the 31st ult, and asking that the defendant be bound over to keep the peace. The complainant withdrew the charge against her husband to not prosecute providing he would promise faithfully not to repeat the offence. This the defendant immediately did, and expressed regret that that unruly member—the tongue, had got the mastery over him. He further paid all costs amounting to $2.85.

Caution.

Beware of any man who offers you an imitation article, no matter what it is, and say it is "just as good as the genuine;" they sell all kinds of "sham remedies" in this way upon the reputation of the Pain Killer—be sure and get the genuine made by PERRY DAVIS'. Large bottles, popular price.

THE FUTURE OF CANADA.

Patriotic Lecture Delivered Before the Collegiate Institute Literary Society by Mr. School Inspector Brown.

There was a scant audience—fifty persons at most—assembled in the hall of the Collegiate Institute last evening at the fifth lecture of the series being given under the auspices as the Literary Society. The subject was "The Future of Canada," and speaker, Mr. J. Coyle Brown, P.S.I. Col. H. C. Rogers occupied the chair in an acceptable manner. In opening the proceedings he lamented the very small attendance present but stated that the boisterous night without doubtless accounted for this. He was sure the address which they would hear was on a timely subject and could not fail to be one of deep interest to all true Canadians. The Glee Club of the Collegiate then rendered a selection which was deservedly applauded.

THE EVENING'S LECTURE.

Mr. Brown in his introductory remarks, expressed the pleasure it afforded him to give aid, though in a small measure, perhaps, to the Collegiate Institute Literary Society, in giving an evening of instruction and amusement, and giving the young people a chance to appear before public audiences. He regarded these features as no unimportant branch of their education. They should give readings, recitations and essays before these audiences. The subject of reading was not given proper attention in the general school system. Though an education might and is generally obtained without it, still the results were that we heard bad reading in our courts, our pulpits, etc. To hear a good reader was a rare treat. If he selected a wife the matter uppermost in his opinion of her would be, is she a good reader? There was nothing more attractive in the family circle than good reading to amuse and instruct all in the winter evenings around the fireside. The speaker next directed his attention to the literary meetings of the society. He would like to see them held weekly, beginning at 7:30 o'clock sharp and ending at 9:30 and with no barrier at the door in the shape of an entrance fee. He believed by this means and the pupils taking a larger part in the programme, they would attractive, profitable and popular.

But he desired to speak on the subject, "The Future of Canada." The name of Dominion of Canada was an objectionable one. He would like too see it called Canada only—the home of Canadians. The word Dominion was a useless and cacophonous adjective. Canada had an area of 3,500,000 square miles. The speaker also dealt with its great length and breadth, and compared the size of our provinces to several European countries. Canada was a little smaller than Europe and considerably larger than Australia. A large portion of our area was capable of maturing corn, and a still greater proportion wheat, and Canadian wheat was recognized as the best all over the world. Canadian apples and vegetable productions when with American growth, always came out ahead. A Canadian by reason of his generally superior education and more active quality generally took the foremost positions in the republic to the south of us, and hence the great exodus, as one of the political parties asserted to-day. Mr. Brown next dealt with the fine salubrious climate of Canada and said taking it as a whole our climate was more favorable to the farmer than that of the British Isles. Of our mineral resources we know very little as yet. Iron and coal were very plentiful in many districts and there were also quantities of gold, silver, copper, phosphate, gypsum, and other minerals. Of Canada's forests, fisheries and fur bearing animals he would not speak this evening. Canada had exceptional advantages for carrying the commerce of the world not yet realized or appreciated. One thing remarkable was our extensive railroad development which had increased from 6 miles in 1840 to 14,320 miles in 1891. Our marine stood fifth with good prospects of being fourth. The speaker said he now came to the important question as to what was going to be our future. The time for indifference as to this question was past and now was the time to discuss it freely, unbiased and untrammelled—not during the bluster and heat of a political campaign when prejudice and excitment dulled the intellect and warped the judgment. According to the theories advocated to-day by citizens there was one of four courses open to us; remain a colony as we are, federate with the Empire, annex to the United States or assert our independence. The speaker dealt briefly with each of these questions and declared that in his opinion Imperial Federation was nothing but a pleasant dream, there being too many linguistic, racial, commercial, geographical and other difficulties to make the scheme practical. The speaker took up the reasons advanced by annexationists in favor of our political union with the United States and combatted many of them. The State governments were becoming less and less powerful every day, while the central power was becoming more and more aggressive under a money disposition. The United States had social and financial difficulties totally unknown to us. Our legally constituted law courts were supreme, while Judge Lynch still held sway over there. Our position was large and very favourable, and it would not be doing right in breaking off our British connection. Neither political party in Canada has used old England fairly and squarely in the matter of trade policy. The old country would buy everything that we had to sell; then why not have the fullest measure of trade possible with her. Things in Canada appeared to be on a turn for the better now and the tide of immigration so long sweeping over the United States was being directed to Canada and free intercourse with England would bring us development. It would be better for us to become a commercial people than a manufacturing country prematurely. In conclusion, the speaker strongly urged Canada to treat the mother country fairly and remain a colony until such time or times as we were able to take upon ourselves the full responsibility of a national existence.

Master Maitland Boswell sang a solo in excellence voice, after which Mr. J. W. Garvin, B.A., moved a vote of thanks to the lecturer for the manner in which he had presented the truth and showed what a fine country we had. The exodus had been referred to and the question often asked, why had these young people gone away when it had been proved to-night, Canada had as fine advantages and prospects as any country under the sun. The teachers of the country were at fault perhaps, and had not instilled into the youth our great advantages or developed in him a love of country and its worthy institutions. Mr. J. C. Smith seconded the resolution, which was put by the chairman, who concurred in Mr. Garvin's remarks, and carried unanimously. The meeting then closed by the singing of the National Anthem.

ROWSE'S OLD STAND.

We part from the old stand with regret. But it is not our fault that the trade is going up town. We see that it is going, and who can control the movements of trade? For our part, we think the sensible thing is to follow.

Being now comfortably settled in the centre of trade, we are fully prepared for business, and hope to be able to serve all our old customers and many more new ones.

The ladies are especially invited to call and look through our handsome new premises, where they will find us surrounded with the latest modern store improvements, increased shelf room, better light, and other accessories for the more effective display of our large and well assorted stock of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods.

TWO KINDS OF WOMEN need Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—those who want to be made strong, and those who want to be made well. It builds up, invigorates, regulates, and cures.

It's for young girls just entering womanhood; for women who have reached the critical "change of life"; for women expecting to become mothers; for mothers who are nursing and exhausted; for every woman who is run-down, delicate, or overworked.

For all the disorders, diseases, and weaknesses of women, "Favorite Prescription" is the only remedy so unfailing that it can be guaranteed. If it doesn't benefit or cure, in every case, the money will be returned.

There's nothing likely to be "just as good."

NEW YORK (SPECIAL.)

A WOMAN'S first fear at a ball is over the chance of her being alone. The next is lest her identity be lost in a crowd of women. Some poor things seem to think that they are not so forlornly alone if they seem to be interested in somebody, even if the somebody is a woman. Dear me, this is an awful mistake. Every one knows that women cannot possibly be interested in each other at a ball and they only make themselves the more conspicuously forlorn if they do pretend they are. The girl who bravely stands up all by herself in a picture sort of way, with curtains or portieres for background, who keeps her head well up and looks far off as if she were a little bored with all the people, or as if she were waiting till three or four slaves should return from as many errands, is the girl who succeeds. Other women are so horrid they will hardly permit anyone else to do the picture act. The only way is to be downright severe and drive them away. One thing that men dislike is to go up to a crowd of women. If a man does risk it, the other women grab so, that actually it does seem as if one's only chance to be sure of one's escort is when you have his arm coming from the carriage. Even when you have his arm going back to the carriage you are not sure, because men are sometimes taken away right from under one's nose by a designing mother or the girl herself.

"Oh, Mr. Smith! Have you seen my Katie? Do——"

Of course he looks her up. The only safe way is to keep absolutely free of women. Also, wise girls, mindful of reproach in that phase "wall flower," will do their best to at least get a seat somewhere in the room. There they look as if their partners had just left them a moment to get a new shoe string—shoe strings do break so!—and she leans her elbow on the table, uses her fan languidly, and really when you get a rear view of her you hardly suspect her of being desolate and all alone. Of course no girl who has not a good back should do this, but it is just the thing for the girl whose back is the best part of her. There are women, you know who have such a pretty line at the neck and whose hair grows prettily. These and the girls with handsome arms are secure from being desolate all the time if they can get a good seat and keep up an air of expecting someone back every moment. It is enough to make one's heart ache to see the girls suffer because they feel the lack of attention yet at every ball only a comparative few of the women can get any attention. There are so many of them, and the men come so late. Do you realize that the really available men do not pretend to get in till about midnight, quite in the English way, where a ballroom is a waste of women until that time, when the men come in shoals! With them come the wise women and the young matrons. As for the poor young girls and the unitiated, who come at ten, some of them have already gone to the dressing-room and pretended they were ill, just to get away from the "no-partner purgatory" time every one is in. Others have given up and gone shamelessly to sleep. Some whose carriages were within call have gone home, their gowns fresh and unhurt. After twelve, things brighten up, and by supper time there is the proper confusion of black coats, but, ah me, very few of the women can really feel themselves successes. It is only in the fairy novels that the gentle young heroine sweeps all before her at the ball. At the real ball many and many a heart must ache. Get all the comfort you can out of the fact that your gown is pretty and that, at least, a lot of the women have envied you, even if the men have not seemed to notice. It is not always the pretty women and the lovely girls who have all the attention—that is one of the whimsical things about a ball—it is a sort of luck. If a girl gets started she seems to be all right. If she can get two men she is safe, but nothing will induce a man to go near a girl who is quite alone. It is queer, isn't it? Yet if he comes in contact with one of the "belles" his only idea is to get her away all to himself.

So many must stand up and show their gowns and look as if they had actually turned the men away because they were tiresome. If caught in this way and you have a fan, and if you will keep away from the other women, you will do well enough. Make up your mind whether a profile view or a front view is the best, and turn that first to one part of the room and then to another. Very likely you will hear somebody say that they heard a man say, "Who is that stunning girl over there who stands so well?" and that they think the girl was you. That is a good deal of popularity for these times when it is so hard to make men notice anything. The one thing a woman may not do is to move from where she is without a man to see her through. The girl is lost, no matter how well she does it who attempts to cross the room by herself. She may be as graceful as ever she can be, and hold out her fan and show off her dress beautifully, but it won't do. She may stand up and pose by herself all she wants to, or should I say, all she has to, but she must not walk about. Besides, it is dangerous. A man might have almost made up his mind to come and speak to you, and if you go recklessly moving about he may feel it too long a walk. Never take chances like that.

Remember, in decorating your ballroom the idea must be not so much to make a handsome room, as to make a room in which yourself and your guests will look well. Dark or neutral walls, or, better still, panelings of dark wood, side lights and never chandeliers, produce the best effect. Nothing is so hard on women and on a room, too, as chandeliers or light from the ceiling. It makes shadows under their eyes, and that is only becoming in novels where the suffering ladies of high or low degree, arise in the morning or appear at the ball at night, with great purple shadows under their eyes. On the ordinary woman out of a book this effect adds ten years to her age. The stiff, high-backed chairs of long ago may not have been so very comfortable, but they were much more becoming than are the modern spindly gold ones that make a little woman look like a mosquito, and a big woman seem a mountain. Maybe, the folks in the old time did not speculate and philosophise as much as we do nowadays, but they seemed to get at things a good deal more surely than we do. That is, things about women. They let her sit down in great solemn chairs, and walk around in sombre halls, and the result was that women had ballads and sonnets written about them, while now they get things like "Sweet Bells out of Tune," where all their little defects come out in the electric light that is always on them, and it is hard.

A lovely ball gown is made of delicate crepe over silk. Apparently it is all one piece falling from a square neck. It is very full indeed on this square neck band, and the girdle that passes about the body under the arms, and up to a point in the centre, makes a sort of all around puff of the full stuff. Another girdle pointed a little both ways, up and down, in the back and at the front, and very narrow at the sides, goes about the waist, and another puff is thus formed of the full material, which gives a loose effect between the girdles that is charming. From the lower girdle the material hangs straight to the hem. At the back and on the neck band is hung a very full train which falls free of the girdles, in Watteau fashion, to quite a distance on the floor, mingling with the shorter train of the skirt proper. The sleeves are enormous puffs, leaving the arms bare from well above the elbow. The girdles are of fine bead work; about the edge of the skirt and of the train is a border to match. The hair is curled close to the head and bound with a bead work fillet. You see, the gown is a queer combination of Greek, Empire, Watteau and modern, but the general effect is harmonious with the ideas of to-day, and the whole thing is charming.

IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

The Member for North Armagh Makes a Scene.

LONDON, Feb. 3.—In the House of Commons Col. Edward James Saunderson, Conservative member for North Armagh, generally regarded as the leader of the Irish Unionists, attacked the Evicted Tenants' Commission in a fierce tirade. He spoke of Ulster's loyalty to England and about the resolution of Protestant Ireland to oppose by every means the designs of the separatists. The Evicted Tenants' Commission he described as a body pledged in advance to a cause of injustice and oppression, and headed in its outrageous work by a partisan president. Its course, Col. Saunderson asserted, was in a line with the policy of the Irish Chief Secretary in releasing the Gweedore assassins, who, led by a murderous ruffian, had done to death a faithful officer.

The term "murderous ruffian" was interpreted by a number of the Irish members as alluding to Father McFadden. Several voices from the Irish benches were lifted in loud protest against Col. Saunderson's utterance.

Col. Saunderson went on defiantly and unshrinkingly.

"Yes," he cried, "they were led by a murderous ruffian."

A number of Irish members were on their feet in an instant with cries of "Order, order." "Withdraw the expression," "It is a ruffianly utterance."

The Speaker demanded order. The clamor among the Irish Nationalists continued and seemed to be gaining in energy of expression, when Mr. Gladstone arose. As the Premier began to speak all became silent and listened with attention to his words. Mr. Gladstone spoke earnestly and with deep feeling. He appealed to the Irish Nationalists to restrain themselves. In the interests of the honor and dignity of Parliament all the members should assist in bringing the scene to a close as soon as possible.

"Surely," added Mr. Gladstone, "the honorable member from North Armagh will refrain from calling a gentleman, held by many in the highest respect, a murderous ruffian."

Col. Saunderson showed no signs of yielding, even to the Premier.

Then Mr. Balfour, the Conservative leader and former Chief Secretary for Ireland, arose.

"I appeal," he said, "to the honorable member to withdraw the expression and substitute that of excited politician."

Then Col. Saunderson, obedient to the voice of his leader, said slowly and deliberately:

"I accept the suggestion and withdraw the expression for that mentioned by the right honorable member from East Manchester."

The tumult ceased, but Col. Saunderson did not subside. He proceeded to attack Mr. Gladstone for attempting to establish Roman Catholic ascendancy in Ireland. The priests, Col. Saunderson said, had grabbed political power and never intended to relax their grasp. The Dublin parliament, if established, would be a slave to the priesthood. As a specimen of the men to whom it was proposed to deliver the government of Ireland, they might take the member from North Louth, who had recently called the Parnellite members "Jackasses of the Billy Redmond type, with no more sense than a hen." [Laughter.]

Lord Londonderry, Conservative, resumed the debate on the address in the House of Lords. He spoke of the last convention of Ulster Unionists over which he presided, and declared that the men of Ulster were ready to fight to the last ditch the proposed Dublin Parliament. They would shed blood rather than allow the impairment of the constitution to which Ulster owed its present prosperity, and he could find only words of commendation for their devotion to the best interests of the empire.

Lord Londonderry was followed by Lord Salisbury, Lord Spencer, Lord Herschel and Lord Ashborne. Most of the speeches were commonplace, although the Conservatives showed occasionally more bitterness than has been noticeable in recent years.

In a passing reference to the Home Rule Bill Lord Herschel asked the House to consider, irrespective of party, the danger that would be incurred by neglecting to satisfy the just aspirations of the Irish people. Irishmen had carried their hostility into the colonies of the empire and were sowing the seeds of discontent more energetically every day the realization of their hopes was deferred.

"God forbid," he added, "that any difficulty should arise between Great Britain and the great English-speaking nation across the Atlantic, but should such a difficulty arise we should find that the hostility to England of Irishmen in the United States would aggravate the dispute immeasurably."

After Lord Herschel's speech the House adjourned.

They Must Not Die.

It is simply an outrage to let young people die who are attacked with pulmonary troubles and incipient consumption, when Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil will save them. It should be shouted from the house tops that supposed incurable consumptives can be cured by the use of this extraordinary preparation. The rebuilding process commences in the system the moment the Emulsion is taken. It is curious to watch the effects upon emaciated persons, who begin to fill out and make new blood as often as Miller's Emulsion is administered. In an incredibly short time cadaverous looking patients again look natural and healthy. In big bottles, 50c. and $1, at all Drug Stores.

Now is the Time.

In this the season of coughs, colds, asthma, bronchitis and other throat and lung complaints, it is well to be provided with a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup which effectually cures all such diseases, and that very promptly and pleasantly. Price 25 and 50c. Sold by all druggists.

For Colds and Sore Throat.

SIRS,—We use Hagyard's Yellow Oil in our family for colds and sore throat and it is excellent. My sister had asthma since childhood, but on trying Yellow Oil for it she soon was cured.
MISS LIZZIE CHAPELLE, Baldwin, Ont.

The proprietor has authorized any druggist to give you a Sample Bottle FREE to convince you of the merit of this great remedy. Large bottles 50c. and $1.

PERSONALS.

Cardinal Gibbons was in Washington last Wednesday to "confirm" the daughter of Senator Voorhees in the Catholic faith. He was shown much social attention.

Chancellor Sims, of the Syracuse University, who recently gave notice to the trustees that he intended to resign his office, in order to resume pastoral work, has been persuaded to withdraw his letter.

The youngest son of President Carnot, who will be twenty-one years of age on the 22nd of February next, has already been registered on the French army roll. The young man is still a student at the College of Saint-Barbe.

A colored man, the first of his race to be admitted to the priesthood of the Episcopal Church, in Kentucky, was ordained in Louisville a few days ago. His name is William M. Jackson, and he has a charge in Henderson, Ky. His father was free-born, and his mother an emancipated slave. He had a good education in Ohio, and for a time was employed in the War Department in Washington.

Miss Rhoda Broughton has just narrowly escaped inheriting a share of a large fortune. The estate of the late Henry Thomas Coghlan, of England, valued at over $3,000,000, is now in litigation. No will has been found, and the next of kin are a brother, a sister and a cousin. Miss Rhoda Broughton is a first cousin once removed, and the law does not recognize the lesser degree of relationship until the higher is exhausted.

Calvin S. Brice distributed 100 tons of coal and 100 barrels of flour among the poor of Lima, O.

George Ohney, the French playwright, is reported to have received nearly $100,000 in royalties from his "Le Maitre des Forges."

President Harrison has received a large number of letters from prominent people in Boston, urging him to make that city his home.

Mrs. Hannah Chard, of Port Norris, N. Y., who can still thread a needle and do good sewing, has enjoyed a merry holiday season, and hopes to celebrate her 109th birthday on April 20th next.

Speaking of the late ex-President Hayes, before his death, Senator John Sherman said: "There is a man who lives, I think, as a retired President with satisfaction and good sense. He has a comfortable, unostentatious place in the country near a town. He is worth perhaps $400,000. He has a family, a library, and good health. He worries about nothing. I think he is a good example of how to live after retirement from a high public office."

Mr. Moody is scrupulous about travelling on Sunday, no matter how impatient he may be, or how worthy the mission on which he is bound.

The Empress Frederick of Germany will visit her daughter, the Duchess of Sparta, in Athens early in March. Upon her return, a month or two later, she will go to the Schloss in Homburg, her principal residence since the death of her husband.

Ex-President Hayes had a desk and bookcase arranged in one of his bathrooms so that he might take refuge from visitors in that apartment when hard pressed. Usually though he was safe when he withdrew to his large bedroom.

It is not often that the Czar decorates a ballet-dancer. He did so recently in the case of Mlle. Marie Ogoleit, upon whom he conferred a gold medal, to be worn with the ribbon of St. Vladimir, for having saved the life of a peasant girl who tried to drown herself in the river Ordeja.

Joseph Jefferson is to spend a month in Chicago next summer and his hosts are already making plans for his entertainment. As he is a famous fisherman a scheme is on foot to grant him the privilege of a well-stocked bass pond in Michigan, only a few miles from Chicago.

Vereschagin, the painter of military scenes, has been sharply criticised in Russia for the appalling honesty with which he has portrayed the realities of war. His pictures of battlefields are thought to be reflections on the humanity of Russia. But, as the artist is in favor in high circles, the attacks do not appear to injure him any.

Miss Louise Aldrich Blake, eldest daughter of a Herefordshire clergyman, has just achieved the highest distinction as a student in medicine ever won by a woman. She has taken a "double first" in the examinations at the London University. It is said that she attained excellence not by special cramming, but by steady, persevering hard work.

Campbellford Speaks.

No one has better reason to be grateful for Membray's Kidney and Liver Cure than I have. I was ill for a long time under the doctor's care; I was tortured with muscular rheumatism, disordered kidneys and general debility. I was losing flesh rapidly—had gone down from 180 to 130 pounds—and was bedfast for months. If you have been there before, you know how little there was in life for me, and when I was asked to try Membray's Cure, how hopeless I was. I used two bottled only, ($2) and at the end of that time had risen from a sick bed, regained my appetite, was relieved from all pain, put on new flesh, and am now attending to business as well as ever.—D. WATERS, merchant, Campbellford, Ont. Write me if you want further particulars about Membray's Kidney and Liver Cure.

A Cure for Constipation and Headache.

Dr. Silas Lane, while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots leaves, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick-headache in one night. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50c. a package.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

ITEMS OF SUPPLY BEING QUICKLY PASSED.

The Opposition Not Obstructing Progress —Mr. Foster in Genial Mood—The Pontiac Bonds Story—Government Civil Service Insurance.

OTTAWA, Feb. 3.—The House spent yesterday afternoon and evening in supply, and passed quite a large number of items.

The Opposition appears to be in excellent temper this session, and the votes roll along easily with only as much inquiry and investigation as shows a praiseworthy desire on their part to see that the Government expends the public money wisely and well.

Mr. Foster is also in good temper, and gives all the information asked for cheerfully and promptly, so that there have been no "spats" so far on the estimates.

Previous to going into supply Mr. Mills wanted to know about the debt of the county of Pontiac, and whether Mr. Bryson, the member for that county, had any promise from the Government that it would relieve the county of its railway indebtedness in connection with the Pontiac Pacific Railway.

The story of the Pontiac bonds is briefly this: Some years ago when the Pontiac Pacific Railway was projected this county, in a fit of generosity, voted a bonus of $100,000, but has never paid any interest on the bonds or made any provision for paying them.

The county was sued by the executors of the Rose estate, holders of the bonds. Judgment was obtained, and only a short time ago the curious spectacle was presented of the whole county being seized by the sheriff. This difficulty has, however, been got over by the county promising to pay the interest and make provision for redeeming the bonds.

Durin the last election in Pontiac the bond question was made the issue, and it was very freely stated that if Mr. Bryson was elected the Dominion Government would come to the rescue of the county.

In the debate this afternoon Mr. Bryson emphatically denied that he had ever made any promise on the platforms or elsewhere that the Government would help the county if he was elected.

In the course of the debate Mr. Devlin read some extracts from the Conservative papers of the country and The Equity of Shawville, and endeavored to hold Mr. Bryson responsible for the utterances of the paper.

Mr. Foster to-day introduced his bill respecting Government civil service insurance, and in doing so explained that this bill was to be taken in connection with another bill of which he had given notice referring to superannuation.

Briefly summarized, his statement was that the superannuation fund as at present constituted had come to be a very heavy drain on the consolidated fund, and the revenue and expenditure under it were getting further and further apart. The proposal was to institute a system of cheap Government insurances which would provide for the families of deceased civil servants.

Mr. Foster explained that the contribution of the Government to both the superannuation and insurance schemes would be very much less than the contribution at present made to the superannuation fund. By the time the two schemes had been working for about 20 years the contribution of the Government to both would have reached its maximum, which would be about $20,000 a year.

Quite a number of members of Parliament do not agree with the deputation of pork packers which visited the Minister of Agriculture and urged a relaxation of the quarantine regulations respecting hogs so as to facilitate the admission of American hogs for slaughtering purposes, and have addressed the following letter on the subject to the Minister of Agriculture:

"We regret with regret that the pork packers of Ontario have waited on the Government with the view of inducing them to provide regulations for the admission of hogs from the United States free to be slaughtered in bond and the product, or a stipulated quantity as an equivalent, therefore exported, as such privilege, if granted, would in our opinion injuriously affect the values and business of the Canadian farmer in that line as well as injure Canada's trade abroad by destroying the reputation she now enjoys of producing an article of hog product much superior to that exported by our neighbors to the south of us; therefore we respectfully urge that said privilege be not granted."

The letter is signed by T. S. Sproule, J. H. Marshall, C. Fairbairn, W. T. Hodgins, E. Cochrane, F. W. Carpenter, H. H. Rose, J. D. Reid, W. F. Roome, R. R. McLennan, W. H. Bennett, H. A. Calvin, George Taylor, R. Tyrwhitt, Arthur Boyle, W. H. Hutchins, A. McNeill and H. Cargill.

Mr. McMullen gives notice of a motion that the clerk of the House do lay on the table a return showing the names, age, birthplace, salary, origin and religion of the permanent officers of the Senate and House of Commons and the permanent officers and servants of the library of Parliament as they stood at the end of the first session of the Parliament of the Dominion of Canada, together with every change made since and statements of the staffs as they stand at present.

Mr. Pearson, engineer of the Nova Scotia coal syndicate, is here for the purpose of interviewing the Minister of Railways and Canals with reference to the erection of extensive coal docks at the entrance to the Lachine Canal, Montreal.

Mr. Alfred Palmer, C.E., of London, who was employed by the Dominion Government and Sir Douglas Fox to make an investigation into the possibility of the proposed Prince Edward Island Railway, is here for the purpose of submitting his report. He reports that the scheme is quite possible.

The Senate Divorce Committee has been struck for this year and consists of Senators Gowan, Kaulbach, Longhead, McKay, McKindsey, Read, Ferguson, Kirchhoffer and McInnes, the last three being new members.

Expelled Fishermen.

WINDSOR, Ont., Feb. 4.—The fishermen along Lake St. Clair, the Detroit River and Lake Erie have decided to organize and fight the fish hatcheries and the fishing laws. When it was announced some time ago that the fishery commission would come to Essex and hear the grievances of those interested, it was thought by the latter they would be allowed to state their case. On the contrary, however, so they charge, the commission would hear only those favorable to the laws as they are. The fishermen now propose to assert their rights.

The Rankin Murder.

WINDSOR, Feb. 4.—The inquest over the murder of Robert Rankin by the Freemans, negroes, is concluded. The jury returned a verdict of wilful murder against George Freeman, William Henry Freeman and Alexander Freeman, and against Lemuel Freeman as being an accessory to the murder. Lucinda Freeman, the mother of the murderous trio, was dismissed, and Jerry Freeman, her husband, released on $2000 bail to appear Monday for his preliminary trial.

The prisoners' preliminary trial before the magistrate is to be pushed.

Another Apostolic Delegate.

ROME, Feb. 4.—The holy congregation of the Propaganda has addressed a declaration to the Roman Catholic archbishops in the United States congratulating them on the progress of the church there and announcing that His Holiness the Pope has determined to appoint the Venerable Francis, titular archbishop of Lepanto, apostolic delegate to the United States.

Satolli's Power.

ROME, Feb. 4.—The papal brief nominating Monsignor Satolli as papal delegate in the United States is a document of considerable length. It confers plenary powers on Mgr. Satolli, including authority to regulate all contentions in the church and to confer dispensations.

It is True

That we are doing great things with Linen Table Napkins and Towelling Goods. We have been told over and over again that there is no stock in town which affords a more satisfactory choice and in which such low prices predominate. Ladies call, go elsewhere, and come back and buy.

Half regular prices are what we have put on a beautiful line of Table Linen, nobby goods in Table Napkins, and superior makes of Towelling slightly damaged. These lines we wish to drive, and you will save considerable money by buying now.

Back of these goods there are others in which the cutting process still goes on, such as Bedspreads, Comfortables, Sheeting, Marseilles, Quilts, &c. These possess a newness that charms on sight. The assortment is plenty enough to please the most particular lady.

During the past few weeks we have been stock-taking. The results are pleasant, for we have the satisfaction of knowing that the business done during the year just ended has exceeded anything in the past. This enables us to be generous, and we are bound to retain your patronage by giving the BEST values in town.

EUROPE'S WAR CLOUD.

THE DESIRE FOR A FIGHT IS INCREASING.

Germany Pouring Sweets on Russia—Some Russian Papers Say That War is an Absolute Necessity and That Germany Will Beat the First Drum.

BERLIN, Feb. 6.—An official dinner was given on Thursday evening by Count von Eulenburg, President of the Prussian Council of Ministers, at which Emperor William, Dr. Miquel, Prussian Minister of Finance, and other Ministers were present. His Majesty was in high spirits, but not a word escaped him in reference to the eternal subject of the Army Bill. Probably he finds a period of silence opportune.

The Reichstag Committee on the Army Bill has adjourned without date in order to allow Freiherr von Maltzahn, Secretary of the Imperial Treasury, time to prepare a financial statement. This statement the opponents of the measure are waiting with eager expectation in the hope of finding further arguments to support their resistance of the bill. Another reason for the reticence at present observed in official circles is the recent bellicose speeches made by leading generals who had been ordered to speak out on the necessity of military reforms.

These generals, in their enthusiastic obedience to their orders, went beyond their instructions and beat the war drum in a most violent manner. The terms used by them in their speeches would have been justified only had Europe been on the eve of a general conflict. Gen. Lenke and Gen. Lewinski declared that the immediate reform of the army was indispensable to the safety of the Empire. Gen. Schkopp, speaking at Cologne, said:

"A storm is about to burst over Europe. Yes, war is imminent. May God find the Emperor, the German Princes and the German people ready. If we are not ready we will have dreamed only a deceptive dream of a united Fatherland. We will see sorrowful times, like the Thirty Years' War, destroying the progress of civilization. The Emperor knows the gravity of the situation. The people ought to trust him, and vote the armaments asked for. If his majesty draws his sword it will never return to its scabbard until the last enemy is crushed or he with his people is overthrown."

Talk like this while the Emperor was trying to conciliate Russia through the Czarewitch was not what the Government desired. Chancellor von Caprivi must now regret the withdrawal of the order that commanding officers keep clear of politics and political questions.

Concurrent indications distinctly point to a growth of concord with Russia, arising from the recent visit of the Czarewitch to Berlin. Officials at the Foreign Office here state that a commercial convention with Russia is now a certainty. The reappointment of a financial agent of Russia in Berlin marks an important stage in the resumption of the financial concert that prevailed when the Government caused the Reichsbank to refuse advances on Russian loans.

This prohibition will soon be withdrawn. Communications are being exchanged with the Russian Finance Minister in regard to artificial operations in paper roubles on the German bourse. These will be checked or regulated to the advantage of genuine commercial transactions.

Further, since the Czarewitch's return to St. Petersburg, the Czar is credited with instructing Gen. Gourko, the Governor of Warsaw, who was recently summoned to St. Petersburg, to suspend the execution of the plans for massing troops along the German frontier. The Czarewitch has sent a telegram to the colonel of the Westphalian Hussars, of which regiment the Czarewitch is honorary colonel, saying:

"I am filled with sentiment of sincere gratitude towards Emperor William for his gracious attention to me, which I warmly appreciate."

Rumors are current of a meeting of the Czar, Emperor William and Emperor Franz Joseph. Rumor also has it that the Czarewitch will revisit the Berlin court during the coming summer and that a conference is being arranged between the Czar and Emperor William.

But notwithstanding all these rumors of pacific intentions which have certainly reached Russia, the Russian newspapers of pro-French opinions take special occasion now to recur to expressions of hostility to Germany. For instance, The Novosti declares that war is an absolute necessity and that the monarchs will prove powerless to avert it. Germany, it says, is going headlong towards events compared with which the war of 1870 will be as child's play.

The King of Wurtemburg has left Berlin, having been offended by an incident that occurred at the opera. Emperor William, with much empressement, made the King of Saxony precede him when quitting the Royal box, while without giving the King of Wurtemburg any option he passed out before him.

NOVA SCOTIA COAL BILL.

The Dominion Parliament Will Be Asked to Disallow the Act.

OTTAWA, Feb. 6.—The Nova Scotia coal deal promises to come up in Parliament right away. The enormity of the deal and the hardship it may inflict on all Canada should an American syndicate control the Nova Scotia mines is now being felt here, and a strong effort will be made to induce Parliament to disallow the Act of the Nova Scotia Legislature, under which the lease has been made to the Whitney syndicate of Boston.

LOST $20,000.

Arnprior Again Visited by the Scourge of Its Earlier Years.

ARNPRIOR, Feb. 6.—A disastrous blaze broke out in Bertrand's restaurant at 3 o'clock Thursday morning. It spread to Mr. Alexander Mcnzies' drug store and the central telephone office, which were completely gutted; and McCaffrey's barber shop, the Montreal Grocery (Mr. Campbell's), Dagenais' clothing store and Russell's billiard room were completely destroyed. The steam fire engine and hook and ladder appliances were the means of confining the fire to the above places and preventing much greater loss. The total loss is placed at $20,000. All the burned buildings are partly covered by insurance.

THE ROBBERS RUN DOWN

TORONTO IS RELIEVED FROM FURTHER FEAR

The Leader of the Gang an Ex-Convict Named George Bennett. He it Was Who Wrote the Defiant Letters—Where the Stolen Jewelry Was Concealed.

TORONTO, Feb. 6.—The observation of Dryden, that "with sure steps, though lame and slow, vengeance o'ertakes the villains' speed," has seldom met a stronger confirmation than in the arrest of the four men whose names appear below, and who have confessed to the committing of the three recent daring robberies in this city.

The chief characteristic of the burglaries was their boldness. Apart from the seemingly reckless but practically successful daring, the execution of the jobs was inartistic and coarse, and as they went on unchecked, the detective department naturally began to feel crestfallen over them. They had worked very hard on the two jewelry store robberies in the endeavor to achieve success, much harder than they have done in cases in which they were held to have scored brilliantly. Where defeat came in was the failure to trace any of the stolen property. Sharp lookouts were kept upon the pawnshops and establishments of known or suspected receivers of stolen property, and suspected parties—even some of the men now in custody—were watched, and more than once it seemed as though the exercise of the twin virtues of patience and perseverance was about to meet with its reward, but on each occasion hope's flattering tale ended in disappointment.

But the thieves were too wary to attempt to place any of the stolen property on the market immediately, and though their storing the jewelry for a time has ultimately furnished conclusive evidence against them, there is no doubt it deferred the evil day.

So matters stood until the depositing of the parcel containing some of the stolen jewelery and defiant notes to the detectives on the doorstep of Robert Grainger, 182 Queen-street west, on Wednesday last.

During their visit to the Davis and Roberts establishments they behaved with engaging politeness and good humor, but their letters were disagreeable and discourteous, and there was a conspicuous absence of this distinguishing and mitigating courtesy. The robberies had been well planned, well carried out, and had met with entire success, but this deplorable retrogression to rudeness proved an infallible symbol of doom, for by this act the burglars practically sealed their fate. Inspector Stark promptly decided that none but amateurs would resort to a device of this kind to attract greater attention to themselves, and his suspicions strengthened that the Bennett gang, who had been partially identified previously, were the guilty parties. But it was still a case of "as you were," so far as concerned the possession of evidence to incriminate the suspected parties in respect to any specific burglary. The detectives felt more strongly than ever that the Bennett gang were the robbers; but feeling was of no avail, was a thing not to be even mentioned in court, and they had no doubt as to how the magistrate would act when he found there was no evidence forthcoming.

But developments of Friday and Saturday converted Acting Detective Duncan's suspicions into satisfactory proof that the Bennett gang were the perpetrators and it was decided to arrest them.

Their description is as follows:

GEORGE BENNETT, aged 32 years, resides at No. 1 Central-row, off Eastern-avenue, married, wife and one child, born in England; convicted in Toronto, November, 1887, of the larceny of several pairs of boots and sentenced to 60 days; again convicted in 1888 for the larceny of a set of carpenter's tools and sentenced to three months in the Central Prison. Has been always marked by the police as the leader of a tough gang in St. John's Ward.

WILLIAM ARCHER, alias WILLIAM KELLY, aged 24, Canadian, resides at 41 Trinity-square, with mother and stepfather, John J. Kelly; unmarried; convicted in 1886 of larceny and served one year in the Central Prison.

EDWARD ARCHER, alias EDWARD KELLY, aged 20, unmarried, Canadian, brother of above, resides at 41 Trinity-square. First offence.

WILLIAM NORRIS, aged 21, married, Canadian, resides at 30½ Louise-street. First offence.

Bennett was first taken into custody, and, discomfited and demoralized by the swift suddenness of the blow, the prisoner made full confession and gave the names of the other three men, who were only catspaws in the hands of the older and abler scoundrel, who had been taught improvements of the "trade" while an inmate of the Central, and when he emerged had been converted from a low-grade crook to an educated professional. For fear that the nests would be empty and the birds flown the descent upon the domiciles of the others was delayed until an early hour Sunday morning, and was more successful than had been hoped. Not only was every particle of the stolen property recovered, but the masks and revolvers of the gang were also found, and to-day the four men will make a compulsory appearance before an aggrieved public.

Thus are four enterprising careers brought to a premature close for a long period to come.

The news of the arrest of the gang will be received with much joy, for everybody has been running the risk of waking up to find a burglar at his bedside. There has always been something sinister and unpleasant about the men who crack cribs—whether it is their masks, their stealthy tread, their blinding bull's-eye "glims," or the feeling that they have pistols ready for use at close quarters, or all of these concomitants combined.

The detective department has every reason to feel pardonable pride at its latest achievement.

LORD STANLEY'S BOYS ILL.

One With Typhoid and the Other With Brain Fever.

OTTAWA, Feb. 6.—The tobogganing party at Rideau Hall Saturday afternoon was hastily postponed on account of the receipt of a cablegram that two sons of Lord and Lady Stanley, George and Arthur, who went to England on the same steamer as Hon. C. H. Tupper, were both dangerously ill in England, George with typhoid fever and Arthur with brain fever.

The former is dangerously ill, and Lady Stanley will leave for New York to-day, en route for England by the Teutonic on Wednesday.

To Explore the Fraser River.

OTTAWA, Feb. 6.—An exploration party under Mr. Laferriere, late of the Mounted Police, will leave Ottawa shortly for the Mackenzie River country. The expedition has been organized by Mr. Fiset.

HE WIRED SCRIPTURE.

AND SCOTLAND YARD OFFICERS SOON NABBED HIM.

"When Thou Passest Through the Waters I Will Be With Thee," Cabled a Forger to His Wife, but the Detectives Got a Hold of the Message.

TORONTO, Feb. 6.—Government Detective Rogers will leave this morning for New York, whence he will sail on the Teutonic on Wednesday en route to London, England, where he will secure the extradition of R. W. Godelphin, the defaulting treasurer of Huntsville, Muskoka.

The arrest of Godelphin was brought about by a clue unconsciously dropped by himself. Before leaving Huntsville he gave no intimation to his wife of his intended flight, and after crossing the ocean he was in a quandary as to how to communicate with her, knowing that the mails would be watched. His long association with churches rendered him familiar with the Bible and he hit upon the novel scheme of cabling over to his wife, through a friend, an excerpt which would convey to her an idea of his whereabouts. He hit upon Isaiah xliii.

2. When thou passest through the waters I will be with thee; and through the rivers, they shall not overflow thee; when thou walkest through the fire, thou shall not be burned; neither shall the flame kindle upon thee.

The cablegram arrived three weeks ago and within a few hours Scotland Yard officers were ransacking the metropolis for the missing defaulter, and on Friday he was captured.

Detective Rogers expects to return with his prisoner about March 1.

A WIFE'S CRIME.

She Tired of Her Husband and Poisoned Him.

BRIDGETOWN, N.S., Feb. 6.—Mrs. Alexander D. Cameron is under arrest here, charged with having poisoned her husband. Jennie McNichol, a vivacious 16-year-old girl, came down from Eastport, Me., 26 years ago to visit a married sister at Goldenville, Guysborough County. She was well connected, one of her brothers being a lawyer in Calais, Me., and another a lawyer in Eastport.

The gold-mining boom was then at its height in Goldenville and there were many eligible suitors for the hand of the handsome Yankee girl. She chose Alexander D. Cameron, a prosperous merchant and gold miner, twice as old as she. Cameron was madly in love with his wife and settled money on her. Subsequently he met reverses in business, but Mrs. Cameron's nest-egg constantly increased until to-day she has $15,000 in her own right.

They came to Bridgetown 15 years ago, started business and did well, but all the property was in the wife's name, and the husband was completely subservient to her imperious will. He was a prominent Free Mason, an active politician, and became very popular; but his and his wife's social circle was limited, and Mrs. Cameron had few friends.

After some time she became intimately acquainted with O. T. Daniels, a young lawyer, and made him her attorney for the management of her property. The Camerons had no family, and Daniels went to board with them. Three years ago Cameron began to break down from nervous trouble, became a physical wreck and was addicted to quinine wine. The relations of husband and wife became most wretched, and it is alleged that Mrs. Cameron cruelly ill-treated her husband, who was growing demented, and publicly expressed a hope that he would die, saying her life had been ruined and she was tired of him.

Meanwhile Lawyer Daniels, who is also municipal clerk of the County of Annapolis, continued to be her intimate friend. Last year Cameron assigned and Daniels arranged the compromise of 50 cents on the dollar with the creditors. Some people here called it a swindle, as all the property was vested in the wife. It is alleged that the policy on Cameron's life was made payable to Daniels as trustee.

Mrs. Cameron sold out the store and went to Maine to visit her friends. Soon after her return in October stories of renewed ill-treatment were current, and then she sent her husband over on the bay shore to live with a fisherman's family, telling her friends he could only live a short time, and she continued to board in town. She paid his board some months in advance, but, although only five miles distant, never visited or wrote to him.

Contrary to expectation Cameron began to recover. Three weeks ago, on the strength of an old prescription from an alleged doctor at Eastport, the wife obtained some laudanum and morphine from a local druggist. A few days later, on the pretext of having broken the bottle, she obtained 20 grains of morphine from the same druggist. After two days more had elapsed she started to visit her husband on the seashore. On the way out she remarked to the driver that she had dreamed that her husband wouldn't live until Feb. 1, but she found him in fairly good health.

She remained there a week. On the morning of Jan. 26 they quarreled and the husband left the house. He was brought back and she gave him a cup of tea. She says his hands were so feeble that he could not hold the cup, and she held it while he drank. Shortly after drinking it Cameron fell into a comatose condition, lasting 35 hours, and then died.

Mrs. Cameron arranged to forward the body to Pictou County, at the other end of the Province, for interment, but the Masonic lodge investigated the rumors of foul play, intercepted the coffin at the railway station and had an inquest and post mortem, the result of which was to show that the deceased died of morphine poisoning. Thereupon Mrs. Cameron was arrested.

Killed By Falling Timbers.

LONDON, Ont., Feb. 6.—The roof of a shed near the stave factory at Kinmount commenced to fall in, owing to the weight of snow and ice. P. Rollinsin and Allan Woodcock undertook to remove a cutter and some other things from the shed, but, although Rollinson got out in time, Woodcock was too late and he was badly crushed by the falling timbers, dying next day.

OTTAWA, Feb. 6.—Mr. T. J. Richardson of the Hansard staff had the misfortune, while going home after the adjournment of the House Saturday, to fall on the icy sidewalk and dislocate his shoulder.

THE position of a Dominion senator may turn out to be anything but the life-long job it is generally considered to be. The beginning of the end was inaugurated in the Quebec Legislature on Thursday, Feb. 2nd, when the vote on the abolition of the Legislative Council resulted in a tie — the vote of the speaker giving it the six-months hoist, which will be nothing to the perpetual hoist the "senators" will get, perhaps before the century ends. This is a pretty broad hint to the grave and reverend seigniors. This tie vote is the hand writing on the wall of the Quebec Legislature Council Chamber. Ontario gets on surplusingly well without a second chamber, and Quebec, which is up to the nostrils in debt, would find the abolition of the second chamber a paying move. On the same principle, the Dominion Senate might be gently erased from the pay roll. It is claimed for this distinguished aggregation of old ladies that it is a check on hasty legislation, but past experience shows that the chief thing it has to do with checks is the cashing annually of $1,000-checks on the Government bank. The country would'nt be ungrateful enough to refuse the senators a pension if they had done anything to deserve such consideration; but the country decidedly objects to maintaining a very costly refuge for infirm politicians. Canada can jog along very comfortably in her coach without the fifth wheel.

THE date for the bye-election for the vacancy in the legislature caused by the death of the late N. G. Bigelow, of Toronto, has been fixed. Nominations will be made on Tuesday, Feb. 21, and polling will take place on Tuesday, Feb. 28th. The Liberal candidate is Dr. W. W. Ogden, and Dr. G. S. Ryerson, the Conservative. These doctors naturally disagree on politics—but the elections will supply an answer to the time honoured conundrum. They will decide when doctors disagree. It's all right enough for "pothecary" doctors to represent to Toronto, but a Hamilton newspaper would if he thought of it, suggest that a doctor of the veterinary order would be more apprpriate.

WHEN some old-country fiscal "crank" writes a letter to the papers in favour of "fair" trade, the Empire goes into hysterics over the spread of Conservative principles to the Mother land. The organ has a grand chance to howl in this key now, over the spread of conservative practices to sunny Italy—the Italian ministers are charged with using boodle to secure the election of supporters.

With pure, vigorous blood coursing through the veins and animating every fibre of the body, cold weather is not only endurable but pleasant and agreeable. No other blood medicine is so certain in its results as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. What it does for others it will do for you.

OTONABEE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

THE THAW—The January thaw fortunately did not last long enough to spoil the roads which were in good condition for travel before Friday night's storm.

SIGNS OF SUMMER—Mr. David Hutchison and Mr. W. B. Stewart, of Stewart's Otonabee, are preparing to erect handsome new residences during the coming summer. It is suggested that the new residences erected somewhat recently by some of our young bachelors have had "solitary" tenants long enough, and that these long winter evenings might be turned to good account in getting occupants for them.

HONOUR ROLL.—The following is the honour roll for January of S. S. No. 7, Otonabee, of which M. W. Matchett is teacher: Senior fourth—Ellie Kent, Allan Drummond, Willie Drummond. Junior fourth—Fred Taylor, Allan Macfarlane, Norman Howson. Third class—Leonard Howson, Edith Taylor, Maggie Comrie. Second class—Samuel Comrie, James Macfarlane, Mabel Howson. Part II—Russel Drummond, Maggie Hope, Herbert Howson. Class I—Mamie Taylor, Gertie Kent, Thos. Cruikshanks. Number of pupils present every day, 21; average attendance, 55.

Bronchitis cured.

'GENTLEMEN,—I suffered four or five years from bronchitis and a severe hacking cough, and could get nothing to do me any good. A friend told me to get Haggyard's Pectoral Balsam, and I did so with good results. Two bottles cured me and I hardly know what a cold is now.

GOUGH BROS.' CABINET FORMED AND A POLICY DECIDED ON!

February is the month of clearing up. Goughs have re-organized business for 1893 and start out to clear off the slate for spring. Trade for 1892 has been larger than ever. Profits have been smaller. Goughs have cut their prices to meet the low price of wheat; and if wheat goes lower, down go Goughs' prices. They will not be undersold by the farmer or see the farmer undersold.

CLEARING UP THE STOCK FOR SPRING.

Stock-taking is over. A lot of odd lots remain. These must go. Goughs will almost give them away to clear. Come in and run through the counters and see your opportunity.

YOUNG'S POINT.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Two of our villagers, Michael Moher and Robt. Quinlan, did some fast sawing here last Friday. The two men cut a maple log seventeen inches in diameter, in twenty-seven seconds, with a cross cut saw. They are hustlers. Who can beat that?

There was a magistrate's court here on Tuesday last Richard Anglesyc, a farmer, charged Richard Hurd, the blacksmith, with using abusive language. The case was adjourned until next week.

There has been no sickness around the Point until lately, when a few of our residents were taken with cold. The Point is a "place for your life," always known to be healthy.

Messrs. William and Thos. Jones from Toronto, who, with their father, were taking out paving stone last summer, were in the Point this week. They say they will open up the Eagle Mount quarry about the last of March; also another quarry at Lynch's rock in Douro. They are going to boom things this summer and expect to tak out about sixty thousand per month.

One of our oldest pioneers here, Mr. Patrick Young, received a cold bath one day this week by breaking through the ice in the canal. He did not make any fuss when his son Patrick pulled him out, but only said to the bystanders that he "was sixty winters at the Point, and never missed one without getting a dip. Keep on, "Paddy," you are better than the young stock yet.

PETERBOROUGH, Jan. 31st, 1892.

To the Peterborough Medicine Company:

GENTLEMEN,—If there is any medicine in the world that I pin my faith to it is Membray's Kidney and Liver Cure. In my business I have to stand on my feet a good deal. About a year ago my back began to give out, weakening pains set in across my kidneys, I felt tired all the time and could hardly stand up to my work. I began to lose strength and at last had to give up work altogether. A customer advised me to try your cure which I did. Before half the bottle was used, I felt the pains and weakness leaving me and to-day I enjoy good health and can bear fatigue and work all right. One bottle was all I used.

ANOTHER QUIBBLE.

It appears that at the caucus of the parliamentary supporters of the Thompson Government on Thursday, the Premier induced his supporters to give a qualified assent to his proposition that the supreme court shall be asked to advise him with respect to the power of the federal executive to interfere with Manitoba's school legislation. This is merely an attempt to evade a settlement of the question, and to prolong a dangerous agitation for party purposes. Parliament ought to refuse to vote another dollar of public money to defray the expense of further litigation over the Manitoba school question. It is the duty of Sir John Thompson and his colleagues to grant or refuse the request of the Roman Catholics of Manitoba for "remedial laws," upon their responsibility as trustees and guardians of the public interest. There is no more reason for asking the supreme court for advice or instructions about the Manitoba school matter than there would be for seeking that tribunal's opinion with respect to the abolition of the duty upon coal oil. Unless the language of the constitution means nothing the federal executive certainly has power to make the orders asked for by the Manitoba minority. In his report upon Mr. Greenway's legislation Sir John Thompson declared that the Manitoba act gave to the federal executive the right to grant what Mr. Lariviere and his constituents demand. The premier advised the Manitoba Catholics to fight Mr. Greenway's school act in the courts. He gave them money to carry on the contest and told them to come to the federal executive for further aid if they were beaten. Now the condition of affairs which he contemplated in that report has arisen. The Catholics of Manitoba followed Sir John Thompson's advice. The courts have decided against them and they want the Tory leader to redeem his promises. Instead of facing the issue squarely he is twisting and squirming, and wants to waste public money upon new legal proceedings. He promised the Manitoba Catholics remedial laws and now wants the supreme court to tell him whether he has the power to fulfill that promise. If he cannot fulfil his promise he should not have made it.—Ottawa Free Press.

Experience Tells It.

A triumph in medicine was attained when experience proved that Scott's Emulsion would not only stop the progress of Pulmonary Consumption, but by its continued use health and vigor could be fully restored.

Interested People.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for coughs and colds does it, is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle FREE, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles are 50c. and $1. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption.

Silver in India.

CALCUTTA, Feb. 4.—A deputation composed of employes in the military and Civil Service has waited upon Lord Lansdowne, Viceroy of India, to complain of the losses they have sustained and are sustaining through the depreciation in silver and the fall in the value of the rupee.

Lord Lansdowne, replying to the address of the deputation, said that the Government was only waiting for the report of the Herschell Currency Commission, which was appointed to consider the silver question, to take action. He added that he was convinced that the Government could not ask those in the military and civil services to tolerate indefinitely the distress arising from the condition of the currency.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—A despatch was received at the Foreign Office yesterday from Lord Cromer, the British Minister to Egypt, stating that the condition of affairs in Egypt may compel the landing of all the British troops who have been ordered to that country.

Fire in Uxbridge.

UXBRIDGE, Ont., Feb. 3.—At 5 o'clock yesterday fire was discovered in the old tinshop of the late H. Thompson in Toronto-street, the upper portion of which was used as a dwelling by Mrs. Linton. The fire spread to the Ontario Hall in the north side, and also burned the double house to the south, owned by Mr. H. Jones, hardware merchant, and occupied by Mrs. Byers and E. Preor.

By hard work the firemen succeeded in checking the fire at this point. The Ontario Hall was owned by a joint stock company, and the insurance had been set expire a few weeks ago. The loss to the company will be about $1500. Mr. Jones also had no insurance, and estimated his loss at $1000. Cause of fire unknown.

Patitless Landlords.

DUBLIN, Feb. 3.—Sir Peter O'Brien, Lord Chief Justice of the Queen's Bench Division of the High Court of Justice in Ireland, has decided that the Irish Government acted illegally in refusing police protection to sheriffs and bailiffs engaged in executing writs at night.

The Chief Justice says in his decision that Chief Secretary Morley is liable to prosecution for issuing the order withholding police protection at the time stated. This decision is hailed with great satisfaction by Tory landlords and their agents.

GRAHAM BROS.

TO BE OR NOT TO BE "IN IT."

A Life Agent called at a friend's office one day,
HE WASN'T IN IT;
He had seen "the boys" coming and fled from his way
HE WASN'T IN IT;
He had heard so much said, he was tired and sick
Of insurance and agents—'twas all a blank trick,
When one's coil must be shuffled to win it,
HE WASN'T IN IT.

A bit of a draft blew o'er his bald head,
HE WAS IN IT;
Pneumonia sent him straightway to his bed,
HE STAYED IN IT;
His doctor made of it a "quite special" case,
To save him for running still more of life's race,
But the grave took some chances to win it,
AND HE'S IN IT.

When approached by a gent for insuring your life,
GET RIGHT IN IT;
It's the right thing to do for your children and wife,
THEN STAY IN IT.
Remember that fires take your goods "out of sight,"
And that accidents happen each day and each night.
While insurance protects every minute,
IF YOU'RE IN IT.

A Bank Manager's Opinion.

HE IS "IN IT."

The General Manager of one of the leading banks in Canada, writing to a personal friend, says:—"I have no hesitation in saying that I place the CANADA LIFE upon the highest platform. It is in my opinion carefully, economically and honestly managed; its Reserve Funds are well invested; its rates of Premiums are low, and its future is, I think better assured than a great majority of Companies. I have my own life insured in the Company for a round amount, and would not hesitate to increase the amount of my policies should I decide upon taking out further insurance."

A Government Insurance Actuary's Opinion

On the Relation between Ordinary and Tontine Service.

It is frequently assertedby Companies whose business is nearly all tontines, that although the CANADA LIFE may and does pay large ordinary profits, yet it cannot compare so favourably on a long term distribution or tontine period, and that in the end better results can be obtained on a tontine policy in a large American Co. than on an ordinary or tontine policy in the CANADA LIFE. To prove the absurdity of this statement, the following piece of common sense is quoted from Mervin Tabor, late Actuary of the Illinois Goverment Insurance Department. In his well known book, "The Three Systems of Life Insurance," he says: "A company that gives large dividends on the ordinary kind of policies, can give much larger on the same kinds when Tontined, and a company that pays but meagre dividends on the usual forms, adopting perhaps the Tontine system to "cover up" its small surpluses, cannot be relied on for large returns of surplus under the Tontine Forms of Insurance."

The CANADA LIFE does not "cover up" its Quinquennial profits as some Companies do, but publishes them throughout the country.

It can and does surpass other Companies on Quinquennial profits. It should and will surpass them on Tontine profits.

WHY TO BE "IN IT."

BISHOP HAWKE'S REASON:—"I claim that Life Insurance is not only a humane, but I might say a Christian Institution."

LORD LYNDHURST'S REASON:—"A Policy of Life Insurance is always an evidence of prudent forethought. No man with a dependent family is free from reproach if not insured."

WHEN TO BE "IN IT."

The younger, the cheaper. Therefore insure when young. Besides by insuring in the CANADA LIFE now, you will share in three years' profits.

WHERE TO BE "IN IT."

The best place to be "in it" is in the Company that gives the best returns for the least money, consistent with absolute security. Therefore, in order to be "in it," choose the

"Plain as a Pike-staff.

Note this fact ! The original prices of our clothing is invariably rated low, and as we sell for cash, the profit is naturally lower—much lower—than a credit profit. Our clearing sale prices just now are, therefore, better than when a very large discount is taken off prices originally placed high. This is as "plain as a pike-staff" and gentlemen in search of the cheapest clothing house should always patronize the MONTREAL CLOTHING HOUSE. It's bargain day, every day, at the MONTREAL CLOTHING HOUSE.

They Were Sent to Toronto.

A man, his wife and three children arrived in town yesterday from Ottawa and sought charity at the hands of the town. The father stated that they went to Ottawa, but could not find a house to rent and the authorities there had sent them on to Peterborough. The family applied at the police station and expressed a desire to be sent to Toronto where they had relatives who could comfortably provide for them. Accordingly passes were granted the wayferers, and after spending some twelve hours in town, they left this morning at 5 o'clock by the C.P.R. bound for the Queen City. The travellers are fairly well clad and the husband by no means an old man.

ARE CATHOLICS ALLOWED FREEDOM OF CONSCIENCE?

The Rev. Father Ryan, the able Jesuit priest and orator, of St. Michael's Toronto, will lecture upon the above subject, under the auspices of the Catholic Association, in the Cathedral on Wednesday evening, Feb. 8th. A cordial invitation is extended to all. Excellent music and singing will be provided. Commencieg at 8 o'clock sharp. Admission free. A collection will be taken up.

A Juvenile Entertainment.

A pleasant social was given the junior Y.P.S.C.E. of St. Andrew's, on Friday evening last. There was a large attendance of young people and a splendid tea was served. A most enjoyable time was spent by the members of the junior society and their friends from 5 o'clock until 7.30 o'clock. Mr. W. F. Nelson, superintendent of junior societies for the county, was present end gave a pleasing address. The programme of singing, recitations and club swinging rendered by the little ones was very creditable, and delighted all present. The junior society of St. Andrew's, although only organized a few weeks ago, is in a highly successful state, the work being under the superintendence of Mr. W. E. Wesley.

Sun Life.

Well may the policy-holders of the Sun Life congratulate themselves on the remarkable showing of the company as indicated in another column. Year by year this great Canadian institution has been coming more and more in the front, until in 1892 it has eclipsed all its competitors in new business. Its success has been phenomenal, considering the competition, and its may well be envied by its smaller and less successful contemporaries. The death rate, notwithstanding millions additional insurance in force, was $16,000 less than in 1891. This shows care in the selection of risks—the great point in life insurance. Careful and prudent management is shown in the very moderate expense. The annual report will show such an increase in the item of profits as to convince the most skeptical that the safest company to insure in is the Sun.

Home Theatre Goers take in Jupiter.

About eighty citizens left Peterborough on Saturday evening at 5.10 o'clock for Lindsay to witness the production of the comic opera "Jupiter," by the Digby Bell Company in the Academy of Music. The play was pleasingly presented to a well-filled house, and on the whole satisfied the public. The choruses were fair, the dancing above the average, and the scenic effects splendid. The company consists of some sixty persons, and carries its own orchestra. There is not much plot to the affair, and its effect depend more upon the drolleries, accessories and specialties than on the portrayal of the character or climaxes and points of the play. The costumes were beautiful and attractive. Peterborough was reached by special train a few minutes before one o'clock.

Coming Great Production.

"The Stowaway" with its thrilling plot of the streets of old London, its pathos and bright humour, its splendid scenic effects, its brace of safe blowers from the prison of Sing Sing, and its graceful yacht, will make its appearance at Bradburn's Opera House, Monday evening, Febrnary 13th. The busy burglars, "Spike" Hennessey and and "Kid" McCoy, will blow a safe in the highest style of that now almost lost art—lost through the reformation and dramatic leaning of its most distinguished exponents. The beautiful yacht will demonstrate its drawing capacity by sailing on and on with its persecuted hero and finished villain and the plucky little stowaway from the streets of London who rescues the proper party in the proper time. All of the thrilling realism of the modern drama and the superb scenic production of the joint art of the scene painter and stage capenter are brought to bear upon the imagination. Id

At the close of the evening service a sacramental service was held and the number of communicants was the largest known for many months. About 350 partook of the bread and wine.

THE COUNTY COUNCIL AND THE COURT REPORTER.

In justification of the decision arrived at by the County Council, to request the Ontario government to appoint a short hand reporter for the courts of this county, the following extract may be quoted from the remarks of Mr. B. B. Osler, Q.C., in an address on Saturday night before the Short Hand Society of Toronto. He referred to the saving of expenses as follows :—

Calculating the value of time at an ordinary court, the saving amounts to no less than $500 per day. In a court, which now lasts but three days, stenography is entitled to the credit of a saving to the public of no less than $1,500; but perhaps its greatest value was the aid it rendered in extracting the truth from witnesses. It was one of the greatest levers in existence in the court for the extraction of truth. It also facilitated appeals, because now you can have a full and accurate report of what took place. Formerly they had to rely upon the short notes taken by the judges for their own use at the trial.

Study economy by having your suit and overcoat cleaned or dyed and repaired at Parker's Steam Dye Works, Charlotte street.

THE TOWN PHYSICIANSHIP.

To the Editor of the Examiner :

SIR,—As the time is at hand when the council makes the annual appointments to the city offices, it might not be out of place to call attention to a mistake which is always made in the appointment of one physician for the poor. Now it is undeniable that the poor, as well as the rich, would like to choose their medical attendant ; but with the present system the poor have no choice at all. They must either take whoever the council appoints, or do without treatment, or sponge on the other physicians in town. The writer would respectfully suggest to the council that they can remedy this unsatisfactory state of things by appointing four physicians for the poor instead of only one. Let one doctor be appointed in each ward to attend to the poor of that ward.

By adopting this system the council will do a kind act to the poor, who will then have four doctors to choose from, and four chances to one they have now to find a doctor in his office when his help is needed. Besides this will not cost the treasury one cent more than at present, because the hundred dollars now paid to one man can be equally divided among the four ward physicians. The plan now proposed is so reasonable and is so likely to give satisfaction to all concerned, that it is hoped the new council will see the wisdom of adopting it unanimously.

OBITUARY.

The Late Mrs. J. J. Sheehy.

The painful intelligence has reached town of the death in Paris, Ont., of Mrs. James J. Sheehy, which took place at the residence of her father Mr. John Ealand, on Sunday. There is a peculiar sadness in the circumstances of the death of Mrs. Sheehy. Married only a short time since, to an estimable young citizen, and beginning life with a devoted husband in a beautiful home on Gilmour street, to human appearing a happy life awaited both. But that relentless disease, consumption, asserted its claim, and although all, that loving care and medical skill could accomplish, was done, the sad end came at the home of her childhood, whither she was removed a few weeks ago. Mrs. Sheehy, was for some years organist of St. Peter's Cathedral, and being a musician of more than ordinary ability performed the duties of her position in a most faithful and satisfactory manner, while her amiable disposition won her a very wide circle of friends who will mourn her death deeply. The bereaved husband and family will have the heartfelt sympathy of a very large number of friends. The funeral takes place at Paris to-morrow morning.

The Late William Pearson.

On Sunday, Feb. 5th, William Pearson, an old and respected resident of Peterborough, died at the age of 72 years. The deceased gentleman was a native of County Kildare, Ireland. He came with his mother and three sisters to Canada about 65 years ago. They settled in Hamilton town[illegible], and on reaching the age of manhood went into business in Cobourg, where he carried on for many years. After following farming for a few years in Hamilton township, he removed fifteen years ago to Smith township where he followed the same occupation till eight years ago, when he came to town to reside. Mr. Pearson has suffered from illness more or less the past two years, but it was noticed that, since the death of his daughter, Miss Florence Pearson, about six months ago, he has steadily failed, and death closed the scene on Sunday. Mr. Pearson was a gentleman who worthily enjoyed the respect and esteem of all who knew him, to an unusual degree. He was of untarnished honesty and integrity and in all the relations of life was worthy of the respect he enjoyed. He was a member of the English Church and in politics a decided Conservative.

A TRIBUTE TO BISHOP BROOKS.

A Sermon Dealing With the Great Subject—Preached in St. Luke's by Rev. H. Symonds—His Character as a Man and as Minister.

At the evening service in St. Luke's yesterday there was a large congregation, and the sermon dealt with the life of the last Bishop Brooks. The splendid address took about an hour in delivery and the following synopsis will give those who had not the good fortune to hear it, some idea of the eloquent preacher's discourse. Rev. Mr. Symonds took for his text, I Cor. 9, 16.

"Necessity is laid upon me, yea woe is me if I preach not the Gospel."

The preacher said that in such words St. Paul expressed the tremendous compulsion which urged him to preach without rest, the gospel of Jesus Christ. He felt as others have done since, that he had not chosen his own path or his own message, but had been chosen by God. So was it with Isaiah, so too with Jeremiah. They too could have said, "Woe is me if I preach not the word of God." This feeling of necessity lay strongly upon Bishop Brooks. He was first and last a preacher. He published nothing that he had not first orally delivered. His life was simple and uneventful and almost all spent in Boston. A profoundly religious man, he did not, however, regard Christianity or religion as something added to a man—"Religion is not something foreign to humanity—but man with religion is something more, but man without religion is something less than man." Though not a theologian, he had as every preacher must have, a substratum of theology, some definite convictions concerning God, Jesus Christ, righteousness, sin and eternal life. Time, the speaker said, did not permit the discussion of these, but without some idea of his attitude towards theology, it was impossible to understand him as a preacher. He belonged to the broad church school of theology, which objects to dogma, in the form of absolute, unchanging statements, concerning subjects belonging rather to the sphere of conviction and faith, rather than logic. It emphasizes the words of the apostle: "how we know in part," "how we seek through a glass darkly." In externals, it believes in no absolutely final or essential form. Thus on the ministry he says: "What is the church? How did Christ make it? Did he construct a system, decree a government, designate officers, establish a perpetual economy by the direct interposition of His divine authority? That to a certain extent He did this there can be no doubt. That He ordained an outward Church, established sacraments, intended a ministry, there can be no doubt, but it appears plain to me that he did not order the details of the church's government, or appoint the grades or functions of its ministers; He left that to proceed out of the essence or nature of the Christian life, itself declaring its own needs. He taught His truth, He gave His spirit, He sent His ministers, but he did not make bishops, priests and deacons. He did not establish any pattern of worship—all these being shaped themselves out of the free life of the church. They are free to change as the Gospel, always the same, changes its attitude towards each changing age." Bishop Brooks further regarded all theological doctrines not as presenting exceptions, or contradictions to the ordinary laws of nature or principles of human life, but rather as the highest expression of these laws. The Incarnation was the consummation of the self-revelation of God to man, which had been going on in many lands before Christ Christ came. The atonement as a sacrifice was the consummation of self-sacrifice, but had its analogies in ordinary life, whenever one man denied himself for his brother man. The development of these occurring in his sermons, Sunday by Sunday, attracted overflowing congregations to his church. But his influence was not confined to Trinity church—all Boston loved and admired Phillips Brooks, and he became a mighty power for good. As illustrating his influence, it might be mentioned that when Old Trinity Church was burnt down his congregation subscribed nearly $1,000,000 for the erection of a new church, and every dollar was paid before a service was held. He was easily accessible, for he never declined to see a caller at any time of the day or night, and hundreds of young men personally confided in him, and hundreds more by correspondence. His sermons were never sensational, and he ever maintained what so many disregard, the dignity of the pulpit. He had no tricks, no funny stories. The legitimate arts of true oratory he employed—simile, terse language, well arranged matter, full of strong thinking, and an abundance of telling illustration. He was the child, not of the fourth or the sixteenth, but of the nineteenth century, who looked with open eyes on the present and on into the future, and alive to and in sympathy with all the currents of nineteenth century thought, he could yet consecrate himself and his splendid endowments to Jesus Christ. Surely, concluded the preacher, his wonderful success proves that men do love God, and though they may have intellectual difficulties the heart is sound, and in the midst of all the cares and pleasures of this world they still at bottom know that the things that are seen are but temporal, whilst the things that are not seen are eternal.

IN A FRIENDLY WAY.

The United States Government Receives the Hawaiian Delegates.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The first interview between Secretary Foster and the Hawaiian Annexation Commissioners was held in the diplomatic parlor of the State Department this forenoon and lasted half an hour.

Mr. Thurstone, on behalf of his associates, presented their credentials from President Dole of the Provisional Government and supplemented them with a brief statement of the events on the Islands which were the cause of their visit.

Secretary Foster responded in a few words of welcome, stating that the reason for the errand was well known to the people of the United States. The interview closed with an engagement for 3 o'clock in the afternoon at the same place.

The second interview was even shorter than the conference of this morning and quite as unproductive in result. There was some informal talk over the annexation proposition, and this was concluded by an agreement that Secretary Foster should again meet the Commissioners on Tuesday morning next for an extended conference.

The commissioners, while they are saying very little on the subject of the ultimate accomplishment of their object, intimate that they feel very much encouraged. No arrangement has been made for their reception by President Harrison, but this will probably take place in a few days, as the recognition of the new Government by this country removes any hesitation the President might feel in giving the commissioners a formal audience.

Secretary Foster made public to-day the full text of the despatch announcing the Hawaiian revolution received by him from Minister Stevens on Jan. 28 by telegraph from San Francisco and the answer he sent to the Minister. The information contained in the despatch sent by Mr. Stevens has already been made public, but the reply of Secretary Foster is given for the first time. The Secretary in his reply endorses Mr. Stevens' action in recognizing the Provisional Government and says that it is trusted that the change, besides conducing to the tranquility and welfare of the Hawaiian Islands, will tend to draw closer the intimate ties of amity and common interests which so conspicuously and necessarily link them to the United States. Secretary Foster also gave out a statement defending the landing of the United States marines at Honolulu, citing several occasions when such steps have been taken to protect lives and property when civil disturbances occurred on the Hawaiian Islands

Ben's Message.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—In the Senate Saturday on motion of Mr. Sherman the President's message of Thursday last was distributed to committees as follows: So much of it as relates to treaty stipulations with Great Britain, to the Committee on Foreign Relations; so much of it as relates to the transportation of merchandise, to the Committee on Interstate Commerce; and so much of it as relates to general relations with Canada, to the Committee on Relations with Canada.

Lord Salisbury Discusses Separation of British Colonies.

LONDON, Feb. 6.—Lord Salisbury opened the Liverpool Electric Railway Saturday. Afterwards at the Liverpool Town Hall, in replying to an address from the Chamber of Commerce, Lord Salisbury referred to the increased difficulties with which the British merchants had to contend in the way of foreign competition. Lord Salisbury said that a tariff on corn was absolutely outside of the dreams of any politician.

He questioned both the morality and expediency of the use of tariffs as a weapon against other nations, and he mentioned as instances in illustration of his argument the fiscal war between France and Italy and France and Switzerland as producing disaster to all concerned.

Lord Salisbury defended the colonial extension of English rule. The whole world, he said, was benefited by British colonization, and should other nations obtain the colonies they might not use them in the same generous manner as the English, but might fence them around with a wall of brass against English commerce.

The Suevia Safe.

LONDON, Feb. 6.—The steamer Suevia has arrived at Southampton. On Sunday last, when the steamer was in latitude 48.44, longitude 26.40, the high pressure cylinder burst. A heavy westerly gale was prevailing at the time. The steamer stopped and the engineers labored for 28 hours to repair the damage. They succeeded in doing this sufficiently for the Suevia to start on her return.

The machinery collapsed again as the steamer was nearing Southampton, and tugs had to be sent out to tow her to the dock. The Suevia has 21 saloon passengers and 150 German emigrants on board.

CRISP CURLING CHRONIQUES.

What is Going on at the Rink Where Curlers Most do Congregate.

There is not much stir in curling circles at present, very few lovers of the besom and stane being at the rink on Saturday night.

The rink mentioned in Saturday's issue will go to Montreal on Wednesday to take part in the world's bonspiel contest in that city. They are as strong and expert a quartette as Peterborough can make up. Another rink skipped by George Boucher will go to Lindsay on Wednesday to play a friendly match with a rink in that town.

It is expected that the Toronto curlers will play the return match with the Peterboroughs in about two weeks time.

THE USE OF THATCHES.

HOLLISTER SAGE SUGGESTS A RETURN TO THESE HOMEMADE ROOFS.

A Roof Which in England and Scotland is as Durable as Shingles and Which Costs Much Less—How the Work is Done.

Every few years there is an expense for farm roofs of some sort for the old homestead, and it is becoming monotonous. Recently I spent over $100 for shingling. Roofs bring a greater average annual expense to farmers all over the country than most are aware of. Shingles are not as cheap nor made of as good material as formerly, paper is short-lived and tin and slate are so expensive that many cannot afford either. These facts coupled with what I know of roofs in England and Scotland, have set me thinking. Over a large part of rural Europe the roof of straw thatch is as common and evidently as durable as the average American shingles. It is applied by the owner, or tenant frequently, with no expense aside from the time and material—straw and twine—usually produced on the farm. A question forces itself upon me: Why is not this by-product of our grain fields utilized to some extent for roofing, at least on our smaller, obscure farm buildings? Would it not do for icehouses, woodhouses, stock sheds and smaller barns? For hen houses it might not be desirable, because liable to harbor vermin, but this tendency could be controlled by saturating it from below with carbolized lime wash, using a force pump. Even those who have never seen thatching know how surely rain runs off the roof of a well-covered stack and how little a well-made cock of hay is wet by heavy storms. Reeds and rushes are also sometimes employed for roofs. Could the use of thatching be extended in this country its value might be acknowledged. To lay it is a simple art, requiring no more skill than shingling. After the first two hours of effort, the work will seem more easy and rapid. The essentials are straight, hand-thrashed straw, binder twine and a shuttle made of oak or hickory, six inches long, an inch and a half wide and one-eighth of an inch thick. The shape of the shuttle, and also a crude sketch of a building being thatched, are shown in cut. Furring strips are nailed to the rafters as for shingles, and a cord firmly nailed to the end of each. I say "firmly nailed," because if it should loosen, the straw it holds will soon slip down and be at the mercy of the wind, when a bad leak will appear; and thatching, like shingling, is difficult to repair.

The straw is laid and bound to its place in small bundles—the smaller the better—the twine being wound on the shuttle. A little practice will enable the thatcher to flatten and spread each bundle so no cracks will show in the roof. After the cord is put over the straw and under the furring strip, and while it is being held very tight, the straw is forcibly crowded up against the last bundle placed, that the roof may be firm and hard. It is well to secure the binder twine at intervals of one foot on the furring strip, by winding it around a shingle nail and driving it into the wood. None but clean thrashed straw is suitable on account of rats and mice. If it be stiff and strong it may be exposed to the weather in eight-inch lengths, but weak, light straw will not bear the wind unless in six or four inch laps. A steep pitch is desirable, and wide, over-hanging gables will give a pretty appearance to the smallest thatched building. The straw is here. How are your roofs?—Hollister Sage, in Rural New Yorker.

Great Men's Wives.

It has been said that there is confirmation of the divine wisdom that appointed the marriage relation, in the well-ordered lives of those happily mated.

Woman, given to man as a helpmate, possesses a boundless influence for good or ill; and no greater truth was ever written than that embodied in the sentiment: "The wife makes the home, the home makes the nation." Take for example, the records of men who have achieved greatness in the world's history, and how often one can trace the gentle influence and hearty co-operation of the loving mentor at the fireside.

Who that has followed the brilliant career of England's prime minister, questions that to the care and devotion of his wife, who plays an important though unconspicuous part in his life work. Mr. Gladstone's unimpaired mental and bodily vigor are largely due? It has ever been her self-imposed task to relieve him of all business and household worries, that his time and talent might be devoted to the nation's affairs; and while she, no doubt, occupies an enviable position as the wife of a noted man, it is at the cost of much self-sacrifice.

The wife of Thomas Carlyle also lived a life of abnegation. Wedded to a man, who, by reason of an exceedingly nervous temperament and shattered health, was, perhaps, irresponsible for his erratic moods, she bore with every whim, patiently and uncomplainingly; nor was he insensible of her worth, and at her death no woman was ever more sincerely mourned. In one of his letters to Emerson, after his wife's death, he says:

"By the calamity of last April I lost my little all in this world, and have no soul left who can make any corner of this world into home for me more. Bright, heroic, tender, true and noble was that lost treasure of my heart, who faithfully accompanied me in all the rocky ways and climbings; I am forever poor without her."—The Housekeeper.

Keeping Bees.

Why don't farmers keep bees and care for them as they do their live stock and crops? They work for nothing, board themselves and furnish a surplus of honey in any ordinary season. From a single colony I have taken 67 lbs. and a swarm in one season. Of course, I have the best Italians I could get, which work on red clover. The labor is very light and pleasant to any one interested.

The idea so common, that the honey bee is on the alert to sting somebody or something, is a mistake. If one learns nature and treats them accordingly, they can be handled with as much ease as a cow or a horse, the latter being the most dangerous. I have clean, painted hives and keep the grass down about them. If a colony is weak, I give them a start in the world by feeding, which they pay back next season with interest. I put chaff cushions around them in Winter to keep them warm, therefore broodrearing goes on lively in Spring and the bees and keeper are happy.—Kansas Farm Record.

IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

Gladstone Discusses the Foreign Policy—Dr. Gallagher is Not Insane Through Jail Treatment.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—In the House of Commons W. Redmond called attention to the statement of Callan, the dynamiter who was recently released from Portland Prison, that Dr Gallagher, who is still confined in the prison, had been made insane through bad treatment. Mr. Redmond asked if Mr. Asquith, the Home Secretary, would sanction such an independent inquiry to be made in Dr. Gallagher's case as the Irish members of the House could rely upon.

Mr. Asquith declined to permit an independent enquiry. He added that he had already caused a careful enquiry to be made into the mental condition of Dr. Gallagher, and he was satisfied that the prisoner was perfectly sane. The statement of Callan was absolutely without foundation.

Secretary White of the American Legation has delivered to Lord Rosebery three despatch boxes containing the American case in the matter of the Behring Sea arbitration.

The debate on the Address proceeded monotonously until Henry Labouchere proposed an amendment in favor of withdrawing entirely from Uganda. Mr. Labouchere's speech, however, disappointed the Opposition, who had expected a heavy attack on the Government policy in east and north Africa.

After vindicating the right of the House of Commons to control the Government's foreign policy, Mr. Labouchere addressed himself to the Egyptian question. He recognized the fact, he said, that the action of the Government in Egypt had been necessary often to maintain the law, but he felt that now the sooner the occupation ceased the better it would be for all concerned, as the Khedive and his people were all unalterably opposed to the British regime. He hoped that the Government would treat with France in a friendly spirit on the questions concerned in the withdrawal.

It would be a disgrace to the great Liberal party if they went out of office without having fulfilled their pledges to leave Egypt.

Referring to the understanding that Lord Salisbury had assured Italy of British support in case of war between Italy and France Mr. Labouchere requested the Prime Minister to state that his Government was in no wise responsible if Italy, in consequence of her membership in the triple alliance, went to war with France. In that case Italy must be left to fight her own battles. [Liberal cheers.]

Recurring to the subject of Uganda, Mr. Labouchere ridiculed the pretensions of the East African Company to a mission of civilization. The real power of the company lay in the spirit of jingoism behind it. He would warn the House that if this sort of thing continued the British Empire would go to pieces like an over-filled balloon. As a practical man, he was disinclined to divide the House on the amendment, and therefore he was willing to defer the decision in the matter until the vote of expenses for the Uganda commission should come up.

Mr. Gladstone replied that Mr. Labouchere might better have reserved his speeches until the vote in question came up. As to the relations of Italy to the triple alliance and France he was not aware that anything had occurred since the accession of the present Government to power to cause uneasiness about Great Britain's foreign relations.

The Government had aimed to maintain external security and peace in Egypt, and he trusted would be able to restore the desired harmony between the native Government and Great Britain.

A spirit of reconciliation, he believed, animated the French Government, and this spirit would be reciprocated, although he declined to express an opinion affecting English liberty of action in the matter of remote or immediate withdrawal from Egypt.

The first division of the present session of the House of Commons was taken last night. The division was on a motion to adjourn. Although the motion was opposed by Mr. Balfour and other Conservatives, the Government was given a majority of 97.

THE POETLAUREATESHIP.

Gladstone Has No Intention of Recommending Anybody.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—In the House of Commons Friday Mr. William Johnston (Conservative), member for South Belfast, the author of some novels, asked the Government who is to be appointed poet laureate.

Instantly the members, who had been listlessly lounging on the benches, became all attention.

Mr. Gladstone curtly replied that he had no intention of recommending the Queen to appoint a successor to Lord Tennyson.

Thomas White, P. M., River Joseph, Que., writes:—"Having used Dr. William's Pink Pills, I find that they are undoubtedly the best blood purifier and reconstructor of a weakened and debilitated constitution that can be found.' All dealers or by mail post paid, at 50c. a box or six boxes for $2.50. Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Now is the Time.

In this the season of coughs, colds, asthma, bronchitis and other throat and lung complaints, it is well to be provided with a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup which effectually cures all such diseases, and that very promptly and pleasantly. Price 25 and 50c. Sold by all druggists.

A Pleasant Herb Drink.

The best cure we know of for constipation and headache is the pleasant herb drink called Lane's Family Medicine. It is said to be Oregon grape root, combined with simple herbs, and is made for use by pouring boiling water onto the dried roots and herbs. It is remarkably efficacious in all blood disorders, and is now the sovereign remedy with ladies for clearing up the complexion. Druggists sell the packages at 50c. and $1.

For Colds and Sore Throat.

SIRS,—We use Hagyard's Yellow Oil in our family for colds and sore throat and it is excellent. My sister had asthma since childhood, but on trying Yellow Oil for if she soon was cured.
MISS LIZZIE CHAPELLE, Bald in, Ont.

If you once try Carter's Little Liver Pills for sick headache, biliousness or constipation, you will never be without them. They are purely vegetable; small and easy to take. Don't forget this.

Worms cause serious sickness. Dr. Low's Worm Syrup destroys and expels all kinds of worms quickly and surely.

Back-Ache.

Back-ache is caused by sick kidneys. Dodd's Kidney Pills will remove it. By their peculiar action on the kidneys they impart activity and benefit the system by purifying the blood. You cannot have pure blood with disordered kidneys; health's existence depends upon their natural condition; they are the governors of the system. Continual disorder results in kidney consumption, which is Bright's disease.

THE [illegible] SLEEVES.

They [illegible] Stylish [illegible]

With all the [illegible] out of Directoire gowns, [illegible] Louis XIII skirts and Louis XV. bodices, the sleeves hold a "predominant place whatever the style of the gown may be, and are accounted of sufficient importance to be given a chapter of their own.

The Paris modistes, with true artistic disdain of anything like rule or regulation, are studying all periods and all old portraits, and are making from them creations that are their very own. But whether they copy an old-time beauty's costume intact or modify it to accord with the tastes of to-day, the sleeves make a prominent feature and are in themselves the cause of much study both of the individual and the ensemble it is desirable to create.

No one rule holds good save that of abundant material, and whether the general style of the gown be empire or of a later period, if the sleeves be ample and becoming the combination is declared correct.

For evening, and more especially for demi occasions, the elbow sleeve is high in favor, and in some one of his infinite variety of forms makes the finish to many a handsome toilet. For the street all sorts of puffs and ruffles are in vogue, and for home wear the choice is limited only by the quality of material one has at command, and such laws of taste as all women should study with care. If indeed, the latest indications be carried into effect, we may soon return to the fashions our grandmothers knew and fill out the enormous puffs with feathers and with down. But so far good sense has prevailed, and only the ultra few have adopted the sleeves of 1830.

From the number of excellent models for elbow sleeves which are displayed by all the leading modistes it is difficult to select one as better than the rest, but an exceptionally good combination of embroidered crepe and velvet deserves especial notice as being at once admirable in style and so simple as to allow of home-making.

A MODERNIZED 1830 SLEEVE.

The foundation is an ordinary coat sleeve fitted to just below the elbow joint. On it is arranged a full puff of velvet for the entire length, finished at the lower edge with a band and bow of ribbon, and from the shoulder over the velvet falls the crepe in a deep and graceful frill.

AN INDIAN SKIRMISH.

At Pine Ridge Agency, Where the Last War Was.

OMAHA, Feb. 6.—A special from Chadron, Neb., says: Two Strike's band killed five men on the reservation Saturday and now defy arrest by the Indian police. The killing took place at Humphrey's Ranch near the mouth of White Clay Creek. Humphrey's Ranch is about 20 miles northwest of Pine Ridge Agency and 15 miles directly west of the Wounded Knee battle ground of two years ago. There was considerable skirmishing in that neighborhood during the big uprising, and soldiers were stationed at the ranch for some time. Two Strike's band has held together and has been very vindictive of late, but the outbreak is a surprise.

General Passenger Agent J. R. Buchanan of the Elkhorn road received the following from Rushville to-day: Reliable advices confirm the finding of three dead and one mortally wounded white at Humphrey's beef camp on White River on the Sioux Reservation. It is not positively known by what means or in what manner these men were killed, but a vigorous investigation is being made by Indian Agent Brown. The killing was done by Indians. There is said to be no sign of uprising among those now at the agency.

Gen. Brooke expresses the opinion that there could be no foundation for the rumors of an Indian outbreak. He gave as a reason for this fact that Two Strike and his band belonged at Rosebud and not at Pine Ridge, as indicated by the messages giving the news of the killing.

It is the prevailing opinion that the killing has been the result of a petty row between cowboys and Indians. Same enquiry as to the force of troops now stationed at the posts in the vicinity of Pine Ridge and Rosebud brought out the information that the department is pretty well prepared at present to quell anything like an Indian outbreak if such a thing should occur.

At 8.30 o'clock to-night The Bee received the following advices from Pine Ridge Agency direct: "Capt. Brown, acting agent, instructed the police that he sent out this morning that they must bring the murderers to the Agency. If they resisted to bring them anyway. First Sergt. Joe Bush, who was in command, tells the story. He arrived at the Agency at 3 p.m. to-day and reported as follows:

"'The men were camped down near No Water's camp, close to the hill. The police were out on the flat where the Omaha House is. When the police first came upon them they fired once at us and all of us then commenced to fire upon them. We got an Indian going up the hill and we killed him there. There was another man raised up close by the house, and we finished him and knocked him down.

"'Sergt. Sitting Bear killed one, Policeman Red Owl killed one, and Sergt. Blunt Horn killed one. I took five of Young Man Afraid's men, young fellows, and they helped us a great deal. No Water came up and told us that we had served them right; that we had killed them and that they had all they wanted, and the best way now was to drop it.'"

After making their reports the police were highly complimented by Capts. Brown and Cisney. Two Strike and one of his boys got away. It is thought that Two Strike is seriously wounded. Capt. Brown has another squad of police out after those two, with instructions to bring them to the agency. Inspector Cisney of the Interior Department is here. He as well as Capt. Brown does not anticipate any further trouble.

The trouble which resulted in the shooting of the cowboys grew out of a drunken quarrel in which Two Strike (or Two Sticks) was maltreated and driven from the camp. Two Strike returned later in the evening reinforced by his sons and a number of other relatives and friends and commenced a deadly fire on the cowboy camp, killing three and mortally wounding a fourth man, who has since died. The names of the three men killed are all that can be learned at this time. They are: Charley Swarts, — Bacon, — Underwood.

The Indians Quiet.

RAPID CITY, S.D., Feb. 6.—The reports of danger from discontent among Pine Ridge Indians, caused by the murder of four cowboys on Friday, are unfounded. The Humphrey and Stinger cattlemen were killed by a wandering band, as a result of a quarrel early in the week.

Colonel Carleton has countermanded his orders and no troops will be sent to Pine Ridge, everything being reported quiet there.

The Negroes Amuck.

RICHMOND, Texas, Feb. 6.—The wildest excitement prevails here over a report from Stafford's Point, stating that the town is under control of an armed mob of negroes, who are threatening the lives of whites and applying the torch. Already a number of white men have left on horse back and neighboring towns have been telegraphed for reinforcements.

FIRE AT ALEXANDRIA.

W. D. McLeod's Warehouse Burnt—The Occupant Nearly Loses His Life.

ALEXANDRIA, Ont., Jan. 6.—A fire broke out in the elevator, near the Canada Atlantic Railway Station, at Alexandria, Saturday, and it was in a very short time a heap of smouldering ruins. It was occupied by J. E. McGregor & Co., grain merchants. The building was owned by Mr. W. D. McLeod, who met with a similar loss nine days ago at Glen Gordon in having a cheese factory burned. There were about 13,000 bushels of grain stored in the building, 13,000 bushels of which were oats. There were also about $150 worth of dressed hogs burned up. Nearly all was saved but the books and a couple of desks, in saving which Mr. J. E. McGregor nearly lost his life. When he reached the burning building he rushed at once into the office without a moment's thought, and was nearly overcome by the smoke and steam from the burning grain. He fell twice before he could regain the outside. The building was insured for $1000 and the contents for $4500, which will only partially cover the losses.

Sudden Death and Inquest.

LINDSAY, Ont. Feb. 6.—Samuel Routley, the well-known lime burner, who lived in the Township of Fenelon, about five miles from Lindsay, the other day died very suddenly. There being considerable talk regarding his very sudden demise, Dr. Poole, coroner, held an inquest, and after taking the evidence of the family and neighbors and that of Dr. McAlpine, who held the post-mortem, a verdict of death from natural causes—neuralgia of the heart—was returned.

Fire at Port Colborne.

PORT COLBORNE, Ont. Feb. 6.—The Erie Glass Company's factory caught fire and was totally destroyed last evening. Cause unknown. Loss $30,000; partly insured

An Episcopal Church Burned.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Feb. 6.—St. Jude's Episcopal Church was burned yesterday. Loss $10,000; insurance $2200.

CHANGING HEADQUARTERS.

Crews of the Owen Sound Division C.P.R. to Remove to Toronto.

TORONTO, Feb. 6.—For some weeks past negotiations have been in progress among some of the conductors of the Owen Sound division of the C.P.R. to have the headquarters of all the passenger crews changed to Toronto. For some years past three crews have run the passenger trains, two of the crews having their homes at Owen Sound. Conductors Lewis and Sheppard, Baggagemen Chambers and Jones with their brakesmen resided there. The change affects the passenger men only.

£20,000 for Lady Colin Campbell.

LONDON, Feb. 6.—A morning paper says it learns that the Duke of Marlborough's will gives £20,000 to Lady Colin Campbell and £5000 to Lord Randolph Churchill. The will has not yet been proved.

A Homestead Mystery.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 6.—John Marley, aged 34 years, an employe of the Homestead steel works, was found dead in front of one of the furnaces yesterday morning.

MAGNIFICENT FANCY WORK

Made Solely by the Singer Sewing Machine—Inspection Invited and Instructions Given Gratuitously.

When you want your eyes to feast on beauty and see an abundance of fine and unique fancy articles made by machine alone and not by handiwork, call at the local office of the Singer Sewing Machine Company, just opposite the market, where you will be warmly welcomed by the genial agent, Mr. W. Laishley. The Singer is the greatest machine extant in every way. The Peterborough office is a marvel of gorgeousness and splendour. All these costly and artistic articles are made by the Singer machine alone without any contrivance or attachment, and the best of all is that a competent lady instructor gives free lessons on the art of making this work to all who purchase an improved machine, and will take the slight trouble of calling and leaving their names at the Singer office with Mr. Laishley. The public are cordially invited to visit the company's office here and see for themselves the wonderful and almost phenomenal results achieved. Mr. Laishley has on hand here a great supply of all the various machines made by the great company and there are the handsomest finished, most light and durable as well as the most perfect and true "aids to womankind" out. He can satisfy the tailoress, the harnessmaker, the shoemaker, the corset manufacturer, the milliner, the fancy goods manufacturer, and all other classes who have any use for a sewing machine. The fancy work in the office here, it might again be mentioned, would repay a visit from any lady and she is sure to go away delighted at what the Singer can do in this line. dtf

It is True

That we are doing great things with Linen Table Napkins and Towelling Goods. We have been told over and over again that there is no stock in town which affords a more satisfactory choice and in which such low prices predominate. Ladies call, go elsewhere, and come back and buy.

Half regular prices are what we have put on a beautiful line of Table Linen, nobby goods in Table Napkins, and superior makes of Towelling slightly damaged. These lines we wish to drive, and you will save considerable money by buying now.

Back of these goods there are others in which the cutting process still goes on, such as Bedspreads, Comfortables, Sheeting, Marseilles, Quilts, &c. These possess a newness that charms on sight. The assortment is plenty enough to please the most particular lady.

During the past few weeks we have been stock-taking. The results are pleasant, for we have the satisfaction of knowing that the business done during the year just ended has exceeded anything in the past. This enables us to be generous, and we are bound to retain your patronage by giving the BEST values in town.

MURPHY KNOCKED OUT

FIGHT FOR THE LIGHTWEIGHT CHAMPIONSHIP.

Fight At Coney Island Between Johnny Griffin of Massachusetts and Murphy of Australia For the Lightweight Championship.

CONEY ISLAND, Feb. 7.—Despite the stormy weather there was a large and enthusiastic crowd of sporting men assembled at Coney Island Athletic Club last night. With men like Johnny Griffin of Braintree, Mass., and Australian Billy Murphy fighting for the featherweight championship and a purse of $4000, it would take a pretty stiff rainstorm to keep the thoroughbred sports at home.

Murphy wore white trunks and black belt, and Griffin had on red tights and the American flag for a belt. Griffin was the favorite in the betting, but Murphy had an excellent following.

First round—Murphy started in, bent upon doing his man at once, but Griffin landed a hard left, which drove Murphy back. The round was of the hurricane order.

Second round—Griffin forced the fighting and the liveliest kind of slugging followed. They went to in-fighting constantly and the punching was of the fastest kind.

Third round—Murphy led. Griffin encountered a hard left, forcing Murphy to his knees. When he got up the Braintree lad began pounding him, but got a stinging left in the nose, which started the blood. The fight was bulldog-like during the balance of the round.

Fourth round—The game was a trifle hot for Murphy and he adopted shifty tactics, only closing in when he got a good opening. Griffin had to force the fighting. Murphy was very clever at long range, but Griffin was aware of that fact and forced the fighting all he knew how.

Fifth round—Griffin gave Murphy some terrific jabs and had him groggy, forcing him to the floor four times. Murphy had only one hand on which he depended, which was right; but the lad from Braintree was not in its way. The round was not fair fighting, Murphy continually fouling with his head. When time was called the Australian was about "done up."

Sixth round—The men lost no time in getting to work and it was smash bang with both hands all through the round. Murphy lay for a knock-out blow with his right, but in doing so he received many left hand upper cuts that made him bleed profusely. He had his nose knocked all out of shape, and was pounded so hard that he was quite groggy at the call of time, and had the round lasted much longer he would have been put out.

Seventh round—Murphy started in to do some heavy work, but Griffin met with a hard left on the mouth and landed on his nose with his right. They came together like mad bulls and Murphy forced Griffin to the floor. When he arose Murphy went at Griffin, swinging his arms like windmills. They rushed each other like demons. When Griffin shot out his left, which settled in the pit of Murphy's stomach, down he went groaning completely knocked out. When Murphy was carried to his chair he fell off and was held in position until he recovered his senses. Time of round 15 secs. Murphy broke his wrist early in the fight.

It Comes High to Alienate a Married Man's Affections.

TORONTO, Feb. 7.—The Queen's Bench Divisional Court yesterday gave judgment in the case of Queen v. Church, a motion by the defendant to set aside the verdict for the defendant for $4500 in an action tried before Mr. Justice Street and a jury at Brantford. The action was brought by a married woman against a widow. The statement of claim alleged that the defendant had enticed away the plaintiff's husband by repeated solicitations, whereby the plaintiff had lost the society of her husband and the means of support which he formerly afforded her. The defendant now asked for a non-suit or for a new trial, contending that there was no evidence of any enticement on the part of the defendant. The court dismissed the motion, refusing to interfere with the verdict.

MORE ANNEXATION.

Another Pacific Island in the Political Swim.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7.—Col. C. E. Daily, the American Commissioner for King Teburiema of Butaritari, one of the Gilbert islands, has forwarded to the State Department at Washington a protest from the king against the forcible seizure of the islands by the British Government, while negotiations were progressing with the United States.

He asks the protection of the United States, or annexation.

Advices from Butaritari state that Captain Davis, a commander of the British navy, who seized the islands, was very arbitrary in his conduct. He was insulting to Americans on the island and abusive to the King.

He Tried to Walk Eight Miles in a Blizzard.

WINNIPEG, Feb. 7.—Patrick Ward, a resident of Swift Current, was frozen to death Saturday, while attempting to walk to a house eight miles across the prairie during a blizzard. He was only a mile from his destination when he sank exhausted. He leaves an invalid wife either in Toronto or Montreal.

Sightseers Soared at Niagara.

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y., Feb. 7.—Sightseers who were climbing about on the great ice-bridge had the scare of their lives this afternoon. The heavy masses of ice that came down from Lake Erie piled up on the upper margin of the falls, and now and again would topple over, hundreds of tons would sink and go rushing underneath the ice bridge, upheaving it here and there with a roar of crackling and grinding that sounded as if the ice-bridge would break up. The people walking about and the photographers taking shots scurried to the shores in fear, and the spectators in Prospect Park saw many ludicrous sights.

SHRIEKS IN A TENEMENT

TWENTY FAMILIES RUSHING HELTER SKELTER.

Explosion of Gas in a Cellar—A Clerk Would Take a Candle to Inspect—He Received a Sheet of Flame in His Face.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Fire caused by a gas explosion in the cellar destroyed the double five-story tenement-house No. 423 West Thirty-ninth-street at 4.30 o'clock yesterday. The building was occupied by 20 families. John Peterson, a gas inspector in the employ of the Equitable Gas Company, who was in the cellar when the explosion occurred, was killed.

The grocery of John Waschman and the liquor store of G. Byer were on the ground floor. As the gas in the cellar beneath the grocery store had been leaking for some time, the Equitable Gas Company was notified and they sent Gas Inspector Peterson. He went down into the cellar at 4 o'clock. He was there about 20 minutes when Grocer Waschman heard groans, and lighting a candle started to investigate.

As he was going into the cellar John Manning, an express driver, shouted that the cellar was full of gas. The grocer turned back, and Herbert McLaughlin, his clerk, took the candle from his hand and walked towards the cellar.

As he opened the door a sheet of flame shot out in his face. Then followed a thundering report. Waschman and Manning were thrown into the street. McLaughlin was hurled 10 feet and lay unconscious. The big tenement shook with the force of the explosion.

There was a wild shrieking of terror and on every floor women and children rushed to the windows and fire escapes. They made no effort to save their household goods, but struggled only for their lives.

An Italian woman living in the rear of the fourth floor fled from her rooms, leaving her 2-year-old babe in its cradle. The little one would have perished had not the policemen and firemen gone through the apartments.

Many of the victims were removed to the hospitals. The tenants saved nothing but what they wore. The building was damaged $50,000.

TROUBLE IN EGYPT.

It Is Possible that the Khedive May Be Fired.

LONDON, Feb. 7.—Egypt is talked of this week even less than last. Apparently it deserves to be talked of much more. Predictions of trouble in these despatches, which are based on a source of information quite open to English journals, yet ostrich-like ignored, seem on the point of an unduly complete realization.

It would not be surprising if within the next fortnight we learn that it had been found necessary to retire young Abbas altogether. He will certainly be called to time summarily if during his provincial swinging round the circle to be started on he does a tithe of the things which his party in Cairo publicly promise on his behalf.

Orders were sent in numerous directions last night and to-day from the War Office, and when the substance of them is printed here on Monday it will look as if more than a little war is being entered upon. Complete optimism reigns here, of course, as to the physical results of any trial of force which England may be compelled to make in the Nile Valley, but that is only a small part of what is now obviously involved.

Great uncertainty exists concerning the lengths to which the Sultan can be persuaded to go by the Franco-Russian combination which has hold of him. The Russian papers continue a loud clamor for a European congress, and the French press preserves that unnatural, ominous silence so suggestive of Foreign Office control. It is, all in all, a very nasty situation.

Called Him a Liar.

DUBLIN, Feb. 7.—Rival meetings of Parnellites and anti-Parnellites were held 10 miles apart in South Meath. While William O'Brien, M.P., was addressing the anti-Parnellite meeting Patrick O'Brien, ex-member of Parliament, climbed down from the Parnellite truck and ran over to the other meeting just in time to hear the speaker say that the men who got up the South Meath petition did fouler injury to Ireland and better service to the Tories than did Pigott. Patrick O'Brien shouted "That is a lie." The anti-Parnellites turned on him, but before they could hurt him the priests and police interfered and got him out of the way.

The Program Disappointing.

VIENNA, Feb. 7.—Count Taafe has published the program which he has expected would establish an understanding between the German Liberals and the Government. The program is generally disappointing and is unlikely to conciliate the German factions. It proposes that the questions concerning church, police and school reforms be ignored for the present. The 108 German Liberal deputies declare their intention of maintaining their liberty of action and the other factions will adopt a similar attitude toward the program.

New Zealand and Hawaii.

LONDON, Feb. 7.—The Pall Mall Gazette states that the Government of New Zealand has telegraphed to the Marquis of Ripon, Secretary of State for the Colonies, a strongly worded protest against the annexation of Hawaii by the United States. No definite answer has yet been returned by the Imperial Government to the New Zealand communication.

The City of Peking Safe.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7.—The City of Peking did not get into harbor until late in the afternoon. Capt. Searles says the Peking sailed from Yokohama Jan. 10, and all went well until Jan. 21.

When the steamer was 110 miles from San Francisco, the shaft broke in the sleeve. It was impossible to mend it and the vessel proceeded under sail. She encountered heavy head winds nearly all the way, and during the 15 days under sail she covered over 1300 miles.

Fire in London.

LONDON, Ont., Feb. 7.—Fire broke out yesterday in the fancygoods store of Mrs. Woodliffe, Dundas-street, and in a very short time the contents were a total loss.

The fire had made considerable headway when discovered, and Mrs. Woodliffe and a young family who lives over the store, had a close call. The firemen soon had the flames under control, however. Loss on stock about $7000; small insurance on the building which belongs to the Lloyd estate.

THE TORONTO ROBBERS

Express of Statement against Three Young Burglars.

TORONTO, Feb. 7.—The Police Court was crowded yesterday when the four young robbers, Edward and William Archer, George Bennett and William Norris, were called to answer the charge of robbing [illegible]. They did not seem to be at all concerned in their position. They leaned easily against the railing of the prisoners' dock and took a look around the crowded room. Against them three charges stood, that of robbing the establishment of Ammon Davis, of robbing F. R[illegible] of attempting to rob the Home Savings and Loan Company's establishment. They are to be tried summarily. Bennett, the leader of the gang, and his right hand man, William Norris, pleaded guilty, but the Archers pleaded not guilty. The cases were adjourned for a week, the Crown not being prepared to go on.

The accused, with the exception of Edward Archer, are all small in stature and meagre in appearance.

Edward Archer is a broad-shouldered boy of 20. He has brown hair, a square face and a broad brow. His eyes are are light grey. His face is intelligent and much finer looking than that of any of his companions. He is 5 feet 9½ inches in height and carries himself with an easy confident air.

George Bennett, the leader of the gang, is small and spare. His features are sharp and his eyes shifting. He has prominent cheek bones and gray eyes. His head is small and his brow narrow and sloping. He stands about 5 feet 4½ inches.

William Archer is about 5 feet 6 inches high, and has a bulldog face. His nose is flat and turned up; his eyes are brown; he has a prominent mouth and cheekbones, and thick lips, but his chin is weak.

William Norris is of medium height and rather thin. He has dark hair and grey eyes. His mouth and chin are weak, and his appearance as a whole would lead one to conjecture that it would be easy for a stronger man to lead him into crime.

The activity of the detective force the past few weeks in consequence of the recent daring burglaries has been fraught with grief and shame to many a household, and has resulted in the exposure of a large number of skirmishers or auxiliaries, as it were, on the flanks of the regular army of thieves. The result of their investigations has been to show that the thefts of articles by young clerks or salesmen from their employers have become increasingly common in the city. In several cases the thefts were brought home to the young men, but their employers declined to prosecute.

There are several causes for the increase of this particular class of crime. Beyond doubt the tastes and habits of the young men of to-day are more expensive than those of their fathers with small means, or no means at all. They dress up as "mashers" and smoke choice cigars, attend theatres, concerts, balls and race meetings. If often indulged in these are rather expensive luxuries, and as the supply of youths anxious for genteel employment is always in excess of the demand, the salaries given are in many cases low. Then firms are sometimes very lax in the oversight of young men in their employ. It seems easy to take a small article. After the first false step the descent is rapid, and many a young man fills a felon's cell, or has to fly the country, under circumstances due to his master's carelessness as well as his own folly.

DIED IN THE FLAMES.

A Farmer, His Mother and His Child Cremated.

LINDSAY, Ont., Feb. 7.—At about 1 o'clock yesterday, John Mark, a tenant farmer, residing on lot 13, Con. 5, Fenelon township, discovered the summer kitchen connected with the house to be in flames. He aroused his wife, who in turn awoke their seven children, which composed their happy family.

Mr. Mark, who bethought himself of his aged mother sleeping in the upper chamber, hastened to her assistance. She was very hard of hearing and had not heard the alarm of fire. Her faithful son, in endeavoring to save her life, and her became victims to the devouring flames.

A little daughter of eight summers, a favorite of her father's, seeing him going up stairs, followed him, and she also was overcome by the smoke and was devoured by the flames.

Mrs. Mark in the meantime broke a window and succeeded in saving the lives of six of the children, but all had to escape in their night clothes and barely got out with their lives. It being some distance to the nearest neighbor the fire had not been discovered by them, and it was not until the almost distracted woman with her children had reached their house and given the alarm.

Mrs. Mark was found to have her feet very badly frozen. The physician was immediately sent for to Lindsay, who has hopes of saving them. The children were very badly frost-bitten, but not as seriously as their mother.

The house being a frame one was very rapidly consumed and search was immediately instituted for the remains of the unfortunates. The searchers were rewarded by finding the trunks of the two older victims, as well as part of the body of the child, all of which were burned beyond recognition. The house was insured for $250.

After a Missing Steamer.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Feb. 7.—The Pacific Mail steamship San Juan left here last evening to search for the City of Peking, now nearly two weeks overdue. She carried half a dozen expert machinists, engineers and metal workers, with spare shafting and such other machinery as is likely to be required in repairing the City of Peking if she has met with an accident in her machinery department. The pantry and store-room were fully stocked.

Famine at Zante.

ATHENS, Feb. 7.—Despite the large amount of supplies already sent to Zante, and the preparations to send more, the island is threatened with a general famine. Three more heavy shocks were felt in the island yesterday. In one village 86 houses were demolished and many lives lost.

The Floods in Queensland.

BRISBANE, Feb. 7.—At 4 o'clock yesterday the water around Brisbane began falling. The city is still isolated, however, and little news can be got from nearby towns. The list of dead grows hourly.

Fire at McGregor.

WINNIPEG, Feb. 7.—Christopher Cook's furniture store and H. Finger's hardware store at the town of McGregor were totally destroyed by fire last night.

A GREAT MASS OF BUSINESS

IS DEALT WITH BY THE CIVIC LEGISLATORS LAST NIGHT.

The Purchase of a Chemical Engine—The Edison Drain Difficulty—The Fire Brigade Arrangement—Supplies for the Streets and Bridges—New Members of the Board of Health—Mr. Pope Appointed Charity Officer—The Nicholls' Hospital Bequest—Town Assessors—Measuring Wood on the Market—Other Matters of Importance.

A regular meeting of the town council was held in the chamber last evening. A vast amount of business was transacted in a couple of hours—more business, perhaps, than has engaged the attention of our municipal parliament for months past—and everything was knocked out in rapid style so that the council was through with all the voluminous reports, communications, petitions, etc., shortly after ten o'clock. All the members were present except Mr. Mulhern.

After routine, the following

COMMUNICATIONS AND PETITIONS were presented:

From T. F. McMann, asking for remission of taxes. The petitioner got both his hands frozen at the beginning of the winter, and was unable to work.

On motion of Messrs. Dawson and Winch the request was granted.

From S. Ray and other billiard license holders, asking that the license be reduced—License Committee.

From Wm. Lech, Dr. Fife and Dr. Brennan resigning their positions as members of the Board of Health.—Received.

From Robt. Pope, street inspector, acquainting the council of the dangerous and unsafe condition of the Smith street bridge in order that they may take action in the matter—Street and Bridge Committee.

From Dumble and Leonard, solicitors, stating that the council had not protected Mr. Williams in the exclusive right to do the scavenger business of the town at any time since he took the contract. During the last two years Mr. Williams had suffered great loss by this breach of contract for which he intended to claim compensation.—Referred to Town Solicitor Edwards.

From C. P. R. railway, enclosing notice of lands assessable in town of Peterborough under assessment act—Received.

SNOW PLOWING NOT DONE RIGHT.

Mr. Robert Pope, street inspector, wrote as follows: I respectfully beg leave to report to you that the snow ploughing in the northern and southern districts is not being performed in a manner satisfactory to me or as required under the contracts.—Received.

CONSTRUCTION OF CROSSING.

DEAR SIR,—I owe you an explanation for the delay which has attended an inquiry you to made to Mr. Macklin, the late engineer of this company at Peterborough by your letter of the 24th ult. I assume that the letter has reference to the establishment of crossing gates and protection at Charlotte and Brock streets, Peterborough, and have pleasure in stating for your information that the construction of such gates would cost about $650 per set or $1,300 for the two crossings, and that the maintenance would involve the employment of two men for time written at one and a quarter days each day at $1.25 for 313 days days, equals $979. Fuel and lights would cost $60. per annum for each gate, total maintenance, $1,079 per annum.

I shall be glad if this will enable you to arrive at a conclusion respecting the agreement submitted to your committee by my predecessor.

L. J. SERGEANT,
General Manager.

J. R. Cobb, Town Clerk, Peterborough.

—Street and Bridge Committee.

From Jas. McKelvy, asking for remission of taxes owing to ill health. On motion of Messrs. Kelly and Winch granted.

From Chief of Police Roszel, asking that his salary be increased to $900 a year, as his duties were increasing every year.—Committee on Appointments.

THE CHEMICAL ENGINE.

From the Extinguisher Mfg. Company, Toronto, Mr. Evison, agent, laying before the council a few facts in relation to a chemical fire engine, showing the value and importance of adding the appliance to a fire department, how it has achieved a full record as a fire fighting apparatus. Wherever it is in use, putting out 75 per cent. of the fires and saving an enormous amount of property from destruction by water. The use of chemical engines was now being endorsed by all devoted to the interests of fire protection and the Underwriters' Association. It was hardly necessary to employ arguments to convince any council that a chemical engine is a very valuable auxiliary to any fire department, and that no system of fire protection is even efficient without one. Together with the communication were enclosed testimonials from Chief Atchison, Hamilton, Chief Deasy, Vancouver, B.C., and others. Among other things the letter went on to say it would put Peterborough to the highest point of credit and safety in the matter of fire protection, so that all concerned would feel greater confidence and security. The more important this becomes when it is considered how many valuable properties there are in the town, the destruction of which would be a serious drawback."—The communcation was received.

From John Belcher, C.E., calling attention to the rotten abutements and unsound timbers of the Smith Street bridge.—Referred to Street and Bridge Committee with power to act.

From John McNaughton in the interest of several hundred ratepayers asking that the market clerk be compelled to measure all loads of wood coming on the market, etc.—Referred to Market Committee.

From Mr. Town Solicitor Edwards, stating that it was necessary to give a bond with sureties, as security for the costs of appeal in the case of Mason vs. Town. On motion a resolution was passed authorizing the giving of a bond by the mayor and clerk and providing for the sureties.

From M. Dean, stating he was wrongfully assessed for three dogs. Court of Revision.

THE EDISON SUCTION PIPE.

From Kerr, MacDonald, Davidson and Patterson, solicitors, Toronto, calling attention to the condition of the suction pipe from the river to the works of the Edison Company, the condition of which is causing great inconvenience and much alarm to the company and threatening them with being obliged to close down their works at any moment for want of water. The attention of the council had already been called to this matter by the superintendent in charge of the works and as the council are responsible for this pipe and for its maintenance they now write, calling attention to the responsibility of the town by reason of the present condition of the pipe. The communication further states that it is hoped the council will appreciate the importance of the matter to the corporation as well as to the company and will give such directions with reference to the supply of water as may be necessary at once and take steps to put the suction pipe in proper order.—Received.

A second communication of a few days later date was also read urging the town to immediate action in reference to the supplying of water to the company by means of waterworks main.

Another letter was also read from Frederic Nicholls, general manager for the company stating that owing to the failure of the conduit pipe laid from the river to the works as per agreement the company had been occasioned several thousand dollars loss and beseeching steps be taken at once to grant them water power.—Received.

THE ASSESSORS FOR THE TOWN.

Mr. Kelly presented the report of Committee on Appointments as follows:—

To the Mayor and Council:

GENTLEMEN:—Your Committee on Appointments beg leave to report, and recommend the appointment of the following persons as assessors of the town of Peterborough for 1893, namely: For Wards Nos. 1 and 2, Wm. Aldridge and T. B. McGrath. For Wards Nos. 3 and 4, J. J. Hartley and Thos. McKee.

Your committee would recommend that the salaries for the first and second wards be fixed at the sum of $140 each, and the salaries of the assessors for the third and fourth wards be fixed at the sum of $110 each. This salary to be inclusive of extra work required to be done by the assessors in connection with the taking of the census of school children.

With reference to the committees' recommendation as to salary, it was arrived at after careful consideration of the duties and work devolving upon the assessors for the different wards. Your committee being of the opinion that the proposed distribution would be equitable, fair and proportionate to the work to be performed by them. All of which is respectfully submitted.

THOS. KELLY,
Chairman.

Mr. Bradburn asked if the assessors knew at what salary they were appointed and whether they knew that they would have to take the census of school children. The report was adopted.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Mr. Bradburn read the following report:

To the Mayor and Council:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Street and Bridge Committee beg leave to report that pursuant to instructions received they advertised for tenders for the required supplies of lumber, etc., for street and bridge purposes during the coming year, the result being that six tenders were received from the following persons, and at the prices stated, namely:

Dickson Company—Pine plank 7 inch wide and upwards, 2 inches thick, $10.50 per m., b.m.; pine plank, 2x10 (separate) $12 per m., b.m.; pine plank 2x12 (separate) $12 per m. b.m.; pine plank 2x14 (separate) $14 per m., b. m.; hemlock plank, 7 inches wide and upwards, 2 inches thick, $7 per m. b.m.; hemlock plank, 2x10, 2x12, $7.50 per m., b.m.; cedar scantling, 3x5, 13 feet and upwards, $9 per m., b. m.

John Breckenridge, cedar scantling $7.75 square cedar, $8.75.

Alfred McDonald, cedar scantling, $8.80; square cedar, $8.75; hemlock, $7.00.

W. B. Kelly, cedar scantling, $7.75; square cedar, $8.50; cedar paving blocks, $4.00.

Estate Geo. Hilliard, hemlock, $7.25.

J. H. Brumwell, cedar paving blocks, $3.45 per cord.

Your committee would recommend the acceptance of the following tenders:—

For pine plank Dickson Company $10.50, $12.00 and $14.00 per m.

Respecting cedar scantling, W. B. Kelly, $7.75 per m.

Square cedar, A. McDonald, $8.75 per m., hemlock, A. MacDonald, $7.00 per m.

Cedar blocks for paving purposes, J. H. Brumwell, $3.45 per cord.

Owing to the fact that a number of the parties to whom contracts were awarded for the supply of stones have not delivered the same your committee would recommend that the street inspector be empowered to purchase sufficient stone to make up the 100 cords, at a cost not exceeding $1.75 per cord, and that the stones be broken and used for macadam purposes.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

T. E. BRADBURN,
Chairman.

The report was adopted.

THE FARMER'S SHOP.

Benefits Direct and Indirect Which Follow Its Erection.

The waste on the average farm is enormous of a little here and a little there, of farm products, of energy in domestic animals and especially in the valuable time of the farmer. How to utilize all these things and to turn to account time and the wasting material resources of the farm is the solution of converting the non-paying business into a profitable industry. Our correspondent says: I have for twelve or fifteen years owned an outfit of tools, but until the present time have had no permanent building for them. Last Winter I built a shop 16x20, twelve feet to eaves, with ten feet addition to end for forge, etc. This building cost about $80. I did the entire work—framed it, built forge and flue, and roofed it with steel. I want to say, right here, that in the last five years I have cleared the cost of tools and building. My farm is small—fifty-five and one-half acres—and it may seem to some poor generalship to equip such a shop for so small a farm. I need the same tools to run my farm as were needed to effectually work 350 acres at my father's home. Wear and tear are not so great, of course, on small areas, but a general assortment is needed, nevertheless. I have four horses which need shoeing most of the year. Wagons need attention from year to year, and other utensils must be overhauled each season. If a new tool is needed I have a place to make it. If a wagon needs painting I have a place to paint it, free from dust and not in the way, as it would be if the barn or some building generally used for other purposes.

I do not claim to be a mechanic. Never worked under one for an hour. Never saw a mechanic forge a tool of any kind: do not know how he might go at it. But anything ordinarily used in a shop I make and am not ashamed of it when done. I had just three things to start with—bellows, anvil and vise, from the aid of which I have a nicely equipped shop. Friends and strangers always find me at home on rainy or bad days, fixing plows, harrows, shoeing, making some useful tool or experimenting on something new. Now while I feel that I have some right to call myself a farmer, I do not desire to appear egotistical, but to inspire a desire in my brothers to develop the propensities necessary to prosperity, "comfort and independence. How any farmer successfully manages without some sort of workshop, I am unable to conceive. I mean those that farm for money. Yet nine-tenths are trying. The word farming means considerable. The value of the pudding is determined by the tasting thereof. No man in the wide world could know better how the horse should be shod than the owner, or a defect in the plow should be remedied. Plowing and harrowing are just half. If you stop there and let some one else do the other half, you are deserving of the title? Arouse some of the latent energies of your nature, brothers, and see what you can do. If you can adapt yourself to the needs of your surroundings, then you will have gained a freedom that will bring "glad tidings of great joy." Your farm will appear more tidy, your implements will work better, your mind will be at rest, and your wife will look years younger. She will love you better, for your bank account will be larger. Your little one will grow up to respect neatness and be inspired with a love of inventive genius, and will go out and make the world happier and better. Winter is the time to build a shop; get right to work on one and you will never regret it.

How to Choose Poultry.

When choosing poultry, pick out smooth-legged fowls with limber combs and legs, and you will have those which are young and tender. Old fowls have hard, rough legs and feet. A young goose has a yellow bill, but an old goose has bill and feet that are red and dry. Old fowls may be made good if cooked long enough. They should be stewed or boiled until tender, and then baked.

What a Little Oil Will Do.

A drop of oil and a feather may make the difference between misery and comparative comfort. Where have I heard the delightful story of the feather that cured the nervous family? How the door creaked and creaked, and the delicate wife shivered and was miserable, and the tired, over-worked husband fidgeted and then growled and then snarled, and finally swore, while the children whined and

Put To Flight

—all the peculiar troubles that beset a woman. The only guaranteed remedy for them is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. For women suffering from any chronic "female complaint" or weakness; for women who are run-down and overworked; for women expecting to become mothers, and for mothers who are nursing and exhausted; at the change from girlhood to womanhood; and later, at the critical "change of life"—It is a medicine that safely and certainly builds up, strengthens, regulates and cures.

If it doesn't, if it even fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back.

What you are sure of, if you use Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, is either a perfect and permanent cure for your Catarrh, no matter how bad your case may be, or $500 in cash. The proprietors of the medicine promise to pay you the money, if they can't cure you.

Catarrh in the head is a constitutional disease, and requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla to effect a cure.

Safe and Sure.

Not only safety from mineral poison (of which B. B. B. does not contain the slightest trace), but prompt and certain action in the cure of disease may be confidently relied on from the use of this unrivalled natural specific for Dyspepsia, Constipation, Bad Blood, Headache, Biliousness and all diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels and blood.

If you are tired taking the large old-fashioned griping pills, try Carter's Little Liver Pills and take some comfort. A man can't stand everything. One pill a dose. Try them.

TO BE OR NOT TO BE "IN IT."

A Life Agent called at a friend's place one day,
HE WASN'T IN IT;
He had seen "the bore" coming and fled from his way
HE WASN'T IN IT;
He had heard so much said, he was tired and sick
Of insurance and agents—'twas all a blank trick,
When one's coil must be shuffled to win it,
HE WASN'T IN IT.

A bit of a draft blew o'er his bald head,
HE WAS IN IT;
Pneumonia sent him straightway to his bed,
HE STAYED IN IT;
His doctor made of it a "quite special" case,
To save him for running still more of life's race,
But the grave took some chances to win it,
AND HE'S IN IT.

When approached by a gent for insuring your life,
GET RIGHT IN IT;
It's the right thing to do for your children and wife,
THEN STAY IN IT.
Remember that fires take your goods "out of sight,"
And that accidents happen each day and each night.
While insurance protects every minute,
IF YOU'RE IN IT.

A Bank Manager's Opinion.
HE IS "IN IT."

The General Manager of one of the leading banks in Canada, writing to a personal friend, says:—"I have no hesitation in saying that I place the CANADA LIFE upon the highest platform. It is in my opinion carefully, economically and honestly managed; its Reserve Funds are well invested; its rates of Premiums are low, and its future is, I think better assured than a great majority of Companies. I have my own life insured in the Company for a round amount, and would not hesitate to increase the amount of my policies should I decide upon taking out further insurance."

A Government Insurance Actuary's Opinion
On the Relation between Ordinary and Tontine Service.

It is frequently asserted by Companies whose business is nearly all confined, that although the CANADA LIFE may and does pay large ordinary profits, yet it cannot compare so favourably on a long term distribution or tontine period, and that in the end better results can be obtained on a tontine policy in a large American Co. than on an ordinary or tontine policy in the CANADA LIFE. To prove the absurdity of this statement, the following piece of common sense is quoted from Mervin Tabor, late Actuary of the Illinois Government Insurance Department. In his well known book, "The Three Systems of Life Insurance," he says: "A company that gives large dividends on the ordinary kind of policies, can give much larger on the same kinds when Tontined, and a company that pays but meagre dividends on the usual forms, adopting perhaps the Tontine system to "cover up" its small surpluses, cannot be relied on for large returns of surplus under the Tontine Forms of Insurance."

The CANADA LIFE does not "cover up" its Quinquennial profits as some Companies do, but publishes them throughout the country.

It can and does surpass other Companies on Quinquennial profits. It should and will surpass them on Tontine profits.

WHY TO BE "IN IT."

BISHOP HAWEIS'S REASON:—"I claim that Life Insurance is not only a humane, but I might say a Christian Institution."

LORD LYNDHURST'S REASON:—"A Policy of Life Insurance is always an evidence of prudent forethought. No man with a dependent family is free from reproach if not insured."

WHEN TO BE "IN IT."

The younger, the cheaper. Therefore insure when young. Besides by insuring in the CANADA LIFE now, you will share in three years' profits.

WHERE TO BE "IN IT."

The best place to be "in it" is in the Company that gives the best returns for the least money, consistent with absolute security. Therefore, in order to be "in it," choose the

Do Not Miss This Play.

An object of interest and one that any one who desires may see, when "The Stowaway," which appears at the opera house Monday night, is here, is a sectional "jimmy", the property of "Spike" Hennessy, the reformed cracksman. This "jimmy" was originally the property of "Red Leary", the celebrated bank robber, who did time for the great Northampton, Mass., robbery of a dozen years ago. It was given to him by Hennessy about two weeks before the Northampton job, and it has been kept by "Spike" ever since as a memento of his friendship for "Red Leary", and also an example of beautiful workmanship in burglars' tools. 1d

SUDDEN DEATH.

H. J. Springe of Kingston a Victim of Heart Failure.

KINGSTON, Ont., Feb. 7.—Last evening, after services had been concluded in St. George's Cathedral, where the Brotherhood of St. Andrew were in attendance, Mr. H. J. Springe, who is an honorary verger of St. George's, proceeded home with his family.

On arriving at his home about 10.30 p.m. he was exhausted and gasping for breath. The family, however, were not alarmed, as he was subject to such attacks. He was seized with a fit of coughing, which he slightly recovered from. He sat himself in a chair, took a last sigh and expired at 11.30. The cause of death was heart failure.

He took part in services held in the cathedral as usual, carrying the mace before the clergy, which was his regular office. He remained for the farewell meeting of the brotherhood, which was held after the services in the cathedral.

The deceased was quarter-master of the 14th battalion of this city and librarian of Mechanics' Institute for some time. He was a member of the Independent Order of Foresters. He will be buried to-morrow by the latter named society.

Hung Himself.

MRS. BROWN'S CASE.

TORONTO, February 6th.—A most interesting case has come to light here, being that of Mrs. Brown, of Agnes street, who for years has suffered from Bright's Disease, the last two of which she spent in bed. Her feet were swollen so she could not walk, and being affected with paralysis, she was taken to the Toronto General Hospital, where, after undergoing a lengthy treatment which did her no good, and receiving nothing in the way of consolation save a certificate that she was incurable and a permit admitting her to the home for incurables. Even then she did not give up hope and tried Homœopathic treatment, but with as little results as the other. There seemed nothing left but to go to that retreat, where only those who are beyond all human aid are admitted, and there wait for death to relieve her of her sufferings. She heard of the wonderful cure of Sam Murray, of Gravenhurst, by Dodd's Kidney Pills and she decided to try them. The first week she noticed very little change, but before she had finished the second box her back began to feel easier, the swelling to leave her feet, and by the third week she could walk, something she had been unable to do for two years before. Now, after taking Dodd's Kidney Pills for two months, she is so completely cured that she is about to take up school teaching again, a calling she pursued before losing her health.

THE FIRE, WATER AND LIGHT REPORT.

Mr. Cahill presented the following report:

To the Mayor and Council:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Fire, Water and Light Committee beg leave to present the first report for the year 1893.

In reference to the resignation of the fire brigade, which was tendered to the council of last year, but which by request of said council was extended for one month, your committee have to report that after meeting the officers and all—if not all—of the members of the brigade and having represented to them as citizens of our good town they were equally interested with the council in preserving from fire the property of all our citizens, and having requested them to reconsider their decision and continue their services for at least one year longer, the brigade, after a protracted discussion by a vote have decided to do so, at their meeting on the 31st ult, your committee have decided to offer each member $25 per annum in addition to what they now receive, which is hereby offered for your approval. In order to partially meet the increased expenditure hereby proposed, your committee recommend that the number of firemen be reduced from 18, as at present, to 15, but in view of the efficient services each of the present brigade has rendered to the town it is not proposed to ask any of them to withdraw at present, but if from any cause any should withdraw his place shall not be filled until the number of the brigade falls below 15, at which number it shall therefore be maintained.

Your committee recommend that Mr. Murphy be continued in his position under the agreement entered into in June last, subject, however, at all times to any changes that the Fire, Water and Light Committee may deem advisable to make in the public interest. Also that Mr. E. Lawrence be continued as teamster on the same terms.

Your committee further recommend that the town clerk ask for tenders for 300 or 400 feet of hose.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

THOS. CAHILL,
Chairman.

Mr. Cahill, in moving the adoption of the report, spoke highly of the brigade's thorough equipment and efficiency, and the few serious fires we had had during the past year. He believed the firemen to have the interest of the town as much at heart as any citizen and the best arrangement between the brigade and the town that had been possible to make had been effected. He also lauded their officers and believed them to be capable officials. Mr. Stevenson seconded the motion which was carried without discussion.

Mr. Bradburn said the Smith street bridge matter was omitted in the report of the Street and Bridge Committee. However he said Councillor Cahill had a report of the joint committee which would refer to it.

A TOWN DUMPING GROUND.

Mr. White presented the following report:—

To the Mayor and Council:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Health Committee beg leave to report and recommend that a contract be entered into with Chas. Kitney, for supplying a dumping ground for the period of one year commencing on the 17th day of February next at and for the price or sum of $70—$30 therefore to be paid in the 1st of November next, and the balance at the expiration of his contract, such contract to be prepared by the town solicitor and executed by the said Chas. Kitney.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

WM. WHITE,
Chairman.

The report was adopted.

THE WOOD TO BE MEASURED.

The market committees report was presented by Councillor Winch as follows:—

To the Mayor and Council:

GENTLEMEN,—Your market committee beg leave to report, that they have carefully considered the question referred to them by the council respecting the measuring of wood offered for sale on the market, and would recommend that the market clerk for the balance of his present year be requested to measure wood for the ensuing market year, he to be required to give each person offering for sale or purchasing wood a certificate signed by him stating the date of measurement, quantity of wood contained in load, and kind and quality of wood measured. That for this purpose the market clerk be supplied with a book containing the required certificate forms.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

H. C. WINCH,
Chairman.

After some unimportant discussion the report was adopted.

THE POWER OF THE PRESS.

The Printing Committee report was read by Chairman Bradburn:—

To the Mayor and Council:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Printing Committee beg leave to report and recommend that the same arrangement and distribution of the town's printing as adopted by the council in 1892, and which has been in operation ever since, be continued for the current year; under it the several printing offices of the town each receive a share of the town's printing, and have expressed themselves as satisfied that the arrangement should be continued; while the schedule of prices was considered by your committee to be moderate and reasonable and in the town's interest, such that your committee deem advisable to recommend for your acceptance.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

T. E. BRADBURN,
Chairman.

The report was adopted.

THE JOINT COMMITTEE'S REPORT

was read by Mr. Cahill:—

To the Mayor and Council:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Joint Committee with the county council beg leave to report that your committee waited on the county council at their session last month, in reference to the re-building of the Smith street bridge and lighting the gaol and county buildings. In reference to the former the county council reported in favour of paying one tenth of the cost of re-construction of the bridge on its present site. They also reported in favor of paying for one electric light to be placed at or near the county buildings. Both reports were adopted.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

THOS. CAHILL,
Chairman.

The report was adopted.

THE CHARITY OFFICER'S DUTIES.

Mr. Winch presented the Charity Committee report as follows:

To the Mayor and Council:

GENTLEMEN,—Pursuant to instructions received, your committee have carefully considered the matters referred to them respecting the employment of a relief officer and the formulating of the details pertaining to the duties of his office and would respectfully submit to you the following recommendations:

1. That a relief officer be employed to perform the duties hereinafter mentioned, together with any further duties which may be from time to time imposed upon him by resolution of the council.

2. That as the council is responsible to the people and the committee to the council, it would not be advisable to vest in the relief officer the power to distribute relief as he might see fit, but to avoid this objection your committee would recommend that the charity committee as at present constituted continue to have full control of the management, distribution and expenditure in connection with the charity account of the town.

3. In order that the arrangement hereinafter referred to may be carried out, your committee would recommend that the members of the charity committee be considered members for the whole town, and not for any particular ward. That three members of the committee, of which His Worship the Mayor is included, shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, and a majority report of those present shall decide all questions that may arise.

4. That the applications for charity shall be made direct to the relief officer, whose duty it shall be to visit from time to time the homes of applicants and inquire into and investigate the merits of each particular case in order to ascertain their true need, and report in writing weekly to the charity committee, with a recommendation as to what relief he deems sufficient to be granted by the committee from time to time to meets their wants. This recommendation will apply more particularly to the persons who now regularly receive relief from the town. With reference to special cases of urgent need and requiring immediate attention, your committee would recommend that the Mayor or chairman of the charity committee be empowered to deal temporarily with such cases only through the relief officer who shall report thereon to the committee.

5. That a meeting of the charity committee be held once a week for the purpose of receiving the report of the relief officer and dealing with all applications for relief received and the transaction of any other necessary business.

6. That one of the members of the committee shall act as secretary and it shall be his duty to keep the minutes of each meeting, which minutes shall be confirmed from time to time and signed by the chairman.

7. That all relief given (except in emergency cases aforesaid) must be regularly passed by the committee in session and that after the meeting, orders shall be issued in favour of the parties for the amount granted, signed by the chairman of the meeting, entered in the book of account hereinafter referred to and handed to the relief officer for distribution.

8. That a book of account be kept by the committee which shall at all times show the total amount of relief disbursed to date, the parties receiving it, the nature of the relief and the merchants or others upon whom the orders are given, which book shall be kept in the town clerk's office for inspection by the council and ratepayers.

9. That no order shall be issued or relief given by the relief officer, or any individual member of the committee or the council except by the mayor and chairman of the committee in cases provided for. Your committee are aware of the difficulties in formulating a scheme that will give entire satisfaction, but are of the opinion that the one submitted is practicable and workable, an improvement to the former method and one that is believed would result in a saving to the town, besides giving to the ratepayers the pleasing satisfaction of knowing in so far as it be possible by a closer investigation than heretofore to know that the relief granted was in favor of the deserving poor only.

Your committee would further recommend that Robt. Pope be appointed relief officer of the town of Peterborough at a salary of $100 per annum.

CHARITY WOOD.

Your committee as recommended advertised for tenders for the supply of wood required for charity purposes, the result being that seven tenders were received from the following persons and at prices stated.

MIXED WOOD (DRY.)

	Per Cord.
Thos Williams	$2 75
W J Charlton	2 25
T F Fitzgerald	2 50
W H Down	2 10
W F Hilliard (Hemlock slabs)	2 19
Dickson Co " "	2 00

TAMARAC (DRY.)

	Per Cord.
W J Charlton	$2 45
Samuel Hatherly	2 50
Michael Toomey	2 50

Your committee would recommend the acceptance of the following tenders:

1. W J Charlton 50 cords dry tamarac at $2.45 per cord.

2. Michael Toomey, 20 cords dry tamarac at $2.50 per cord.

3. Samuel Heatherly, 15 cords dry tamarac at $2.50 per cord.

Your committee believe that it is desirable in the town's interests that a quantity of green wood would now be purchased for future use, and ask that they be empowered to purchase 150 cords of green tamarac, after having first asked for tenders for same and report to this council.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

H. C. WINCH,
Chairman.

The report was adopted.

Mr. Winch said he could not bring in a report of the charity committees expenditure during the past month on account of Mr. Mulhern's absence.

THE PUBLIC PARKS REQUEST.

Mr. Dennistoun presented the special committee's report as follows:—

To the Mayor and Council:

GENTLEMEN,—Your special committee struck for the purpose of meeting the executors of the Nicholls estate beg leave to report that an interview took place at which the executors and their solicitor met the committee and town solicitor. As the representatives of the Nicholls estate refused to co-operate in any way with the council nothing was accomplished, and your committee therefore recommend that the town solicitor be instructed to obtain the opinion of Mr. Christopher Robinson, Q.C., as to the advisability of applying for special legislation to confirm Mrs. Nicholls bequest for public parks.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

E. MAX DENNISTOUN,
Chairman.

Mr. Dennistoun, in moving the adoption of the report, said the point in question was purely a legal one, and the town solicitor was of the opinion that the matter be referred to counsel, which was done.

Mr. Cahill moved an amendment. He thought that the report should be referred to the finance committee for further consideration.

Mr. Dawson seconded the amendment.

Mr. Dennistoun objected to this, and said if the matter was referred to the finance committee nothing could be done this year, as notice of fully six weeks time should be given to the Legislature to bring the matter up. Mr. Robinson's opinion was the best known on municipal law, and they were taking the towns solicitor's advice.

Mr. Cahill objected to this course, and said they did not question the town solicitor's opinion but his judgment.

Mr. Dennistoun's motion did not get a seconder and the matter was referred to the finance committee for further consideration.

BY-LAWS PUT THROUGH.

Mr. Kelly introduced a by-law appointing assessors for the town of Peterborough for 1893. On the second reading Mr. Cahill thought that the assessors should be changed, the two in the north ward put in the south ward and vice versa, as the south ward claimed they were over assessed. As the assessment for the year was the foundation for our whole financial basis he would like to see it done fairly.

Mr. Kelly moved that the names of the assessors and the salaries recommended in the report of the Committee on Appointments as already received, be filled in.

Mr. Cahill moved in amendment that the blanks for the two north wards be filled in with $140 and the other wards $125.

Mr. Dawson did not favor raising the salaries of the present assessors. If they did not care to do the work for the amounts named, plenty of good men could be found who would, at the figures named in the report.

Mr. Kelly's motion passed and the by-law was duly passed, etc.

NEW MEMBERS OF BOARD OF HEALTH.

Councillor White introduced a by-law to amend the by-law appointing the board of health for the year 1893.

Moved by Mr. White, seconded by Mr. Winch that the resignations of Dr. Fife Wm. Lech and Dr. Brennan as members of the Board of Health be accepted.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. McIlwaine, seconded by Mayor Kendry that Mr. G. M. Roger be appointed in place of Dr. Fife.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Bradburn, seconded by Mayor Kendry that Dr. McGrath be appointed in place of Dr. Brennan.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Cahill, seconded by Mr. Winch, that Mr. Pearse be appointed in place of Mr. Lech.

Moved in amendment by Mr. McIlwaine, seconded by Mayor Kendry that Mr. T. A. Hay be appointed in place of Mr. Lech.

On a vote the amendment carried.

RELIEF OFFICER APPOINTED.

Mr. Winch introduced a by-law to appoint a relief officer for the town of Peterborough. The by-law was duly passed the name being filled in by Mr. Robt. Pope at a salary of $100 per year.

CHEAPER WATER RATES.

Mr. Kelly asked the chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee if at its last meeting anything was said in reference to the waterworks purchase by the town.

Mr. Cahill—That question was not discussed.

Mr. Kelly said that if the matter was referred to that committee we would be in a position to get cheaper water rates. He moved, seconded by Mr. Dennistoun, that the matter of the purchase of the waterworks and of getting a lower water rate be referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee, to report to this council.—Carried.

SUPPLIES FOR THE FIRE HALL.

Mr. Cahill moved, seconded by Mr. White, that the clerk and treasurer be and are hereby authorized to issue cheques from time to time upon the order of the chairman of the Fire Water and Light Committee for feed required for the horses in the fire hall.

After some discussion the matter was referred to the Finance Committee.

NUMBERS FOR THE CARTERS.

Mr. McIlwaine thought that the carters should have the number of their licenses given to them and save the trouble of running to the clerk's office all the time.

Moved by Mr. McIlwaine, seconded by Mr. Dennistoun, that Printing Committee be authorized to have the carters by-law printed if deemed advisable—Carried.

RETURN OF COLLECTOR'S ROLL.

Moved by Mr. Dennistoun, seconded by Mr. McIlwaine, that the time for returning the collector's roll be extended until March 1st next.—Carried.

CHEMICAL FIRE ENGINE PROPOSAL.

Mr. Evison was heard in reference to the purchase of a chemical engine. He said his communication to the council contained nearly all he wanted to say and he could bring before them a host of proof that the chemical engine is a powerful fire extinguisher and one of the best appliances for that purpose made. He then read testimonials from Chief Atchison, of the Hamilton Fire Brigade; town engineer, Kingston; Chief of fire department, Victoria, and other places. The chemical engines long had passed their trial and the Underwriters' Association had given them their endorsation. The possession of one reduced fire insurance rates in a town. The Underwriters Association were willing to reduce $3,500 of premium insurance in Peterborough and place her in class "A" conditional on the purchase of a chemical engine. An engine would cost $2,500, and it would be in the interest of safety and economy for the town to purchase an engine.

Moved by Mr. Cahill, seconded by Mr. Stevenson, the matter of the purchase of a chemical engine by the town be referred to the whole committee.

OTHER MATTERS UP.

The matter of the Edison conduit pipe, and the communications relating thereto, were, after some discussion referred to the Finance Committee.

Mr. Bradburn moved that the town clerk be instructed to notify the sureties of the contractors for snow ploughing in the north and south wards that good work was not being done.

The clerk said he had notified the contractors once but they had paid no attention.

The matter was dropped with the understanding that if after the second notice they did not do the work to the satisfaction of street inspector the matter would be referred to the town solicitor.

Mr. Bradburn's motion carried and the council then adjourned

GRAFTING THE CHERRY.

BULLETIN 17 OF THE CENTRAL EXPERIMENTAL FARM.

Grafting for Disseminating the Cherry Successful—Figures Showing How the Work is Done—A Method Which Has Advantages over Common Cleft-grafting.

Bulletin 17 of the Central Experimental Farm at Ottawa, Canada, gives an account of the experiments which were made there, under the direction of Mr. John Craig, horticulturist of the farm. Descriptions are given of twenty varieties, including a number from northern Europe with accurate photographs. Of those which possess exceptional hardiness are Nladimir, Bessarabian and Schatten Amarelle. Another list which comprises varieties not quite so hardy, but which will grade with hardiness with the Wealthy apple, are Spate Amarelle, Fouches' Marello, Minnesota Osthem, Brusseler Braun. These varieties have been disseminated in the colder regions of Canada, where the tenderer varieties of the cherry will not grow, with the hope that they may prove valuable.

The same Bulletin describes the method which has been adopted with success for grafting for disseminating the cherry. The average results show gain of fifty per cent. with what is termed crown-grafting over other methods. It is performed early in spring on the young stocks in the nursery row and slightly below the surface, or the stocks may be taken up and grafted in the winter within doors, by the process not unlike that of the common root-grafting of nurserymen. The accompanying figures show the manner in which the work is done. The graft with its bud is inserted in the cut made with a sharp knife, and the parts are firmly drawn together with a small cord or ligature. This method appears to have the advantage possessed by common cleft-grafting of a firm pressure of the cut surfaces together, at the same time that a smooth union is effected by graft and stock being nearly of equal size. It has the advantage over whip grafting in bringing the two faces with a stronger pressure together.

In our own experiments, says the Country Gentleman, we have never found any method equal in success to common cleft-grafting, and by doing the work early in spring and while some snow yet remains, we have not lost one graft in fifty; but we had the advantage of the use of the grafting shears, figured and described on page 101 of the American Fruit Culturist. This instrument cuts off the stock at a single stroke, and makes the cleft with perfectly smooth cut surfaces. In using this tool it is necessary that the stock be at least three-fourths of an inch in diameter in order that the pressure may be sufficient between stock and graft.

Fig. 1 shows the position of the inserted graft, and fig. 2 the cut in the stock before insertion.

The Hens in Winter.

The success in feeding any kind of stock depends upon the proper variety, character and seasonableness of the food supplied. While poultry usually fills so small a place on the average farm, as compared with the other lines of production, that it is scarcely considered worthy of attention, the fact is, it might be made much more remunerative than it is, by a very little additional expense. A writer in the American Cultivator says: One of the best articles of diet to make hens lay in the Winter is cabbage. The outer leaves of the heads that are used on the table should be given to them. They should not be chopped up, as many think, but should be tied in a bunch and hung up by a stout strap from some beam. Then let the fowls peck at the bunch until there is nothing left. They enjoy working for their living, and there is nothing better for them. One great fault with Winter fowls is that they have their food prepared for them so carefully that they have no ambition to walk and scratch around. Make the chickens work and they will lay more. Occasionally a whole head of cabbage should be hung up in this way.

Meat mixed up with the scraps of crumbs from the table should be fed to the chickens at least once a week. One of the best forms of meat is good liver, for this is highly relished, and of great benefit. Where bone can be ground up fine in a mill it is well to feed it with the meat. There are certain mineral elements in ground bone that give muscle and sinew to the chickens in the Winter, and at the same time appear to stimulate their laying capacities. Iron in some form is of great value to the chickens, as well as to human beings.

Half-Yearly Creameries.

There is no reason that the Winter dairy should not pay as well as the Summer, except that the dairymen do not provide for the conditions which make it possible. The cows must have proper food and comfortable quarters and must come into milk at the proper time to maintain a good flow of milk through the Winter. An exchange says: About this season of the year many creameries go into Winter quarters, so to speak. And yet we presume that they would not willingly do this could the necessity be avoided. Private creameries, that is those owned and operated by one man, are run for the money there is in the business, and not for the fun of the thing nor primarily to benefit the dairy interests of the community in which they may be located. So it is with co-operative creameries, or should be, the only difference being that the profits in the former case go into the pockets of the individual creamery owner while in the latter case they are divided among the patrons. But in both cases it is found necessary, in many localities, to close the creamery doors as soon as the Winter season comes.

And the reason is not far to seek. Creameries can't run without cream. Cream can't be furnished without milk. Milk can't be had without milch cows and cows will not give milk the year round if their owners don't care to have them. The trouble then lies with the farmer or the dairyman. It seems unbusiness-like to follow out such a policy. In most business concerns men try to supply the market not only with the things which the market demands but when the best prices are offered for them. Everyone knows that good Winter butter commands a better price than good Summer butter. If this be true, farmers and dairymen, then why not try to get the better price! Carrying the thought to the extreme, we assert that if cows can be in milk in only one of the two seasons let it be in the Winter rather than in the Summer. We admit that it costs more in labor to properly care for Winter milch cows than Summer cows, and yet cows must be fed and cared for in Winter whether they are being milked or not. Winter feed may be obtained in time and need not cost more for Winter use than for Summer. Cows will need grain and succulent food should be provided and warm quarters given, but if the product brings twice as much is not your money and time well invested?—Western Rural.

But as the whole southern front of the house is built of glass Prof. Morse has run against a snag in the shape of the McKinley bill. The tax on the glass varies from one and three-eighths to three and one-eighth cents per pound and foots up a total that would perhaps have kept him in coal for the winter.

Feeding Colts.

If the feeding of the horse is of importance, the feed of the growing colt needs attention. Certainly it is quite as necessary that a growing colt should be fed right, as that a work horse be kept in good condition. But with many of our farmers all of the attention is given to the work horse and the colt is left to shirk for himself. The following suggestions from the Horse Monthly will be read with interest:

"There are nearly as many fads and fancies about feeding colts and young horses as there are owners. There is, of course, a danger of their getting over-fat if fed too highly, but there is to my mind a disposition to oftener cross the border line of danger, by drawing upon a colt's resources of strength, when the resources are too much exhausted. A growing colt needs to be fed heavier than a mature horse, and in some particulars needs to be varied from the bill of fare that is given to older horses. There is a prevailing opinion that clover hay is not fit to feed to a horse at all, and, while I would not feed a road or track horse clover when grown, I would feed no other when the same animal is young. The regime I practice is milk- grass, clover, timothy.

"Milk first, because it can digest and assimilate it, and the rest in their regular order for precisely the same reason. If any who read this are skeptical let them test it and see. Feed one colt timothy, another clover, or feed the same one each kind of hay at different times. Then throw out the manure where the rain can fall on it and it washes away the digested portion. You will be surprised to see how completely the clover is digested and how entirely undigested is the timothy.

"I need hardly add that a colt's ration apart from the hay it eats should be more varied than the older horse. No one kind of feed is perfect. Hence the need of variety."

The International Sunday school lessons for the current season treat in part of the restoration of the Jews and the rebuilding of Jerusalem and the temple, after the Babylonish captivity. In this connection Prof. W. J. Bucher's remark finds application, that "a good deal of cherished interpretation of Isaiah goes to pieces before the newly discovered inscriptions—although the statements of the old prophet remain intact." An esteemed religious contemporary quotes this dictum, and adds: "The reference is to the old views in regard to Cyrus, which, because of the mention of his name by Isaiah, inferred that he was a monotheist, and for that reason shattered the Babylonian idols and befriended the Israelites as of the same faith as himself. But the cuneiform inscriptions recovered of late years show that this is an entire mistake, for Cyrus was as ready to restore the demolished temple of the Merodach and Bel and Nebo as he was the worship of Jehovah. Religion with him (as afterwards with the Cæsars) was a matter of State policy. This fact makes havoc of the old interpretations of his conduct, but, as Prof. Bucher observes, in no wise affects the statements of the evangelical prophet. Nowhere is Cyrus spoken of as a worshiper of God or an adherent of Jehovah's religion, but merely as an instrument of the Lord in restoring the covenant people to their own land. Archæology will yet shatter many a pretentious human theory, but it will confirm the Divine Word."

Thomas White, P. M., River Joseph, Que., writes:—"Having used Dr. William's Pink Pills, I find that they are undoubtedly the best blood purifier and reconstructor of a weakened and debilitated constitution that can be found.' Bronchitis cured.

Gentlemen,— I suffered four or five years from bronchitis and a severe hacking cough, and could get nothing to do me any good. A friend told me to get Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, and I did so with good results. Two bottles cured me and I hardly know what a cold is now.

Florette's Sensible Suggestions on Dress Points.

To day's picture shows a loose-yoked dress for a little girl. The material is red velvet and the trimming is white or cream lace which forms a yoke and moderately high cuffs. The back and front breadths are simply pleated and fastened under the yoke, from which they hang loosely. The dress is lined and has wide leg of mutton sleeves.

Don't be inveigled into buying cheap quality of ribbons for the children or yourself. Remember, a good ribbon will dye soft and good as new. You can bundle all your old and soiled lengths of ribbon together, and away to the dye house with them. They will all dye black and one will be as good as the other. You can then select your next dress with a view to your wealth of black ribbon, and so save money. Set a row of loops around the armholes, and a row on a belt that shall bind your waist just under the arms. Set a rosette in the back and let long ends hang down. If you have still more, bind lengths around and around your waist. Then you will have a renovated bodice at once.

Silk petticoats need not be of silk, that is, all of them need not. Brilliantine does very well. It is nice and stiff, and comes in as pretty colors as any one could want. Serge petticoats are all right, too, and bright red felt trimmed with black velvet is as chic as need be. The excuse for all this is that silk really isn't very warm these cold days, and there is little comfort for a red nose in the thought that it was contracted by wearing an insufficient silk skirt. If you insist on the elegance you can have your silk lined with fine flannel, but of course the crispness which is the best part of the skirt is all gone once that is done. You may better have your skirt of very fine flannel, and trim it with a lot of pinked out fluffy silk ruffles. The effect will be quite that of a silk skirt and your nose will get a pretty pink, perhaps, but it won't get red.

The first finished bowie knife was made in Philadelphia. In 1827 Colonel James Bowie, afterward one of the heroes of the Texan war for independence, in a sanguinary fight at Natchez, drew his knife, which had been made from an old file, and with it killed Major Norris Wright. After the conflict the weapon was sent to Philadelphia, where it was fashioned into the blade which afterward became famous as the "Bowie knife."

DOMINION PARLIAMENT

DEBATE ON THE CONFERENCES AT WASHINGTON.

A Full Report Asked For—It Has Gone to Downing-street First—No More Tariff Debates Till the Government Policy is Announced.

OTTAWA, Feb. 7.—Yesterday's session of the House was a short one, adjournment taking place at 6 o'clock, but quite a good deal of useful business was done in the way of answering questions and passing motions for papers.

Mr. Lepine introduced his bill making eight hours a legal day's work on Government works, which was read the first time.

Mr. Campbell was informed by Sir Adolphe Caron that the postmaster at Guilds, Kent County, Ontario, had resigned and his son had been appointed in his place.

Sir John Thompson stated in reply to Mr. Somerville that the Government had paid about $13,000 as costs in the legal contestation over the question of the right of the Manitoba Legislature to abolish separate schools, and there was a little more to pay, but he did not know how much. He also stated that it was not the intention of the Government to bear the expenses connected with the hearing of the Manitoba minority by the Governor-General in Council.

The three questions with reference to the Royal Commission on the liquor traffic which were agreed on at the meeting of the prohibition members of the House held a few days ago were asked by Messrs. Scriver and Dickey.

Hon. Mr. Foster in reply stated that the Government expected to receive the report of the commission before next session, that it was intended to place a sum in the estimates for having the report printed, and that if the report was received early enough it would be presented and distributed before next session.

Hon. Mr. Ouimet, in replying to Mr. Devlin as to who was the contractor for coal for the public buildings at Ottawa, said that the contract for anthracite was let to C. C. Ray & Co. at $5.73 per ton. No contract for bituminous had been let, as the Government had enough on hand at its workshops in Sorel, and that for several years past the Government had specified in calling for tenders for bituminous coal that it was to be Nova Scotia coal.

In making his motion for all the papers in the Manitoba School case, Hon. Mr. Lariviere said that he considered the case as sub-judice, and therefore would not say anything on the merits of the case. All he desired was to have all the papers brought down so that the House may be seized of the facts. The motion passed.

Several motions that cover coal oil to be placed on the free list were on the order paper, but were allowed to stand, it being understood that there will not be any more tariff debates until after Hon. Mr. Foster has announced the Government's tariff policy.

Mr. Smith Ontario) in moving for copies of all orders in council now in force regulating the slaughtering of swine in bond for exportation, took occasion to speak against the proposal lately made by the pork packers that the hog quarantine regulations should be relaxed so as to facilitate the importation of American hogs for slaughter during the spring when Canadian hogs were scarce, so as to keep the pork packing establishments going. Mr. Smith opposed any greater facilities being given the packers, holding that if any additional facilities were given American hogs may be imported in such large quantities as to glut the market and materially affect the price of Canadian hogs.

The debate of the day sprang up on Mr. Tisdale's motion for copies of all correspondence, papers and documents not already laid before the House, in reference to negotiations and communications between the Government and the United States in reference to reciprocity, canal tolls and wrecking and towing.

Hon. Mr. Mills asked if this would include the report of the interview which had taken place with reference to reciprocity.

Hon. Mr. Foster said that all the information possible had been given with respect to the matter which had been settled. Some matters had been discovered which had not been settled.

Mr. Charlton said that certain changes had been made, that a truthful version of what took place at the conference had not been made by the Canadian Ministers, and, therefore, the people were desirous of knowing the whole truth of the matter. Statements had been made by the United States Secretary of State and the Minister of Finance which did not agree, and he was anxious that the House should have all the information given it.

Mr. Davies thought that as the Finance Minister had take the press into his confidence he ought to give the House all the documents, so that it could judge whether it was the Canadian ministers or the United States ministers who had made misrepresentations as to what occurred.

Sir John Thompson said that he wouldn't vouch for a stenographer's report of what had occurred, but a very full report had been made out and sent to Her Majesty's Government, and the Canadian Government had applied for permission to bring down this report. An answer was expected in a day or two.

Hon. Mr. Laurier: We understand, then, that there was a protocol?

Sir John Thompson said that it must be remembered that the conference was to be of an informal character. It was only after the conference was concluded that permission was obtained to make part of the result public, and that had been done.

Mr. Mulock did not see what the Imperial Government has to do with a matter which concerned only Canada and the United States. He blamed the Government for trying to shelter itself behind the Imperial Government.

After some further discussion Sir John Thompson said that the member for North York (Mulock) had charged the Government with trying to shelter itself behind the Imperial Government. Such expressions might add vigor to the debate, but they could only have the effect of deceiving the House as to the true position of affairs. The honorable gentleman forgot that when the conference was sought for by the Canadian Government it was arranged to take place between the British Minister at Washington and the Secretary of State of the United States. The conference was, therefore, negotiated through the diplomatic representative of Her Majesty's Government and was conducted in his presence and by his authority, and, therefore, Her Majesty's Government had something to do in regard to the subsequent proceedings and ought to be consulted concerning the same. At the conclusion of the conference the assent of all parties concerned was necessary to whatever was to be made public. What has been agreed on to make public was already brought down. Hon. gentlemen now wanted conversations that occurred in regard to matters on which no agreement was reached. Before doing so the assent of the Imperial Government was necessary. The statement that he (Sir John) made in his Toronto speech contained nothing further than what the Finance Minister had stated in the House last year. Until now no formal motion had been made to Parliament to bring this part of the record down.

The motion was carried, as well as three or four more motions for papers, and the House adjourned at 6 o'clock.

D'Alton McCarthy arrived in town yesterday and took his old seat There are no cross benches in either House here. There is such a thing, however, in the House of Lords, and that is the origin of the term as exemplified by the Prince of Wales and the Duke of York occupying such bench at the opening of Parliament the other day. Mr. McCarthy came in just before the Speaker took the chair, and when Mr. Foster, the Minister of Finance, came in he moved over and shook hands with the latter, and when Sir John Thompson came in the member for North Simcoe also extended his hand to the Premier and met with proper reciprocation.

The Government has received information that the French Government has put in force a new tariff for St. Pierre and Miquelon by which nearly all Canadian products are admitted free or at very low rates of duty.

Uncle Jerry Rusk's scheduling of Canadian cattle causes more amusement than anything else here. It cannot very well hurt the cattle trade between Canada and the United States because that has dwindled to next to nothing, partly on account of the McKinley bill and partly because of late years the lean cattle, which used to go to the United States, have been going to Great Britain.

It is not likely to have any effect in England, as the Canadian Government has within the past few days submitted to the Imperial authorities a most exhaustive report on the cattle question, in which it is most conclusively shown that there has never been any pleuro-pneumonia in Canada, and a free offer is made to pay the expenses of any experts the British Government may send over to make any examination and investigation they please.

Yesterday the Select Committees of the Commons were struck. Messrs. Leclair and Northrup were added to the privileges and elections; Belley to expiring laws; Belley, Boyd, Bryson, Calvin, Cleveland, MacLean, McDonald, McInnerney, Leclair, Lachapelle, Proulx, Jeanotte, to Railways and Canals; McInerney and Colter to Standing Orders; Costigan, Lakville, Lepine and MacLean to Printing; Chesley, McInerney, Boyd and Belley to Private Bills; Bryson, Carscallen, Chesley, Joncas, Jeanotte, Lowell and Ouimet to Public Accounts; Boyd, Calvin, Caron, Carscallen, Chesley, Lachapelle, Colter and Lowell to Banking and Commerce; Boyd, Calvin, Jeanotte, McDonald, (Huron) McDonald (Assiniboia) to Agriculture and Colonization.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

HOT DISCUSSION ON THE ANNEXATION QUESTION.

Hon. Mr. Foster Will Make His Budget Speech Next Week—The First Liberal Caucus—It Is Decided To Keep Attacking the N.P.

OTTAWA, Feb. 8.—On the motion to go into Committee of Supply yesterday Mr. Charlton made the personal statement which he promised yesterday when attention was called to the visits made by Mr. Charlton and others to Washington. The debate lasted about two hours, and at 5.30 the House went into committee and passed several penitentiaries' items.

Mr. Charlton, in his explanation, denied that he was disloyal and strongly objected to the Liberal party being charged with disloyalty. He charged the Government and the Government press with constantly misrepresenting the Liberal party. The charges of disloyalty hinted against the Liberals were such as to make the people of the United States believe the country was ripe for annexation.

It was perfectly true that there was a certain amount of unrest in the country. The party in power was responsible for this dissatisfaction. He denied that the Liberal party advocated annexation. There was not a Liberal in the House of Commons who had done so. The policy of the Liberals was not revolutionary in its tendencies. It was malignant, untruthful and slanderous to accuse Liberals of disloyalty.

"I repudiate," he said, "these attacks; I spurn them!" [Cheers and laughter.]

He said that he happened to be born in the United States, but he was of Scotch and English origin and was proud of the family to which he belonged. Under the laws of Britain he was, therefore, a British subject. As to his place of birth, it was a matter with which he had little to do. [Laughter.]

He was not consulted. He lived in Canada since his boyhood, but there were some of his Conservative friends who thought that 40 years' residence was not sufficient to naturalise him. He repudiated the charge of being a traitor.

As to his recent visit to Washington he said that he had a perfect right to be there if he saw fit. His business was of a private character, but after that was through he had a talk with American politicians of things Canadian. He had advocated no views that were not for the interest of the Dominion. Instead of there being an eagerness on the part of the United States to swallow up Canada, he found that nine out of every ten men knew very little about Canadian affairs. In speaking to Americans about Canada he urged forbearance such as ought to be expected in a larger country dealing with a smaller. He was satisfied that reciprocity could be brought about between the two countries, not such a reciprocity as the Canadian Government wanted, which would be altogether in favor of Canada, but one that would be fair to both Canada and the States.

John G. Carlisle, who was in direct line for the presidency, was in favor of making a statutory offer in favor of reciprocity, as also was W. J. Springer of Illinois.

The member for North Norfolk said he went to Washington and told the politicians a great deal. He did not tell the House what he had to say about machine politicians and French Catholic leaders. What was the difference between the two parties on this question? The Conservative party has always held that, in the first place, we are Canadians and in the second place that we are British subjects and that we intend to establish Canadian authority on this continent and conduct our own diplomatic affairs. This was not the case with the Opposition, whose policy was not a patriotic one.

Mr. Fraser spoke at length, defending Mr. Longley, and stating that there were no annexationists in Nova Scotia, neither among the Liberals nor Conservatives. He did not hear the Conservatives attack Mr. Sol White because he was an annexationist.

Dr. Montague: The gentlemen is not stating the facts.

Mr. McGregor: I have heard Mr. White talk annexation.

Dr. Montegue stated that Mr. White had recently declared that he was not an annexationist, but he preferred annexation to the miserable policy of hon. gentlemen opposite.

Mr. Hazen said that he never accused the Liberals of being any more disloyal than the Conservatives. The country, he believed, was loyal to the core. He, however, did accuse them of having Edward Farrer as their leading editorial writer on their organ, The Toronto Globe, during the last general elections. If Mr. Longley was not an annexationist, it might be said of him that "language was given to man to conceal one's thoughts."

Mr. Sutherland said that it was lowering the dignity of the House bringing up the question at all, and he would not have said anything in connection with the debate but for the fact of what the member for Haldimand (Montague) had said about Sol White. He (Sutherland) then went on to show that White gave a lecture in Woodstock in favor of annexation. He did not believe that either Conservatives or Liberals were disloyal in Canada.

Mr. Tisdale did not understand that any Conservative member accused the members of the Opposition of being disloyal, although the action of the member for the North Riding of Norfolk (Charlton) might have given some grounds for criticism. He went on to show that a deliberate fraud was imposed on the Liberals of his riding by certain parties calling a meeting and passing an annexation resolution and having it telegraphed all over the country that the Liberals of the riding declared for continental union. The speeches of Mr. Charlton at Washington, Buffalo and Chicago, as reported in the Liberal press, gave some good grounds for remarks against the member for the North Riding of Norfolk. The Norfolk Reformer, the organ of the Liberals in the riding, came out in favor of continental union, and the secretary of the Liberal Association was the gentleman who wrote the leading article for that newspaper. It was Mr. Charlton's duty, if he was in earnest, to denounce this.

Dr. Landerkin followed, after which the matter dropped, and the House went into supply. After passing a few items the House rose, it being 6 o'clock.

After recess the House again went into supply and sat until [illegible] passing a large number of items.

On the item for legislation Mr. Speaker made a statement about the defalcations in the accountants' office. He said that the amount taken by the accountant and assistant accountant was $2200, which had been made good by the Guarantee Co. In reply to Dr. Landerkin, he said it was not true that any part of the shortage consisted of the indebtedness of members of Parliament.

Just prior to adjournment Hon. Mr. Foster announced that he would make his budget speech next week, but he could not state exactly what day.

Mr. Nathaniel Boyd, member for Marquette, who succeeds the Hon. R. Watson, Liberal, was introduced yesterday afternoon by Sir John Thompson and Mr. Hugh John Macdonald, who arrived with Mr. Boyd this morning, and took his seat for the first time this session.

Mr. Grieve will ask on Thursday whether it is the intention of the Government to have the voters' lists revised this year.

Mr. Bowers has asked whether the Government proposes taking any steps towards building nurseries and hatcheries for systematically increasing the propagation and distribution of codfish in the bays and waters of Canada.

A TRAMP'S LOT.

He Was Locked Up and Frozen in Ancaster.

ANCASTER, Ont., Feb. 8.—Ancaster village yesterday morning was shaken from its centre to its circumference by an exciting incident which occurred at the lockup. It seems that the village constable yesterday afternoon threw into the dungeon a suspicious-looking individual whose only offence against society appears to have been that he was ill-clad and minus the stuff which procures meals and lodging.

The tramp didn't mind it much and the weather was genial. But during the night Jack Frost got in his work and early this morning old Mr. Markle, who has charge of the lock-up, called to see how the prisoner had spent the night. But Mr. Markle could not get in.

A pool of water had accumulated at the base of the door yesterday and this was frozen solid, adding doubly to the safeguards of the prison. Markle went to the blacksmith shop, heated irons and thawed the door.

When the poor tramp was found he was more dead than alive. He said he had had a great many chilling experiences in his travels, but hopes never again to strike such accommodation as was provided him in Ancaster.

AN ALLEGED FORGER.

He Was Bookkeeper For the Walkerville Brewing Company.

WINDSOR, Ont., Feb. 8.—George Gilbert of Walkerville was arrested yesterday at the instance of the Walkerville Brewing Company, charged with forgery. Some time ago Gilbert was dismissed from his position as bookkeeper for the company. Auditors have been going over the books, and it is alleged Gilbert's accounts are short several hundred dollars.

The specific charge set forth in complaint is that on Dec. 23 Gilbert raised figures on a receipt from $216 to $2216. Gilbert protests his innocence. He was remanded until Thursday.

BURNED TO DEATH

In Full View of a Train of Passengers.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 8.—A special from Fargo says the passenger train on the Fargo and Southwestern road arriving yesterday brought in two dead bodies. A snow plow with an engine and caboose was running ahead of the passenger train Near Sheldon the tender broke away from the engine and the caboose left the track and ran down an embankment. The car caught fire and was destroyed. The three trainmen could not get out, and Conductor William Crawford and Brakeman W. J. Quinlan were burned to death in sight of the passenger train, which had arrived and was powerless to extricate the men.

Tom Smith, the third man in the caboose, was seriously injured and will recover.

RUINED FROM AN ICE JAM.

Railroad Tracks Piled With Ice—Many Factories Shut Down.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 8.—Late last night the big gorge of ice in the Beaver River at Rock Point broke and in running out caused much damage. At one point the track of the Pittsburg and Lake Erie Railway is washed out for over a mile, while for a distance of several miles the tracks are piled high with ice.

Telegraph lines have been carried away and the water is cutting under the road bed. All of the many factories along the river have been compelled to shut down while some of them have been badly damaged.

At Freeport on the Allegheny River the lower part of the town, three squares back from the river, is inundated and people are fleeing from their houses, which are being pounded to pieces by the huge blocks of ice. Many boats and rafts of lumber have been torn from their moorings and destroyed.

In a Peck of Trouble.

WINDSOR, Ont., Feb. 8.—Special Agent McCloy of the Customs yesterday laid information against Mrs. J. O. Peck and her two daughters, charging them with smuggling.

Mrs. Peck is the wife of one of Windsor's most prominent business men, and Mr. Peck proposes to fight matters to the end. He says the goods in question were purchased over three years ago, which is the time of limitation.

THE YOUNGEST IDEAS.

They Come From the Pope and Mr. Gladstone.

ROME, Feb. 8.—The Pope is much pleased with what is said in the Queen's speech in reference to Home Rule. His Holiness has had long talks on the subject with Cardinals Vaughan and Logue. The Pope said: "Gladstone and I, although the two oldest leaders, have the youngest ideas."

Another Horror in Texas.

PARIS, Texas, Feb. 8.—News was received yesterday that the body of Will Butler, a negro, had been found hanging to a limb and riddled with bullets on Hickory Creek, five miles southeast of this city.

Butler was a stepson of Henry Smith, who was cremated here Feb. 1, and made himself notorious during the search for Smith by claiming to know his whereabouts, which he would not divulge.

OUR MANUFACTURERS.

THE DOMINION ASSOCIATION IN SESSION.

A Strong Resolution Passed—No Cringing Labor—Fast Atlantic Service and the Proposed Insolvency Law Discussed—The New Officers.

TORONTO, Feb. 8.—The Canadian Manufacturers' Association held its 13th annual meeting in its office in the Canada Life building yesterday. President McNaught occupied the chair. Among those present were: George Booth, H. J. Bird of Bracebridge, Thomas Cowan of Galt, M. T. Smith, J. P. Murray, A. Carpenter of Hamilton, W. C. Phillips, John Taylor, John Bertram, James Watson, O. C. Anderson, J. W. Taylor, Robert Watson, William Ponder, A. R. Clarke, John Dick, H. W. Mariatt, F. B Featherstonaugh, A. R. Wickett, P. W. Ellis, J. C. Copp, J. A. Parker, P. Freyseng, Thomas Robertson, Joseph Simpson, J. O. Thorne, Henry New, George Lapp and others.

The President delivered his address, which was well received, and it was decided to disseminate it throughout the country.

The Secretary and Treasurer's reports showed the standing and condition of the association to be most satisfactory and were accepted without discussion.

The following resolutions were adopted. Moved by R. W. Elliot, seconded by Thomas Cowan:

Whereas, in the opinion of this association the National Policy is steadily effecting the disenthralment of the manufacturing and other industrial interests of Canada; whereas it has knit and woven into one homogeneous whole the different provinces, solidifying them into a great and prosperous nation; whereas it has produced among the people a feeling of security, of national pride and of commercial and industrial independence, without which no people can attain to the acme of happiness and prosperity; therefore be it resolved that the continued development of Canada and the happiness and prosperity of the Canadian people demand a perpetuity of the National Policy

Resolved, That this association hereby expresses its continued confidence in the Dominion Government, and that with the National Policy and its system of tariff protection to Canadian enterprise as its keystone it will fairly, honestly and impartially follow that line in all matters affecting the tariff and administer the Customs laws in the spirit in which they were created.

Moved by Mr. E. A. Kemp, seconded by Robert Wilson:

Whereas, according to the ethics of protection and of the N.P., while it is the duty of the Government of Canada and of the different provinces to always legislate in favor of domestic interests and of home industries, it is also and always the duty of those Governments to refrain from enacting any legislation which will in any manner injuriously affect any of those interests; and whereas free Canadian labor, especially where employed in manufactures and industries, is injuriously affected when brought into competition with convict labor; therefore, be it resolved, that this association deprecates and protests against the employment of convict labor in any manufacture or industry where the product of labor is brought into competition in the open market with the product of free labor.

Moved by P. H. Burton and seconded by E. A. Kemp:

That in the opinion of this association it would be to the interest of our merchants and manufacturers generally to have a "Dominion Insolvent Act" which, while affording the same measure of protection to creditors and relief to debtors, would also do away with the unfair system of preferential assignments which at present obtains in some provinces.

Moved by John Bertram, seconded by Thomas Cowan:

That in view of the completion of our great trans-continental railway and the fact that our system of canals and natural waterways from the upper lakes to tide water is fast nearing completion, it is of importance to every farmer, merchant and manufacturer in Canada that our facilities for carrying passengers and freight between this country and Great Britain should be put upon such a footing as will materially reduce the charges as well as the time in transit between these important points, and thus enable our people to reap the full advantage of the vast sums already spent upon our internal carrying system: this association is therefore of the opinion that the Government of Canada should grant a subsidy sufficiently large to guarantee the establishment of a fast Atlantic steamship service between this country and Great Britain.

The election of officers resulted:

President—John Bertram of Dundas.
First Vice—P. W. Ellis.
Second Vice—W. H. Law of Peterboro.
Treasurer—George Booth.
Secretary—J. J. Cassidey.
Chairman of Executive—F. Nicholls.
Chairman of Tariff Committee—R. W. Elliot.

Representatives on Board of Industrial Exhibition—J.J. Cassidey, W. R. McNaught, R. W. Elliot, G. Booth, S. May.

Resolutions of thanks to the officers of 1892 were passed.

Five Sailors Drowned.

POINT PLEASANT, N.J., Feb. 8.—The Norwegian bark Alice, Captain Jacobsen, from Dunkirk, Dec. 2, for New York, in ballast, went ashore last night at the Long Beach, N.J., life-saving station. Before an attempt was made to rescue the crew by the life-saving station, five of the crew of the bark attempted to land in their own boat, but it was capsized and all were drowned.

The life-saving crew finally succeeded in getting a life line attached to the bark, and by use of the breeches buoy rescued the 11 remaining members of the bark's crew, including the captain. The vessel will probably prove a total loss.

Stage Driver Frozen.

SEATTLE, Feb. 8.—The extreme cold causes great suffering. A coal famine is possible.

The stage arrived at Coales from Columbia with the driver frozen to death. The stage route has therefore been abandoned.

The Wall Fell On Them.

MONTREAL, Feb. 8.—Two men were killed outright and three seriously injured yesterday by the falling of a wall at the Rolland ruins, left by the great fire of Friday morning. The men were engaged pulling down the wall at the time. The killed were Therien and Lecoure. The men seriously injured are Marcil, Thibadeau and Miroux.

Somewhat More Merciful.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 8.—A special commission has prepared a bill providing for the abolition of corporal punishment of women exiled to Siberia, and forbidding the manacling of their feet during transportation.

NORWOOD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Large quantities of cedar posts are being hauled to the station now. The principal buyers are John Baskin & Bro., Norwood, S. J. Wilson & Co., Toronto, and D. L. Van Vlack, Toronto.

Messrs G. Reynolds, J. Ducett and H. Beckett have secured the contract for supplying our townspeople with ice. They are using the ice on the big pond near the station.

A fairly attended concert was given under the auspices of the band in the town hall on Friday evening. The principal attraction was the Greene Family, of Stirling. The singing of Master Carlos and Miss May Greene was very good.

On Saturday morning about three o'clock one of the fair residents of King street was aroused by the screams of some individual who seemed to be near the house; she awoke one of the male inmates and he went out to see, when to his surprise he found one of the most consistent male members of "Joe Bowers'" creed lying near the door. On examining him he found that the man's feet and arms were frozen. The unfortunate man was conveyed to his home.

The storm on Friday last was the worst of the season. Reports from the country say that the roads are in a very bad state. Nearly all the trains were behind time on Saturday.

A very lively runaway took place about half past eight on Saturday morning. While an employee of Huycke's livery, Hastings, was conveying a traveller to Norwood, the cutter upset, and the horse ran away. The horse came at a very lively gait up street, and when near the Methodist church ran against a post and smashed the cutter. It then went into McGregor's hotel yard and jumped the fence between J. N. Ackerman's and Miss M. N. Williams, and in so doing fell on the sidewalk. In rising its put its head through the plate glass window in Mr. Ackerman's tin shop. The animal was not injured in the least, but the cutter was badly damaged. The occupants were not hurt.

A number of our sporting men have had a course laid out on the pond and are now trying the speed of their equines.

Another child of Mr. C. Andrews, of Dummer, succumbed to that dread disease, diphtheria, on Sunday. Mr. Andrews has the sincere sympathy of the community.

Miss Richardson, of Percy, spent a few days with Miss Mabel Nicoll last week.

A great deal has been said in reference to the downfall of the Y. M. C. A., but as yet no true report has been given. The Association was organized about a year ago, through the efforts of two or three young men. Everything started out under favorable circumstances but a short time after the organization, the projectors ceased having anything to do with the association. Some of the residents did not want the society to go to the bottom and they did all in their power to keep it up, but they found it was impossible to do so, and the directors had to have the furnishings sold to meet expenses. Too much praise cannot be given Mr. J. Davidson, M.A., and to P. Plant for their untiring efforts on behalf of the association.

The Messrs. Baskin have opened out a general store in their block, Colborne St.

The residents of this place were shocked to hear of the death of their old friend, Rev. D. F. Gee, of Newcastle. Mr. Gee was stationed here for three years and was loved and respected by all. The family have the sincere sympathy of their many friends in their sad affliction.

Mr. Thistlewaite of Stayner, who has been visiting in this locality, left for his home on Monday morning.

Mr. B. F. Ackerman of Peterboro', was in town on Sunday.

We are all glad to know that our band mean to get a "move on" this year. They intend purchasing some new instruments and other requisites. It is understood they are soliciting some of our young men to join the band, and it is to be hoped they will succeed.

On Tuesday last one of the oldest and most respected residents of Norwood, Mr. D. Stenson, passed away. His funeral took place on Friday and was largely attended. The Rev. J. Gibson conducted the services at the house and grave.

A concert will be given in the town hall on Thursday evening in aid of the poor of the village.

Rev. J. M. A. Spence, of Haliburton, and brother-in-law of Mrs. (Dr.) Cochrane, of this place, has received and accepted an invitation to be pastor of the Methodist church, Manitou, Manitoba.

THE QUESTION OF A CHEMICAL ENGINE.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—Having been at the council meeting last night, and heard the discussion in reference to the purchase of a chemical fire engine, I desire to add a little to the consideration of the subject.

This is the second or third time that the attention of the council has been drawn to this excellent fire-fighting appliance. The matter was relegated to a committee of the whole council to deal with. It is to be hoped that it will receive the serious consideration that it merits, for it involves not only a question of the further safety of our town against the ravages of fire but also one of economy. It is stated that the purchase of this engine, which would cost $2,500, would be the means of raising our insurance classification from B to A, and thus effect a reduction of premiums paid by our property owners to the extent of $3,500 per year. This matter was gone into before, we believe, by your own townsman, Mr. Adam Hall, when he was on the council, who showed clearly that an immense financial benefit would accrue to the town by putting this engine into service. His figures were about the same as those given to the present council. Hence it is of the first importance that the council should address itself to the consideration of the subject at once and seriously. I do not advocate an expenditure of public money unless the town secures a full equivalent, and I would be prompt to sternly condemn any squandering tendency that the council may betray, but here is an expenditure which I consider is dictated by a sense of public good and advantage. Besides being a most efficient and reliable means of extinguishing fires and saving property, this apparatus is indorsed by the Fire Underwriters' Association, and the insurance companies are willing to reduce their premium insurance from the town to the extent of $3,500 annually if this apparatus is placed in commission. With this and the present hydrant service, and efficient fire brigade, the town would feel greater security, and feel satisfied that we would be able to cope with any kind of fire that may occur. I trust, therefore, that the council will bestir themselves and act with becoming promptitude. We have reason to believe that our prominent business men and property owners are almost unanimously in favour of this purchase, and the council will be guilty of culpable neglect should it display any indifference or delay in dealing with it on its merits.

Yours very truly,
INSURANCE.

ONEMEE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Very little sickness reported.

Old settlers say this is an old-fashioned winter.

The roads from here to Peterborough during the winter were never more favorable for traffic, and the number of teams going east every Wednesday and Saturday to the market conclusively prove the fact.

Wm. Miller, of Peterborough, recently removed from here, speaks highly of the place. He has ample means to make his home in Peterborough happy for himself, besides being a kind and useful member of society.

Quite a few of our citizens attended the entertainment in the Lindsay opera house last Saturday night, and were delighted with the opera and music.

The new hotel here owned by the Peterboro company, will shortly be opened, and no place in the Dominion affords a better chance for a first-class man, capable of knowing how to run a first-class house properly.

There is revival service going on here for some time, but as yet no one has became so sincerely affected as to go out and distribute their money amongst the poor or do any other acts of charity.

Lorne Lodge, A. F. and A. M., held their regular meeting last Thursday evening, and was largely attended by the brethren.

Our citizens were quite delighted when informed that the Rev. R. Johnston, B. A., of Lindsay, pastor of St. Andrew's Church had refused Toronto's offer. This is the third request that the rev. gentleman has refused of financial inducements of $1,000. Where is there his equal?

Couldn't Keep on His Feet.

PETERBOROUGH, Jan. 31st, 1892.

To the Peterborough Medicine Company:

GENTLEMEN,—If there is any medicine in the world that I pin my faith to it is Mombray's Kidney and Liver Cure. In my business I have to stand on my feet a good deal. About a year ago my back began to give out, weakening pains set in across my kidneys, I felt tired all the time and could hardly stand up to my work. I began to lose strength and at last had to give up work altogether. A customer advised me to try your cure which I did. Before half the bottle was used, I felt the pains and weakness leaving me and to-day I enjoy good health and can bear fatigue and work all right. One bottle was all I used.

ALF. HASKILL, barber.

Interested People.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for coughs and colds does it, is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle FREE, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles are 50c. and $1. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption.

NORTH MONAGHAN.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Mr. John Dobbin is very low at time of writing; in fact but slight hopes are entertained of his recovery.

Miss Lizzie Adams, of Lindsay, is visiting at the home of her aunt, Mrs. J. C. Williamson, High Park.

Mr. L. McClelland, town, is the guest of Mr. John Batten.

The Foresters' entertainment at Springville on Thursday evening last was a success.

Mr. Herb. D. Williamson is visiting his brother, Mr. R. J. Williamson, of Port Perry.

Quite a large number of friends enjoyed the hospitality of councillor T. M. Hunter, on Tuesday evening last.

On Sunday last Mr. Robert Sutherland, of town, accompanied by a couple of friends, drove out to North Monaghan, and calling at a farm house, Mr. Sutherland tied his horse to a cutter which was standing in the yard. While inside discussing the weather (?), etc., his horse became frightened and dashed through the yard, taking both cutters with him, but fortunately he was seen in time to prevent any damage being done.

Put To Flight

—all the peculiar troubles that beset a woman. The only guaranteed remedy for them is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. For women suffering from any chronic "female complaint" or weakness; for women who are run-down and overworked; for women expecting to become mothers, and for mothers who are nursing and exhausted; at the change from girlhood to womanhood; and later, at the critical "change of life"—It is a medicine that safely and certainly builds up, strengthens, regulates and cures.

If it doesn't, if it even fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back.

What you are sure of, if you use Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, is either a perfect and permanent cure for your Catarrh, no matter how bad your case may be, or $500 in cash. The proprietors of the medicine promise to pay you the money, if they can't cure you.

TO BE OR NOT TO BE "IN IT."

A Life Agent called at a friend's place one day,
HE WASN'T IN IT;
He had seen "the bare" coming and fled from her way
HE WASN'T IN IT;
He had heard so much said, he was tired and sick
Of insurance and agents—'twas all a bluff trick,
When one's still must be shuffled to win it,
HE WASN'T IN IT.

A bit of a draft blew o'er his bald head,
HE WAS IN IT;
Pneumonia sent him straightway to his bed,
HE STAYED IN IT;
His doctor made of it a "quite special" case,
To save him for running still more of life's race,
But the grave took some chances to win it,
AND HE'S IN IT.

When approached by a gent for insuring your life,
GET RIGHT IN IT;
It's the right thing to do for your children and wife,
THEN STAY IN IT.
Remember that fires take your goods "out of sight,"
And that accidents happen each day and each night.
While insurance protects every minute,
IF YOU'RE IN IT.

A Bank Manager's Opinion.

HE IS "IN IT."

The General Manager of one of the leading banks in Canada, writing to a personal friend, says:—"I have no hesitation in saying that I place the CANADA LIFE upon the highest platform. It is in my opinion carefully, economically and honestly managed; its Reserve Funds are well invested; its rates of Premiums are low, and its future is, I think better assured than a great majority of Companies. I have my own life insured in the Company for a round amount, and would not hesitate to increase the amount of my policies should I decide upon taking out further insurance."

A Government Insurance Actuary's Opinion

On the Relation between Ordinary and Tontine Service.

It is frequently assertedby Companies whose business is nearly all testined, that although the CANADA LIFE may and does pay large ordinary profits, yet it cannot compare so favourably on a long term distribution or tontine period, and that in the end better results can be obtained on a tontine policy in a large American Co. than on an ordinary or tontine policy in the CANADA LIFE. To prove the absurdity of this statement, the following piece of common sense is quoted from Mervin Tabor, late Actuary of the Illinois Goverment Insurance Department. In his well known book, "The Three Systems of Life Insurance," he says: "A company that gives large dividends on the ordinary kind of policies, can give much larger on the same kinds when Tontined, and a company that pays but meagre dividends on the usual forms, adopting perhaps the Tontine system to "cover up" its small surpluses, cannot be relied on for large returns of surplus under the Tontine Forms of Insurance."

The CANADA LIFE does not "cover up" its Quinquennial profits as some Companies do, but publishes them throughout the country.

It can and does surpass other Companies on Quinquennial profits. It should and will surpass them on Tontine profits.

WHY TO BE "IN IT."

BISHOP HAWEN'S REASON:—"I claim that Life Insurance is not only a humane, but I might say a Christian Institution."

LORD LYNDHURST'S REASON:—"A Policy of Life Insurance is always an evidence of prudent forethought. No man with a dependent family is free from reproach if not insured."

WHEN TO BE "IN IT."

The younger, the cheaper. Therefore insure when young. Besides by insuring in the CANADA LIFE now, you will share in three years' profits.

WHERE TO BE "IN IT."

The best place to be "in it" is in the Company that gives the best returns for the least money, consistent with absolute security. Therefore, in order to be "in it," choose the

LOCAL NEWS.

Pollard's Old Stand.

I have bought out the grocery, bakery and provision business formerly carried on by Mr. Pollard, 456 George street, and will continue the business in the same premises. Cakes, biscuits, pastry, etc., kept on hand and made to order. Pollard's home-made bread and buns kept on sale. J. SMITH.

Dartmoor.

The theatre goers of Peterborough have a treat in store for them on Friday, Feb. 10th, when the great comedy drama, Dartmoor, will be presented. Dartmoor is a pure, clean comedy drama of the Jim, the Penman, and Capt. Swift type, but excels both these celebrated plays in the line of comedy. The interest created becomes intense but is always relieved by the comedy which runs through the whole play. The company is one of the strongest leaving New York this season, and is headed by that sterling actor, Mr. Jack Gilmour. 1d

"Plain as a Pike-staff."

Note this fact! The original prices of our clothing is invariably rated low, and as we sell for cash, the profit is naturally lower—much lower—than a credit profit. Our clearing sale prices just now are, therefore, better than when a very large discount is taken off prices originally placed high. This is as "plain as a pike-staff" and gentlemen in search of the cheapest clothing house should always patronize the MONTREAL CLOTHING HOUSE. It's bargain day, every day, at the MONTREAL CLOTHING HOUSE.

Firemen Elect Officers.

A largely attended annual meeting of the fire brigade was held in their hall last night. Capt. J. D. Craig presided. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Afterwards Chief Rutherford took the chair and the following officers were re-elected for the ensuing year: Capt. and Asst. Chief, J. D. Craig; 1st Lieut., J. Haggart; 2nd Lieut., J. Hayes; Sec., J. H. Yelland; Tres., C. Rutherford. The Property Committee was elected, W. Turner, chairman; Finance Committe; S. Clegg, chairman. Good feeling prevailed throughout, the meeting being of a very pleasant character.

Finest climate and scenery in the world, and older than Egypt. All information at Wabash new office, N. E. Cor. King and Yonge street, Toronto. J. A. Richardson, Canadian Passenger Agent.

The Stowaway.

The Stowaway, better, fresher, stronger than ever, will be seen in this city, Monday Feb. 13, at the Opera House. All of the scenery and mechanical effects have been made new for the present season, and the yacht scene is an incomparable one, presenting as it does, a full rigged, ocean going yacht. The same celebrated, reformed burglars, "Spike" Hennessy and "Kid" McCoy, are with the company, and nightly demonstrate how, prior to the time they determined on reformation, they gained a somewhat precarious livelihood. No play of recent years has achieved greater success than "The Stowaway," by reason of the fact that it combines a series of realistic and strongly sensational scenes, with an excellently conceived plot and story; and, above all, the success of the play must be attributed in a great measure to the excellent cast of players that has always been seen with it, and the company of the present season is the best that has as yet been before the public. Every effort has been made to make this season of "The Stowaway" the crowning one both artistically and financially. 1d.

Mr. "Jack" Gilmour is a Canadian, well known especially in Eastern Canada, and Peterborough people will remember him as a member of the McDowell Company.

FRUIT GROWERS' ASSOCIATION.

Visitors for the Forthcoming Annual Meeting.

Mr. Edwards has received the following letter from the horticulturist of the Dominion Experimental Farm, which shows what a wide interest is felt in the important subject of fruit culture:

OTTAWA, Feb. 6th, 1893.

E. B. Edwards, Esq., Peterborough, Ont.:

DEAR SIR.—Thanks very much for your kind invitation to the annual meeting of the Peterborough Fruit Growers. The Ontario Minister of Agriculture and Prof. Saunders are both alive to the necessity of encouraging local societies of this kind as much as possible, and have authorized me to accept your invitation, which it gives me much personal pleasure to do. Thus far I have no engagements for the week beginning February 20th. Let me know as soon as possible when the date is fixed and try and get Woolverton also; would it not be a good idea to arrange for an evening meeting to which the townspeople might be invited.

Very truly yours,
JOHN CRAIG,
Horticulturist.

ILLTREATMENT OF CHILDREN.

A Complaint Laid Against the Parents of a Child by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.—The Defendants Discharged with a Warning—The Evidence Given.

At the police court yesterday morning Henry Shepherd and Mrs. Emma Shepherd, as was mentioned in yesterday's EXAMINER, were charged by the National Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, that on the first of February they did commit an aggravated assault upon Frederick Shepherd, a male child under 14 years of age, contrary to the statute in that behalf.

A NEIGHBOR GIVES EVIDENCE.

Mrs. Plutomen Contre, a French lady, was the first witness called in the case, and told of being at Mrs. Sheppard's house and heard her scolding the child in question and telling him that if he did not keep quiet she would give him a whipping. The child was quiet before she said this. The child had a bib on with the string around its neck. Mrs. Sheppard tied the string tight around his neck, breaking the string. The child was scared. She pulled the string and scolded him at the same time. The defendant was rough with the child who was too frightened to cry. Mrs. Sheppard's grandmother was there and said, "if you do not stop illusing that child I will leave the house. Mrs. Sheppard then took the child and beat it with her hand. She lifted its clothes and beat it. The child had done nothing wrong. Mrs. Shepherd then said she could not satisfy the witness so she would give it another licking. Witness told her if she did she would have her up. Mrs. Shepherd said she gave it a licking every morning before breakfast. When she beat the child she was too rough and then she twisted its nose. Mrs. Shepherd told witness that she had burned two straps she had used in beating the child. The child is of a previous wife, Mrs. Shepherd having no children. Mrs. Shepherd was severe and witness was angry at seeing so young a child beaten so harshly. The child is so frightened at Mrs. Shepherd that when she speaks to it, it is silent. It is naturally a good child if properly treated Mrs. Shepherd acted in a cruel way towards the child, which has nothing to sleep on except a board and a piece of linen.

THE FOREGOING EVIDENCE SUBSTANTIATED.

Philemon Richer, the next witness called, deposed that she was at the house buttering a piece of bread for the child, when its step-mother objected to the child getting butter on its bread or sugar in its tea She said anything was good enough for it. Once witness saw Mrs. Shepherd take the child from the table before it was half through its meal, and put it to bed beating it. Witness further stated that Mrs. Shepherd was, ill tempered and violent towards the child.

Mary Sawyer told a similar story, and said she would rather see the child in its grave than ill-treated the way it was. The child had a bad home. Mrs. Shepherd was witnesses' brother's daughter.

Louise Sawyer, mother of Mrs. Sheppard, told of bad usage of the child, and said it's mother was very bad tempered. The child made very little trouble.

THE MAGISTRATE GIVES A SEVERE WARNING.

The magistrate then addressed the prisoners in a pathetic appeal for proper treatment of the poor motherless child. He said that she should remember that she should treat this motherless child that had been placed in her care when she vowed to be a wife to her husband and a mother to his children as she would wish the woman to whom she would hand her own child for protection when on her death bed. A poor defenceless child of whom the witnesses all spoke so highly should have attracted her kindness rather than the brutality of inhuman abuse. It was a Christ-like act to treat a little child with care. He then concluded by saying that he would direct her and the child to be placed under close police surveillance and that she might expect to be watched much more closely than probably she would like, but he warned that any repetition of cruelty and neglect toward the child would bring disastrous consequences upon her head.

SANITARY MATTERS OVER THE OTONABEE.

First Regular Meeting of the Ashburnham Board of Health—The Business Transacted.

The new Board of Health met last night and organized. There were present Messrs. John Burnham, John Wood, J. F. Wright, Stewart Wright, Wm. Madill and Dr. Clarke, Medical Health Officer.

Mr. John Burnham was elected chairman and Mr. John Wood secretary.

Dr. Clarke stated that scarlet fever had broken out in three houses in the village, the last case being a boy attending the public school. If any further cases occurred he would advise closing the school. All necessary precautions as to isolation and disinfection had been taken.

The statute not being clear on the subject, it was moved by Mr. Madill, and seconded by Mr. J. Wright, that the Medical Health Officer be instructed to write to the Provincial Board for information as to what course should be taken in regard to schools in case of infectious disease.—Carried.

Several other matters were discussed, and the board adjourned.

Coughs and Colds.

It is no new nostrum, vended by unknown agents, but has stood the test of over fifty years; and those who use the article, internally or externally, will connect with it grateful recollections of its worthy inventor.

gradually growing worse. Three years ago I got down so low that I could scarcely walk. I looked more like a corpse than a living being. I had no appetite and for five weeks I ate nothing but gruel. I was badly emaciated and had no more color than a marble statue. Hood's Sarsaparilla was recommended and I thought I would try it. Before I had finished the first bottle I noticed that I felt better, suffered less, the inflammation of the bladder had subsided, the color began to return to my face, and I began to feel hungry. After I had taken three bottles I could eat anything without hurting me. Why, I got so hungry that I had to eat 5 times a day. I have now fully recovered, thanks to

REPORT OF PROPERTY COMMITTEE.

Mr. McBain presented the report of the Property Committee as follows:—

To the Chairman and Board:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Property Committee beg leave to report that as instructed they have fitted up the public school inspector's office with a few useful and necessary articles at a very moderate cost and it now presents a neat and comfortable appearance.

Your committee and the inspector visited Mr. Morrow's building with regard to the obtaining more school accommodation and found it would not answer the purpose as there was not closet accommodation in connection therewith. Your committee would recommend that no action be taken regarding the matter until warmer weather, as more accommodation could then be obtained if necessary at much less expense.

Your committee have made further contracts for wood, as follows:—W. H. Down, 20 cords best dry tamarac at $2.50; Ed. Mahood, 40 cords ditto at $2.25, green tamarac at $2.25, cedar at $1.50; A. Johnston, 50 cords best green tamarack at $2.25; Josiah Bullock, 15 cords maple sawed two feet long at $3.80. I attach contract for each purchase. We consider this a sufficient supply for the coming season. Your committee would also recommend that a telephone be placed in the Collegiate Institute building convenient to the inspector's office. All of which is respectfully submitted.

J. J. McBAIN, Chairman.

The report was adopted.

FLAGS FOR THE SCHOOLS.

Mr. McBain said that Mr. Stevenson had kindly offered five large flags for the various schools provided the board would put up the poles. There were no flags to any of the schools. He thought it would be well if the board would accept Mr. Stevenson's generous offer.

THE INSPECTOR'S REPORT.

Mr. J. W. Garvin, B. A., inspector, then presented his first monthly report on the state of the schools, to the board, from which extracts are given as follows:

To the Chairman and Members of the Board of Education, Peterborough, Ont.:

GENTLEMEN,—Permit me to present the following report:—

During January, 1369 pupils were enrolled with an average daily attendance of 1143 pupils or 83½ per cent. The central school enrolled 607 pupils with an average of 505; the south school 379 with an average of 312; the west school 223, average 194, and the north school 151, average 131.

Considering the fact that quite a number of the pupils entered the last week or two of January and that the cold weather and sickness kept many little ones at home, 83½ per cent. is satisfactory. I am hopeful, however, that the average daily attendance will before long exceed 90 per cent. of those enrolled.

Contrasted with January, 1892, last month shows a gain of 112 enrolled and of 146 in average attendance.

PROMOTION EXAMINATIONS.—"Promotion examinations will be held twice a year—the last week in June and the last week in January. If my staff do the teaching expected of them, about 70 per cent. or more of their pupils should be successful every examination."

TRUANTS.—"A vigorous onslaught has been made under my direction on truants and employers of children. About 100 of the former have been hunted up, most of whom are now attending school. By the close of this month I am hopeful that every Protestant child in Peterborough between the ages of eight and fourteen years will be in regular attendance at our public schools. Let me here express my appreciation of the services of Chief Rossel. No truant officer could perform his duties more faithfully and efficiently."

PROFESSIONAL MERITS OF OUR TEACHERS—"I am not yet in a position to speak authoritatively as to the individual or general merits of the members of our staff. But it is with pleasure I state that the professional spirit manifested by them has pleased me much. They are apparently characterized by enthusiasm and an earnest desire to improve where they are weak. With such a spirit possessing my teachers I have no fear for the future but hope and believe that in less than two years the premier town of Canada will also rank first educationally."

THE KINDERGARTEN—It was gratifying to me to find in Peterborough a thoroughly equipped kindergarten with a superior Director at its head. The work is most efficiently done. For January the number on the roll was 48 with an average attendance of 25. The parents of the town may not be aware that there is room for 20 pupils more."

MANUAL TRAINING—"It is my opinion that one of the greatest educational needs of Canada at the present day is increased attention given to manual training. The education of the past has tended to fit the young to earn their living by the pen or in the learned professions. There are hundreds of young men in Canada to-day, members of the learned professions or graduates of universities, who can hardly earn enough honestly to keep the wolf from the door, and hundreds of others who are on their way to the same barren fields. Why is it? Because the educators of our day train the intellect without developing at the same time manual skill and a taste therefor. The two should go hand in hand. Instead of a liking our education tends to foster a positive distaste for manual labour. In a land of such material resources, still little developed, it is time that educators were awake to its educational needs.

In the near future I shall endeavour to extend into the other grades of your public schools the excellent system of manual training so well begun in the Kindergarten.

VOCAL MUSIC AND CALISTHENICS.—Since the 6th of January the teachers have assembled at my call every Friday afternoon at 3.30, and for three Saturdays between 10 and 12 a. m., to receive instruction in vocal music, calisthenics and other matters pertaining to their professional work. They are making such progress that I can safely assert that the two first-mentioned subjects will soon be methodically and efficiently taught in the various divisions. When so taught their value can scarcely be overestimated. The former strengthens the lungs, purifies and gladdens the heart, and brightens the school and the home; the latter develops physique, strengthens the muscles, breaks up mental sluggishness and imparts grace of carriage.

In addition to the above, through the kindness of Sergt.-Major Rundle, the 4th book classes of the Central school receive instruction in drill, club swinging, dumb bell, and bar bell exercises."

ÆSTHETIC AND MORAL CULTURE.—In the public schools of this continent in the past, æsthetic culture has been much neglected. I am of the opinion that to engender and develop in the hearts of the young a love of the beautiful is an important part of a teacher's duty. It is doubtful if a true lover of the beautiful is ever found in the gutter of degradation or in the criminal's cell. As supervisor of your schools I purpose devoting no little attention to the æsthetic side of educational culture. Besides the means already mentioned, viz., vocal music and calisthenics, it is my intention to make use of beautiful pictures and flowers and of the best literature. The pictures I hope to procure by means of school concerts given under my direction, with your sanction and under your auspices. The flowers will no doubt be contributed in the spring by the pupils and parents.

In developing moral character in the young, due attention to æsthetic culture above referred to is invaluable. Apart from this the subject of discipline shall receive special prominence. There is no doubt that the Christian parent or teacher who is strong in self-control, thoroughly imbued with the principles which underlie successful discipline, sympathetic and kind, but firm, is the best of all means for the development of moral worth in children. It is equally true that the education which does not inculcate sound moral principles and train for good citizenship is a failure. Nay, more it is a positive evil. No pains will be spared by me to develop in the hearts of our boys and girls a love for the beautiful, the pure and the good."

PATRIOTISM.—What has been done in the past in Peterborough in connection with the Public Schools to awaken and foster love of country? I know not. It shall be my aim to do much in this direction. In our great Dominion there is not only much to love and to be proud of, but there is ample scope for the best brain and all of it that our country can produce. Few lands are so favoured; few nations possess the hardihood, the courage, the persevering energy and the ability of ours. Why, then, should our young men go to a foreign land for a livelihood? There is no good reason. On the contrary there is every reason why they should stay in Canada and help to work out the grand destiny that will inevitably be hers. Let you and me do everything in our power to instil into the hearts of our brave sons and fair daughters love of home, love of Canada, love of our noble British inheritance, love of the grand old flag that waves so proudly over the most glorious Empire the world has ever known.

Let a flag be provided for every schoolhouse, let school rooms resound with the stirring strains of our national songs; let self-satisfactory present with pride and power the merits of Canada and of our great Empire and widen the span of a generation the gnoble terms "Annexation" and "Political Union," as to-day understood in our midst will be unheard or unknown throughout the land. God speed the day!

Inspector's Office, Feb. 7th, 1893.

Mr. Hamilton moved, seconded by Mr. Hill, that the inspector's report be received and referred to Committee on Appointments.—Carried.

THE BRITISH FLAG FOREVER.

Mr. Hill moved, seconded by Mr. Kerguson, that the Property Committee be instructed to erect suitable flag staffs, one for the Collegiate Institute and one on each of the Ward schools. Mr. Hill said he had intended to make a motion along this line some time ago. He was sure all would thank Mr. Stevenson for his kind gift. He thought lectures of a patriotic character should be given from time to time to the pupils and teachers. It instilled a love of country in them and inspired them with love for their country's flag. He had often heard that Peterborough had less flags than any town or city in the Dominion and he would like to see this changed. The resolution was left to the property committee to find out what the cost of erecting staffs would be and report, Mr. Stevenson's gift being thankfully received.

A NEW SCHOOL BUILDING.

Mr. Hamilton said he was one of a committee appointed to visit some property to see if room could be made for the extra attendance and relieve the congested state of the schools. He moved important necessity of increased school accommodation, the property committee be instructed to have plans prepared with a view of enlarging and improving the Central school, and also plans for separate school building and submit the same to the board at the next regular meeting in March and it is understood no plans will be paid for unless adopted and accepted by the board.

FAVOURS A NEW SCHOOL BUILDING.

Mr. Dumble thought the board should consider the matter if they were going to build a six-room school and erect a separate and distinct building and not crowd the present Central school grounds any more. It was worth the inspector's consideration as to the propriety of covering these grounds with any more buildings. He thought work should be begun early in the spring, as Mr. Hamilton had suggested, and save money. The building might want to be situated near the south ward school where the attendance was about 350. A new building could be erected as cheap as an addition could be made to the Central school.

Mr. Hamilton said he and Mr. McBain had talked with Mr. Blackwell and he (Blackwell) thought a 4-room school could be added to the Central school thoroughly heated for between $4,000 and $5,000. The Central School was poorly heated and its roof was bad and it was absolutely necessary to have a new roof on, besides making other improvements. Two rooms would be on first flat, two on first storey, two on second. In reality six new rooms but two would be used by the Smead-Dowd system of heating which it was proposed to put in the building. For $5,000 or $6,000 we would have a first class Central School and he edid not think it would be a waste of money at all. They would have to spend half that amount on the old building anyway, which sadly needed repairing and modernizing. The tendency was to send all pupils to the Central School which was much over crowded.

Mr. Hartley did not think there was much to be gained by putting up an addition. If this were done they practically only gained two rooms by the erection of a $6,000 addition on the eastern side of the Central school. He was in favour of erecting a new school, and it would pay better to build a separate school building altogether.

FURTHER DISCUSSION ON THE QUESTION.

Mr. Hamilton said they would gain four rooms by the addition.

Mr. Hartley, continuing, said something must certainly be done for the overcrowded state of the South Ward school, and the addition of a few rooms would not avail much, as the increasing attendance every year would soon fill them up. He would like to see a large building erected separate and distinct, which would do for five years anyway.

Mr. Hill said Mr. Hamilton was only submitting a scheme. They would have to repair the old building anyway, which was badly ventilated and badly lighted. Two rooms in the north of the building were unfit to be used. The matter should be thoroughly considered.

WOULD EXCEED THE ESTIMATE.

Mr. Dumble asserted the cost with the Smead-Dowd system would be no less than $10,000. He would sooner put the Smead-Dowd system in the old building and repair it separate. It cost $2,500 to build a two-room addition to the South Ward school alone. He favoured building a distinct separate building and not crowding the same lot as the Central school was now on and injuring the building.

Mr. Hamilton stated it would cost $2,000 to repair and fix up the Central School alone, and an extra $3,000 would build the addition.

After some further discussion, the motion carried,

CHEAPER RATES OF INTEREST.

Mr. Wrighton said were paying a larger rate of interest and other incorporated bodies were getting it less than the Board. He moved, seconded by Mr. McBain, that the secretary of the Board ask for sealed tenders, one from each bank in town, for the lowest rate of interest they will lend us money at for the next year. That the tenders be addressed to the secretary and opened by the Finance Committee at a meeting to be called for that purpose. That the Finance Committee have power to accept the lowest tender, and make such arrangements as may be necessary to transfer the school account to another bank if required; the rate of interest to be for any amount of money this board may require during the time above specified.

After some discussion the motion carried.

SOUTH WARD SCHOOL'S LIMITED ROOM.

Mr. Ferguson moved, seconded by Mr. McBain, that extra accommodation be considered also for the South Ward school, and that the Property Committee be instructed to look into the matter, and report at the next regular meeting in March.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Hamilton, seconded by Mr. Wrighton, that the chairman of the Property Committee be instructed to purchase the desks required for the public schools as mentioned in the inspector's report.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Hill, seconded by Mr. Edgecombe, that the agreement be prepared by the solicitor for the janitors to sign in accordance with the rules laid down for their guidance and that the secretary see that they are properly executed.—Carried.

The Board then adjourned and the Committee of Appointments met. After being in consultation a few minutes the Board resumed business again, Mr. Chairman Hill presenting the report of the Committee on Appointments, which recommends that the salary of C. Barrett, janitor of the west ward school, be increased to $150 per year—$30 raise—dating from January 1st. The report also recommended that the salary of Mr. Morrow, secretary, be increased to $400 per year dating from Jan. 1st. The Property Committee were empowered to buy the supplies and articles for the schools as required in the inspector's report. The report was adopted, and the Board adjourned at ten o'clock.

Pleasure and Profit.

The desire for residing in a climate possessing qualities alike adapted to the benefits of people of weak lungs, catarrh, delicate throats, etc., is growing stronger from year to year. The mere accumulation of money at the expense of health is not regarded in the same favor as formerly. The combination of pleasure and profit is now regarded as most desirable. In no place in America is there a point where this combination exists to a greater degree than Galveston County, Texas. The wonderful growth of North Galveston and the handsome profits that are being steadily made there, both by capitalists and men of small means, has been attracting the attention of investors from all parts of the United States. The literature of the North Galveston Ass'n giving fully detailed information on the subject can be obtained from T. Hurley Peterborough, Ont. local agent of the Association. CHUTE FOR A SILO.

How to Get Ensilage Out in Handy Shape for Feeding.

Some years ago J. M. Drew sent us a picture of his device for getting ensilage out of the silo in handy shape for feeding. We now reproduce the picture. It will be handy for those who feed ensilage from a wheeled cart. The chute is 2½ feet square and is made as shown in the picture. The floor, a, is about three feet above the stable floor and is supported by legs b b. The feeding cart is backed under the chute as shown, while the ensilage is being thrown down. Enough is thrown down at one time for two feedings. When the cart is filled it is backed along past the cows, the ensilage being thrown to them with a scoop shovel. The end of the cart is left open, except a small board c. The grain bin is at the opposite end of the feeding alley from the silo so that the grain can be fed out on the return trip. Some farmers do not like a cart for feeding. Those who do will find this a convenient way to empty the silo.—Rural New Yorker.

The Best Fattening Weather.

The experiments of Prof. Sanborn, and others, have shown that neither the hot weather of summer nor the cold weather of winter is the best for fattening. The greatest gain from a certain amount of food is made, other things being equal, during the moderate winds of autumn. The hogs, however, may reach the most profitable age and size for fattening at some other season. This will be the case with fall litters. On the other hand, fall is the season at which spring litters, rightly managed, reach the age and size most favorable to fattening, and the large majority of pigs are littered in the spring. The many practical experiments in pig feeding prove that the most profitable age at which to market a hog is nine or ten months, at which age it can be made to weigh 250 to 300 pounds; and feeding to make this weight at this age is the most profitable. This feeding makes a steady, regular gain, moderately accelerated during six to eight weeks at the close. A common mistake is to make too abrupt a change in food that inaugurates the fattening process. This is in large part due to the previous feeding being too scant, the pigs being on a slow growth when they should grow fast.

The Desirable Size.

Is a large size always desirable? A Western writer says: "Randall said that carcass is the first point to be regarded, even in fine-wooled sheep, for on its form and constitution depends the health of the animal." That was a very true saying, and, while I admire large sheep, my experience has been that medium sized sheep generally have the best constitution, and they consume food in proportion to their size. Then, if three of medium size produce as much or more wool and mutton then two of large size, do they not pay equally as well? I fear that some of our sheepmen are running wild on size, as they did a few years ago on folds or wrinkles. Fineness, style, evenness of quality through the fleece, density and length of staple, are all very essential to constitute a good fleece. It is, and always has been admitted by fine-wool sheep breeders that a certain amount of yolk is necessary, and enough of the white or cream color to produce a dark surface is very desirable, but the yellow or beeswax gum is very objectionable. Although a gummy sheep may shear thirty or forty pounds, I have no use for him. The real intrinsic value is in the amount and quality of scoured wool produced by the sheep.

The great value of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a remedy for catarrh is vouched for by thousands of people whom it has cured.

What Success Depends on.

The success of the bee business depends on cheapening the product. W. Z. Hutchinson says: In my opinion, the most promising field of labor is that of lessening the cost of honey. Honey is not a staple in the same sense that flour, meat and potatoes are. In proportion as prices of honey climb up, does the demand go down; and it is mostly in the devising of plans, methods, hives, appliances, etc., whereby the labor of producing honey may be lessened that beekeepers must look at present for their success. The invention of the bee-escape was right in line. Self-hives are pointing in the same direction. What is needed is to be able to place an apiary out a few miles, one out in another direction, another in a third, etc., and then have matters so arranged that one man can care for all of them. Or these same methods must allow a man to have an apiary at home, and be able to manage it by the use of a small part of his time, some other business taking the greater part. I believe that it is in this direction that bee-keeping talent should turn its energies.

For Healthful Homes.

A correspondent of The Practical Farmer says? An earth closet at house and barn, cement floors under stables, roof over barnyard, no dangerous open or closed slop-drains with their deadly sewer gas, no undrained land near, a well-ventilated cellar with a plastered ceiling and building paper under all carpets above. These are a few of the things that help to give us a healthful home.

MACMASTER & McGIBBON, Montreal.

The Directors, who are now the owners of the entire Capital stock, have decided, at the request of numerous friends of the Company throughout Canada, to enlarge the proprietorship of its stock, and to offer for sale, at par, ten thousand shares, of one hundred dollars each, fully paid and non-assessable.

Payments are to be made as follows:—Five per cent. on application; fifteen per cent. on allotment; twenty per cent. each in one, two, three and four months from the date of allotment. Applicants have the right to pay in full on allotment.

Applications for shares will be received until February 15th, 1893, at any of the offices of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, at the offices of the Union Bank of Halifax, and at the head office of the company, N. Y. Life Building, Montreal.

Forms of application for shares may be obtained at any of the above places, or they will be sent by mail on request.

Should no allotment of stock be made to any applicant for shares, the amount paid will be returned in full, and in the event of the Directors finding it impossible to allot the full number of shares applied for, the surplus of the deposit will be credited toward the amount payable on allotment.

The right is reserved of withdrawing the offer in whole or part at any time before allotment, and of allotting to any applicant any less number of shares than the number applied for.

As the dividends of the Company are payable quarterly, beginning with the first day of March next, allottees of stock will be entitled to receive a proportion of the quarterly dividend as declared, corresponding to the amount paid upon their subscription.

It is proposed to apply to the Stock Exchanges of Montreal and Toronto for official quotations of the shares of the Company.

The Consumers Cordage Company was organized in June, 1890, with a capital of one million dollars, to operate several of the largest Cordage and Binder Twine Factories in Canada. It, at first, operated these under leases, but its operations having been successful, the Capital Stock was subsequently increased to three Million Dollars, and the leased properties were purchased.

The Company has no mortgage indebtedness; and, according to the law under which it was incorporated, none can be created without the consent of two-thirds of the shares holders, represented at a meeting called for the purpose.

The Company has placed in the hands of its Bankers:—

(a) Full statements of its affairs, certified to by Messrs. Caldwell, Tait & Wilks, Chartered Accountants.

(b) The following letter from Messrs. Abbotts, Campbell & Meredith, advocates, Montreal, upon the legality of its incorporation, and the issue of its stock:—

MONTREAL, January 5, 1893.

Consumers Cordage Co., Ltd., Montreal:—

GENTLEMEN,—We have examined the books and documents connected with the organization of the Consumers Cordage Company, Limited, and are of opinion that it has been properly incorporated, and that its capital stock of $3,000,000, as issued, is fully paid up and non-assessable, according to the provisions of the "Companies Act."

We are, yours truly,

(signed), ABBOTTS, CAMPBELL & MEREDITH.

(c) A report from Messrs. Macmaster and McGibbon, Solicitors of the Company, that the titles to its Mills have been duly examined, and that no encumbrances exist.

Applicants for shares may examine these documents, copies of which may be seen at the Company's offices, and at the various offices of the Banks mentioned above.

The Consumers Cordage Company is probably the second largest Manufacturer of Cordage and Binder Twine in the world, and claims the following very material advantages over its competitors:—

1st. Ample capital to conduct its business which enables it:—

(a) To buy its raw material in larger quantities, and at lower prices.

(b) To use only the latest and most improved machinery, thus keeping its mills in the highest state of efficiency.

2nd. Economy in selling and distributing its manufactured product.

3rd. The business covers so wide a territory (its manufactured goods go to almost every civilised country in the world) that it cannot be seriously injured by local troubles; and its Manufacturing establishments are so scattered that the danger of severe loss by fire is very slight.

4th. Lower cost of production.

(a). By maintaining the sharpest competition between its several mills, it is enabled to introduce in all the best methods found in each.

(b). By spreading its commercial expenses over a larger output.

(c) By placing in one hand the purchasing of the Raw Materials and Manufacturing supplies for the several Mills, thus securing lowest prices.

(d). By manufacturing for themselves many of their supplies.

The Company has always found it in its interest to divide the economies effected in production and distribution with the Consumer, and since its existence the Consumer has, upon the average, had a better article at a lower price than previously.

The Company does not claim to have any monopoly, or to earn monopoly profits; in fact, it has not done so. Since its organization it has been able, owing to the advantages above referred to, to earn a net return on its present capital of not less than 10 per cent. per annum (as statements in their Bankers' hands will show), and the Directors believe that these profits will be maintained in the future, as the cost of production and distribution shows each year a marked decrease.

The Dividend for the year ending 31st October, 1892, was at the rate of 6⅔ per cent. per annum. The past record of the Company and its present position justify the Directors in believing that quarterly dividends of one and three-quarters per cent. can be paid and should the profits for the present year be as large as the outlook promises, the final quarter's dividend might be increased.

Any further information may be had at the head office of the Company at Montreal.

IN THE MODE.

Very Handsome Dresses for a Small Woman.

Two very handsome and modish dresses are presented in to-day's sketch. A dress of woollen material shot with blue and copper color is seen on the left. It has a blouse bodice trimmed with Russian embroidery and a belt of blue velvet. On the other side is a gown of iron-gray silk with a "lightning" design in electric blue. The bodice is trimmed with lace and a galloon embroidered in pearls forms the collar; the belt is of satin.

For the woman with pretty hips and a lovely neck I give an exaggeration of the short waisted idea that is charming, especially if she is a little creature. Make a little bodice, finished about the neck as you like, or as suits your material. This bodice ends close under the arms. Judge for yourself how close, but it must be short waisted. Now about the lower edge of the bodice put a very full ruffle, one that shall stand out in a crisp, pretty way and not be broad enough to detract from the distinctly short waisted effect. Your skirt hangs from the edge of the bodice, and comes out, of course, from under the ruffle. It must hang very full and is trained, or not, as you like. This skirt is, of of course, on a little waist of its own which does not show and which is even shorter than the dress bodice, but the whole thing has rather a princess effect. If you want to take advantage of the fullness of skirt now allowed, let the ruffle come not quite all around the bodice. Fasten a very full train on the bodice in the back and as far around as the ruffle goes, thus making a train and sides. Under this overdress you will wear a petticoat of contrasting color, trimmed with quilling in rows. In any case, your sleeves will be very big puffs with a deep ruffle below, inside of which is seen a ruffle of embroidery or lace. A dress with the petticoat effect will be quite elegant in style; one with just the little ruffled bodice will be quaintly Empire. A bodice and great puff sleeves of velvet, worn with a skirt of black silk gauze over satin will be charming. It takes the merest wee bit to make such a bodice. Made all in one, the skirt buttoning down the front, the fashion adapts itself prettily to a morning gown.

The population of London now exceeds that of New York, Brooklyn, Philadelphia and Chicago combined, and these four are the only American cities having one million or more inhabitants.

The Japanese are passionately fond of bathing. Almost every house has its bath tub, often at the door of the house, and sometimes in the very street. The baths in that country of hot mineral springs, in which their volcanic studded land abounds, are free to all, and used by all. Thus Japan is the land of cleanliness. Even the densely populated districts of the city are free from obnoxious smells. The "Japs" can give us a good many points on civilization.

THE TEXAS ROW.

The Negroes Were Balked in Their Mad Purpose.

STAFFORD'S POINT, Tex., Feb. 7.—A half-grown negro boy offered a gross insult to Mrs. Dr. Cochran yesterday. She reported the matter to her husband and the doctor chastised the boy.

Last night at the railway station, Clinton Edwards, the boy's father, met Dr. Cochran, who is a one-armed man, and after a wordy quarrel the negro picked up a stone, with which he felled the doctor to the earth. As he fell, Dr. Cochran pulled his pistol and put three bullets into Edwards, killing him instantly.

William Watts, station agent of the Southern Pacific, Railway disarmed Cochran, and then a number of negroes assaulted Watts. They accused him of having assaulted Edwards and demanded his life.

Dr. Cochran told the excited crowd he was the guilty party, but the mob was bent on lynching Watts. Watts managed to reach the inside of the depot, which he barricaded, and with the arms he had there and the assistance of the telegraph operator he managed to hold the crowd at bay.

Meantime he telegraphed to Richmond, Houston and other towns for assistance.

Whilst this was going the negroes were also securing reinforcements, and fiery leaders proposed burning the depot and the town. Just as they were about to put their designs into execution an engine pulled into the town with the sheriff and a posse of armed men.

Dr. Cochran surrendered, but the mob clamored for Watts. The sheriff arrested Watts also, and, quickly getting the two men on, the train pulled out for Richmond. All quiet to-day, but the whites are on guard.

A WILD MAN.

He Lives in a Wigwam and Cannot Be Induced to Enter a House.

KINGSTON, Ont., Feb. 7.—A wild man has appeared at Cataraqui, a village two miles from here. He lives in a wigwam on the banks of a creek, and seems impervious to the cold, for his primitive branch home must be like a house of ice.

He is not an Indian, neither, it is thought, a trapper.

At times he goes to the village, but cannot be induced to enter a house. The villagers are at a loss to know how he keeps himself comfortable in his dreary dwelling.

His name he will not tell, nor will he give any information about himself.

Twenty-four of the Kachyens were killed.

THE FARMERS' INSTITUTE

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE CENTRAL ORGANIZATION.

President Awrey's Annual Address—A Resolution Passed in Favor of Preferential Trade With England If It Can Be Obtained.

TORONTO, Feb. 3.—At Shaftesbury Hall yesterday afternoon 150 delegates attended the sixth annual meeting of the Central Farmers' Institute. After the treasurer's report showing a balance of $677.03 to the credit of the Institute had been read and adopted Vice-President Lloyd Jones expressed his regret at the absence of President Awrey, and gave a brief substitute speech, stating that although trade depression was at present universal he was glad that the farmers of Ontario were in a more prosperous condition that those in other parts.

Thomas Kells, Grey County, was down for a paper, "Would either Preferential or Free Trade between the British Empire and her Colonies be of advantage to Ontario farmers?" He said that he had found his essay studded with so many "ifs" and "buts" that he had decided to introduce this resolution as expressing his sentiments:

"Whereas it is desirous that better trade relations between Great Britain and Canada should exist, and whereas we believe the Government of the Dominion should be the first to move in this matter; Wherefore be it resolved that this Central Farmers' Institute, being composed of farmers representing almost every electoral district in this Province of Ontario, memorialize the Dominion Government, humbly asking them to allow all goods manufactured in Great Britain and imported into Canada to be free of duty or as low as is consistent with the revenue of the country."

In the discussion which followed, C. Grierson, Oshawa; John Blaney, North Norfolk; William McRae, Guelph; J. Whelihan, South Perth; Thomas Torrance, East Huron; James McEwen, West Wellington; J. F. Beam, Welland; James Sheppard, Niagara, and D. Maclean, West Elgin, gave five minute addresses.

The general opinion of the speakers was that Ontario farmers were as prosperous, if not more so, than those of any habitable part of the globe. The majority were in favor of freer trade relations with England, if it were possible to secure them. With many the bugbear was the fear of a poverty of revenue consequent on the removal of import duties. The opinion was also expressed that as Canadian farmers had now to dispose of their surplus products in open markets universal free trade might be an advantageous measure.

Dr. Cowan, Guelph, on the plea that former speakers had been wandering from the question in discussing universal free trade, introduced as an amendment this motion:

That in the opinion of this meeting preferential trade with Great Britain would do much to promote the welfare and prosperity of this country.

This, the chairman explained, would discredit the original motion if taken up as an amendment, and Dr. Cowan withdrew it as such. On submitting it subsequently as an original motion it was carried unanimously, together with Mr. Kells' resolution.

President Nicholas Awrey, M.L.A., then gave his annual address. The farmers of Ontario, he said, had cause for congratulation in having a farmers' institute in every electoral district. The membership had risen in six years from 300 to 16,000. With its superior climate and natural advantages Ontario should have the most prosperous farmers in the world. The provincial farmers' picnic at Grimsby, though small in attendance, had been good in results. Although the price of wheat was low and the markets were limited there was no reason to be discouraged. The results of the last 20 years showed a slow but gradual increase in the prosperity of the farmer. There was at the present time $900,000,000 invested in agricultural lands, stock and implements. Although farmers were fairly prosperous, two industries alone had saved the country from financial bankruptcy. These were the manufacture of cheese and butter. In '59 there was not enough cheese for home consumption. In 1890 the exports from Ontario alone were 8,915,684. Sixty million dollars represented the aggregate value of dairy exports from the Dominion to Great Britain. Had not this money been in circulation commerce would have been paralyzed. Since the Ontario farmers had adopted the co-operative principle of manufacturing butter there had been an annual increase of 2,000,000 pounds in their British exports, with a value of $300,000. Britain was ready to take more as soon as the butter was of a uniform quality. Canada instead of Denmark should export to England. The cheese factories might in the winter be turned into creameries where good butter could be produced. Diving further into statistics, Mr. Awrey said that the value of horses had increased in 20 years $19,922,956, of sheep $3,773,000, of swine $4,000,000, of cattle $16,000,000, and this without a proportionate increase in the number of head. The purity of the breed had almost doubled the value of stock. The unjust act of England in scheduling Canadian cattle, together with the like recent action of the United States, left the Canadian shipper at the mercy of steamship owners on the St. Lawrence route This should be remedied. There was no fear of annexation while Uncle Sam adopted coercive measures. Goldwin Smith's statement that there was a strong annexation feeling among the farmers was untrue. We would like to trade with the United States, but not to live under her flag. We desire no coercion in the matter of closer political relations.

Mr. Awrey declared himself in favor of preferential free trade with Great Britain if it could be secured. He thought that the admission of English goods free would bring the Americans to their knees. A compromise course might be adopted by which English cloth and woolens could be admitted free of duty. He also advocated the removal of duty from binder twine and coal oil.

At the evening session Prof. Saunders of the Experimental Farm, Ottawa, delivered an address on "The Northwest Territories and British Columbia and Their Resources." He described the territories from the Red River to the coast, illustrating his remarks with the aid of a large colored diagram showing the limits of the various territories. He gave an accurate account of the best known districts, and made some interesting observations on their grain, cattle and ranching industries. Throughout this vast extent of country, he said, were soils suited to every kind of crop. As regards wheat it was not known how far north it might be grown successfully. There were already good specimens produced 300 miles north of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Many farmers were going in for mixed farming. The climate in the ranching country permitted cattle and horses to run at large all winter and come out fat and sleek in the spring. He also told of the good work done on the Dominion Experimental Farms at Brandon and Indian Head. Crossing the mountains, he praised the capabilities of the fertile bottom lands of British Columbia, expatiating on the luxuriance of the fruit and pasture lands. Statistics were given as to the timber resources and mineral wealth of Southern British Columbia. The Dominion exhibits at the World's Fair were described and the lecturer concluded his address by declaring that the magnificent territories west of the great lakes would soon amply repay Canada for the expenditure in building that national highway, the C.P.R.

Professor Fletcher, Dominion Entomologist, spoke briefly on a question of considerable importance to Canadian farmers, the appearance in Canada last year of the horn fly, an insect which had made serious ravages in some herds and promised, if not effectually dealt with, to increase disastrously. He described its appearance, its method of attack by irritating the cuticle; and its evil effects on the animals and gave and recommended as a means of getting rid of it a wash of emulsion of kerosene.

Great interest was manifested in the address and many questions were asked of the speaker.

The institute will meet again at 10 a.m. to-day.

CLEARING SALE

—OF—

MEN'S, YOUTHS' AND BOYS' SUITS AND OVERCOATS.

Big Reductions in the Price of all kinds of Ready-Made Overcoats.

We utterly annihilate Profit, entirely ignoring Cost, for the next Six weeks. It's like finding money. This sale will eclipse any offer of the entire season. It is the result of several causes—lateness of season, the over-stocked condition of our Overcoat Department, but mainly the necessity of turning our stock into money.

500 WINTER OVERCOATS.

The Cream of our $15 and $18 Overcoats go for $13.
Our $12 and $14 Ulsters go for $10.
Our $10 Black Worsted and Melton Overcoats go for $8.
Our $8 and $9 Overcoats go for $6.
Our $4.50 Overcoats go for $3.50.

We do this not for love of our customers, nor for fun; but because it's hard to sell Overcoats now—because we must sell them now or carry them over until next winter. Our regular prices, as you know, are fully 25 per cent. lower than Clothing is usually sold at, but to make this an unprecedented sale, we entirely ignore cost for the next six weeks. DROP IN AND SEE US. Shrewd buyers will shop early.

THE FARMERS' INSTITUTE

SECOND DAY'S SESSION OF THE CENTRAL ORGANIZATION.

Hon. John Dryden Announces a New Project—Will Try to Retain the Young People on the Farms—No Surrender to the Annexationists.

TORONTO, Feb. 9.—Punctually at 10 a.m. Nicholas Awrey, M.L.A., called the meeting to order. To the surprise of nearly all, the popular president of the past three years announced his intention to relinquish the position he has so worthily filled. Protests were in vain, and the reception of nominations commenced.

The nominees were: T. Lloyd Jones, Burford; T. G. Raynor, Rosehill; D. McRae, Guelph; and D. E. Smith, Churchville. Mr. Jones was elected on the third ballot. D. A. McPherson, Glengarry, was the convention's choice for vice-president, and the institute unanimously returned A. H. Pettit, Beamsville, as secretary-treasurer. Directors were chosen as follows: A. P. McDougall, Malvern; Thomas Kells, Vandeleur; J. F. Beam, Welland; James Ewing, Dayton; J. B. Ewing, Dartford; T. G. Raynor, Rosehill; W. J. Macnaughton, Lancaster.

On various topics papers and speeches were made. That which provoked most discussion was that of Mr. D. E. Smith, Churchville, on Statute Labor. He was in favor of the commutation principle, the work being contracted for in lieu of the farmer doing it himself. On this, as on other topics, there was a variety of opinion, and no resolution was passed. In fact, many of the speakers admitted that their object was to provoke discussion rather than any immediate resolution.

Prof. James W. Robertson, dairy commissioner, gave an interesting address on his experiences in the Old Country. His recommendations to the Canadians to pay more attention to the breeding of hogs and poultry were much applauded. He drew a great picture of the demand there was for these in England, and plainly told the Canadian farmers that they were not sufficiently alive to their own interests.

A committee was appointed to wait on the Dominion Government to present the resolution of the previous day in respect to free trade.

A long discussion on the subject of roads followed. The consensus of opinion seemed to be that there should be three classifications: County, provincial and Dominion.

The speakers on the various topics were numerous, but little fresh was said on any one.

The topic discussed was that of scientific education. Mr. T. G. Raynor of Rosehill read a thoughtful paper.

The speech of the evening was that of Hon. John Dryden. He rejoiced that in spite of bad times there was a stronger desire of the farmers to stand together than ever before. He justified the expenditure of $8200 last year on behalf of the farmers' institutes, whilst regretting that so much money was spent by managers of fairs in what was merely amusement and not education. Some might maintain that these side-shows were educative. "Yes," added he, "they are educative, but in the wrong direction." This remark was loudly cheered, and thus encouraged Mr. Dryden went on to say that if the fair managers—(he did not refer to Toronto)—did not apply the money better there would be an agitation spring up which would prevent the Ontario Government granting money for agricultural purposes which was being diverted to other and improper purposes.

Then the Minister of Agriculture gave the history of Government aid to farmers' shows and institutes, the usefulness of which and of the Guelph Agricultural College he highly eulogized.

In the latter part of Mr. Dryden's speech he enforced the importance of teaching the rudimentary principles of agriculture in the common schools.

"Many a good plowman is spoiled by becoming a bad doctor or lawyer. Something should be done to prevent the undue influx of so many of our young people into the large towns."

And then came a revelation. Said Mr. Dryden: "I'll tell you something which has not yet been said publicly: The Ontario Government has decided to do something in regard to this matter, and at once. [Applause.] It will be the entering of the wedge. We propose at our Agricultural College at Guelph to open a summer school, to which we will invite as many teachers as will go. We propose to give them a series of lectures in relation to agriculture, botany, geology and chemistry—not with a view to enabling them to teach technical agriculture in the schools, but to enable them to give a series of popular talks on agricultural topics. [Applause.]

"They will at their schools be supplied with specimens of agriculture, soils, chemistry and geology. We propose that the young people shall be, accompanied by their teachers, taken to the farms and rocks in their respective districts and be practically taught the various specimens, their production and uses. I believe that if we can get the teachers to take hold of our proposition we will find that before ten years are over the young people will not be found flocking to the cities but content to stay at home and to bend their best energies to agriculture and the farm. [Applause.] This will tend to develop their interest in the agricultural and special subjects they will be taught. [Renewed applause.]

"At first sight this may seem a little thing, but it will grow. The consequence will be we shall want more agricultural colleges than the one we have at Guelph; in fact, we shall want one or two for various districts.

"I hope the delegates will co-operate with the Government in this new project, approve of it, recommend it and help to make the proposal a success. We propose also to have an examination of the teachers in these special topics. [Applause.] The teachers would with such an extra certificate be able to command a better salary. We propose to give this special instruction to the teachers in July, at the commencement of the school holidays. The instruction to the children would most likely be given on Friday afternoons so as not to interfere with their ordinary subjects of education. Hence I commend the matter to your consideration and hearty co-operation.

"These are," continued Mr. Dryden, "bad times, but we should not oppose but stand hand to hand, shoulder to shoulder, and help each other in every way we can. It is our right and duty, privilege and business to assert our manhood and protect ourselves and families.

"The agricultural interest stands first in Canada, and if nobody is going to assert ownership it is ours to do so. We demand that all that can be done shall be done to promote the best interests of our country and especially of the farming community. There are in some quarters men who suggest that we should dispose of our heritage in this Canada of ours and sell it to another. [Cries of "Never."]

"My answer is 'No Surrender.' [Loud applause.] Canada has no wrongs which cannot be remedied. We have got a good country and ought to be proud of it. We boast of Ontario as the first province on this continent. We take no second place, and we are not likely to throw it away—["Never!"]—merely because some man with a plausible tale asks us.

"I believe the farmers are willing to be true to the old flag which has so long been honored all over the world. Let us be true to that old flag, and true to each other." [Loud and long applause.]

Resolutions were then passed deprecating agricultural societies misappropriating their funds to other than agricultural purposes and also thanking Hon. Mr. Dryden for his admirable and patriotic address.

MORGAN'S BILL.

It Provides for the Aggrandisement of Uncle Sam.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Mr. Morgan (Ala.) introduced a bill in the Senate to provide for the provisional government of foreign countries and places acquired by treaty or otherwise, which was read in full and referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations.

Mr. Morgan is the leading Democratic member of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations. Yesterday he held a short conference with Secretary of State Foster, and the bill introduced by Mr. Morgan this morning is the probable outcome of that conference.

Mr. Morgan is an enthusiastic annexationist, and it will be seen that in his measure he provides not only for Hawaii, but any similar condition that may arise in the future. The full text of the bill is as follows:

"That whenever the United States shall acquire dominion over any foreign country or place by treaty or annexation or otherwise, the President of the United States, with the advice and consent of the Senate, may appoint a governor for the same and a legislative council to consist of any number of persons not less than five nor more than twenty-five, whose acts shall be subject to revision or repeal by Congress, and unless the treaty of annexation or cessation shall otherwise provide, said governor and council shall constitute and conduct all provisional government for such country or place until Congress shall otherwise provide by law."

THE PANAMA CANAL.

Rumor That Uncle Sam Will Complete the Big Ditch.

PANAMA, Feb. 9.—La Cronista prints the following in relation to the canal question: "It is understood in semi-official circles here that a proposition has been made by the United States under which the Panama Canal is to be completed."

The paper adds that the United States proposes that the work of completing the canal should be continued as a Colombian national enterprise, but the capital to be used will be furnished by citizens of the United States, and the canal is to be under American protection.

This proposition is said to be accompanied by the condition that the Bogota Government shall grant no further concessions to the French Canal Company, and if this condition is complied with the published story says the United States Government will sustain the effort of the Colombian Government to take possession of the local canal assets at the end of this month.

RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

One Man Killed and About Twenty More or Less Injured.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 9.—The Big Four eastbound passenger train which left here at 7.45 last night was wrecked and totally destroyed a mile east of Pana, Ill., at a late hour last night. Fire destroyed the whole train, including two sleepers, the engine only being saved. The baggageman was killed, six passengers were seriously injured and a dozen more were slightly hurt.

The bed clothing in the sleeper was utilized for the comfort and warmth of wounded women and children. Baggageman Resseler was pinioned between the mass of trunks and burned to death in sight of the trainmen and passengers, who were unable to rescue him.

Mrs. Laughlin was traveling with the corpse of her husband, which was in the baggage car. The corpse was cremated. Mrs. Laughlin's four children were slightly injured. The weather was bitterly cold, and the wounded suffered greatly from exposure in addition to their injuries.

PUMMELLED EACH OTHER.

Two Politicians in Illinois Have a Lively Round.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 9.—Congressman-Elect Cannon and State Senator Bacon had a personal encounter yesterday, resulting in painful but not serious injury to the congressman's nose and face. Cannon fell to the floor from blows which were rained upon him, while the senator, who is many years the congressman's junior and has something of a reputation as an athlete, escaped without a scratch.

Each of the belligerents charges the other with being the aggressor. Cannon and Bacon have for some years been leaders of rival factions in the Republican party.

QUEENSLAND FLOODS.

The Water Is Slowly Falling—Enormous Losses and Destruction.

BRISBANE, Feb. 9.—The water is falling slowly. The loss in Owen-street, on which stand the Government offices, postoffice, principal banks, newspaper offices and the opera house, has been enormous. The buildings were two-thirds submerged. The provincial towns have suffered severely, and many have been drowned.

Chinese Cruelty.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 9.—A special from El Paso, Texas, gives an account of the burning of an old Chinaman, May Jim, who had been apparently securely bound, his clothing saturated with coal oil and the place set on fire, supposedly by his countrymen.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

DEBATE ON THE QUESTION OF FREE CORN.

Mr. Pope Wants Corn Placed on the Free List—Mr. Sproule Says Canada Can Raise Enough Green Corn For All Purposes.

OTTAWA, Feb. 9.—Almost the whole of the afternoon session, up to 6 o'clock, was taken up discussing Mr. Pope's motion, "That it is expedient to place corn on the free list," and the debate went over under the rules, private bills and public bills and orders being proceeded with after recess.

Mr. Pope in supporting his motion referred to the fact that he had opposed a similar motion in 1890, but proceeded to point out that a very great change had taken place in the cattle trade since that time, caused by the scheduling of Canadian cattle by the British Government and the recent order requiring Canadian cattle entering the United States to be quarantined for ninety days.

He wished it to be understood that he did not make this motion as one of want of confidence in the Government, but merely as one in the interests of the farmer. All scientific and practical men were agreed that the farmers of the east can only compete with the farmers of the west by using the best methods for utilizing their coarse grains to the best advantage and turning them into animals and their products, which would give better results than grain.

He traced the rise of the cattle trade with Great Britain and how it had developed into mostly as a trade in stockers, the finishing touches on which—the fattening up for market—were put on in Great Britain.

This was all very well while cattle could be landed there and kept any length of time. But now cattle had to be killed when landed, and it was necessary, therefore, to send them from here ready for the butcher.

In order to put them in condition to compete with the corn-fed cattle of Illinois and Iowa it was necessary to get cheap corn. Barley would not do alone as food, and cattle fed on barley alone would not make as good beef as if corn fed.

He quoted prices of barley, and said he did not think Ontario farmers could afford to grow barley and sell it cheap enough to Quebec farmers for them to fatten cattle on. He calculated that the average price of cattle in the Eastern Townships was not over 3½ cents per pound, and at that price the farmer could not afford to pay over 50 cents per bushel for barley.

Mr. Sproule opposed the motion on the ground that it was not in the interest of farmers. It might be in the interest of the stock raised to have free corn, but it could not benefit the farmer who raised coarse grains to sell.

Only a small percentage of our farmers were feeders. They could not afford to build barns and go into the business of fattening stock. We could raise plenty of corn in Canada for ensilage, and ensilage was the best food for cattle. He regarded the duty on corn as part of the National Policy, and would oppose its repeal both in the House and in the country.

DIED IN HIS FRIEND'S ARMS.

A Toronto Jeweler's Sudden Death—The Body En Route Home.

TORONTO, Feb. 9.—Charles D. Chapman, formerly a jeweler in King-street, who removed to Vancouver, B.C., in November and commenced business, died suddenly a few days ago from heart failure. He had been ailing since Friday, but on Sunday night seemed considerably better. A friend came to see him, and about 1 o'clock, just after taking some medicine he remarked that he feared he would not sleep well. A moment later he coughed as if choking, and died almost instantly in his friend's arms.

The remains will arrive in Toronto to-day in charge of his wife and her brother, Mr. Gian.

Mr. Chapman was in his 26th year, and leaves a widow and one child.

WHILE READING A NEWSPAPER.

A Euclid-Avenue Resident Found Dead in a Chair.

TORONTO, Feb. 9.—Mrs. Rowan, widow of the late Thomas Rowan, was found dead in her chair with a newspaper in her hand at her residence, No. 76 Euclid-avenue. She arose from the tea table apparently in her usual health and sat down to read the evening paper.

Five minutes afterwards she was found dead, having passed away without a struggle. Deceased was in her 60th year.

Necessary, if Formal.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Immense crowds were drawn to the Capitol yesterday by the formal ceremonies incident to the official counting of the electoral vote.

After the last certificate had been read and the results footed up, the Vice-President made the customary announcement that, under the law, this was a sufficient declaration that Grover Cleveland of the State of New York was elected President of the United States, and that Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois was elected Vice-President of the United States, each for the term beginning March 4, 1893.

The totals announced by the Vice-President were: Cleveland and Stevenson, 277; Harrison and Reid, 145; Weaver and Field, 22.

PRESBYTERIAL FOREIGN MISSION.

Business Transacted in the Afternoon—Reports Received—Eloquent Addresses Last Evening—The meetings Closed.

The Peterborough Presbyterial Women's Foreign Missionary Society resumed its session in St. Paul's church during the afternoon. There was a large attendance of ladies interested in mission work, the meeting being a public one. Mrs. President Cralck presided. The address of welcome to the delegates was given by Mrs. Fairbairn on behalf of the local organization and replied to in graceful terms by Miss Gilchrist, of Baltimore. Mrs. Hunter presented greetings on behalf of the Baptist Mission Circle, and Mrs. Kendry for the Methodist W.F.M.S.

A MISSIONARY SPEAKS.

Mrs. Wilson, of Neemuch, India, followed with an interesting, address, lasting three quarters of an hour. Mrs. Wilson has been engaged in missionary work in India under the Presbyterian church for some eight years. She spoke hopefully of the progress made by missions during that time. The speaker also referred to the disgusting opium habit and its baneful effects, and how the influence of Christianity was doing much to overcome its use. Mrs. Wilson also spoke of how access could now be gained by gentlemen missionaries to the Indian Zenanas. The work of evangelizing the benighted people of India was being blessed much of God.

A collection was then taken up during which Miss Mary Patterson sang a solo with much expression.

FACTS AND FIGURES.

The corresponding and literary secretaries presented thier annual reports. The corresponding secretary's report showed that the W.F.M.S. had 20 auxiliaries, 6 young ladies mission bands and 4 juvenile bands. The total membership was 727, 273 were members of bands, 145 belonged to the general society, there were 25 scattered helpers in auxiliaries and 10 in mission bands. The literature secretary's report told of the great distribution of the Letter Leaflet, the monthly organ of the society, its circulation in the Peterborough Presbytery being something like 300 copies. The Treasurer's report was presented by the President in the absence of the treasurer, Mrs Hay. It showed the contributions for the year for foreign missionary purposes to be $1,463.25. Mrs. Hendren, of Lakefield, then delivered the dedicatory prayer, when the meeting adjourned.

EVENING MEETING OF PRESBYTERIAL W. F. M. S.

This meeting, open to the general public, was well attended in view of the fact that there were some half dozen other public assemblies in the town at the same hour.

Rev. Mr. MacWilliams occupied the chair, and after opening exercises read extracts from the report of the society, which showed some striking figures, evidencing the great strides the W. F. M. S. and its various auxiliaries and mission bands had made during the past year.

Mr. MacWilliams then called upon Rev. Thos. Goldsmith, who opened his remarks by drawing a contrast between the position of foreign missions a century ago and its present extent. Then, an overture to one of the church courts, proposing foreign missions as a field of usefulness, was received with disfavour. Then Africa, Asia and the islands of the sea were in heathenism—nay some of them practicising cannibalism. Now, behold the whole world is open for the reception of the gospel.

Another point noted was the fact that the world's wealth is in the hands of Christian nations. Large sums are waiting investment in the cause of missions. We have prayed for an open door; it has been opened. We have asked means to carry on the work; they have been granted. Our own Canadian church has been active in missions. It seems but yesterday that we entered into the foreign field. Rev. Dr. McKay who physically was weak and who showed no particular qualification for the work, was sent to Formosa with much trepidation by the church. But behold what God did through him. He has triumphed over every obstacle and now rejoices in having been the instrument of converting large numbers to Christianity. The grand result of the work abroad is the untold beneficial effect upon the members of the church at home. In proportion as we contribute to the Foreign work we secure blessing at home. The eloquent speaker then gleaned a few figures from this the sixteenth report of the W. F. M. S., to prove that the work of the women, which was at first treated quite indifferently has advanced to such an extent that the society and its bands actually contribute to foreign missions one-third of the whole, and this too without in any way impairing the home mission fund as it had been alleged the movement would do, but on the contrary has been the means of increasing the latter fund in proportion to the yearly increase in foreign mission contributions. The churches at home prosper in proportion to their interest in missions.

The speaker referred in conclusion to the important place women now occupied in the world and before taking his seat spoke a few kind words relative to the learned doctor who was to follow him.

REV. DR. SMITH SPEAKS.

Dr. Smith, who represents the Presbytery at this meeting, brought greetings from that body and spoke of the interest which the Presbytery feels in the society. This work has grown chiefly through the fervour and consecrated service of women. The foundation of the work and its first requisite is the life of Christ in the heart of individuals. When we come under that power we are instinctively missionaries. Having the love of Christ in our hearts, we have a universal love for souls. Dr. Smith made reference to several Scriptural illustrations of women's work and place in Christ's time. He said it is easy when the love of Christ is in us to go to foreign fields, easy to suffer there, easy to die if need be. Give the poor a cup of cold water shall—it not be without reward. The Lord does bless the labourer. The missionary is the happiest of men. His work is a service of song from beginning to end. To the workers at home every cent contributed, every prayer offered will be a benediction. Mothers and Sunday school teachers were exhorted to instil the love for missions in the boys and girls. This impressive address was concluded with words of benediction upon the women's work in Peterborough and the congregations of the Presbytery; a kindly allusion to the sick pastor of the congregation and best wishes for the acting pastor's successfully carrying on of the work of the Master. A collection was taken up and after singing, the benediction was pronounced by Dr. Smith.

COUNTY ORANGE LODGE.

Manitoba School Question—Sympathy with the Ireland Loyalists—Dalton McCarthy's Actions Endorsed—Officers Elected.

The annual meeting of the County Orange Lodge, was held Tuesday night in the Orange Hall. Ther was a large attendance of the members.

It was decided to accept the invitation of the brethren of Port Hope to celebrate the glorious twelfth in that town.

The folgwing resolution were moved and carried: Moved by Bro. W. Graham, seconded by Bro. J. Davidson: That this County Lodge fully endorse the policy of the Manitoba Government in respect to their public school system, and rejoice to see the noble stand taken by them against those who would deprive them of their British rights, and we pledge ourselves to oppose any government who would dare to interfere with the rights of the said province. We would say to those that we have not forgotten the Jesuit Act, or at what costs our liberties were secured.

Moved by Bro. Armstrong, seconded by Bro. Cardwell, that this County Lodge of Peterborough of the Loyal Orange Association of British America, in lodge assembled, tender to our brethren in Ireland our sincere sympathy in the noble stand they have taken to resist the esteblishment of a Home Rule Legislature which would be dominated by the priests of Rome, and would pave the way to the dismemberment and disintegration of our glorious Empire.

Second—That we pledge ourselves to assist the Loyalist of Ireland by every means in our power, physically or financially, in resisting the despotism of an Irish parliament if such should ever be instituted in Ireland.

Third—That copies of this resolution be forwarded to the Grand Master of Ireland and to the Celfast Weekly News for publication.

Moved by Bro. Sidney B. Weir, seconded by Bro. Samuel Stinson, that this Orange County Lodge of the County of West Peterborough, takes this opportunity of expressing its entire confidence in Mr. Dalton McCarthy, Q.C., and in the bold and manly stand he is taking in the interest of Protestantism in Canada, and in the support of our public school system and the English language, and respectfully request all true Orangemen to stand by and support him in his fight against Romish aggression.

The election of officers resulted as follow:—

W. Bro. W. J. Green	County Master
" W. M. Graham	Deputy "
Rev. Bro. Rayley	Chaplain
W. Bro. C. W. Sawers	Secretary
" E. A. Nott	Fin.-Sec
" D. Burgess	Treasurer
" S. Stinson	Dir. of Ceremonies
" S. Campbell	Lecturer
" Jas. Curtis	Deputy Lecturer

The Master Elect was then duly installed by the retiring County Master, Bro. J. G. Weir, who in turn installed the remaining officers.

Adams, Russell and Peck. A motion was adopted requiring all teachers to furnish monthly reports to parents of the attendance and standing of pupils. On account of the overcrowded state of the primary division the junior class of Miss Ferguson's room was ordered to be divided between Miss Galvin's and Miss Pakenham's rooms.

Requests were ordered to be sent to the Ontario Government asking for copies of the school law for the members of the board.

A committee of Messrs. Adams and Peck were appointed to prosecute all boys creating a disturbance outside the school during school hours.

Couldn't Keep on His Feet.

PETERBOROUGH, Jan. 31st, 1892.

To the Peterborough Medicine Company:

GENTLEMEN,—If there is any medicine in the world that I pin my faith to it is Membray's Kidney and Liver Cure. In my business I have to stand on my feet a good deal. About a year ago my back began to give out, weakening pains set in across my kidneys, I felt tired all the time and could hardly stand up to my work. I began to lose strength and at last had to give up work altogether. A customer advised me to try your cure which I did. Before half the bottle was used, I felt the pains and weakness leaving me and to-day I enjoy good health and can bear fatigue and work all right. One bottle was all I used.

ALF. HASKILL, barber.

If you are tired taking the large old-fashioned griping pills, try Carter's Little Liver Pills and take some comfort. A man can't stand everything. One pill a dose. Try them.

Put To Flight

—all the peculiar troubles that beset a woman. The only guaranteed remedy for them is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. For women suffering from any chronic "female complaint" or weakness; for women who are run-down and overworked; for women expecting to become mothers, and for mothers who are nursing and exhausted; at the change from girlhood to womanhood; and later, at the critical "change of life"—It is a medicine that safely and certainly builds up, strengthens, regulates and cures.

THE FACT
That AYER'S Sarsaparilla CURES OTHERS of Scrofulous Diseases, Eruptions, Boils, Eczema, Liver and Kidney Diseases, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, and Catarrh should be convincing that the same course of treatment WILL CURE YOU. All that has been said of the wonderful cures effected by the use of AYER'S Sarsaparilla
during the past fifty years, truthfully applies to-day. It is, in every sense, The Superior Medicine. Its curative properties, strength, effect, and flavor are always the same; and for whatever blood diseases AYER'S Sarsaparilla is taken, they yield to this treatment. When you ask for
AYER'S Sarsaparilla
don't be induced to purchase any of the worthless substitutes, which are mostly mixtures of the cheapest ingredients, contain no sarsaparilla, have no uniform standard of appearance, flavor, or effect, are blood-purifiers in name only, and are offered to you because there is more profit in selling them. TO BE OR NOT TO BE "IN IT."

A Life Agent called at a friend's place one day,
HE WASN'T IN IT;
He had seen "the bore" coming and fled from his way
HE WASN'T IN IT;
He had heard so much said, he was tired and sick
Of insurance and agents—'twas all a blank trick,
When one's coil must be shuffled to win it,
HE WASN'T IN IT.

A bit of a draft blew o'er his bald head,
HE WAS IN IT;
Pneumonia sent him straightway to his bed,
HE STAYED IN IT;
His doctor made of it a "quite special" case,
To save him for running still more of life's race,
But the grave took some chances to win it,
AND HE'S IN IT.

When approached by a gent for insuring your life,
GET RIGHT IN IT;
It's the right thing to do for your children and wife,
THEN STAY IN IT.
Remember that fires take your goods "out of sight,"
And that accidents happen each day and each night.
While insurance protects every minute,
IF YOU'RE IN IT.

A Bank Manager's Opinion.
HE IS "IN IT."
—The General Manager of one of the leading banks in Canada, writing to a personal friend, says:—"I have no hesitation in saying that I place the CANADA LIFE upon the highest platform. It is in my opinion carefully, economically and honestly managed; its Reserve Funds are well invested; its rates of Premiums are low, and its future is, I think better assured than a great majority of Companies. I have my own life insured in the Company for a round amount, and would not hesitate to increase the amount of my policies should I decide upon taking out further insurance."

A Government Insurance Actuary's Opinion
On the Relation between Ordinary and Tontine Service.
It is frequently assertedby Companies whose business is nearly all tontined, that although the CANADA LIFE may and does pay large ordinary profits, yet it cannot compare so favourably on a long term distribution or tontine period, and that in the end better results can be obtained on a tontine policy in a large American Co. than on an ordinary or tontine policy in the CANADA LIFE. To prove the absurdity of this statement, the following piece of common sense is quoted from Mervin Tabor, late Actuary of the Illinois Govérment Insurance Department. In his well known book, "The Three Systems of Life Insurance," he says: "A company that gives large dividends on the ordinary kind of policies, can give much larger on the same kinds when Tontined, and a company that pays but meagre dividends on the usual forms, adopting perhaps the Tontine system to "cover up" its small surpluses, cannot be relied on for large returns of surplus under the Tontine Forms of Insurance."
The CANADA LIFE does not "cover up" its Quinquennial profits as some Companies do, but publishes them throughout the country.
It can and does surpass other Companies on Quinquennial profits. It should and will surpass them on Tontine profits.

WHY TO BE "IN IT."
BISHOP HAWKE'S REASON:—"I claim that Life Insurance is not only a a humane, but I might say a Christian Institution."
LORD LYNDHURST'S REASON:—"A Policy of Life Insurance is always an evidence of prudent forethought. No man with a dependent family is free from reproach if not insured."
WHEN TO BE "IN IT."
The younger, the cheaper. Therefore insure when young. Besides by insuring in the CANADA LIFE now, you will share in three years' profits.
WHERE TO BE "IN IT."
The best place to be "in it" is in the Company that gives the best returns for the least money, consistent with absolute security. Therefore, in order to be "in it," choose the Hymeneal.

On Wednesday evening a pretty wedding took place at the residence of Mr. W. Hartley, Inverlea, when Mr. Charles James, of Chicago, was united in marriage to Miss Jennie Amelia Baker, daughter of Mr. Robert Baker, Ashburnham. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a large number of guests, by Rev. Jas. Thom, of the Mark street Methodist church, Ashburnham. Miss Laura Dormer, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid, and Mr. Robt. Baker, jr., brother of the bride, supported the groom. The bride was very modest and attractive in a combination gown of cream cashmere and white watered silk, with silver ornaments and a bouquet of blush roses. After the ceremony, the company tendered their congratulations, admired the large number of beautiful presents that attested the popularity of the bride, and enjoyed the wedding breakfast provided. After a short honeymoon spent at Niagara Falls, Toronto and town, the happy couple will take up residence in Chicago, to which will follow the hearty good wishes of a large circle of friends.

St. Luke's Social.

The social last night at St. Luke's proved a very enjoyable affair. There was a large attendance of members of the congregation and their friends. Music, refreshments and conversation composed the bill of fare. Little Miss Bell gained a well won encore for her rendering of an instrumental solo. A quartette, "All among the Barley" was given by members of the choir. Miss Fawcett created genuine enthusiasm by her finished renditition of "The Fairies." Cobourg will play a league game with Peterborough at the rink here on Tuesday night next. A great game is looked forward to.

Gilmours Dartmor.

The Kingston News says:—A fairly good audience had the pleasure of seeing J. H. Gilmour's company present "Dartmoor" at the opera house last night. It is a strong drama, flavoured with the right ratio of humour, and was presented in a pleasing manner. As Dick Venables it is doubtful whether Harry Gilmour could be excelled. The genuis of the actor is probably best shown in his interview with his little daughter in the third act. Miss Rochelle was effective and pleasing in the role of Mrs. Lisle, while as Archdeacon Jellicoe, Littledale Power was irresistibly comic. Arthur Crawford as Dr. Paganstecher and Miss Fossette as Helen Jellicoe were good. If "Dartmoor" were presented by the same company in this city again the opera house would be filled to the doors. "Dartmoor" will be produced at the opera house, Peterborough, to morrow (Friday) evening.

Burglars at the Opera House.

"Kid" McCoy, one of the burglars in "The Stowaway," was in early life apprenticed to a sail maker and rigger, and his early experience stood him in good hand last summer at Nyack, where he spent the summer. On the 4th of July a balloon ascension was given, and, owing to some accident, the balloon descended quite suddenly, the aeronaut having lost control of it. The car attached to the balloon struck in the tops of some tall trees, and the aeronaut was thrown from the car and left hanging in a fainting condition at the top of one of the trees. McCoy, who was in the crowd, at once undertook his rescue, and after considerable trouble, succeeded, amid the wildest excitement, in landing the poor aeronaut safely upon the ground; and for his heroic action he now carries a handsomely engraved gold medal. 1td

"Married Men's Social."

The married men's social in the Charlotte street Methodist church school room on St. Valentine's night will be unique in its uniquity. The splendid refreshments to be served from 7 to 8.30 o'clock will be prepared by the ladies—the lords of creation draw the line at cookery—and will be exclusively served, with elephantine gracefulness, by the married men, who will thereafter have full charge of the programme, and furnish it entirely. It is expected that there will be a debate on the subject, "Is Marriage a Failure" or "Is a Married Man a Slave or a Freeman?" or some cognate subject. It is also expected that some married man will deliver as a recitation, the domestic curtain lecture, which has so often met his return home from the "lodge." This will be a great social. Come and bring your valentine with you. Admission 25 cents.

CRISP CURLING CHRONIQUES.

What is Going on at the Rink Where Curlers Most do Congregate.

A thirteen point game was played at the rink on Tuesday between T. Connal and E. Rutherford. The latter was victorious by a score of 16 shots to 10.

Several scratch matches took place at the rink last night. Skip Ferguson's quartette downed Skip Pentland's by a score of 14 to 13.

The caretakers of the rink have formed a club and are prepared to meet the world in open challenge. The quartette are made up after this fashion, P. Butler, lead; Jos. Varseau, 2nd stone; Daniel Hilliard, vice skip, and A. McIntosh, skip. They are a strong aggregation, and would like to test their ability on some of the "record beaters" of the local organization.

The rink of Peterborough curlers which went to Linday yesterday, were defeated by three shots in a hard fought battle. The ice was keen yet trickey, and in all 18 ends were played. At the 16th end Lindsay was 8 ahead, then in the remaining two ends Petrborough made a 3 and a 2. Following is the score:

Peterborough.	Lindsay.
T E Savigny,	M W Kennedy,
A E Thompson,	H McBirnie,
A W Strickland,	T Saddler,
Geo Bonchur, sk 15	W Dundas, sk 16

The return match will be played here next week.

Skip Bradburn, of the Thistles will play skip Pentland an inter-rink match to-morrow night.

Two rinks of Millbrook curlers are playing two rinks from the Granites this afternoon and evening.

The Peterborough rink which went down to Montreal yesterday were drawn against a quartette from Montreal in the bonspell contest to be played to-day at 11 o'clock.

ANNUAL MISSIONARY MEETING

Held in St. John's Church Last Night—Fine Address by Ven. Archdeacon Allan.

The annual missionary meeting of St. John's church in connection with Diocesan missions, was held last evening in the school room. Rev. J. C. Davidson presided. The attendance was not large. The chairman introduced the speaker of the evening as an officer in high standing in the church, a missionary of long and successful experience and a learned friend.

Ven. Archdeacon Allan, of Millbrook, began by congratulating the parish of Peterborough on their remarkable liberality of late years, the response which they had made in to appeal to reduce the parochial debt had inspired their fellow churchman in other parishes to do greater things. They, however, had not allowed outside objects to suffer any diminution, for the reports showed a steady advance in missionary contributions. Last year their increase for home missions was about $30 and the increase for foreign missions about the same. Their diocesan mission fund at present was in debt about $3,800, but it was through enterprise and and faithfulness in payment of missionaries that the debt had been contracted and he felt no fears about it. The Archdeacon then went on to point out reasons why they should support the missionaries in the home field, who had great difficulties and hardships to put up with and little to cheer them. There were 43 of these men in the diocese, and their allowance from the Missionary Board ran from only $200 to $400 per year. He asked confidently for the continued and increased support of the parish.

In a few concluding remarks the chairman pointed out that collections for missions were taken up quarterly or annually as each subscriber preferred, and he suggested that no one deserved more thoughtfulness and consideration than the collectors who went from house to house, and whom we should all try to help and encourage by sympathy and words of encouragement. Few people had a harder or more thankless mission.

A collection was then taken up and the meeting concluded with prayer.

Progress.

It is very important in this age of vast material progress that a remedy be pleasing to the taste and to the eye, easily taken, acceptable to the stomach and healthy in its nature and effects. Possessing these qualities, Syrup of Figs is the one perfect laxative and most gentle diruetic known.

"Plain as a Pike-staff."

Note this fact! The original prices of our clothing is invariably rated low, and as we sell for cash, the profit is naturally lower—much lower—than a credit profit. Our clearing sale prices just now are, therefore, better than when a very large discount is taken off prices originally placed high. This is as "plain as a pike-staff" and gentlemen in search of the cheapest clothing house should always patronize the MONTREAL CLOTHING HOUSE. It's bargain day, every day, at the MONTREAL CLOTHING HOUSE.

A DALTON McCARTHY CLUB.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—In speaking with many liberal minded and progressive members of the Conservative party especially among the younger men, I find that there is a great deal of sympathy with Mr. Dalton McCarthy's ideas, and I think there would be little difficulty in forming a strong Dalton McCarthy club in town. Very many among the Conservatives feel that infant industries that have very properly been protected for over a dozen years should now be able to stand alone, and that for example, the coal oil tax, which bears heavily upon the farmers and poorer classes in town who do not use gas, and electric light and other taxes, might be modified in the interests of the consumers. The general public have for fourteen years been "putting up" for the benefit of the manufacturers; and now myself and hundreds of others who uphold a protective policy as a necessity of our condition, begin to think with Mr. McCarthy that in many respects it has had its day, and that it is capable of being modified decidedly in the interests of the general public and in no way to the detriment of the legitimate interests of the manufacturer. The N.P. was very rightly adopted to meet the conditions of 1878; now let it be modified to suit the conditions of 1893. I am ready to join hands with that fearless and untrammeled Liberal-Conservative, Dalton McCarthy.

Yours truly,

THE LOCAL BIBLE SOCIETY.

HOLDS ITS ANNUAL MEETING IN THE GEORGE STREET CHURCH.

The Annual Report is Encouraging—Depository Statement—A Large Attendance—Claims of the Bible Society Upon all Denominations—Exhaustive Addresses by Rev. Dr. Potts—More Lady Collectors Needed—The Queen of Church Organizations.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Bible Society was held in the George street Methodist church last evening. There was a large attendance of the members of the different churches in the town. The proceedings opened with the singing of a hymn, after which Rev. Mr. Locke read the lesson of the evening. Another hymn was sung when Rev. J. E. Trotter, pastor of the Murray street Baptist church, delivered the opening prayer, imploring Divine blessing upon the Bible Society in its mission to send the Word of God broadcast throughout the world. He besought all Christians to take a more liberal interest in the society and its praiseworthy work and object. The choir then sang Mannorns' "Jubilate" with excellent effect.

Mr. Sheriff Hall, president, welcomed the large congregation present and said he was glad to see so large a number out, considering the many contemporaneous events in the other churches. He then called upon Mr. J. D. Collins, secretary, to read the annual report of the Bible Society, as follows:

THE ANNUAL REPORT.

Your committee submit herewith the statements of the depository and of your treasurer, the first showing a balance of $114.40 carried forward on the present occasion, as compared with $116.75 brought forward from the preceding year, and that 102 Bibles and 19 Testaments have been issued during the year, and the latter statement showing that the sum of $125 each has been forwarded to the Upper Canada and British and Foreign Bible Societies, the total collections for the year being $243.58, which sum was augmented by $14.55 from the Hall settlement in Smith, collected the previous year but sent in too late, making in all $258.55, the largest sum forwarded to Toronto for many years past.

This increase in the contributions is no doubt owing to the change in the mode of collecting by dividing the town into districts, and from ladies of the different congregations acting as collectors. There are several country districts where the people would contribute if collectors were appointed. It will be necessary for collectors appointed this year to make their returns to the treasurer, Mr. McGill of the Ontario Bank, not later than March 20th, as the Bible society year closes on 30th March. Your secretary has received a circular from the British and Foreign Bible Society, stating that principally owing to the rapid and wide extension of the society's work their present income does not meet the necessary expenditure. At the society's annual meeting held in London, England among other methods of relief suggested was one proposed by the Bishop of Exeter, which met with general approval "that each subscriber give half as much again" which if generally adopted would put an end to the committee's difficulties.

OFFICERS FOR COMING YEAR.

Your committee recommend the appointment of the following officers for 1893:—
President—Sheriff Hall.
Vice-Presidents—All the ministers of the gospel.
Secretary—Rev. A. McWilliams.
Treasurer—C. McGill.
Depository—P. Connal & Co.
Committee—All the ministers of the gospel.

Rev. Mr. Locke moved, seconded by Mr. J. J. Hartley, that the reports be adopted. This was carried.

Mr. Collins stated that Sheriff Hall and he would like to meet all ladies who would collect funds for the society at the Y. M. C. A. rooms on Monday afternoon next at four o'clock.

A magnificent quartette, entitled "Softly now the Light of Day," was beautifully rendered by Mrs. Seward and Mrs. Hamilton and Messrs. S. F. Hill and W. H. Manning.

ADDRESS ON THE WORKS AND OBJECTS OF THE SOCIETY,

Rev. John Potts, M.A., D.D., of Toronto, General Secretary of the Methodist Educational Bureau, was introduced by the president and delivered the annual address before the society. Dr. Potts spoke for nearly an hour and his eloquent and forcible words were listened to with rapt attention. He expressed his pleasure at being present to meet all sections of the Christian Church under what might be called the queen of all church organizations. The speaker went into his subject at once and spoke of the help needed by the British and Foreign Bible Society and the Upper Canada Bible Society which was organized in 1840 and extended from Kingston to the Pacific Coast. Last year they sent $17,000 to the British and Foreign Bible Society and gave $2,000 for the spreading of the Gospel in the Province of Quebec, where the work was carried on in an indefatigable manner by that energetic Baptist clergyman, Rev. Mr. Stobo. The speaker knew of no better means of expending the money patriotically or religiously than in Quebec Province. There was a reviving interest in the work of the Upper Canada Bible Society. There were two reasons why apparently more concern was not taken, one of which was that all religious denominations are so aggressive and church members so much to do with their own churches that they had not time to devote to this grand central undenominationol society; and secondly because all people knew it was running along smoothly, they did not concern themselves much, but if the organization was in terror or danger, how would the people crowd around it? We were not attending it. They were several reasons why everyone should be interested in the society when we look at its great origin. The doctor traced its inception in Wales by Rev. Mr. Charles to the instituting of the British and Foreign Bible Society in London in 1804, by Rev. Jos. Hughes. In that year the society had not money to print one Bible, the next year they published 1,000, and last year no less than 4,000,000 were published and circulated. Since 1804 in all 132,000,000 Bibles have been published. If we were not interested in the society for its origin, we should be for its provident influence. The society was constructed of such material that all could feel a broad sympathy for it and not have their denominational attachments impaired in the slightest degree. The society was doing the work of the church's mission, which had in contemplation the evangelization of the world. All missionaries would be powerless were it not for the British and Foreign Bible Society on which all were dependent for the translation of the Scriptures in every tongue, and the society were depending on the scholarship of missionaries for these translations. Last year the Scriptures were translated by the editorial and translating committee into 70 languages including 9 new languages. We should think of the supreme and sublimeaim of the society, how elevating and ennobling was its design. The Bible had been translated into 331 languages and 302 of these by the British and Foreign Bible Society. Through the efforts of the Upper Canada Bible Society the Bible had been translated in 20 languages. The whole church of God was interested in the work and the certainty of absolute success which will crown it. The speaker concluded by powerfully pointing out the great importance of the work, its sacredness and assured blessings, the good the Bible had done us and the glad tidings it would bear to others. The claims of the society were lofty and inspired.

TO MEASURE THE INTEREST BY THOSE

CLOSING EXERCISES.

Mr. J. D. Collins moved a vote of thanks to the speaker for his masterly and instructive address.

This was seconded by Rev. J. E. Trotter in a few commendatory remarks and unanimously carried.

Rev. Dr. Willoughby of Toronto supported the resolution in a brief speech, expressing his unbounded pleasure at being among the members of the George street church, of which he was its first pastor. He congratulated Dr. Potts upon his splendid speech and the information imparted.

Dr. Willoughby stated that during his two or three days visit in town he hoped to have a friendly handshake with many old friends.

During the evening a collection was taken up and a substantial sum realized for the society. The pleasant service was brought to a close by the singing of a hymn and the pronunciation of the benediction by the Rev. Dr. Willoughby.

REV FATHER RYAN'S LECTURE

THE CATHOLIC CHURCH AND FREEDOM OF CONSCIENCE.

Eloquent Lecture by Rev. Father Ryan, S.J.—A Large Attendance—The Church and Conscience Defined—True Freedom, Obedience to Supreme Authority—The Catholic Church's Belief Misrepresented.

St. Peter's Cathedral was well filled last night to listen to the address of Rev. Father Ryan, S.J., of St. Michael's College, on "The Catholic Church and Freedom of Conscience," delivered under the auspices of the Catholic Literary Association. His Lordship Bishop O'Connor and the cathedral clergy had seats in the sanctuary. Before the address began the choir sang Lambillotte's Magnificat, Miss Annie Dunn of Norwood, taking the soprano solo in excellent style, and Mr. Hillier the other solo.

The orator priest is a man of rare eloquence, and physically, cast in heroic mould. His lecture was not controversial, he merely stated his premises and deduced his argument therefrom.

The reverend lecturer began by expressing the pleasure he felt in coming here to lecture for the benefit of the Young Men's Catholic Association, because he regarded it as one of the great social needs and powers of the present age. His subject "The Catholic Church and Freedom of Conscience," was an important and interesting as well as opportune one, as we hear so much nowadays of "civil and religious liberty," and the relation thereto of the Catholic church. He explained that the Catholic church was not the Catholic people—but it was the church of the people—who were dear to the heart of the church,—nor was it the Catholic press, nor the priests, nor the bishops, nor was it the Pope himself, the head of the church; and any objection that came against any of these was not against the Catholic church, but against these in their personal capacity. The speaker said the Catholic church was the church of the living God, the conception of the eternal Father—this divinely guarded and protected, was the interpreter and infallible teacher of the revelation of God. Conscience like the Catholic church is a divine creation, the central controlling power, the tablet of flesh on which is written the law of God; the home of moral power. It was the controlling power in man and, like the Catholic church the creation of God, and liberty was the bond that united the two. The conscience was controlled by God, and when the power that rules has supreme authority, there can be no tyranny nor coercion in obeying the dictates of conscience, but the largest freedom is submission to that divine authority. Man is a king when he owns only one master—God. Thus we see the Catholic church the defender of the rights of conscience and consequently of liberty. The speaker combatted the charge that the church tyrannizes and coerces converts. As to the tyranny, no matter how wise or great the man is that seeks to enter the Catholic church, he must "become as a little child" and learn the catechism. The Catholic church was the kingdom of God and the divine conditions of entering it must be observed. It might be called coercion to be compelled to obey man, but not to obey God. The church respected the liberty of the convert. not until he says of his free will that he desires to enter, is he admitted—she makes him respect his own conscience. Even the will of the child who enters the church by baptism is recognized. It was objected that the church had a dogmatic creed to force on those who came to her. The church,

DIVINELY CONSTITUTED BODY,

BEING DIVINE MUST BE DOGMATIC,

which meant being sure of the truth and teaching it. As Christ was one with the Father, so was the church one with Christ. It was a fallacy that liberty consists in doing what one liked, he cannot think as he likes—he is to do what is right and his conscience tells him what to believe, and the church confirms the voice of conscience. A man is free when he knows he is not the slave of error. True freedom is to believe and to know what we believe. All denominations of Christians looked for some Divine authority, and that authority a Book—the Word of God. They see the folly of believing in a fallible man, but they all believe in a Book. The speaker instanced a gathering of several denominations of Christians in Toronto to discuss organic union, but they failed to come to an agreement though they all had the same Book and they were honestly striving to come to an agreement; they held diametrically opposite views got from the same book. They did not believe the Book—they believed their own interpretation of it. This was the result of their freedom of conscience. Two opposite views may both be wrong—both can't be right—and the man who believed an error was not free but the slave of error. God never intended the Bible, though it was His word, as a source of faith—"As the Father sent me, so I send you"—the church—the living,

DIVINELY GUARDED AUTHORITY,

divinely commissioned to guard and protect that very Book. When one yields to the church, and submits his reason to it, he submitted it to God; that was, the speaker said, the security of freedom and liberty of the Catholic—submission only to God. He refuted the charge of subservlency to spiritual authority. Catholics only submitted to the Pope as the vicar of Christ, and to the priests as ministers of God. As to Ireland being an example of priestly tyranny the speaker said that Ireland, like the Catholic Church, was misunderstood—the priests knew the people and the people the priests, and the secret of the priests' power was his love of the people. As to the confessional as an engine of tyranny the church was misunderstood. Catholics go to confession because God commands it. Christ's giving to the apostles divine power to remit sin involved confession. God instituted confession and man never appeared to so grand advantage as when pouring out his soul in contrition—for penitence can only come from God. As to the belief in the real presence—the church said that bread and wine was God whom Catholics adored, and man never appeared to greater advantage as to freedom of will than when he made his reason and intellect subject, and bowed down and worshipped God and becomes superior to himself. That man is free, according to the Catholic church, who makes his reason subject to the teaching of the church, the divinely constituted source of freedom.

The speaker concluded by pointing out the benefits of social freedom—freedom from ignorance, malice and prejudice—when their separated brethren came to know them better in social and civic intercourse, then better mutual feeling arose. The speaker again warmly commended the Catholic Association, as it equipped its members for work in the interest of the church. He urged the congregation to contribute liberally to give the Association freedom from debt and wished his hearers freedom in ruling themselves according to the will of God, through the church, so that they might be worthy to rule with Him in His heavenly kingdom.

The music provided by the choir was exceptionally good. During the collection Miss Annie Dunn sang Welling's "Give me thy Love," and during the benediction, sung by Rev. Father McColl, of Ennismore, Mr. Jos. McDonald sang Stearne's "O Salutaris Hostia" and the choir rendered Lambillotte's "Tantum Ergo." Miss Hurley presided at the organ very effectively.

LAKEFIELD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The town hall was well filled on Monday morning by the village ratepayers and a number from the surrounding country, when Police Magistrate Edmison took his seat to try the case entered against the corporation by Mr. J. P. Strickland, for obstructing Water and Concession streets. Mr. Johnston appeared for the village, (their solicitor, Mr. Dumble, it seems not being allowed to plead in a police court) and Mr. A. P. Poussette for Mr. Strickland. The village clerk was examined when the presiding magistrate decided he had no jurisdiction, and with the consent of all parties the case was laid over to the court of Queen's bench. It was evidently a "mixed one" to all concerned and the lawyers will have a hard nut to crack before it is settled. As it is, the reeve has the support of the ratepayers in the course he has taken.

A number of enquiries has been made from other villages as to how the plan adopted last winter by the council of consolidating all the offices except that of the clerk and treasurer, under the management of one man, paying him a yearly salary and claiming all his time, has succeeded. I give below for their information as well as that of the village ratepayers, the clerk's report to the council.

To the Reeve and Council of the Village of Lakefield:

GENTLEMEN,—In accordance with the motion passed at the last meeting of the council I herewith beg to submit report of material used for roads and sidewalks, work done, etc. or the year 1892. Also work attended to by Mr. Doidge apart from his duties of assessor, collector and caretaker of town and fire halls. Roads and sidewalks: lumber, 6,184 ft.; cedar posts for crossings, 314; gravel, 235 loads; sawdust for filling up, 200 loads; nails, 2 kegs; teaming, 32½ days; men's time, 70½ days; time as roadmaster, 105 days. Board of Health: Visits of inspection, 242; burying dead horse and sheep, 1½ day. Fire Department: Cleaning engine after practice, 7 times; cleaning engine after fire, 1 time; ladders and small engines were also painted and placed in order. Mr. Doidge was paid the sum of $300 per annum and also received his fees for all police court cases. He will no doubt receive an increase of salary this month as the council are so well satisfied with him, and the public seem equally so.

The large audience and those engaged at the police magistrate's court on Monday enjoyed a hearty laugh at the village clerk's expense, when he stated he had made certain measurements yesterday (Sunday) in place of Saturday as intended.

BETHEL.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

A social Orange social was held at Bethel on Wednesday night under the auspices of L.O.L. No. 284. There was a large attendance, Bro. Wm. Adams, D.M., presiding in a happy style. A long and varied programme was presented to the delight of the large company present. Mr. John Nugent, Peterborough, delivered two capital recitations and was well received. Mr. John Haggart favoured with several fine readings in fine style. Bro. G. Balfour, of Omemee, one of the oldest Orangemen in this district, delivered a stirring and burning speech, denouncing Sir John Thompson in scathing words. During the evening fruit and other delicacies were served in ample style.

MACMASTER & McGIBBON, Montreal.

The Directors, who are now the owners of the entire Capital stock, have decided, at the request of numerous friends of the Company throughout Canada, to enlarge the proprietorship of its stock, and to offer for sale, at par, ten thousand shares, of one hundred dollars each, fully paid and non-assessable.

Payments are to be made as follows:—Five per cent. on application; fifteen per cent. on allotment; twenty per cent. each in one, two, three and four months from the date of allotment. Applicants have the right to pay in full on allotment.

Applications for shares will be received until February 15th, 1893, at any of the offices of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, at the offices of the Union Bank of Halifax, and at the head office of the company, N. Y. Life Building, Montreal.

Forms of application for shares may be obtained at any of the above places, or they will be sent by mail on request.

Should no allotment of stock be made to any applicant for shares, the amount paid will be returned in full, and in the event of the Directors finding it impossible to allot the full number of shares applied for, the surplus of the deposit will be credited toward the amount payable on allotment.

The right is reserved of withdrawing the offer in whole or part at any time before allotment, and of allotting to any applicant any less number of shares than the number applied for.

As the dividends of the Company are payable quarterly, beginning with the first day of March next, allottees of stock will be entitled to receive a proportion of the quarterly dividend as declared, corresponding to the amount paid upon their subscription.

It is proposed to apply to the Stock Exchanges of Montreal and Toronto for official quotations of the shares of the Company.

The Consumers Cordage Company was organized in June, 1890, with a capital of one million dollars, to operate several of the largest Cordage and Binder Twine Factories in Canada. It, at first, operated these under leases, but its operations having been successful, the Capital Stock was subsequently increased to Three Million Dollars, and the leased properties were purchased.

The Company has no mortgage indebtedness; and, according to the law under which it was incorporated, none can be created without the consent of two-thirds of the shares holders, represented at a meeting called for the purpose.

The Company has placed in the hands of its Bankers:—

(a) Full statements of its affairs, certified to by Messrs. Caldwell, Tait & Wilks, Chartered Accountants.

(b) The following letter from Messrs. Abbotts, Campbell & Meredith, advocates, Montreal, upon the legality of its incorporation, and the issue of its stock:—

MONTREAL, January 5, 1893.

Consumers Cordage Co., Ltd., Montreal:—

GENTLEMEN,—We have examined the books and documents connected with the organization of the Consumers Cordage Company, Limited, and are of opinion that it has been properly incorporated, and that its capital stock of $3,000,000, as issued, is fully paid up and non-assessable, according to the provisions of the "Companies Act."

We are, yours truly,

(signed), ABBOTTS, CAMPBELL & MEREDITH.

(c). A report from Messrs. Macmaster and McGibbon, Solicitors of the Company, that the titles to its Mills have been duly examined, and that no encumbrances exist.

Applicants for shares may examine these documents, copies of which may be seen at the Company's offices, and at the various offices of the banks mentioned above.

The Consumers Cordage Company is probably the second largest Manufacturer of Cordage and Binder Twine in the world, and claims the following very material advantages over its competitors:—

1st. Ample capital to conduct its business which enables it:—

(a) To buy its raw material in larger quantities, and at lower prices.

(b) To use only the latest and most improved machinery, thus keeping its mills in the highest state of efficiency.

2nd. Economy in selling and distributing its manufactured product.

3rd. The business covers so wide a territory (its manufactured goods go to almost every civilized country in the world) that it cannot be seriously injured by local troubles; and its Manufacturing establishments are so scattered that the danger of severe loss by fire is very slight.

4th. Lower cost of production.

(a). By maintaining the sharpest competition between its several mills, it is enabled to introduce in all the best methods found in each.

(b). By spreading its commercial expenses over a larger output.

(c) By placing in one hand the purchasing of the Raw Materials and Manufacturing supplies for the several Mills, thus procuring lowest prices.

(d). By manufacturing for themselves many of their supplies.

The Company has always found it in its interest to divide the economies effected in production and distribution with the Consumer, and since its existence the Consumer has, upon the average, had a better article at a lower price than previously.

The Company does not claim to have any monopoly, or to earn monopoly profits; in fact, it has not done so. Since its organization it has been able, owing to the advantages above referred to, to earn a net return on its present capital of not less than 10 per cent. per annum (as statements in their Bankers' hands will show), and the Directors believe that these profits will be maintained in the future, as the cost of production and distribution shows each year a marked decrease.

The Dividend for the year ending 31st October, 1892, was at the rate of 8½ percent. per annum. The past record of the Company and its present position justify the Directors in believing that quarterly dividends of one and three-quarters per cent. can be paid (and should the profits for the present year be as large as the outlook promises, the final quarter's dividend might be increased.

Any further information may be had at the head office of the Company at Montreal.

A VAGARY.

Flowers and Furs Together in the Millinery of To-Day.

Flowers used in conjunction with furs represent one of the notable vagaries in the millinery for the last of winter. Sets are to be seen comprising the hat, a boa and muff, the hat and the muff trimmed with a bunch of violets, and the boa set at the throat with a bunch of violets. A very handsome set consists of a hat of felt in a dark shade of tan color, trimmed about the crown with a band and bows of velvet, bordered by a light fringe of fur, a mink tail terminating in the head of the animal also wound about the crown, and the brim held up at the back by a full bunch of violets in reddish purple; and a muff of tan-colored cloth, with fur peeping out at the sides, garnished with two minks' heads, set in a bow of velvet ribbon, the bow supporting a bunch of violets.

The furore for violets brings them indeed, into all sorts of of juxtaposition in the millinery of the moment. A set comprising a tarban and flat muff has trimming on the hat of a bow of upright loops of black satin ribbon at the left side, supported by a bunch of violets; and a bow of the ribbon with a bunch of violets trims the muff. By contrast, a charming hat for visiting and evening wear, of medium size, has the crown of draped black velvet, and the brim of cream-white Irish cut-lace; white velvet ribbon is wound around the crown and forms a bow in the front. The hat pictured is of black velvet trimmed with ostrich tips. The neck ruche is of black satin ribbon with bow and long ends. Coal-scuttle bonnets modified, of course, but with a crazy single feather a nodding over the flare of the brim, and a saucy rosebud under the crown, are already here. All you want is a "pen wiper" skirt, a flare-tailed coat, a very big muff, a pair of round eyes, a look of "where ever did I come from?" and you will hold your own.

Penny newspapers are given away to the customers of certain restaurants in New York.

A cork sunk 200 feet deep in the ocean will not rise again to the surface, owing to the great pressure of the water. At any less distance from the surface, however, it will gradually work its way back to light once more.

A Grecian peasant unearthed a statue on the Isle of Egina and sold it to an English traveler for a trifle. The Englishman is reported to have sold it to the British Museum for an enormous sum, and the people of Egina have held an indignation meeting and denounced the poor peasant for his ignorance.

The island of Heligoland, in the North Sea, which was ceded to Germany by Great Britain two years ago, has just had its first case of lese-majeste. The victim, an old woman, spoke disrespectfully of the Emperor, for which terrible crime she was arrested and taken to Altona, where she was convicted and sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

PERSONALS.

Lady Paunceotte, wife of the British minister at Washington, finds that city overwhelmingly sociable. On a recent afternoon she had calls from 1,400 visitors whom she had never seen or heard of. She had made an informal announcement that she would be "at home" from 4 to 6 o'clock.

"I wish to inform the press," remarked ex-Champion Sullivan the other night from the stage of a Buffalo theatre, "that I try to be a gentleman." It is to be feared that Mr. Sullivan's efforts in this direction are as unsuccessful as those having for their object the knocking out of his professional brother, Corbett.

Henry George looks like a prosperous merchant, who is advertising and thriving, says the New York correspondent of the Troy Times. He dresses fashionably and not quietly. His frame is stocky, and his face sturdy. He is not of a shrinking and shy nature, that fears the shouting of the captains. There is fighting blood in him, and there is also caution in his long head. He would relish a fight, provided he could have his say in making the terms. A very cunning and a very able man, too, is Henry George.

Thomas White, P. Back-Ache.
Back-ache is caused by sick kidneys. Dodd's Kidney Pills will remove it. By their peculiar action on the kidneys they impart activity and benefit the system by purifying the blood. You cannot have pure blood with disordered kidneys; health's existence depends upon their natural condition; they are the governors of the system. Continual disorder results in kidney consumption, which is Bright's disease.

IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

Canadian Cattle still an Remain Seized—Fat Cattle Cheap.

LONDON, Feb. 8.—In the House of Commons, in reply to the interpellations of Henry Chaplin, Ex-President of the Board of Agriculture, Mr. Gardner, the present president, said that since last July 41 cases of pleuro-pneumonia had been discovered among 18 cargoes of cattle imported from the United States.

The Canadian authorities had declared that they had been unable to find a single case of pleuro-pneumonia in the Dominion, yet the appearance of the disease in Scotland had been traced to ports at which Canadian cattle had been landed.

It was certain, therefore, that some centre of disease in Canada had been overlooked or that the regulations governing the importation of cattle into the Dominion were defective. The Government, therefore, would be obliged to maintain the prohibition of Canadian cattle.

He advocated warmly the slaughter of all foreign cattle at the port of entry. He thought that neither the United States nor Canada had any good grounds for opposing such a measure. He quoted figures showing that although only 4four diseased Canadian cattle had been landed recently in Scotland the Government had been put to an expense of £18,000 to compensate the owners of the herds which had been slaughtered.

W. Kenny, Q.C., Liberal-Unionist member for St. Stephen's-Green, Dublin, brought up the subject of the convict, John Daly, convicted of having been engaged in a dynamite conspiracy at the same time as James Francis Egan, who was recently liberated. Mr. Kenny asked whether the Government had any intention of releasing Daly.

Home Secretary Asquith, in reply, denied that there was any intention to interfere with the normal course of the sentence. Daly had been sentenced to penal servitude for life, and in the ordinary course a period of 20 years elapsed before the sentence of a prisoner under sentence for life was remitted.

As Daly was sentenced only 10 years ago the reply of the Home Secretary leaves no hope of his early liberation.

The Ministers have decided to apply the closure on Friday, in case the address be still under discussion at that time. Their purpose is to clear the way for the introduction of the Home Rule Bill on Monday.

Some excitement was caused in the course of the day by the disappearance of the Irish Home Rule Bill. Mr. Gladstone missed in the morning a portfolio containing the Home Rule Bill, as well as drafts of other measures to be submitted to Parliament, and private papers.

Finally the portfolio was discovered in what had been assumed to be an empty despatch box put aside as disused in Mr. Gladstone's private room. There is still a mystery as to how the portfolio got there. The documents seemed untouched.

FLOODS IN QUEENSLAND.

The City of Brisbane is Suffering From a Deluge.

BRISBANE, Queensland, Feb. 8.—The water is rising steadily in this city. The lower districts are completely submerged. The shops and their contents are almost a total loss.

The Brisbane River bridge, which connected North and South Brisbane, was swept away last night. All the inhabitants are crowding to the highest parts of the city. In consequence of the interruption of railway and telegraphic communication only meagre information about the disasters in other parts of Queensland is obtainable.

At Maryborough 30 persons have been drowned. Most of the town is under water. The Mary River Bridge, the longest one in the colony, has been carried away. The town has been deserted by two-thirds of its inhabitants. Tiaro, another town on the Mary, is also under water.

BROKE HER SHAFT.

The Schiedam Traveled 500 Miles Under Canvas.

LONDON, Feb. 8.—The steamer Schiedam, Capt. Brouwer, from Rotterdam Jan. 18 for New York and Baltimore, passed Weaver Point at 8 o'clock yesterday, making for Queenstown under sail. Her shaft is broken.

Tugs were sent out from Queenstown to meet the Schiedam and they towed her into port. The steamer reports that 16 days ago she encountered terrific weather. A tremendous sea was running and the shaft broke. Canvas was set and the steamer sailed 500 miles.

HALIFAX CONFERENCE.

THE REPORT BEFORE THE DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

To Delimit a Correct Boundary — Mr. Bond's Statement Regarding Newfoundland's Overtures to the United States—A British Consul for St. Pierre.

OTTAWA, Feb. 9.—Immediately on the House meeting after recess yesterday Sir John Thompson laid on the table the minutes of the Halifax Conference last December between delegates from Canada and Newfoundland.

The minutes are made in the form of a very carefully prepared and apparently well done report by Mr. Douglas Steward, secretary of the Commission.

They make 40 printed pages, and it is to be regretted that the state of the finances did not justify the Government in having more than one copy brought down, as the 30 odd pressmen in the gallery have found it impossible to digest the report as thoroughly as they would otherwise have done could each pressman have got a copy.

The delegates, it appears, discussed several questions besides those contained in the reference. The Canadian delegates at the first meeting brought up the complaint that Canadian goods had been charged duty by Newfoundland customs officers in Labrador, although destined for Canadian territory.

The Newfoundland delegates declared they had never heard of such practices and pronounced them illegal, and the upshot of the matter was that it was agreed to appoint officers of both Governments to delimit a correct boundary.

Sir John Thompson at the suggestion of Sir William Whiteway explained why Canada had objected to the ratification of the Bond-Blaine treaty, and Sir William asked if Canada failed to secure a treaty herself with the United States would she still object to the Bond-Blaine treaty.

In the discussion that followed Sir John Thompson said that the Canadian delegates should not be asked to make a pledge in advance, and that it would depend on the grounds on which the United States refused a treaty with Canada whether or not further objections were taken to the Bond-Blaine treaty.

If, for instance, a treaty was refused on the ground of Canadian fidelity to the Empire, Canada should not be blamed for asking Imperial protection against a convention between Newfoundland and the United States which would be inimical to Canadian interests.

Sir William Whiteway urged Newfoundland's peculiarly isolated position and her dependence upon one single industry.

Mr. Bond defended his action in trying to make a treaty with the United States without consulting Canada on the ground that Canada had never asked Newfoundland to join in her treaty negotiations with the United States. He declared, however, that he had distinctly assured Mr. Blaine that there was to be no discrimination against Canada.

He thought that the fact that the treaty was to be ratified by Great Britain was sufficient guarantee that in lowering her tariff Newfoundland would not discriminate against Canada. He would agree to guarantee that there would be no differential tariff against Canada, and that our fishermen should be placed on the same footing as American fishermen.

After some discussion of the charge that Canadian fishermen had supplied bait to French fishermen and upon the question of smuggling at St. Pierre, the delegates agreed that both Governments would petition the Imperial Government to appoint a British consul at St. Pierre.

At another sitting Sir William Whiteway renewed his request for joint action on the bait supply question, pointing out how beneficial to both countries it would be to prohibit the sale of bait to the French fishermen. He held that it would reduce the French catch and consequently increase the sale of Newfoundland and Canadian fish.

Sir John Thompson declined to make a promise with regard to the Canadian Bait Act, but was willing to agree that Canadian fishermen should be bound to respect the terms upon which they bought bait in Newfoundland.

The subject of confederation was broached by Hon. Mackenzie Bowell at the third sitting as an easy solution of all difficulties.

Sir William Whiteway expressed himself as pleased that the subject had been mentioned, and seemed desirous of talking it over, but Hon. Mr. Harvey opposed it, declaring that while many on the Island believed it to be the ultimate destiny of the country it was not a question of the immediate future and was one with which the conference had no concern.

At a subsequent sitting Hon. Mr. Bowell again brought up the matter, but with the same result, and it was only after Sir John Thompson had pressed the advisability of the remarks on the confederation question being made public that the Newfoundland delegates consented that they should form part of the record.

Proposals and counter-proposals were submitted by the Newfoundland delegates urging Canada to agree to refrain from objecting to the Bond-Blaine treaty in case the Dominion Government failed to make a reciprocity treaty with the United States by July 1, 1893.

The Canadian delegates declined, but subsequently agreed to withdraw opposition in case no treaty was arranged between Canada and the United States by August, 1893. The Newfoundland delegates made no reply to this proposal.

It was agreed that the rate of postage between Canada and Newfoundland be reduced to three cents per ounce, newspapers from office of publication to be free.

It will be seen from the above that the only definite agreements arrived at were with reference to bait, the establishment of a British consul at St. Pierre and to a reduction of postage, but there can be no little doubt but that the effect of the conference will be good, as tending to draw the two colonies closer together and perhaps in the future opening the way to further negotiations with a view to confederation.

Bel-Air Jockey Club's Dates.

MONTREAL, Feb. 9.—The Executive Committee of the Bel-Air Jockey Club met at the Windsor Hotel, the vice-president, Mr. J. O'Brien, in the chair. The chief business transacted was the selection of dates for the coming summer meeting, those chosen being Thursday, Friday and Saturday, June 8, 9 and 10. About $6000 will be given in premiums during the three days.

France-Canadian Treaty.

LONDON, Feb. 9.—The Franco-Canadian treaty, by which the imports from Canada will be placed on the minimum schedule of the French tariff, was signed in the French Foreign Office, in Paris, on Monday last. The Marquis of Dufferin and Ava and Sir Charles Tupper, Canadian High Commissioner to London, appended their signatures as the British and Canadian plenipotentiaries, respectively, while on behalf of the French Government M. Develle, the Minister of Foreign Affairs, and M. Siegfried, the Minister of Trade and Commerce, signed the document. The treaty will be submitted to the French Chamber of Deputies and the Canadian Parliament forthwith.

Began the Year Badly.

LONDON, Feb. 9.—It is a matter of regret to have to state that the trade between Great Britain and Canada began the year badly. The British imports from Canada declined no less than 27 per cent. during January, chiefly in wheat, butter, fish and lumber. There was, though, a large increase in the importation of Canadian cheese.

British exports to Canada during the same period have increased 5 per cent.

CLEARING SALE

—OF—

MEN'S, YOUTHS' AND BOYS' SUITS AND OVERCOATS.

Big Reductions in the Price of all kinds of Ready-Made Overcoats.

We utterly annihilate Profit, entirely ignoring Cost, for the next Six weeks. It's like finding money. This sale will eclipse any offer of the entire season. It is the result of several causes—lateness of season, the over-stocked condition of our Overcoat Department, but mainly the necessity of turning our stock into money.

500 WINTER OVERCOATS.

The Cream of our $15 and $18 Overcoats go for $13.

Our $4.50 Overcoats go for $3.50.

We do this not for love of our customers, nor for fun; but because it's hard to sell Overcoats now—because we must sell them now or carry them over until next winter. Our regular prices, as you know, are fully 25 per cent. lower than Clothing is usually sold at, but to make this an unprecedented sale, we entirely ignore cost for the next six weeks. DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

THE QUESTION OF FREE COAL OIL BRIEFLY DISCUSSED.

The Newfoundland Delegates Invited Discussion on Confederation—A Bill to Further Restrict Bribery At the Polls—The Duty on Pickles.

OTTAWA, Feb. 10.—Another of the piecemeal tariff debates occupied the attention of the House for the greater part of yesterday and up to 6 o'clock, when the House adjourned.

The motion, "That it is expedient to place coal oil on the free list," was moved by Mr. Cleveland of Richmond and Wolfe, who spoke strongly in favor of the removal of the duty, and was followed by Mr. McMillan of Huron in the same strain.

Sir John Thompson moved the adjournment of the debate on the ground taken by the Minister of Finance in dealing with binder twine and corn, that it was best to postpone these questions until after the budget speech next week, when it would be seen what the Government tariff policy was.

Dr. McDonald of Huron made a very exhaustive speech against the tax on coal oil, entering very fully into figures to show how excessive the price charged for oil and how heavily it bears on the farmers.

Mr. Moncrieff defended the tax, holding that there was no combine in oil, that the price was not excessive, that the supply of Canadian oil was ample, and that the oil industry ought to be protected.

The debate went over at 6 o'clock and will not come up again until after the budget speech, if then.

Prior to the orders of the day being called, Sir John Thompson made an explanation with reference to the Newfoundland conference. In the report of the conference it is mentioned that the Canadian delegates "insisted" on the question of confederation being referred to. The report had been signed by all the delegates, but since his return to Newfoundland Sir William Whiteway had wished the reference expunged, as he considered that it might be inferred that the Newfoundland delegates resisted the discussion on confederation.

Sir John said it was too late to change the record, as it had been printed and a copy sent to the British Government, but he took this opportunity of saying that there was no resistance whatever on the part of the Newfoundland delegates in respect to discussing informally the question of confederation.

Dr. Weldon, in moving the second reading of his bill to disfranchise voters who have taken bribes, explained that the machinery of the bill was largely constructed on the principle of a bill introduced by Mr. Blake and which is now law, but which concludes differently. The present bill proceeds on the principle that the franchise should not be continued to persons who have been found to use it improperly. A free country can't long live if the habit of wholesale bribery at the polls becomes established. It may be urged that the bill allows the briber to escape, but the law is already drastic and stringent in that respect, while the bill does not aim to punish but to repress.

He alluded to a profound view of the political institutions of Great Britain made recently by Mr. Balfour, in which that distinguished statesman likened the situation of public affairs in Great Britain to the conditions of the free institutions of Athens before her downfall by the hand of the Macedonian. Mr. Weldon described, in forcible terms, the beautiful civilization of Athens, and attributed the overthrow of her free institutions to the corruption of the populace by much the same system of bribery which he held unhappily prevailed in this country to too great an extent. He did not claim for his bill the accomplishment of a complete political regeneration, but was confident that it would prove a powerful corrective, and urged members on both sides of the House to assist him in having it placed upon the statute book.

The bill was read a second time.

Mr. N. Clarke Wallace, in reply to Mr. Langelier, said that the Government was not aware that the duty now levied on pickled goods "is about equal to the price of the said goods." The fact was that the value of pickles entered for consumption in Canada last year was $67,436, while the duty collected thereon was $24,830. He further informed the hon. member that there were many pickle manufacturers in Canada. As to "whether it is the intention of the Government to move in this House for the abolition or reduction of the aforesaid duty," the hon. gentleman would get his information when the Finance Minister declared the policy of the Government.

Sir John Thompson said in reply to Hon. Mr. Laurier that the documents relating to the treaty with France had only been received from the High Commissioner yesterday and he hoped to lay them on the table to-day.

About thirty of the members of Parliament, representing the cities in which there is a free delivery system, waited on Sir Adolphe Caron, Postmaster-General, and presented a petition from over 400 letter carriers asking for an increase of salary. The claims of the men, that they were the poorest paid in the whole service, that their hours were long and the work arduous, the liability to sickness and disease above the average and that the cost of living had largely increased, were urged by Messrs. Hugh John Macdonald, G. R. R. Cockburn, Col. Denison, S. S. Ryckman, J. F. Stairs and others.

Sir Adolphe promised to give an answer in writing, but the substance of his remarks was that last year when the matter had been brought before him he had gone very fully into it, and considering the number of applicants for the work, and the concessions in the shape of uniforms and street car transit, he could not, to speak frankly, recommend to the Government an increase in the direction requested.

The Government was guided by a desire to keep down expenses without injuring the efficiency of the departments, and until the postal revenue increased he could hold out little hope of granting the prayers of the men. To give an increase to the letter carriers would open up the question of the pay of the whole civil service, which was a very formidable undertaking.

Hon. Mr. Daly laid on the table the usual return of all orders in council, correspondence, etc., relating to the lands required by the C.P.R. Co. for right-of-way purposes; to the right of the company to land required for right-of-way purposes through school lands; to the payment to the company of certain survey fees; to the cutting of timber by the company on Dominion lands in British Columbia; to the company's branch lines, and to grants made to the company for station grounds.

The return covers 246 foolscap pages, closely type-written, and is accompanied by seven maps and plans. It gives a great deal of information respecting the operations of the company during the year, but is mostly of a routine nature and not containing much to interest the general reader.

Dr. Wilson of Lennox presented a petition from François Van de Burgt and 81 others of Napanee praying that the standard weight of a bushel of onions be reduced from 60 to 50 pounds, and that the weight of a bag of onions be fixed at 75 pounds exclusive of the bag, and of a barrel of onions at 150 pounds exclusive of the barrel.

Mr Costigan laid on the table a return showing the number of commissions issued to public officers during the year 1892. The total number was 120, but on account of Cabinet changes and other resources a good many commissions are duplicated. Hon. Mackenzie Bowell received a commission as Minister of Militia and Defence and another as Minister of Trade and Commerce, etc.

His Excellency transmitted to the House further papers respecting the enforcement by the Newfoundland authorities against Canadian vessels of the Newfoundland Act respecting the sale of bait to foreign fishing vessels. The return is dated last June, and since then all interest in the matter has been lost by the more friendly attitude towards Canada assumed by Newfoundland.

Hon. T. M. Daly, Minister of the Interior, laid on the table the statutory return of copies of orders in council of 1892 relating to Dominion lands. This return is always one of the most neat-looking presented to Parliament, owing to the fact that all the orders in council relating to the Department of the Interior are printed by the department after they are received from council, and the report, therefore, presents a much more tidy appearance than some of the returns, which are partly written, partly type-written and occasionally partly printed.

Apropos of the attempt now being made in the House to have the duty on coal oil removed, the Consumers' Gas Company of Toronto has sent to every member of Parliament a copy of the petition presented last year to the Minister of Finance by the gas companies of Ontario, Montreal and Winnipeg, praying for the removal of the duty on gas oil.

Mr. Charlton gave notice that he will move, on Monday, that it is expedient to make the domestic postage in Canada two cents per ounce or fraction of an ounce.

LIKE MEN WHO POISON WELLS DURING WAR.

They Can Receive No Indulgence From Any British Government—Justin McCarthy Said That Clemency Is Essential to a True Union.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—In the House of Commons yesterday Mr. John F. Redmond, Parnellite member for Waterford City, resumed the debate on the address. He moved the adoption of an amendment declaring in favor of the release of the men now undergoing imprisonment for treason-felony. Mr. Redmond quoted from speeches made by Mr. John Morley, Chief Secretary for Ireland, another ministerialist, in support of his motion.

Mr. John J. Clancy, Parnellite member for the north division of Dublin County, seconded Mr. Redmond's motion. As he began to speak the members began to withdraw and comparatively few remained to hear what he had to say.

Mr. Asquith, Home Secretary, answered Mr. Redmond at length. He had investigated carefully the cases of the 14 prisoners in question, he said, and must deny the correctness of the statement that their crimes were political. These prisoners were not like the men of 1848 who went into the open field to fight, but resembled rather men who in time of war poisoned wells. [Hear, hear, from both sides of the House.]

This mode of warfare on society he regarded with abhorrence, and for the deeds of those following it he could find no palliating phrases. Such men would receive no consideration and no indulgence from any British Government.

Justin McCarthy, leader of the Anti-Parnellites, expressed regret because Mr. Asquith had spoken in such an uncompromising tone. The Nationalists felt bound to maintain the difference between personal and political acts in relation to their cause. The Government, moreover, ought not to endanger a great legislative measure intended to realize a true union of Ireland and England merely by indisposition to show clemency. [Irish cheers.]

After a bitter squabble between Mr. Redmond and John Dillon as to the inferences fostered by the Liberal leaders before the elections as to the amnesty question, Arthur J. Balfour paid his respects to Mr. Asquith, whom he said had shown admirably the courage of his convictions. The Liberals were to be congratulated, he said, upon having a Home Secretary who knew his own mind and did not fear to speak it.

Timothy Healy reminded Mr. Balfour that not so very long since the Conservatives had co-operated with the Irish members to secure the release of the prisoners.

The House rejected Mr. Redmond's amendment by a vote of 397 to 81.

A motion to adjourn was rejected by a vote of 263 to 183.

HORSE BREEDERS.

TORONTO, Feb. 10.—At the annual meeting of the Shire Horse Association at the Agricultural Hall yesterday morning President John Guardhouse, Highfield, occupied the chair. The secretary's report showed that 15 stallions and four mares had been registered, as against 43 for 1891 and 50 in 1890.

So far there were 3.. records in the first volume. Two new members were added during the year.

The receipts for the year amounted to $34 and the disbursements to $25, leaving a balance on hand of $59.

Owing to the small attendance the meeting adjourned without an election of officers.

Killed While Driving.

KINGSVILLE, Ont., Feb. 10.—Mrs. Jasperson, wife of Lewis Jasperson of this place, met with a fatal accident yesterday. While driving in a cutter the horse suddenly became unmanageable and ran away, throwing her against a picket fence, cutting a terrible gash in her head. She only lived about two hours.

BREEDERS OF AYRSHIRES.

Forgotten and Dismay Spectre—Communication to the Association.

TORONTO, Feb. 10.—President Thomas Guy, Oshawa, occupied the chair at the ninth annual meeting of the Ayrshire Breeders' Association at Shaftesbury Hall yesterday afternoon. The members present were: Secretary H. Wade, Toronto; James Yuill, Carleton Place; J. McCormick, Beachton; J. Knight, Edgeburg; A. Brown, Bethel; J. Stokes, Tamworth; Duncan Brown, Iona; David Morton, Hamilton; John Crosby, Chaphamville; W. Ballantyne, Stratford; W. Nicol, Hintonville; M. Ballantyne, St. Mary's; C. M. Simmons, Ivan; William Mole, Vittoria, Toronto; Ed. Jeffs, Bond Head.

In his annual address the President referred to the importance of the dairying industry in the present agricultural depression. The value of the Ayrshire cow lying in her powers as a milker it was necessary to discard all bad milkers and breed only from the best producers. Any other course would result in detriment to the breed and the breeder.

Secretary-Treasurer Wade read the report of the Executive Committee, which showed that 238 animals had been recorded during the last year, making a total in the herd book of 883. Thirty-four members had been added to the roll, making a total membership of 81. Ayrshire cattle had come of late rapidly to the front and several had been selected for exhibition at the World's Fair. Several fine animals had been imported from Scotland.

The financial statement showed a cash balance of $16,140 in the association's strong box.

A paper by D. Nicol, Cataraqui, was read by the secretary on "The importance of the Ayrshire as a dairy cow." The present demand for Ayrshires was greater than ever on account of the increasing proportions of the cheese industry. The Ayrshire cow had the advantage over other breeds because of the large quantity of casein and butter fat in her milk. The breed was also more uniform in productiveness, its fodder consumption was smaller and there were fewer "scrubs" than in other breeds.

"How shall we select Sires for Dairy Herds so as to produce uniform results?" was the subject of an essay by A. Brown, Bethel, Ont. The paper dealt with the necessity of a uniform grade and quality through several generations and advocated attaching a milk record to the pedigree of all pure-bred cows in the herdbook. A resolution embodying this idea was passed by the association at the conclusion of the paper.

Joseph Yuill, Carleton Place, gave a short address on "The points of a good dairy cow." These he considered were: face long, eye bright, neck long, thin and tapering, shoulders thin, back straight and ribs well strung. The tail should be long, tapering and well set up, the udder large, the front legs wide apart, the mouth and nostrils large, the hair soft and wooly and the skin not too thick.

Messrs. W. Stewart, C. Simmons, D. Morton, J. Knight and M. Ballantyne took part in the subsequent discussion.

These officers were elected for 1893:

President—M. Ballantyne, St. Mary's.

Vice-Presidents—Ontario: W. Stewart, jr., Menie; Quebec, W. C. Edwards, North Mission Mills; Manitoba, George Steele, Glenborough; Northwest Territories, Claude H. Manners, Moosomin; Prince Edward Island, C. C. Gardner, Charlottetown; Nova Scotia, William Blanchard, Truro; British Columbia, A. C. Wells, Chilliwhack.

Directors—J. McCormick, Joseph Yuill, A. Brown, T. Guy, W. W. Ballantyne, J. Knight, W. Nicol.

Auditors—H. E. Eyre, Harlem; G. W. Green, Toronto.

The representatives of the association appointed to the various fairs are: J. McCormick, T. Guy, Toronto Industrial Exhibition; M. Ballantyne, A. Kain, Western Fair; J. Yuill, C. Smith, Ottawa Central Fair.

D. Morton and J. McCormick were elected delegates to the Dominion Cattle Breeders' Association.

FAVOR FREE TRADE.

The Central Farmers' Institute Deal With the Trade Question.

TORONTO, Feb. 10.—The last hours of the session of the Central Farmers' Institute yesterday morning were troubled by a fierce discussion on free trade. It all arose over a resolution introduced by James McEwing, seconded by George Mowbray. The resolution in full was:

That whereas the farmers of Canada during the last 18 years have largely supported a protective policy for the purpose of establishing and building up the manufacturing interests of this country, and whereas such manufacturing industries as are suitable for this country have received such assistance for a period long enough to enable them now to withstand fair and open competition, and whereas the Canadian Manufacturers Association at its annual meeting held in Toronto, Feb. 7, declares and reaffirms its determination to support and perpetuate the high tariff policy, be it therefore resolved that this meeting hereby declares and affirms that to continue and perpetuate such high tariff policy will be detrimental to the vital interests of the agricultural community; that we are of the opinion that the time has come for the adoption of free trade with Great Britain and the same privilege to foreign countries that will give a like privilege to us.

After a good deal of time had been spent by a number of delegates talking at once, one member moved the previous question and the resolution passed.

The Institute commended the action of the Education Department in placing agriculture on the public school curriculum, but they regretted that the subject was not more generally taught.

On motion of Messrs. T. Strachan and D. N. McIntyre, the institute declared itself of the opinion that Canadian cattle are free from contagious diseases, and desired to have the obstacles now placed upon Canadian cattle entering British markets removed.

The institute declared in favor of placing corn on the free list and the imposition of a uniform duty on all grades of pork coming into Canada from the States.

On motion of Mr. Hamilton Petit the institute decided to petition the Ontario Government to exempt farmers from the operation of the Employers' Liability Act.

Prof. Zavitz of the Agricultural College gave an interesting address on "Co-operative Work in Agriculture for Seven Years."

Hon. John Dryden extended an invitation to the delegates to visit the new Parliament buildings, which they did in the afternoon.

G. T. R. Changes.

LINDSAY, Feb. 10.—The removal of the railway shops from Lindsay and Allandale to Orillia, the future headquarters of the Midland and Northern lines, will take place early in the spring.

An Astonishing Occurrence

In a Large and Influential District!

Another Life Saved!

Particulars of the Rescue Already Known by Thousands!

The Saved Man Tells His Story!

A. E. HAMMOND.

The story of the rescue from death of Mr. A. E. Hammond, the well known carriage builder of Manonville, P.Q., needs no elaborate introduction. His own letter fully sets forth the value of the wonderful remedy that renewed his life. Mr. Hammond writes as follows:

"Some five years ago it was my sad misfortune to be afflicted with scrofula sores, of which I had five on one leg and three on the other. They were running sores for four years. In addition to this I was taken down with rheumatism in the small of my back so badly that I could not get off my bed; and, to further intensify my sufferings, I had sick headache in the worst form.

While in this condition, a friend of mine, Mr. Perkins, a merchant of this place, sold me a bottle of Paine's Celery Compound, with the express understanding that if it did me no good I should pay nothing for it.

In accepting this offer, I had no idea of ever feeling under any obligation to pay for the Compound, as I had no faith in its doing me good. To my very great surprise, however, I grew better; and by the time I had used three bottles I was as well as ever, and what I never expected to see was realized, viz., the sores on my legs were entirely healed.

It would mean the use of pages to tell one-half of what Paine's Celery Compound has done for me. This marvellous cure has been in effect for nearly a year.

There are many other cases of wonderful cures in this locality from the same great agency; and no case of failure has ever been recorded, nor can there ever be one in my opinion after such tests as I have personally witnessed. I am 36 years of age, and have always lived in this place."

A TIMELY APPEAL.

For the Poor Shall Never Cease Out of the Land.—Deuteronomy, Chap. 15, verse 11.

"We ants never borrow, we ants never lend,
When the weather was warm, did you lay nothing by?"
Said the cricket: "Not I."
"My heart was so light that I sang day and night."
"Go then," said the ant, "and dance winter away."
When this he had spoken, he lifted the wicket:
And out of the door turned the poor little cricket.

That is what the ant said, when the cricket found its cupboard bare after winter set in. That there are human ants and human crickets is too clearly manifest, to tell the truth. I would, I believe, be rather in the cricket's shoes than in the ant's, that is provided the cricket had a warm and loving heart on that cold winter morning. Someone may say, would you encourage shiftlessness? Oh! no, but would encourage something better. Encourage, yes that is the word. Industry is a fine thing, but it is not to be compared to neighborly love. Human ants are apt to believe that the world was made for such as themselves, and think it their duty to crowd every other variety off this planet. Who has not heard the foolish expression, "that it takes all sorts to make the world?" If human crickets did not serve some useful purpose the Lord would not have put them here. The people who never borrow and never lend make a great effort to be perfectly indifferent of all outside help in the management of all their affairs, and are apt to look upon misfortune as a crime. They have forethought, they have shrewdness, they have strength. Why should not everybody have the same qualities? And all mind their own business, each scraping up his little or big pile, and so getting "what must he lost again;" making it the object of their life to increase and guard that pile. But misfortune is no crime and poverty is no disgrace. I think of One that had not where to lay His head. Is there not a divine voice still saying? "give to every one that asketh of thee, and from him that would borrow of thee turn not thou away." As I wrote the words, "neighbourly love," a little lonely kitchen came up before my mind, wherein lay a poor sick woman, with no one but her husband, who had to be from home ten hours of the day, and a child of five or six years, to do anything for her or the family comfort. She could scarcely get about the room and the bread was all gone. A neighbour ran in for a few minutes in a friendly way, a neighbor with whom the sick woman was upon no particularly intimate terms. After a few minutes she summoned courage and drew from under her shawl a loaf of bread wrapt in a clean towel, "I thought may be a loaf of bread would come handy and I brought it along." I think the sick woman did no feel hurt, nor in the least humiliated in the usual sense of that word. Had not both women learnt from their mother's lips (certainly not the Lord's prayer) in the manner in which He taught His diciples to pray, "Give us this day our daily bread." "Your loaf is very welcome but the neighborly kindness that prompted you to bring it is sweeter to me than any bread can possibly be." An so it was, and will be to all time. What a lift it was on that dark sick day, to have the daily bread supplied. I could wish for more of that loving thoughtfulness that lifts the "weight of care that crushes into dumb despair one half the human race." It is "blessed to give," but it must indeed be very blessed "to receive." What opportunities are afforded at this season to break the box of ointment, and be assured the fragrance thereof will never be enjoyed until it is broken.

Rev. Sylvanus Lane

Of the Cincinnati M. E. Conference, makes a good point when he says: "We have for years used Hood's Sarsaparilla in our family of five, and find it fully equal to all that is claimed for it. Some people are greatly prejudiced against patent medicines, but how the patent can hurt a medicine and not a machine is a mystery of mysteries to me."

WINTER AT CHEMONG.

But yesterday
The bunting's visit came,
And restless as a lark he sang
His sweet prophetic strain.
Then on his way,
Nor felt the gloomy pending
That filled the sunless day.

Ah! weary park,
Did summer love thee well,
And trim thee gayest for the sinking heart
And nurse his fading shell.
Where are the birds that loved his call,
The playful breeze that among the trees
Stirred incense to his gazing ease,
The prattling brook, the fairy one,
The rustic walk which strained the streaming sun,
The lucky rod, the cedar bark, the songs so gaily sung!

For summer's joy,
What have we to lament?
Now sleeps the echo 'neath the hill,
The jingling bells frequent.
The silvery king,
His gayest art displays;
About sweet nature's wild free wood
The loveliness delays.
Dear fond retreat!
Who would not love thee well?
Crown'd with the fairest wreath of all
So late from heaven fell.
Through the whitened tree, rings the bells' repeat
To the listining night in its frosty light;
To the wavering west in its fading best:
To the spangled height: to Diana's crest,

One leafless group
In silence decked with snow,
Steps quickly from the tabled hill
Down to the lake below,
In rest at last,
Stretched in her cold white shroud,
In vain she'll hear the north king rule
With voice so awfully loud.

A glancing down
The rustic avenue,
Engrossed the level lake below
Reveals a scanty view.
Then 'gainst the sky climbs the other side,
To a forests gown, neath its winter crown
Where the wildcat cries, for the night light spies,
Every fiendish round and he hungry lies.

The twilight pall
Lets through a peerelcss moon,
As o'er her starry sea she moves
To meet night's eclipsed noon.
Her ling ring smile
Among the jewelled limbs,
Sheens down the polished avenue,
Where fleet toboggans skim.

Many a breath
Hangs on the frosty air;
Whilst 'gainst the wood, meet the rosy cheeks,
The dashing sport to share.
Beneath the moon 'mid a winter bloom,
Through this woodland night with its voices strown,
Rings the bounding sled down the steep hill sped,
To the silent lake, o'er the spotless spread.

When care's recessed,
There kindles o'er the free
A gleam of natures loveliness,
To cheer life's youthful tree.
Hope's bird will sing;
Each brightly thought unfold;
And many a blush will float the breese
A pleasure to behold.

Young is the night;
All hearts in harmony
Throw off restraint; society
In vain would make us warmer be.
Beneath the moon mid a winter bloom,
Through this woodland night with its voices strewn.
Each toboggan's glide, down the heaven lit slide
To the silent lake, takes a meteor stride.

Old leaning oak,
Still viewing down the pines,
Tho' fabled with the hardest heart,
Each thoughtful spray inclines
Mong evergreens.
All drooping palms in rest,
Aff the silvery slide beneath
Had wooed each glittering crest.
Dash! merry sled, adown the night,
With its moonbeams' flight cross the cheek's delight:
Through the sparkling limbs down the thrilling flight.
Each rippling voice o'er the course extends,
Till the roses fade, and the fancies lend
A shadowing tear of a timorous end,

The chequered blue,
Peeps through the beautled wood;
Some distant watch-dog tattles on
As tireless as he could.

A dreadful thump—
An oak lets out his heart,
A quickening pace—vibrating pulse—
A whizz—a leap—a dart—
Dash! merry sled, across the snow,
(Every cheek aglow o'er the lake below)
Through the jolly night in its dazzling sight;
Away! Away! on an arrow's flight:
The spirit thrids on the mystic wings
Till the senses is o'er, yet a pleasure clings.

LAXIE MONO.

Couldn't Keep on His Feet.

PETERBOROUGH, Jan. 31st, 1802.

To the Peterborough Medicine Company:

GENTLEMEN,—If there is any medicine in the world that I pin my faith to it is Membray's Kidney and Liver Cure. In my business I have to stand on my feet a good deal. About a year ago my back began to give out, weakening pains set in across my kidneys, I felt tired all the time and could hardly stand up to my work. I began to lose strength and at last had to give up work altogether. A customer advised me to try your cure which I did. Before half the bottle was used, I felt the pains and weakness leaving me and to-day I enjoy good health and can bear fatigue and work all right. One bottle was all I used,

ALF. HASKILL, barber.

If you are tired taking the large old-fashioned griping pills, try Carter's Little Liver Pills and take some comfort. A man can't stand everything. One pill a dose. Try them.

ENNISMORE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

A meeting of the Ennismore Municipal Council was held in the town hall on Saturday, Feb. 4th. After routine, the reeve, Mr. McCarthy gave them a summary of the work done by the county council during the session just past, and then a vote of thanks was tendered him for his efforts on behalf the Township of Ennismore. Then the council transacted the following business:—The reeve was instructed to defended the suit, Ennismore vs. Young in the matter of the appeal of the defendant against the judgment handed down in said case. The clerk was instructed to notify J. J. Lundy, Richard Davis, and all parties owning land along the side lines running between lots six and seven, and lots eight and nine, from the 9th concession, south, to remove their fences and all obstructions off said lines not later than May 15th, 1898. The collector's time was extended until March 15th, 1898. An order was drawn on the Treasurer to pay P. F. Flood and Jas. Gifford, $8 each, salary as special auditors. The bonds of Jno. Young, as Treasurer, were accepted, and then the council adjourned to meet at the call of the reeve.

—all the peculiar troubles that beset a woman. The only guaranteed remedy for them is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. For women suffering from any chronic "female complaint" or weakness; for women who are run-down and overworked; for women expecting to become mothers, and for mothers who are nursing and exhausted; at the change from girlhood to womanhood; and later, at the critical "change of life"—It is a medicine that safely and certainly builds up, strengthens, regulates and cures.

If it doesn't, if it even fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back.

What you are sure of, if you use Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, is either a perfect and permanent cure for your Catarrh, no matter how bad your case may be, or $500 in cash. The proprietors of the medicine promise to pay you the money, if they can't cure you.

THE FACT

That AYER'S Sarsaparilla CURES OTHERS of Scrofulous Diseases, Eruptions, Boils, Eczema, Liver and Kidney Diseases, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, and Catarrh should be convincing that the same course of treatment WILL CURE YOU. All that has been said of the wonderful cures effected by the use of

TO BE OR NOT TO BE "IN IT."

A Life Agent called at a [illegible] one day,
HE WASN'T IN IT;
He had seen "the boys" [illegible] and they were all there
HE WASN'T IN IT;
He had heard to much said, he was tired and sick
Of insurance and agents—'twas all a blank trick,
When one's coil must be shuffled to win it,
HE WASN'T IN IT.

A bit of a draft blew o'er his bald head,
HE WAS IN IT;
Pneumonia sent him straightway to his bed,
HE STAYED IN IT;
His doctor made of it a "quits special" case,
To save him for running still more of life's race,
But the grave took some chances to win it,
AND HE'S IN IT.

When approached by a gent for insuring your life,
GET RIGHT IN IT;
It's the right thing to do for your children and wife,
THEN STAY IN IT.
Remember that fires take your goods "out of sight,"
And that accidents happen each day and each night.
While insurance protects every minute,
IF YOU'RE IN IT.

A Bank Manager's Opinion.

HE IS "IN IT."

The General Manager of one of the leading banks in Canada, writing to a personal friend, says:—"I have no hesitation in saying that I place the CANADA LIFE upon the highest platform. It is in my opinion carefully, economically and honestly managed; its Reserve Funds are well invested; its rates of Premiums are low, and its future is, I think better assured than a great majority of Companies. I have my own life insured in the Company for a round amount, and would not hesitate to increase the amount of my policies should I decide upon taking out further insurance."

A Government Insurance Actuary's Opinion

On the Relation between Ordinary and Tontine Service.

It is frequently assertedby Companies whose business is nearly all tontined, that although the CANADA LIFE may and does pay large ordinary profits, yet it cannot compare so favourably on a long term distribution or tontine period, and that in the end better results can be obtained on a tontine policy in a large American Co. than on an ordinary or tontine policy in the CANADA LIFE. To prove the absurdity of this statement, the following piece of common sense is quoted from Mervin Tabor, late Actuary of the Illinois Goverment Insurance Department. In his well known book, "The Three Systems of Life Insurance," he says: "A company that gives large dividends on the ordinary kind of policies, can give much larger on the same kinds when Tontined, and a company that pays but meagre dividends on the usual forms, adopting perhaps the Tontine system to "cover up" its small surpluses, cannot be relied on for large returns of surplus under the Tontine Forms of insurance."

The CANADA LIFE does not "cover up" its Quinquennial profits as some Companies do, but publishes them throughout the country.

It can and does surpass other Companies on Quinquennial profits. It should and will surpass them on Tontine profits.

WHY TO BE "IN IT."

BISHOP HAWKE'S REASON:—"I claim that Life Insurance is not only a humane, but I might say a Christian Institution."

LORD LYNDHURST'S REASON:—"A Policy of Life Insurance is always an evidence of prudent forethought. No man with a dependent family is free from reproach if not insured."

WHEN TO BE "IN IT."

The younger, the cheaper. Therefore insure when young. Besides by insuring in the CANADA LIFE now, you will share in three years' profits.

WHERE TO BE "IN IT."

The best place to be "in it" is in the Company that gives the best returns for the least money, consistent with absolute security. Therefore, in order to be "in it," choose the

The yacht, which is used in the scenic melo-drama, "The Stowaway," has a remarkable history. Manager Davis purchased this yacht as it was found, that it could be more easily adapted for the stage than any other.

THE CURLERS' PROMISING BEGINNING.

The sample rink that went to Montreal made a promising beginning at the outset of the great Montreal carnival curling bonspell that began at the commercial metropolis on Thursday. Flavelle's rink, Lindsay, defeated in the first draw, a Caledonia rink by 14 to 10, and was defeated in the second draw, by a Thistle rink by 19 to 16.

The Poduction of Dartmoor.

The Belleville Ontario says:—Those who had the pleasure of seeing J. H. Gilmour's company present "Dartmoor" at the opera house last night were well pleased. The company deserved a packed house but owing to the fact that they appeared so soon after Digby Bell the audience was not as large as it should have been. It is a strong drama, flavored with just the right proportion of humour, and it was presented in a pleasing manner. As Dick Venables it is doubtful whether Harry Gilmour could be excelled. The genius of the actor is probably best shown in his interview with his little daughter in the third act. Miss Rochelle was effective and pleasing in the role of Mrs. Lisle, while as Archdeacon Jelliceo, Littledale Power was irresistibly comic. Arthur Crawford as Dr. Paganstecher and Miss Fossetta as Helen Jelliceo were good. If "Dartmoor" were presented by the same company in this city again the oper house would be filled to the doors." At the opera house here to-night. 1d

"Plain as a Pike-staff."

Note this fact! The original prices of our clothing is invariably rated low, and as we sell for cash, the profit is naturally lower—much lower—than a credit profit. Our clearing sale prices just now are, therefore, better than when a very large discount is taken off prices originally placed high. This is as "plain as a pike-staff" and gentlemen in search of the cheapest clothing house should always patronize the MONTREAL CLOTHING HOUSE. It's bargain day, every day, at the MONTREAL CLOTHING HOUSE.

A PLEASANT GATHERING.

"D" Company, 57th Battalion, Holds its Annual Dinner—A Long-to-be Remembered Affair—Everything Was Just Right.

The first annual dinner of "D" Company, 57th Battalion, Peterborough Rangers, was held at the Palace Restaurant last night and was characterized by much good feeling and warm friendship.

The spread provided by Messrs. Graham Bros. was creditable and tasty, the menu being excellent and seasonable. After a brilliant charge had been made upon the tempting viands by the thirty guests present, an entertaining toast list was begun. Capt. K. G. Leels, the redoubtable commander of "D" company ably fulfilled the duties of president of the mess and associated with him at the head of the long tables were Col. J. Z. Rogers, commandant of 57th Battalion, Major R. W. Bell and Lieut. L. M. Hayes, the doughty lieutenant of "D" Company. Sergt. Distin performed the position of vice-president of the mess. The first toast was that of the "Queen." It was loyally honoured and the national anthem was reverentially sung. The 57th Battalion was proposed by Lieut Hayes in a neat speech and was enthusiastically drunk. It brought Lt.-Col. Rogers to his feet amid a perfect whirlwind of applause. The commandant was in good spirit and made a brief and racy speech. He congratulated "D" Company and its efficient officers upon the success of their annual dinner, and in felicitous terms expressed his pleasure at being present. Gatherings like the present one created a feeling of harmony and good will among the men, and all were the better for it. It put the members of the company and their officers in touch and sympathy with one another, and what was good in the interest of the companies was also in the interest of the battalion. He hoped the men would stand by their officers and he was certain the officers would stand by the men. On resuming his seat the colonel was liberally applauded.

"The Staff of the 57th Battalion," proposed by President Capt. Lech in a few complimentary remarks, was coupled with the name of Major R. W. Bell, who referred in a proud manner to the high standing the 57th Battalion had attained and he hoped to see it raised even higher. The major made mention of the prize offered for the best drilled company of the battalion, and thought there was no good reason why "D" company, which had always maintained a high standard of excellence, could not win it. He praised their captain for the interest exhibited by him in his company, and the company itself.

The next toast was proposed by Col. Rogers, "The Officers of D Company," and Capt. Lech and Lieut. Hayes responded in modest, pleasant speeches. Capt. Lech expressed his great gratification at meeting the members of his company around the festive board and trusted they were all thoroughly enjoying themselves. The popular captain had a few words of praise for his men and spoke highly of their conduct at Kingston last year when the battalion took its annual outing. He believed the company could win the prize next year as the men were possessed of the right stamp and material. Needless to say the speaker was warmly cheered in concluding his speech.

Lieut. Hayes was given a flattering reception and followed in a similar strain, making a diverting and stirring after-dinner effort.

"The Non-Commissioned Officers" was answered by Sergt. Distin, Sergt. Woodruff, Corp. Cluxton and Corp. Oliver in a prompt manner. All gave vent to their pent-up feelings regarding the delight and success of the dinner.

"The Press" was next on the list and duly honoured and responded to.

"The Ladies" evoked blushing replies from Pte. Douglas, Corp. Eastwood and Corp. Woodruff.

"The Host and Hostess" were fittingly replied to by Jas. Graham.

During the evening songs captivating and humourous were given by Capt. Lech, Lieut. Hayes, Pte. G. Guy, Pte. Mitchell, Corp. Cluxton, Pte. Dugan and others.

The festivities terminated shortly after midnight and the gathering characterized by wit, speech, laughter and song broke up by the singing of "Auld Lang Syne, God save the Queen, and three cheers loud and long for the gallant officers of the noble 57th."

SUCCESSORS TO HALL, INNES & CO.

Messrs. Hall, Gilchrist & Co—Personnel of the New Firm.

The public have long been expecting, from the announcement of the retirement of the firm of Hall, Innes & Co., a change such as has taken place, for it was inevitable that a colossal dry goods business, so intimately interwoven with the public interests, that it had become a necessity to the district, should not disappear from the roll of colossal dry-goods establishments. Negotiations have been completed which install the new firm—Hall, Gilchrist & Co. in the business. The thousands of patrons of the old house will be pleased to see at the head of the new firm the familiar name of Hall—Mr. Richard Hall—who still remains a member. The new members are Mr. S. Dickson Hall, son of Mr. Richard Hall, who has grown up with the business, and Mr. John Gilchrist, of the firm of Crompton, Appleby & Co., Brantford. Mr. Gilchrist comes from Brantford with an excellent commercial name, and with a large experience in the same line of business as he enters upon here. In conjunction with the other members of the firm, he will contribute to the application of the same solid, reliable and honourable business principles, to the dealings of the new firm, as characterized the operations of Hall, Innes & Co. For the past 29 years the latter have been carrying on their extensive business in Peterborough, having begun on March 1st, 1873—as the successors of the firm of Nicholls & Hall. The retiring members of the firm are Mr. Robert Innes and Mr. Robert Hall, and their retirement is, in a sense a crisis in their lives, for it is no light thing to break personal and business associations that have been marked for twenty years by unvaried and unbroken good feeling. Mr. Innes has spent between thirty-five and forty years in business in Peterborough and feels that he has earned the rest he now enters upon, and the public feel that both he and Mr. Robert Hall have willingly won the high esteem which their long upright and successful business career has brought them.

Worst Case of Scrofula the Doctors Ever Saw Completely Cured by HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

"When I was 4 or 5 years old I had a scrofulous sore on the middle finger of my left hand, which got so bad that the doctors cut the finger off, and later took off more than half my hand. Then the sore broke out on my arm, came out on my neck and face on both sides, nearly destroying the sight of one eye, also on my right arm. Doctors said it was the

they ever saw. It was simply awful! Five years ago I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. Gradually I found that the sores were beginning to heal. HASTINGS HORSE RACES.

The First Day's Events Pass off in a First Class Manner—"Danny C" Scores Second Money in the Three-Minute Class.

The first day's events in the annual winter races at Hastings passed off successfully yesterday. There was a large number of horsemen from all over the province in attendance, including many local enthusiasts. The track was a half mile one, and owing to the soft weather was not in a very desirable condition, being rather "cuppy." The judges were: Messrs. Jas. Gibson, Campbellford; W. McGregor, town, and another gentlemen. All the events were hotly contested and excitement ran high. The three-minute trot was the great event of the day and caused keen interest. The entries were "Alvie," Fred Jones, Cobourg; "Danny C" Connors Bros., town; "Gladstone," J. Newhall, town; "Harry Miller," J. J. Daly, Lindsay, and a black horse from Toronto. The battle between "Alvie" and "Danny C" for first money in each of the three heats trotted was the marvel of the afternoon. "Alvie took first in three heats, "Danny C" second and "Gladstone" third. "Danny C" showed excellent speeding qualities and closely pressed the Cobourg horse in each heat, making a very pretty race. "Harry Miller" was a poor third in the first heat and in the succeeding ones fell back to fourth place. The Toronto horse was "not in it." Gladstone broke badly in the third heat. The purse was $80, 1st $40, 2nd $25, and 3rd $15. Fast time was made all things being considered.

A sweepstake green race in which there were three colts entered was won easily by M. McGregor's colt, Norwood.

This afternoon a knot of sports left again to take in the races.

The entries for the "Free for All" are "Mattie B," Wm. Morris, Belleville; "Alice," F. Jones, Cobourg; "Martha Cook," S. Cook, Brighton; "Daisy S. Bloomfield," and Connor Bros. "Danny C."

The entries for the event of the green race are "Geo. S," Connor Bros. town; "Last Chance," Belleville; R. Croft's mare Cobourg; Coughlin's stallion "Lapidist Chief," Douro, and a Warkworth horse. The thaw will seriously interfere with these races.

Coughs and Colds.

At this season when coughs are so prevalent, an effectual remedy, and one easily obtained, is PERRY DAVIS' VEGETABLE "PAIN-KILLER." It is no new nostrum, vended by unknown agents, but has stood the test of over fifty years; and those who use the article, internally or externally, will connect with it grateful recollections of its worthy inventor.

Only a Few Days Longer.

The magnificent and costly fancy work done solely by the Singer sewing machine will be on exhibition at the local office, Water street, opposite the market, only eight or ten days longer. All persons interested in seeing, fancy and unique articles, are especially requested to call at once and inspect this magnificent assortment. It will well repay the visitor; a perfect revelation to all those who have not seen the fine work done by the Singer. W. LAISMLEY, agent. d31tf

ENLARGED AND EXTENDED.

THE PETERBOROUGH CANOE COMPANY'S LARGE, NEW FACTORY IS NOW IN OPERATION.

A Visit Paid to the Establishment—The Improvements Made—Firm Demand for Their Celebrated Canoes, Skiffs and Launches—An Entirely Fire-Proof Structure—Officers of the Company.

In April last the well-known and large canoe factory of the Ontario Canoe Co'y, situated in Ashburnham, was swept out of existence by a terrific conflagration. But the blow to the company was short lived and the set-back only inspired the directors and shareholders with fresh energy and undaunted courage. A more suitable site was looked around for, and after a careful inspection the site of Denne's old mill on Water street, on the banks of the Otonabee and near the Peter Hamilton Manufacturing Company's foundry, was settled upon. Mr. James Stevenson, M. P., undertook the prompt erection of the new enlarged, improved and commodious factory for the company, and the work was begun late in the fall. But operations were pushed rapidly ahead and the handsome new structure soon completed, and to-day the factory is a credit to the numerous manufacturing establishments of Peterborough for which our town is so noted and so well spoken of all over the province.

The Ontario Canoe Company applied for a charter to th Dominion Government, requesting that the name of the organization be converted to and with power to increase their capital to $40,000. This was granted, and in December last the shareholders held a meeting and elected the following officers:

President—W. H. Hill.
Vice-President—E. B. Loucks.
Secretary—G. A. Schofield.
Directors—E. B. Edwards, and J. Z. Rogers (managing-director.)

This morning an EXAMINER reporter was escorted by Mr. Schofield, the energetic secretary, through the company's new factory. The new building is a model brick one, in dimensions 110x40 feet, two stories high, with cellar underneath—roomy, modern, and with great facilities for turning out work. The first department entered was the machinery room on the ground floor, 30x70 in size, and with adequate room for manufacturing purposes. The machinery is the best and latest out. It comprises a band saw, planer and matcher, moulding machine and a sandpapering machine, circular saw and every other piece of mechanism pertaining to a well regulated factory. To the south-west of this is the engine room, furnished with a ten horse power automatic Corliss engine. The machinery is driven by a powerful driving wheel seven and a half feet in diameter. In the northern end of the factory is a large and well equipped office, and to the rear of his is the painting shop convenient and well lighted; here all the painting, varnishing, etc., is done. Upstairs in the northern part, finished work will be shown. The manufacturing room and here the construction and finishing touches of all the canoes, skiffs, oars, model launches, etc., goes bravely on. Large benches are furnished the staff and the scene is one of industry and animation. To the rear is an elevator for the purpose of hoisting or lowering all manufactured goods. Upstairs at the southern extremity is the drying kiln, largest of its kind out, where all the canoe material and lumber are thoroughly dried by means of hot air. This room is directly over the boiler and shavings room, and separated by an iron grating floor. The walls of the building are 14-inch thick, solid brick, and the partitions dividing the engine, boiler and other rooms are built of solid brick. It may here be mentioned that the whole building is positively fire proof as far as it is possible to make it. Double doors covered with sheet iron are placed between each department, while pails of water are scattered throughout the building ready for an emergency. The roof is also covered with tin. Downstairs the boiler is all bricked in. Shavings are conveyed to the shavings room adjoining by means of carriers. The entire "basement" will be used for storing models, etc. The heating adaptations of the building are

IS ALSO SITUATED ON THIS FLAT

ADMIRABLY AND CAPITALLY ARRANGED.

A bricked in boiler which absorbs all the exhaust steam, is connected with all parts by means of cold air ducts. The cold air is drawn through these pipes to a large fan revolving at lightning speed and is blown through the boiler and conducted through the whole building. The building and machinery of the Company are well insured. The Peterborough Canoe Company has been in existence some ten years and their reputation for manufacturing all kinds of canoes, and their name for first class workmanship, material an build need no words of further comment. Each canoe is thoroughly tested by being put in the water before sale. The firm will employ some twenty-five hands the year round. The company have advance orders to keep them busy for fully three months. Among these may be mentioned several large canoes for New York and other orders from New Jersey, Boston Idaho, British Columbia and all parts of Canada, including many large orders to be filled in this district. The Peterborough Canoe Company manufacture all kinds of canoes cedar ribbed, basswood, Spanish cedar, mahogany, longitutidunal cedar, all after the best and finest models extant. The company also make steam launches, folding canvas boats, oars, skiffs, paddles, etc. The Peterborough Canoe Company have a hopeful and prosperous future in canoe building before them if a world wide reputation and present rush of business can be accepted as criterions and their numerous friends and patrons believe it can, and will wish them every success in their handsome new home.

POLICE COURT.

FRIDAY, Feb. 10th.

Geo. Wheeler was arrested yesterday and this morning was charged by his wife with non-supporting his family. The complainant desired the magistrate to allow her husband to go providing he would keep away from her and her children altogether. The prisoner promised to do this and the magistrate gave him a few sound words of advice, telling him if he ever went home again under the influence of liquor and abused his wife and family as he was wont to do, he would accommodate him with a term in the Central Prison. The Court stated that the case was a grievance between husband and wife and one which he did not desire to interfere with. Mrs. Wheeler could support herself and family by her own exertions and Wheeler was cautioned to steer clear of them.

The information against two citizens who were charged with immoderate driving on Hunter street a few days ago, was enlarged until to-morrow.

Dr. Butler's Golden Pills are the best remedy for improving the complexion removing pimples, blackheads, etc.

RE-CHEMICAL FIRE ENGINE.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

MR. EDITOR,—From what I can gather I am disposed to think the council are favorably disposed to add this highly recommended apparatus to our fire department. I have personally looked into this matter, as to its suitableness to our requirements, and I have no hesitation in stating that it would materially improve our ability to deal with the treacherous element of fire. We have, it is true, been very lucky in having so very few fires of a serious nature, but we do not know how soon we may have to face a big conflagration and it is of great consequence to have every means at command to control and subdue such a fire. There is nothing like being prepared for such a contingency. It seems that wherever they are in use they are doing most excellent work. From information I have received, no town in the states is considered to have an efficient equipment without a chemical apparatus. But what should speak the most loudly to us is the fact that the Fire Underwriters Association accept this machine as sufficient ground to raise the insurance rating of a place a grade higher. Some two years ago they sent a letter to our council, stating that they would put us into class "A" if we added this apparatus to our present fire system. This fact should effectually dispose of any unreasoning prejudice that may exist in any of our minds as to the appliance being an efficient and reliable means of putting out fires and saving property from destruction by water as well as fire. If the insurance companies are willing to forego as much as $3,000, as it is stated, every year, of their premium collection in Peterborough, surely the council, as a matter of simple economy, should purchase this machine without delay. I am satisfied that the great bulk of our ratepayers would endorse the action. Let us go to the top of the tree if it be possible, and I see nothing whatever in the way. I understand the payment of it, $2,500, can be spread over a number of years, so that the incidence of the tax to pay for it would hardly be felt. It would do us credit as a town. It would show that our leading citizens are progressive men and alert to take an advantage to benefit our town. Let us take a broad view of this case and not be slow to adopt such a conspicuous improvement for the public good. It will not be any direct financial benefit to some not owning any property that would come within the limit of a higher classification, nevertheless every one should recognize in this apparatus a greater general security to the whole town against the devastating element of fire. I trust therefore that the council may be encouraged to venture on this purchase. I shall be very much surprised if they fail to do this and show that a wise foresight and business judgment can surmount petty and frivolous objections.

Yours truly,
OBSERVER.

A BALL DRESS.

Slenderness Not Now to be Accentuated.

The ball dress here pictured is one of those elaborate and showy affairs that recommend themselves to women with much time and money at their disposal for purposes of personal adornment. It is rather in advance, probably, of the means of most of my readers, and unlike most of the costly toilets I put before you, is not well adapted to reproduction in inexpensive materials. Besides, though its novelty of design is not to be gainsaid, it is almost too striking. I will, therefore, not describe it fully, but will be content to call attention to one feature, shown in its double puffed sleeves, which should interest all of us, even if we haven't such a collar of guipure. Just because Dame Fashion has ordered that large shoulder puffs shall be no more, We are not to be denied the large sleeves. Simply bring the puffs out at the sides and do not pile them upon the shoulders. We should no longer aim to accentuate our height and slenderness, if we have them, but to add an appearance of width. This dread decree it is that has thrown the feminine world into a tremble, for, unless soon headed off, the pursuit of width will surely bring crinoline and hoops, and, oh, dear me, if all the periods are going to obtain, the streets will look like a masked carnival in full blast. What are we coming to with 1830, Empire and Louis VI modes all hobnobbing upon the sidewalks and over the counters? However shall we get there? Crinolines and Greek drapery, turbans and coal scuttle hats, leg-o-mutton and pumpkin puffs? Yet each girl is prettier and more distracting than the last. But—fearful thought,—what will the reaction be?

FLORETTE.

Suggestions to a Hostess.

Do not try to be too entertaining.

Allow your guest a little time to herself.

See that your guest-room has been well aired, that it is sufficiently warm to be comfortable, and that the shades work properly.

Have the bed placed well out of draughts, and where the morning light will not fall directly upon the eyes of the occupant. Make provision for extra covers; nothing can be more forlorn than to be chilly in a strange bedroom, and to have to remain so, because no extra covering has been provided.

On the toilet-table place some black and white pins, some hair pins, a whisk broom and clothes brush, a hand glass and a button hook. Upon a small table have a little basket containing some black and white thread, a little box of shoe and other buttons, a thimble, and a pair of scissors that will cut.

Upon a large table, placed where the light from gas or lamp may fall upon it, have a portfolio containing some stamps, a few postal cards, a dainty candlestick containing a white wax candle, and some matches.

Upon a smaller table have a tray large enough to hold a pitcher of ice water, a couple of thin tumblers, a teaspoon, in case your guest should be taking medicine, and a biscuit jar filled with some plain biscuit. Should your guest be an invalid, it might be well to add a hot water kettle, and a bottle of acobol for its use.

Dyspepsia's victims find prompt and permanent relief in Hood's Sarsaparilla, which tones the stomach and creates an appetite.

If you once try Carter's Little Liver Pills for sick headache, billiousness or constipation, you will never be without them. They are purely vegetable; small and easy to take. Don't forget this.

HACKNEY BREEDERS.

Interested People.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for coughs and colds does it, is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle FREE, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles are 50c. and $1. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption.

JAPANESE COIFFURES.

Hairdressing a High Art in the Flowery Kingdom.

All Japanese women, high and low, are extremely proud of their hair, of which, as a rule, they possess a very luxuriant abundance, but they do not hesitate to increase its wealth should nature have been negligent in its supply. The Japanese ladies do not "go in" for the bewitching, tantalizing fluffiness of hairdressing that our young women indulge in. But there is probably a reason for this in the fact that, notwithstanding Sir Edwin's rhapsodies about "glistening silken tresses," their hair is rather coarse.

Apropos of Sir Edwin, there is ground for suspicion that the statement he makes that all Japanese women are pretty is a matter of personal preference. There are some pretty women in Japan; there are also others who are—but we must be polite.

Now for the hairdressing. Dainty little Pitt-Sing has her raven locks carefully washed and dried, after which they are treated to a liberal supply of fragrant oil. A favorite style adopted by young coquettes is the fan shaped and butterfly arrangements of the hair. This requires a great deal of skill on the part of the hairdresser, who heightens the effect by sticking long, oddly shaped jeweled pins and other bits of jewelry through the hair. Embarrassing mistakes as to the married or unmarried women are cleverly avoided by arrangements of the hair. The young women supposed to be open for proposals, part their hair in two or more strands, while the married ones simply comb theirs in a solid pompadour roll. For state occasions the young girls affect very artistic combinations. In one the hair is coiled around a large ring of tortoise shell which is permitted to gleam between the tresses. With this style superb tortoise shell pins and combs are the only ornaments permitted. In the other arrangement gold and silver threads are skillfully introduced as well as exquisite flowers of silver or gold filagree, many of which are ingeniously constructed to open and shut as the fair wearer moves her head. A married woman scarcely ever has any jewels in her hair. If she does they must not be over flashy. The matrons generally arrange their hair in a deep falling chignon. If a widow wishes to signify her desire to once more assume the bonds of matrimonial bliss she deftly signalizes her wish by arranging her hair in a heavy braid through which she puts a very long pin. The braid is arranged horizontally near the top of the head and is so pronounced in its character as to be almost aggressive. Again, should a widow prefer to cherish the memories of her past husband and intends to remain apart from wedlock she mutely tells her desire to the world by combing her hair straight back from the forehead and cutting it short in the neck.—Cor. Chicago Herald.

A Handy Push-Cart.

The accompanying engraving shows a push-cart that will be found of service in a score of ways about a place. It is a common hand-cart, with sides and ends of slats so arranged that all may be used, forming an inclosed rack, or the two sides only, when it will be found especially convenient for drawing in green cornstalks from the field, or garden, where one keeps but a cow or two. It is a handy cart for the village resident who has to depend on a wheelbarrow, or some such arrangement as this to move his small crops and other stores. The sides and ends fit tightly into iron sockets, and, for stability, lock together at the corners when in place, as shown in the engraving. Any one handy with tools can construct a very serviceable rig of this sort, the only necessary adjuncts being a pair of wheels, which are often at hand, from some broken or worn-out wagon, sulky, or other light vehicle.—American Agriculturist.

Back-Ache.

Back-ache is caused by sick kidneys. Dodd's Kidney Pills will remove it. By their peculiar action on the kidneys they impart activity and benefit the system by purifying the blood. You cannot have pure blood with disordered kidneys; health's existence depends upon their natural condition; they are the governors of the system. Continual disorder results in kidney consumption, which is Bright's disease.

Bronchitis cured.

GENTLEMEN,— I suffered four or five years from bronchitis and a severe hacking cough, and could get nothing to do me any good. A friend told me to get Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, and I did so with good results. Two bottles cured me and I hardly know what a cold is now.

CLYDESDALE BREEDERS.

The Seventh Annual Meeting of the Canadian Association.

TORONTO, Feb. 9.—The seventh annual meeting of the Clydesdale Horse Association of Canada was held yesterday afternoon at the Albion Hotel, President William Smith, Columbus, in the chair.

Secretary Wade reported that 213 horses and 232 mares had been recorded for the seventh volume of the stud book. Of these, 61 stallions and 29 mares had been imported from Britain, leaving 333 bred in Canada. The registration had fallen off somewhat owing to the dulness of trade. There had been exported to the United States 31 mares and 19 stallions and to the Northwest 13 mares. During the last year two objectionable orders had been issued by the United States Treasury Department in regard to passing pure bred animals for breeding purposes across the lines. The first required four crosses on both sides of sire and dam, but as a great many Canadian cattle and horses could pass under this rule and as the Stud and Herd books were acknowledged, this was a hardship only to dealers of imported animals and to Great Britain. The clamor raised by the interested parties induced the Treasury Department to issue on May 2, 1892, a modification of the old order allowing animals to pass with four registered crosses on the dam side and one on the sire. They had, however, left out all the Canadian records, not because the standard was not high enough but at the request of the Live Stock Associations of the United States. This was not a neighborly act and would cause much trouble and delay in recording animals.

Mr. Buchanan of the Live Stock Department, however, took a broader view of the matter and considered the association's certificates sufficient guarantee to exhibit horses at the World's Fair. A goodly number of Clydesdales had been inspected for the World's Columbian Exposition, which it was hoped would be kept in the best condition for the exhibition. This report, together with the treasurer's, showing a cash balance of $92.12, was read and approved.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Robert Davies, Toronto; provincial vice-presidents, Arthur Johnston, Greenwood, Ont.; Robert Ness, Howick, Que.; William O'Brien, Windsor, N.S.; A. S. Murray, Fredericton, N.B.; Hon. James Clow, Murray Harbor, P.E.I.; John E. Smith, Brandon, Man.; John A. Turner, Calgary, N.W.T.; H. D. Benson, M.L.A., Lodner's Landing, B.C.

Directors—Robert Beith, M.P., Bowmanville; W. D. Sorby, Guelph; John Davidson, Ashburn; George Cashburn, Baltimore; Andrew Russell, Carrvill; Robert Graham, Claremont; Robert Miller, Brougham.

Auditors—F. Gross, Toronto; A. E. Major, Whitevale.

Mr. D. McCrae, Guelph, was appointed a delegate to the Central Farmers' Institute, and the following gentlemen were elected representatives of the Association at the various Ontario Industrial Exhibitions:

Toronto Industrial Exhibition—H. Wade, Toronto, and John Davidson, Ashburn.

Western Fair—E. Charlton, Dunerieff.

Ottawa Fair—Thomas Good, Richmond West.

Montreal Exhibition — Robert Ness, Howick.

In view of the action of the United States, as pointed out in the secretary's report, it was moved by Mr. John Davidson and seconded by Mr. A. Johnston, that a deputation representing the stud book of the Clydesdale Horse Association of Canada, and consisting of President Davies, D. McCrae, Robert Miller and Hon. John Dryden, wait upon the American authorities for the purpose of securing recognition for the Canadian Clydesdale Stud Book.

It was resolved that the delegate to the Central Farmers' Institute be instructed to oppose any motion set on foot at the meetings of that institute to limit by license or otherwise the number of male animals offered for service as being contrary to the best interests of struggling farmers and to British liberties.

On motion of Mr. D. McCrae it was resolved that any animal foaled and reared in Canada be considered Canadian bred.

A Pleasant Herb Drink.
The best cure we know of for constipation and headache is the pleasant herb drink called Lane's Family Medicine. It is said to be Oregon grape root, combined with simple herbs, and is made for use by pouring boiling water onto the dried roots and herbs. It is remarkably efficacious in all blood disorders, and is now the sovereign remedy with ladies for clearing up the complexion. Druggists sell the packages at 50c. and $1.

Billousness Cured.
GENTLEMEN,—I have used Burdock Blood Bitters for billousness and find it the best remedy for this complaint. I used several other remedies but they all failed to do me any good. However, it required only two bottles of B. B. B. to cure me completely, and I can recommend it to all.
Yours truly,
WM. ROBINSON, Wallaceburg.

PRESS ASSOCIATION.

THE NEWSPAPER MEN OF ONTARIO DISCUSS BUSINESS.

It Was the Most Successful Meeting They Have Ever Held—Capital Speeches—Practical Suggestions—A Splendid Banquet Last Night.

TORONTO, Feb. 10.—The 35th annual meeting of the Canadian Press Association commenced yesterday in one of the rooms of the Board of Trade. Mr. H. P. Moore of The Acton Free Press presided. There were present amongst others: Messrs. H. P. Moore, president, Acton Free Press; A. F. Pirie, 1st vice-president, Dundas Banner; P. D. Rost, 2nd vice-president, Ottawa Journal; J. S. Brierly, St. Thomas Journal; Andrew Pattullo, Woodstock Sentinel-Review; L. W. Shannon, Kingston News; L. G. Jackson, Newmarket Era; R. Holmes, Clinton New-Era; J. S Willison, Globe, Toronto; Revs. Dr. Dewart and Dr. Briggs, Toronto; T. H. Preston, Brantford Expositor; W. H. Kellar, Uxbridge Journal; John A. McKay, Windsor Record; D. McGillicuddy, Goderich Signal; C. W. Young, Cornwall Freeholder; S. Russell, Deseronto News; George Wilson, Port Hope Guide; W. M. O'Bierne, Stratford Beacon; G. H. Robinson, Toronto Presbyterian Review; W. Ireland, Parry Sound North Star, and Fred Diver, Central Press, Toronto.

President H. P. Moore of The Acton Free Press delivered an interesting address in connection with workings and advancement of the association. The object of the association, he said, is to bring the newspapers of the country to a better understanding of their interests and of eath other, and to foster a higher conception of their duties and to secure a more thorough organization for their own benefit or protection. The work already accomplished has been of inestimable value. The creation of journalism, while it may not always yield the largest financial rewards, is not without its compensations. Every phase and department of life are moulded by its silent and resistless power. The growing independence of expression is highly commendable, and is an earnest of future elevation and multiplied influence. The grave law of libel has been before the association for four years, and at each session steps were taken and amendments made which have been an advantage to publishers. Since the last session a deputation waited on the Minister of Justice and secured further amendments to the libel law. The membership of this association shall consist of publishers, proprietors, editors or business managers of newspapers, professionally and habitually engaged as such, but not holding a financial interest merely or occupying the position of a stockholder or silent partner, or of an editorial or news contributor. This qualification excludes qualified journalists of the country and the members will be asked to decide whether it will not be better to allow the term editor to embrace not only editorial proprietors, but managing editors, news editors, city editors, editorial contributors, when exclusively engaged as such on the staff of any paper and duly accredited correspondents at Dominion or Provincial capitals.

Dr. Kyerson gave an interesting talk on the "Care of the Eyesight in Newspaper Work." He said that the chief causes of defective eyesight among newspaper men were tobacco, want of sleep, irregular hours, habits of reading in bed, on railway trains and so forth, and showed the influence of different varieties of type on the eyesight. To improve eyesight he recommended the use of cold water, salt and whisky externally.

Mr. E. Jackson's talk on "Pioneer Newspapers" was then read and attracted much attention.

Mr. John King of Berlin talked on "The Law of Libel" and a discussion took place in which Messrs. J. S. Willison, D. McGillicuddy, McKay of Windsor and others took part. Mr. McKay put the matter under discussion most aptly by stating that he had had four libel suits in a year, and though he had already been victorious in three it had cost him over $1100. He had found it expensive and prejudicial in case of a law suit if he apologized.

The chairman said that newspaper men were anxious not for license to publish defamatory matter, but for protection against blackmail and persecution by irresponsible and dishonest people. The following resolution was carried:

Moved by A. F. Pirie, seconded by D. McGillicuddy, That a committee consisting of Messrs. P. D. Ross, E. E. Sheppard and J. A. McKay be requested to confer with Mr. King as to the amendments to the criminal and civil laws relating to libel, and to report to our afternoon session to-morrow with a view to pressing the views of this association on the attention of the Minister of Justice and the Attorney-General of Ontario.

This was the topic of an address by Mr. E. E. Sheppard of Saturday Night. He regretted that so many newspapers took the low ground that their object was merely to make money. Certainly a newspaper was a commercial venture, but there should be a higher object. To stand in a worthy position the newspaper should have the support of its readers that it is doing the right and true thing in all it advocates.

In the course of an able speech Mr. Sheppard strongly deprecated the guessing contests, Bible questions and other "fakes" which, unfortunately, have become too popular. The money spent for these objects was in excess of the reward. Public opinion oftener moulded the newspaper than the newspaper public opinion. Mr. Sheppard went on to say that he believed in signed newspaper articles. Still, newspapers, with all their faults, have and do and still will mould public opinion. As regards advertisements which are recognized frauds, he believed that the so-called religious papers were the greatest sinners. In their columns the odor of sanctity floated around the swindle. This unwholesome proceeding led to the secular press doing the same thing and justifying the deed. Newspapers had done much, to mould public opinion; perhaps more in the past than in the present. To mould public opinion properly reforms must be carried out in the direction he had indicated.

A cordial vote of thanks was given Mr. Sheppard for his address.

There was a large gathering of the members at the annual banquet at Harry Webb's last night. The arrangements were perfect, the menu all that could be desired, the recitations and songs about as good as are heard at similar entertainments and the speeches of a little higher level than is usual at these gatherings.

President Moore was in the chair and First Vice-President A. F. Pirie of The Dundas Banner in the vice-chair. Secretary J. E. Atkinson was the ruling spirit of the feast.

Of course all the newspaper men were present. In addition were, among the guests, Lieutenant-Governor Kirkpatrick, Sir Oliver Mowat, Commander Law, Dr. Ryerson, Dr. Daniel Clark, Mr. John King, Q.C., Berlin, and a number of local men always, as the lawyers say, more or less connected with what in England is termed the Fourth Estate.

One notable fact in all the speeches was

DE LESSEPS' SENTENCE.

The Father and Son Each Get Five Years and a Fine.

PARIS, Feb. 10.—Ferdinand De Lesseps has been sentenced to imprisonment for five years and a fine of 5000 francs.

Charles De Lesseps has been sentenced to imprisonment for five years and a fine of 3500 francs.

Marius, Fontane and Cottie each get two years and fines of 3750 francs. Eiffel gets two years and 2000 francs fine.

Charles De Lesseps heard his sentence calmly, but wept when he heard sentence passed upon his father. He informed his mother by telegraph. It is believed the sentences will not be carried out. The only possible appeal is to the Court of Cassation.

The populace seems to regard the severe sentences with suspicion that the Government is making scapegoats of a few to cover up the charges against the Deputies in the canal scandal.

At a Cabinet meeting yesterday the ministers agreed to stand or fall together.

British Elections.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—At the election in Halifax to-day to fill the seat left vacant by the death of Thomas Shaw (Liberal), W. Rawson Shaw (Liberal) received 4617 votes, Alfred Arnold (Conservative) 4249; John Lister (Labor) 3028.

At the Walsall election to-day Sir A. D. Hayter, Gladstonian, received 5235 votes; C. T. Ritchie, Unionist, 5153.

In the last general election, Frank James, Conservative, was returned by a vote of 5225 to 4909, but was unseated under the Corrupt Practices Act.

CLEARING SALE

—OF—

MEN'S, YOUTHS' AND BOYS' SUITS AND OVERCOATS.

Big Reductions in the Price of all kinds of Ready-Made Overcoats.

We utterly annihilate Profit, entirely ignoring Cost, for the next Six weeks. It's like finding money. This sale will eclipse any offer of the entire season. It is the result of several causes—lateness of season, the over-stocked condition of our Overcoat Department, but mainly the necessity of turning our stock into money.

500 WINTER OVERCOATS.

The Cream of our $15 and $18 Overcoats go for $13.
Our $12 and $14 Ulsters go for $10.
Our $10 Black Worsted and Melton Overcoats go for $8.
Our $8 and $9 Overcoats go for $6.
Our $4.50 Overcoats go for $3.50.

We do this not for love of our customers, nor for fun; but because it's hard to sell Overcoats now—because we must sell them now or carry them over until next winter. Our regular prices, as you know, are fully 25 per cent. lower than Clothing is usually sold at, but to make this an unprecedented sale, we entirely ignore cost for the next six weeks. DROP IN AND SEE US. Shrewd buyers will shop early.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

THE MINISTER OF MILITIA PROMISES SEVERAL CHANGES.

Brigade Majors Are to Be Wiped Out—Commandants of Schools to Have Extra Duty—And Economy is to Be the Watchword.

OTTAWA, Feb. 11.—The Opposition scored a point yesterday in their criticism of the estimates of the Militia Department. Hon. J. C. Patterson has just taken charge of that part of the public service, and while he has had the courage to publish General Herbert's drastic reports and intends to put the reforms of that officer into effect, he was made the target of a good-tempered cross-questioning by Messrs. Davis, Lister, McMullen and Laurier, who succeeded in making it apparent that substantial improvements could be made.

Mr. Patterson admitted that it was his intention to administer the department irrespective of party, and to get rid of all superfluous officers and employes in the pay of the department.

The brigade majors are to be wiped out, commandants of schools are to be given the work of Deputy Adjutant-Generals, and wherever efficiency can be increased or economy attained without loss of efficiency it is to be done.

Mr. Patterson showed that there was nothing in the report to indicate in what condition the property and buildings used by the militia was, and suggested that a better system of repairing these buildings should be observed.

Colonel Denison contended, notwithstanding the criticism of some, that the militia was steadily improving.

After recess Sir Adolph Caron warmly defended his administration of the Militia Department, and was severely criticised by Mr. Lister and others.

On motion that the House go into committee on Hon. Mr. Foster's resolution providing for a change in the Superannuation Act, Hon. Mr. Laurier said that he did not propose to discuss the matter at its present stage, but later on, probably on the second reading of the bill, which would be introduced in the resolution, he would move an amendment dealing with the whole subject of superannuation, which he considered was altogether too heavy a tax.

In reply to Sir Richard Cartwright, Hon. Mr. Foster said he expected to make his budget speech on Tuesday next, which is an unusually early period of the session for the budget debate to begin. The impression gains ground that the Government will not propose any important tariff changes this session, but will promise to thoroughly examine into the whole question during the recess and propose such changes as are considered necessary next session.

On the motion to go into committee of supply, Sir Richard Cartwright took occasion to correct a statement made during the debate on coal oil yesterday. He said it was not true that the Liberals when in power had increased the tax on coal oil. The duty on coal oil was fixed in 1868, when there was a double tax placed on it, a customs duty of 15 cents a gallon and an excise tax of five cents a gallon. In 1877 the Liberal Government had abolished the excise tax and reduced the customs duty to six cents a gallon.

Before the orders of the day were called Col. O'Brien asked if the attention of the Government had been directed to the floods in Queensland, and especially to the disaster which had befallen Brisbane. He suggested that the High Commissioner should be requested to ascertain from the Agent-General for Queensland, and, if so, what would be the best method of relief?

Sir John Thompson said that in a few days further details of the disaster would be received and then the Government would see what action, if any, was necessary.

Hon. Mr. Laurier called attention to the vacancy on the Supreme Court bench, and thought that it ought to be filled, especially as the term of the court was about to commence, and one of the judges was said to be in ill-health.

Sir John Thompson denied that there had been any undue delay, and said that the vacancy would be filled before the meeting of the court.

Hon. Mr. Davies called attention to the absence from duty for over two years of Judge McDonald of Nova Scotia, and said that if he was unable to perform his duties he ought to be superannuated.

Sir John Thompson said that no complaint had ever been made by either the bench, the bar or the public of Nova Scotia with reference to the absence of Judge McDonald. Personally he was opposed to the continuance on the bench of a judge after he was unable to perform his duties.

Mr. Davies said that he would take the opinion of the House on the matter later.

The House then went into committee of supply and the balance of the afternoon and evening session was occupied with a discussion of the militia items.

Hon. John Costigan, Secretary of State, laid on the table a partial return to Hon. Mr. Lariviere's motion on 6th instant for copies of papers in the Manitoba school case. The return merely covers the petitions which received service March 15, 1892, which have been already published.

On March 17 last year Hon. Mr. Laurier moved for a return of all correspondence between the Imperial Government and the Canadian Government concerning the defences of Esquimalt. To-day Hon. John Costigan, Secretary of State, laid on the table the return to the address, which simply consisted of a letter, dated Oct. 12, 1892, from Col. Panet, Deputy Minister of Militia and Defence, in which he states that there are no papers which are not of a confidential character.

At the request of Hon. Mr. Lariviere, Hon. Mr. Angers, Minister of Agriculture, has authorized Mr. J. C. Chapais, Assistant Dairy Commissioner, to proceed to Manitoba and deliver a series of lectures on butter-making.

Mr. Rider will ask the Government on Monday whether it is aware that in consequence of the lower rate of postage prevailing in the United States large numbers of Canadian letters destined to Canadian and other points are mailed in United States postoffices along the border, thereby causing a considerable loss of postal revenue to Canada; if so, what remedy does the Government propose; and has the Government any intention of reducing the present rate of postage on ordinary letters?

Hon. Mr. Costigan gave notice last night of an important resolution, which seems to indicate that the Government proposes to act on the recommendation of the Civil Service Commission and appoint a permanent Civil Service Board. The resolution reads: "That it is expedient to amend the Civil Service Act and to provide for the appointment of a Civil Service Board, consisting of three members, two at salaries of $400 a year each and one, who shall be supervisor of the civil service, at a salary on appointment of not less than $1500, with an annual increase of $50."

Mr. Prior gives notice of a resolution that a scheme should be devised by which the permanent corps of the militia and the headquarters and district staffs of the same may, after a certain number of years' service, become entitled to receive pensions.

To-day's Canada Gazette will contain notice of application for incorporation of the Kingsville and Pelee Navigation Co., headquarters Kingsville, capital $9000.

A despatch from the Colonial Office transmits a copy of a treaty between Great Britain and Muscat, the 21st article of which declares that any British colony desiring to participate in the treaty must give notice within two years from Feb. 12, 1892, to the Sultan of Muscat.

A despatch from the Colonial Transcolonial Office transmits the decree of the French Government establishing the customs tariff of St. Pierre and Miquelon.

PRESS ASSOCIATION.

Elect Officers and Adjourn Until Next Year—Various Papers Read.

TORONTO, Feb. 11.—Yesterday's session of the Canadian Press Association opened with Mr. T. H. Preston's motion to fittingly celebrate the centennial of the establishment of the first newspaper in Upper Canada in April next, which was passed. The Upper Canada Gazette and The American Oracle are to be republished in fac-simile form and distributed among the members of the association.

The report of the Committee on Libel Law was adopted and steps will be taken to lay the matter before the Minister of Justice.

Mr. Roy V. Somerville of New York spoke forcibly on "Foreign Advertising." In his opinion it is not to talk of trying to educate and elevate the public. Newspapers were run for the money that was in them and advertising was money. If the duties were taken off proprietary medicines $800,000 advertising money would come rolling into Canada, if duties were removed from other articles $500,000 more would flow over the border. While Mr. Somerville was speaking the eyes of Ontario's editors were full of wistful longing and after he sat down Messrs. Colcook, L. W. Shannon and P. D. Ross were named a committee to intercede with the Government with a view to directing the stream of wealth into newspaper coffers. These names pleased the assembly, but Mr. Ross objected with a great big "O."

The conscientious P. D. said he was a free trader, but he didn't believe in unloading "millions of tons of rot-gut upon the Canadian people," even though it pave the editorial room with gold.

He wanted his name taken off the committee, so Mr. Young's was substituted. Many of those present applauded Mr. Ross' action.

A paper on newspaper reporting, by Mr. A. C. Campbell, was read, after which Dr. Playter spoke on the nobility of the medical profession for ten minutes, and wound up by denouncing the patent medicine advertising.

Mr. D. Creighton talked about the correspondence department of a newspaper and summarized his speech by saying that letter writers who attack other people should sign their names to their communications.

The finances of the association are in a satisfactory condition. The report of the secretary shows the business for the year ending Dec. 31: Receipts, $534.07; disbursements, $443.02; surplus, $91.05. Subsequent receipts showed a bank account of $376 43.

Officers were elected as follows: President, A. F. Pirie; first vice-president, P. D. Ross; second vice, T. H. Preston; secretary, J. E. Atkinson; assistant-secretary, J. B. Maclean; executive committee, J. S. Brierly, A. Pattullo, L. G. Jackson, R. Holmes, Fawcett, L. W. Shannon; auditors, W. McGuire, W. R. Dingman.

The time and place of next meeting will be left with the executive committee.

SHORTHORN BREEDERS

Denounce the Scheduling of Canadian Cattle in the United States.

TORONTO, Feb. 11.—President Richard Gibson occupied the chair at the eighth annual meeting of the Dominion Shorthorn Breeders' Association in Shaftesbury Hall yesterday morning.

The Executive Committee's report was read by Secretary Wade. It shows an increase in membership of 61—the total membership now being 398. The income from members for the past year was $1896.

A marked improvement is also shown over any other year in the number of registrations of animals. There were 3467 certificates issued for new animals. The report complains "of the unneighborly, to say the least of it, conduct of the Treasury Department of the United States in leaving our Herd book out of the list of eligible ones to pass animals across the line free of duty when we all know that the standard is higher than any book printed."

The financial statement also presented by Mr. Wade showed a balance in hand of $1334.42. It was decided by the association to confer a life-membership on Hon. John Dryden, Minister of Agriculture. In addition, they propose to present the Minister with a gold-headed cane as soon as he can be found at home.

Mr. Nicholas Awrey was indignant about the action of the American Government in scheduling Canadian cattle, and suggested that the association should not exhibit any cattle at the World's Fair. "I want you to instruct me about the matter," he said.

In response to Mr. Awrey's request the association passed unanimously the following resolution:

"As there is no pleuro-pneumonia in Canada it is the opinion of this association that if the quarantine regulations of the United States, as proclaimed by Secretary Rusk, are not modified in favor of exhibits so as to permit them to be shown at the World's Fair without such quarantine the commissioners for the Dominion and Ontario should refrain from making any exhibits of cattle."

The following officers were elected:

President—Richard Gibson of Delaware.

Vice-Presidents — Arthur Johnston of Greenwood, Ont.; D. Burns, Athelstane, Que.; Prof. George Lawson, Halifax, N.S.; Hon. D. Ferguson, Charlottetown, P.E.I.; Josiah Wood, M.P., Sackville, N.B.; John E. Smith, Brandon, Man.; J. H. Ladner, Ladner's Landing, B.C.; and James Geddes, Calgary, Alba.

Delegates to Toronto Industrial Exhibition—John J. Hobson of Mosborough and R. Gibson of Delaware.

Delegates to the Central Farmers' Institute—Edward Jeffs of Bondhead.

Was Duchesne Poisoned?

ALEXANDRIA, Ont., Feb 11.—Cleophas Duchesne, a blacksmith, died on Wednesday under circumstances which have given rise to the suspicion that he was poisoned by his wife. It appears that after partaking of a couple of bowls of soup he commenced vomiting and died in a short time.

An inquest was held yesterday by Coroner Senator McMillan, at which it was discovered that the two little girls of the deceased a few days ago tried several stores for Paris green but without success, and that later they secured rough on rats. The bowels and heart have been sent to Toronto for analysis.

BRITISH PARLIAMENT.

A TIFF BETWEEN BALFOUR AND GLADSTONE.

Balfour, With a Sneer, Insinuated That Gladstone Did Not Counsel With His Colleague, Sir William Harcourt—He Afterwards Apologized.

LONDON, Feb. 11.—In the House of Commons yesterday Balfour, leader of the Unionists, spoke at length in favor of extending the debate on the address. After repeating his former arguments on the point he reminded the House that when Conservatives were in office the Liberals had insisted upon longer debates on the address.

Mr. Gladstone questioned the correctness of Mr. Balfour's statement. Comparison of the records of the two Governments would show, he said, the contrary to have been the case. The matter, however, was of not vital importance. He objected to the manner in which the extension of debate had been introduced without previous notice.

Mr. Balfour replied with spirit that he had not only given notice but also had debated the question last evening when the right honorable gentleman opposite was more agreeably occupied.

This slur had an unexpected effect on the House. The Liberal and Irish members answered it with cries of "shame" and jeers, which completely drowned the Opposition cheers. Mr. Balfour paused until the confusion subsided and then added that he assumed the right honorable gentleman had been made acquainted with the circumstance of the debate through his colleague (Sir William Harcourt).

If the House was to be led by two gentlemen who never communicated with each other, the proceedings would necessarily be conducted with considerable difficulty. [Cries of "Oh!" "oh!" and "Shame!"]

When Mr. Gladstone rose to answer Mr. Balfour he was trembling with indignation. In a voice shaken with anger he thundered out, "With due regard to circumstances and time I have endeavored to serve the House to the best of my ability. [Loud and prolonged cheers.] The hon. member for East Manchester would have shown better taste, would have better fulfilled the duties of the post which he occupied, if he had spared the reference to my agreeable occupation.

Repeated cheers followed Mr. Gladstone's words. Mr. Balfour explained his remarks by saying that he had not intended to hurt the feelings of the Prime Minister; in fact, the right hon. gentleman was the last person in the House whom he would wittingly offend.

This apology was received on all sides with prolonged cheers, which turned to laughter as Mr. Balfour added that the right hon. to whose more agreeable occupation he had referred was not the Prime Minister, but one of his colleagues.

The House debated until 1 o'clock in the morning on the amendment of Mr. Arnold Forster, Liberal-Unionist for West Belfast, expressing regret that clerical intimidation had been exercised among Irish voters and urging the adoption of measures to prevent a repetition of such priestly interference with elections.

The debate brought out some effective maiden speeches, to which Mr. Gladstone listened with evident interest and pleasure.

Sir Henry James, Liberal Unionist for Barry, elicited Opposition cheers by contrasting the language of Mr. Morley, Irish Secretary, with that of Sir Charles Russell concerning clerical intimidation in Ireland, and he asked whether Mr. Morley was ready to characterize as cant the denunciatory utterance of the Attorney-General on this subject. The irony of fate, he said, had brought to pass that Mr. Asquith, who denounced clerical tactics in the Meath elections, must sit in the same cabinet with Mr. Morley, who tries to defend them.

In replying, Sir Charles Russell said the speech of Sir Henry James suggested to him Lord Ellenborough's speeches before Catholic emancipation. He reminded the Tories of "their joy at the Pope's encyclical—how they plucked Mgr. Persico's sleeve with one hand whilst they with the other beat the Orange drum." The amendment had exaggerated the question of clerical intimidation for the purpose of discrediting Home Rule.

After speeches by Justin McCarthy, leader of Anti-Parnellites, and Timothy Harrington, Parnellite, the amendment was rejected by a vote of 248 to 205.

The House will meet to-day for the continuation of the debate on the address, despite the fact that the Conservatives last night allowed the debate on the release of the Gweedore prisoners, which immediately preceded that on Mr. Arnold Forster's amendment, to fizzle without a division.

The Conservative newspapers are beginning to complain of the apathy of the Unionists' whips, who they say are allowing the Government to get too large majorities.

FIRES IN BARRIE.

An Agricultural Society Exhibition Building Burned.

BARRIE, Feb. 11.—The main building of the Central Simcoe Agricultural Society was destroyed by fire yesterday. The building was owned by a joint stock company. Loss about $7000; insured for $4000.

The fire was undoubtedly the work of incendiarism. Reeve Bothwell, whose building was burned last night, was the principal stockholder in the agricultural buildings.

Fire broke out about 10 o'clock last night in S. King's photograph gallery, situated in the top flat of Bothwell's block. The building was badly damaged by fire and water before the flames were under control. Mr. King's loss on stock will be about $800; insured. Reeve Bothwell's loss on the building and stock about $3000; insured. J. T. Sproule, barrister, loses $250; no insurance.

An Overdue Steamer.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—The White Star steamship Taurio, which left Liverpool Jan. 28, was fully three days overdue at this port at 6 o'clock last night. The vessel carries besides a general cargo a number of valuable thoroughbred horses owned by Col. North, "the nitrate king." No anxiety is felt at the White Star office for the vessel's safety. Her agents think she was probably steaming slowly so as not to injure the horses in the rough sea.

IT IS GROWING.

The demand for tariff reform is growing. Sir John Thompson conceded in his speech at Toronto that there were mouldering branches on the tariff tree to be lopped away, yet so great is the "pull" which the Red Parlour patriots have with the Government that the latter is afraid to move. The fight is between that great consuming class, the tax-paying farmers, and the great devouring class, the tax-eating protected monopolists. The farmers are growing more aggressive, and the evidence is that their onset is being regarded with increasing respect. Last year the Central Farmers' Institute adopted a resolution in favour of free trade, and the Red Parlour organ of the Government assailed what it called a pure piece of "clap-trap," and insinuated that the organization was being used for political purposes. It says: "The antics of these Grit delegates deceive no one; they do not turn a single vote." At the late session of this same Central Farmers' Institute, another resolution was adopted favouring the principle of free trade. This time the Empire, to whose boodle-blinded eyes the gathering storm is apparent, is much more respectful and humble. On Thursday it remarked: "The Central Farmers Institute of Ontario has passed a resolution in favour of the freer admission of British goods. The speeches delivered on both sides of the proposition were intelligent and interesting, and in nearly every case had the ring of loyalty to Canada and Britain." The mills of the gods grind slowly, but they grind surely.

MR. MEREDITH'S RETIREMENT.

Several prominent Conservative journals, among others the Ottawa Citizen and Belleville Intelligencer, all but definitely announce the resignation by Mr. Meredith of the leadership of the Ontario Opposition. Twenty years ago Mr. Meredith took his seat in the Ontario Legislature on the opposition benches, and he has occupied them ever since. As leader of the opposition he has done his duty faithfully by his party, and has carried to the hopeless task of displacing the Mowat Government an ability, earnestness and directness which could be found in no other member of his party. But he found the task beyond his powers; with a weak and ineffective following to assist him, his efforts to dislodge the present administration were, and would continue to be, hopeless so long as capable government and watchful regard for, and efficient protection of, the public interests and a careful administration of public affairs are the grounds of the popular confidence the present Ontario government enjoys. In spite of persistent efforts on Mr. Meredith's part, he saw the Mowat Government growing stronger in popular favour and it is no surprise if he has given up the leadership in despair. He has done as much and more than any other member of his party could have done, and his utter failure to find a weak spot in the Ontario Government is a potent practical tribute to its blameless record and to its perfectly satisfactory administration of public affairs. The people know a good thing when they see it, and a government that reverses history and grows stronger as it grows older, must have claims of the most sterling character upon the public confidence.

Couldn't Keep on His Feet.

PETERBOROUGH, Jan. 31st, 1892.

To the Peterborough Medicine Company:

GENTLEMEN,—If there is any medicine in the world that I pin my faith to it is Membray's Kidney and Liver Cure. In my business I have to stand on my feet a good deal. About a year ago my back began to give out, weakening pains set in across my kidneys, I felt tired all the time and could hardly stand up to my work. I began to lose strength and at last had to give up work altogether. A customer advised me to try your cure which I did. Before half the bottle was used, I felt the pains and weakness leaving me and to-day I enjoy good health and can bear fatigue and work all right. One bottle was all I used.

In the Dominion Parliament on Thursday war was declared by two avowed supporters of the national policy upon the oppressive coal oil duty, against which the voice of the people and the press has been raised from one end of the land to the other. Mr. Cleveland, who since his election to the house has consistently supported the government's policy, proposed that coal oil should be placed on the free list and Mr. Rufus Pope seconded the motion, Mr. Cleveland was able to show that for coal oil which is sold in Rockland, Vermont, for 7½ cents a gallon 26 cents a gallon is exacted from the consumers in Stanstead because of the tariff. As a protectionst he would not complain of a tariff that benefitted the whole Dominion, but he did object to the imposition of a duty for the sole advantage of a small section of the country. Sir John Thompson followed the usual course of asking that the matter be left in abeyance until the government's policy is announced by the finance minister. Dr. Macdonald of Huron, who has given the oil question a great deal of careful study, delivered a well thought out speech, in which he advanced many convincing arguments against the maintenance of the present protective tariff. He made out a strong case in behalf of the great mass of the oil consumers, and particularly the farmers, for the removal or reduction of the oil duty.

AN ILLINOIS MIRACLE.

A CASE OF DEEP INTEREST TO ALL WOMEN.

Saved Through a Casual Glance at a Newspaper—Weak, Pale and in a Deplorable Condition When Relief Came—Another Remarkable Triumph for a Great Canadian Remedy.

Dubuque Times—

Among the peculiar conditions with which the people of the present age are endowed, is a remarkable capacity for doubting. A full belief only comes after a careful investigation, and after positive proofs have been presented. Current reports said there had been a remarkable cure in the case of a lady of Savanna, Ill., but as current report is not always accurate, and as the story told was one possessing deep interest for the public, The Times determined upon a through investigation into the matter. The result of this investigation proved that not only was the story true, but that the case was even more remarkable than the public had been given to understand.

Mr. A. R. Kenyon is the fortunate owner of a comfortable house, well kept and with pleasant surroundings, situated on Chicago Avenue, Savanna, Ill., and it was there the reporter sought him to learn of the sickness of his wife, and the cure of which so much is being said. In answer to the bell a lady appeared at the door, and to an enquiry for Mr. Kenyon said, he was employed by the railroad company, worked at nights and was asleep. "Is Mrs. Kenyon well enough to see me?" the reporter then asked. With a very suggestive smile she said: "There is no doubt of it," and inviting the reporter in, informed him that she was the lady in question. When told the reporter's mission she said: "The statement of facts as you have made it is quite true. I did not think my case was of special interest to anyone outside of my own family and friends, but if what information I can give you will be of use to anyone else you are welcome to it. I owe my present good health to a casual glance at a newspaper, and as with me some other woman may be fortunate." Mrs. Keynon is an intelligent lady-like woman, and her home bears evidence of her great capabilities as a house-wife. She told her story as follows:—

"I was born in Warren county, New York, thirty-three years ago. I was married when I was 19 and came to Savanna seven years ago. With the exception of being at times subject to violent sick headache, I considered myself a healthy woman up to five years ago. At that time I was very much run down and an easy prey to the ever present malaria in and about the Mississippi bottom lands. I was taken violently ill and during the succeeding five or six months was the greater part of the time helpless. The local physicians said I had been affected by malarial and intermittent fevers. I continually grew weaker and finally, went to see Dr. McAvey of Clinton, Ia. who is reputed to be one of the ablest physicians in the Mississippi Valley. He treated me for a time without beneficial effects, and finally told me he thought he could help me if I would absolutely abstain from work. That was not to be thought of. If able to go about I had to look after my household duties. I then consulted Dr. Johnston of Savanna. My stomach would not retain the medicine he gave me and he came to the conclusion that my stomach was badly diseased. Occasionally I would choke down and nearly suffocate. I then went to Dr. Maloney and he pronounced it a case of heart trouble. He helped me temporarily, but like the rest said I must stop all work or nothing could be done for me. All this time I had grown weaker and paler until I was in a deplorable condition. I had a continual feeling of tiredness, my muscular power was nearly gone, and I could not go up half a dozen steps without resting, and often that much exercise would cause me to have a terrible pain in the side. Seemingly the blood had left my veins. I was pale as death; my lips were blue and cold and I had given up all hope of ever being better. About the first of April last a young man boarding with us received a Fulton, Ill., paper. It was his home paper sent him by his mother. I picked it up one day and in glancing casually over its columns came across an account of a marvellous cure through the use of Dr. Williams Pink Pills for Pale People. Candidly, I did not believe the story, and when my husband suggested that it would do no harm for me to try the pills I laughed at the idea. He insisted and I submitted, but I had no faith whatever in the pills. My husband sent for two boxes and I took them. When I had used these I was somewhat improved in health. I continued their use, and I felt that I was growing stronger. My sleep refreshed me, and it seems as if I could feel new blood coursing through my veins. I kept on taking Pink Pills until a short time ago, and I now consider myself a healthy, rugged woman. My house is full of boarders and I superintendent all the work. In other words I work all the time and am happy all the time. I am postive that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People saved my life, and I believe there are thousands of women who find great relief if they used them. The sick headaches I was subject to have, disappeard, and I have not had a single attack since I commenced taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

"Were there any disagreeable effects from the medicine?" asked the reporter.

"None whatever," replied Mrs. Kenyon. "They are pleasant to take and the conditions imposed by the directions are easily complied with. In common parlance I took Pink Pills and they did the rest." Mrs. Kenyon stated that all her neighbors knew of her former condition and her restoration, and one of them was called in, and when asked of her knowledge of the case said: "I have been intimately acquainted with Mrs. Kenyon and know of her illness. I looked upon her recovery as something marvellous. It is surely the unexpected that happened in her case. Of my own knowledge I cannot say what the nature of her ailment was, but I know that she was reduced to a mere shadow; was the palest and most ghost-like person I had ever seen. Hers was a remarkable case. She would be helpless one day and the next would be supervising the work of her house, but all the time there was a noticeable loss of strength and the natural vivaciousness of her nature had disappeared. It was generally thought she must die as none of the physicians who attended her seemed to understand her case or help her in the least. I was told of the sending for Dr. Williams Pink Pills and of course thought it the whim of a dying woman, or perhaps a sign that her husband still insisted in hoping against hope. But you can see the result for yourself, and if miracles are not performed in these days, I would be pleased to know how to describe a case of this kind."

It is a remarkable case. There is no reason to doubt the sickness of Mrs. Kenyon and in just the form she describes it. Hundreds of people in that immediate neighborhood are fully conversant with the facts of both sickness and cure, and discuss it with sympathizing earnestness. But few persons have gone so close to the dividing line between life and eternity and returned: and from the facts stated there is but a single conclusion to be drawn—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People did it.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a perfect blood builder and nerve restorer, curing such diseases as rheumatism, neuralgia, partial paralysis, locomotor ataxia, St. Vitus dance, nervous headache, nervous prostration and the tired feeling therefrom the after effects of la grippe, influenza and severe colds, diseases depending on humors in the blood, such as scrofula, chronic erysipelas, etc., Pink Pills give a healthy glow to pale and sallow complexions, and are a specific for the troubles peculiar to the female system, and in the case of men they effect a radical cure, in all cases arising from mental worry, over-work or excesses of any nature.

These Pills are manufactured by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., and Schenectady, N. Y., and are sold only in boxes bearing the firm's trade mark and wrapper, at 50c. a box, or six boxes for $2.50. Bear in mind that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are never sold in bulk or by the dozen or hundred, and any dealer who offers substitutes in this form is trying to defraud you and should be avoided. The public are also cautioned against all other so-called blood builders or nerve tonics, no matter what name may be given them. They are all imitations whose makers hope to reap a pecuniary advantage from the wonderful reputation achieved by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Ask your dealer for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and refuse all imitations and substitutes.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills may be had of all druggists or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company from either address. The price at which these pills are sold makes a course of treatment comparatively inexpensive as compared with other remedies or medical treatment.

HAVELOCK.

Mr. Hubble, an old man of 87 years of age, died here on Sunday last, after a somewhat brief illness. The deceased made his home with his son Andrew, in Campbellford, for seven years, and about two months ago, came to reside with his son, Oran Hubble, in this village. He was previously a resident of Seymour township, having spent 38 years there at farming. Dropsy was the cause of death. The deceased was a quiet, inoffensive man, and neglected not to look to the better life beyond.

Scrofula, whether hereditary or acquired, is thoroughly expelled from the blood by Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier.

SEEKING PROTECTION FOR THE FROG.

Mr. John Bradey, of Seymour East, a frog catcher and exporter of frog meat of long experience is circulating a petition to be sent to Hon. C. H. Tupper, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, during the present session of Parliament, asking for legislation to prohibit the capture of frogs at any time during the summer. The petition is worded something as follows:

That as a large quantity of frogs is shipped to the United States, and a profitable business is derived therefrom, and that many frogs are slaughtered during the spawning season in June, that the Government pass an Act to prohibit the killing of frogs from the 15th day of May, till the 1st day of August.

Frogs deposit their spawn during June and July, and at this particular time of the year, it is an easy matter to capture them, as they croak loud and often, and can thus be quickly located. In the fall of the year they seldom croak, and it requires an expert catcher to take them. A close season would therefore afford protection to the amphibious little creatures and tend to multiply the frog family to a great extent. The time named for a close season is also a period when frog meat is not in great demand by our hungry American friends, and prices consequently drop to a low and small paying figure.

TO BE OR NOT TO BE "IN IT."

A Life Agent called at a friend's place one day,
HE WASN'T IN IT;
He had seen "the bore" coming and fled from his way
HE WASN'T IN IT;
He had heard so much said, he was tired and sick
Of insurance and agents—'twas all a blank trick,
When one's coil must be shuffled to win it,
HE WASN'T IN IT.

A bit of a draft blew o'er his bald head,
HE WAS IN IT;
Pneumonia sent him straightway to his bed,
HE STAYED IN IT;
His doctor made of it a "quite special" case,
To save him for running still more of life's race,
But the grave took some chances to win it,
AND HE'S IN IT.

When approached by a gent for insuring your life,
GET RIGHT IN IT;
It's the right thing to do for your children and wife,
THEN STAY IN IT.
Remember that fires take your goods "out of sight,"
And that accidents happen each day and each night.
While insurance protects every minute,
IF YOU'RE IN IT.

A Bank Manager's Opinion.
HE IS "IN IT."
The General Manager of one of the leading banks in Canada, writing to a personal friend, says:—"I have no hesitation in saying that I place the CANADA LIFE upon the highest platform. It is in my opinion carefully, economically and honestly managed; its Reserve Funds are well invested; its rates of Premiums are low, and its future is, I think better assured than a great majority of Companies. I have my own life insured in the Company for a round amount, and would not hesitate to increase the amount of my policies should I decide upon taking out further insurance."

A Government Insurance Actuary's Opinion
On the Relation between Ordinary and Tontine Service.
It is frequently assertedby Companies whose business is nearly all tontined, that although the CANADA LIFE may and does pay large ordinary profits, yet it cannot compare so favourably on a long term distribution or tontine period, and that in the end better results can be obtained on a tontine policy in a large American Co. than on an ordinary or tontine policy in the CANADA LIFE. To prove the absurdity of this statement, the following piece of common sense is quoted from Mervin Tabor, late Actuary of the Illinois Goverment Insurance Department. In his well known book, "The Three Systems of Life Insurance," he says: "A company that gives large dividends on the ordinary kind of policies, can give much larger on the same kinds when Tontined, and a company that pays but meagre dividends on the usual forms, adopting perhaps the Tontine system to "cover up" its small surpluses, cannot be relied on for large returns of surplus under the Tontine Forms of Insurance."
The CANADA LIFE does not "cover up" its Quinquennial profits as some Companies do, but publishes them throughout the country.
It can and does surpass other Companies on Quinquennial profits. It should and will surpass them on Tontine profits.

WHY TO BE "IN IT."
BISHOP HAWKE'S REASON:—"I claim that Life Insurance is not only a a humane, but I might say a Christian Institution."
LORD LYNDHURST'S REASON:—"A Policy of Life Insurance is always an evidence of prudent forethought. No man with a dependent family is free from reproach if not insured."

WHEN TO BE "IN IT."
The younger, the cheaper. Therefore insure when young. Besides by insuring in the CANADA LIFE now, you will share in three years' profits.

WHERE TO BE "IN IT."
The best place to be "in it" is in the Company that gives the best returns for the least money, consistent with absolute security. Therefore, in order to be "in it," choose the Last Grand Carnival.

The second annual carnival of the Sons of Canada, which will take place at the rink just two weeks from last night, Feb. 24th, is the talk of the town. Take a look at some of the elegant prizes in H. Thompson's window, George street, and see if you can resist the invitation to dress for the event. In addition there will be a gentlemen's mile race, open to all amateurs in the town and county of Peterborough, sixteen times around the rink, for the championship of Peterborough. A $10 silver medal will be given the winner. Don't forget the date. 1d

Support the Local Papers.

"Each year every local paper gives from $500 to $5,000 in free lines for the benefit of the community. No other agency can or will do this. The editor in proportion to his means, does more for his town than any other ten men, and in all fairness, man for man, he ought to be supported, because a local paper is the best investment a community can make. It may not be crowded with great facts, but financially it is more of a benefit than both a preacher and a teacher. Editors do more work for less pay than any other men on earth.—Hon. David Mills.

A Sunday School Entertainment.

A pleasant Sunday school entertainment took place in the Sunday school rooms of St. Paul's church last evening. There were about 300 persons present including the scholars, teachers and parents. Mr. R. M. Roy, the eminent sterlopticon artist was present and for an hour provided a pleasing and instructive time for all by his numerous views. The views in the "Rock of Ages" group and the scenes in China were particularly well depicted and gladdened the hearts of all by their beauty, colouring and distinctness. Afterwards Miss Addie Hall sang a solo in a clever style. The kindergarten class under the management of Misses Warner and Hall rendered three or four choruses. The little ones showed careful training and admirable precision in their selections. The evening broke up soon after 9 o'clock, the little children singing the National Anthem.

This is Meant for you.

It has been truly said that half the world does not know how the other half lives. Comparatively few of us have perfect health, owing to the impure condition of our blood. But we rub along from day to day, with scarcely a thought, unless forced to our attention, of the thousands all about us who are suffering from scrofula, salt rheum and other serious blood disorders, and whose agonies can only be imagined. The marked success of Hood's Sarsaparilla for these troubles, as shown in our advertising columns frequently, certainly seems to justify urging the use of this excellent medicine by all who know that their blood is disordered. Every claim in behalf of Hood's Sarsaparilla is fully backed up by what the medicine has done and is still doing, and when its proprietors urge its merits and its use upon all who suffer from impure blood, in great or small degrees, they certainly mean to include you.

Failed to Appear.

J. H. Gilmour's company, which was to produce "Dartmoor," at the opera house here last night, failed to put in an appearance on the five o'clock train from Port Hope as expected. Later advices bore the intelligence that the company had stranded at Port Hope, having played in that town to an audience of only 40 people, and in Cobourg the night previous to an overflowing house of 25 persons. A few opera lovers were disappointed last night, but judging from the number who wended their way to the opera house there would have been but a scant audience.

A Debate Calling Forth Thought and Ideas.

A largely attended meeting of students was held in the Assembly Hall of the Collegiate Institute last night. President Cragg of the Literary society was in the chair. The debate was on the resolution "That happiness increases with civilization." The affirmative was upheld in logical and forcible speeches by Messrs. Wm. Stubbs and Wm. O'Brien. The negative side of the question was championed in a thoughtful and pointed manner by Messrs. Harry Orde and Harry Stewart. A committee consisting of Messrs. J. A. Fife, B.A., M. O'Brien and W. J. Drope, B.A., decided in favour of the negative on the reasons and points scored by the debaters. The literary society of the Collegiate will challenge the literary society of the Catholic Association to a debating contest in the near future.

The Second Day's Races.

The second day's event of the Hastings horse races were concluded yesterday and again there was a tremendous crowd in attendance. The free-for-all was won easily in three straight heats with "Alvie" F. Jones, Cobourg, 1st money; "Gladstone," J. Newhall, Peterborough, second, and "Daisy S." Blomfield, 3rd. Mattie B. owned by W. Morris, Belleville, was drawn out of the race in the second heat. The purse was $103—1st $50, 2nd $30 and 3rd $20. The track was rather heavy and soft. In the green race "Last Chance," owned by W. Morris, won first money; "Geo. S," Connors Bros., town, came second in the first heat and in the second and third heats it was a fighting chance for second position between him and Coughlin's "Lapidist Chief," but the Douro horse managed to capture the coveted place after an intensely exciting brush in each heat and thus took second money, "Geo. S." third. A black horse from Toronto came in a poor fourth. The purse was $50—1st $25, 2nd $15, 3rd $10. The judges were the same as on the previous day.

Making Married Men Useful.

After a rather fruitless experience of several centuries by other patient wives, it has fallen to the ladies of the Charlotte street Methodist church to discover a way in which a married man may be made of some use in the world. The married man has been taken in hand and at the "married men's social" in the school room on St. Valentines day will be made a hewer of wood and a drawer of water, and there will be witnessed the rare spectacle of a married man doing something for some body else's comfort than his own. The ladies will prepare the food themselves and from 7 to 8.30, the submissive married men will serve it and take charge of the entire evening's programme which will be a literary and musical one of first class merit. Remember this social is the celebration of St. Valentine's festival, and it is expected that the large numbers of both sexes it will bring together will result in several more married men before the year is old. Anyway it will be the best social ever given in the town. The admission is only 25 cents—for a quarter you get delightful quarters for enjoyment. Next Tuesday is St. Valentine's Day and in the evening is the social. Come at seven o'clock and stay till your capacity for enjoyment is occupied.

Behold it is He.

Messrs. H. C. and R. J. Winch a few days ago had a magnificent portrait of R. V. Winch, an old Peterborough boy, painted in handsome style, and sent it to Vancouver, B.C., without the knowledge of him whose photograph it was. Mr. Herbert Kent received the present and in order to carry the joke out completely had it placed in a prominent window of that city where Mr. Winch could not pass without inspecting it, and totally unawares himself he would behold his own likenes. The point came in, would he recognise that it was he, and the wonder and astonishment which would follow would, it is expected, be a marvel to behold. A communication to Mr. R. J. Winch from Mr. Kent states that his son was in New Westminster when the portrait arrived but he expected him back in a few days. The following newspaper clipping from the Daily News Advertiser of Jan'y 28th contains the following:—

A few days ago a handsome portrait arrived here from the east amongst some general freight, and somehow or another the label on which was the address got torn off, so that the owner cannot be found. The portrait is that of a handsome young man between 18 and 20 years of age, with flowing black locks. It is now exhibited in the window of Messrs. H. McDowell & Co's store on Cordova street, awaiting the claimant. Yesterday most passers-by stopped to admire it, and many doubtless thought it was simply the advertisement of some artist. One gentleman who was informed of the circumstances of the case, said it reminded him of a young man whom he knew several years ago in Winnipeg, and who was then engaged in the real estate business and afterwards went into the cattle business, and that since then he had not seen him. Anyhow the picture is still there and awaits a claimant.

There was a Big Market To-Day and Prices Rule Lower in Consequence.

(standard, oats 32c., small peas 55 to 60c., mummies 65 to 66c., barley 25 to 40c., rye 45c., buckwheat, considerable, offering 43 to 45. A few lords of hay sold to-day at $8 while a large number of loads of straw was disdisposed of at $3 per load and very readily too. A gigantic quantity of beef was on sale but the market was dull, selling from $5 to $5.50 per cwt. front quarter, and $5.50 to $6.50 hind quarter. Potatoes, not a great many offered, sold quickly at 70 to 75 cts per bag, while apples sold all the way from 50 cents up to $1.00, but principally at 70, 75 and 80c. Mr. John Kincaid is still buying apples for shipment at $1.50 per barrel; onions 25 to 30c per peck, beets 15c per peck, carrots 15c per peck, cabbage 5c per head, lamb sold at 8, 9 and 10c per lb. while pork, a very limited supply, sold at 9 and 10c by the quarter, dressed pork sold at $6.00 per cwt. There was a large supply of butter selling from 20 to 25 cents per lb., but principally at 22 to 23c.; eggs were not so plentiful and sold from 23 to 28c., the prices ranging considerably. Chickens went from 50 to 60; turkeys from 80c. to $1.25 and $1.50. No ducks were offered. The supply of poultry to-day was a choice one.

For the Good of Others

Rev. Mr. Williams Heartily Endorses Hood's Sarsaparilla.

We are pleased to present this from Rev. A. A. Williams, of the Sillabee street Christian Church, Lynn, Mass.:

"I see no reason why a clergyman, more than a layman, who knows whereof he speaks, should hesitate to approve an

Article of Merit

and worth, from which he or his family have been signally benefited, and whose commendation may serve to extend those benefits to others by increasing their confidence. My wife has for many years been a sufferer from severe

Nervous Headache

for which she found little help. She has tried many things that promised well but performed little. Last fall a friend gave her a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It seems surprising what simply one bottle could and did do for her. The attacks of headache decreased in number and were less violent in their intensity, while her general health has been improved. Her appetite has also been better. From our experience with

Hood's Sarsaparilla

I have no hesitation in endorsing its merits."

TEMPERANCE TRIUMPHS.

A Fine Programme Presented at the Catholic Association.

The Catholic Literary and Debating Society held their weekly entertainment in the Catholic Association hall, which was crowded so that every available spot of standing room was occupied. The entertainment opened with a well rendered piano solo by Miss M. McCabe, followed by an equally well rendered vocal solo by Mr. A. Letellier. The mere mention of Mr. D. Donoghue's name illuminated the audience with smiles, which changed to hearty laughter as he proceeded with his merry song. Next followed Miss N. Phelan with a vocal solo. This lady has a fine voice and sang excellently.

Miss N. Muncaster recited the "Gambler's Wife" with telling effect. Mr. H. O'Neil gave a vocal solo and delighted the audience with his powerful, cultivated voice. Then followed the most meritorious feature of the evening, the "Fan Drill" by 12 girls with Miss Daisy Dolan as captain. The girls marched and drilled to the music of the piano, saluted, charged, welcomed with their fans, surrendered and recovered. The drill was followed by the debate. The subject debated was, resolved "That Intemperance is the Cause of More Misery than the Sword." The destructiveness of intemperance was upheld by Messrs. T. J. Begley, T. Mahony and E. O'Donnell. These gentlemen quoted statistics and the opinions of eminent men to show that the great majority of crime and of poverty is directly the result of intemperance; that our hospitals and asylums are largely filled with the victims of intemperance, and that the physical and moral evils of intemperance are transmitted. A very pathetic picture was drawn by the reader of the affirmative of the drunkard's home, of his heart-broken wife, sorrowing mother and starving children — all offered up as a holocaust to King Alcohol. The gentlemen on the negative, Messrs. D. McCabe, F. Dwyer and G. Riley, agreed with what the speakers on the affirmative had said, but argued that intemperance was only a result of other causes, the chief of which was war. War ruined men's health and success in this world, and becoming discouraged they took refuge in drink. Hence follows the great amount of consumption of liquor in countries that have had great wars, as Germany, England and the United States. The miser of intemperance was confined only to a few localities and individuals, that of the sword affected whole nations and extended all over the world and to all times.

Messrs. Henry, Rudkins and Hurey acted as judges upon the debate and gave their decision in favour of the affirmative.

The entertainment was then completed with a song by Mr. Donoghue and a reading on an encore. A vocal solo by Miss Phelan, a song by Mr. O'Neil, and as an encore a banjo selection, and a chorus by the members of the association. All the parts were enthusiastically encored.

Mr. Brick, the chairman, announced that next Friday night a lecture on Daniel O'Connell would be given in the hall by Rev. Father Scollard. A musical programme would accompany it. Short addresses were made by the president of the association, Dr Brennan, and Rev. Father Collins.

BEECHAM'S PILLS cure sick headache.

A SENATOR FOR PETERBOROUGH.

THE EXAMINER has heretofore called the attention of the Government to the claims of this county to consideration in the appointment of a senator. There are at present three or four senatorial vacancies and it is what is due this district that it should be represented in the Senate, and it is especially due this county that its claims to some such distinction should be recognised. We do not hope that any thing we could say would have very much direct effect upon the course of the Government except as representing public opinion, which we are sure we do in this matter. But we would use what local influence we possess to urge local action towards obtaining a senatorship for Peterborough. Let a deputation be appointed to wait upon the Government and urge the claims of Peterborough to the appointment of a senator from Peterborough county. Such a deputation could make out a strong case. They could point out that no county in the country had been deceived and slighted like this great central county. Time after time we have been promised honest beginnings at work upon the Trent Valley Canal, still there is no longer hope of anything from that quarter. The Trent Valley Canal is a "dead duck." All the money and time spent upon the numerous deputations has been wasted. Now let a delegation go to Ottawa and talk plainly to the Government. There is plenty of good material for senators in Peterborough and since we can't get anything substantial for this district, let us at least, have the honour of possessing a senator. It's shameful how this district is neglected. The reason evidently is, that the representatives for East and West Peterborough are too faithful to the Government—too subservient. The Government apparently think no matter how they treat the Peterboroughonians, they may count on a solid support—let them be undeceived. Let Messrs. Burnham and Stevenson take their seats on the cross-benches for a few important votes, and the prospect of losing support will drive the Government to do us justice. We may, as well as not, have a senator from Peterborough; we needn't hope for any thing else. The Trent Valley Canal is dead. One might as well expect to see Niagara Falls removed to Court House Park as to expect the present Government to do a tap on the Trent Valley Canal. Let the prominent members of the Government party in this county make a move and give Poterborough a senator. For the sake of the credit of the town we expect our Conservative contemporary to assist in this consummation.

CRISP CURLING CHRONIQUES.

What is Going on at the Rink Where Curlers Most do Congregate.

A rink match causing not a little excitement took place at the rink on Thursday night between Skip T. P. Attrill of the Granites and J. B. Pentland of the Thistles. The latter was successful by three shots. Following is the score.

A thirteen point game was played yesterday afternoon between Jos. Lavasseur and Dan Hilliard, of the staff engaged at rink. The former won by a score of 13 points to 6.

An interesting inter-rink match of the Thistles and one which has been on the tapis for some time past, came off at the rink last night between skips Pentland and Bradburn. The former in a 14-end game had an easy victory. Following is the result:—

PETERBOROUGH IS DEFEATED.

The Empire to-day contains the following account of the Montreal Bonspiel, which is of more than ordinary interest owing to the participation of the home quartette in it. "The third drawing in the carnival bonspiel was completed to-day. Mr. Lally's Cornwall team had a bye in the second drawing, and was consequently pitted against the Thistles rink, skipped by Mr. Balfour. The other two rinks to face each other were Peterborough and Ottawa, the latter winning by one shot. In the third drawing Mr. Swart's rink had drawn a bye, and in the fourth drawing was elected to place against Ottwa, while the Thistles got a bye. The weather was too soft and the ice somewhat sticky, even for Granite, yet the games were thoroughly enjoyed just the same. Following is the result so far:

Thistles, a bye.

The deciding game between the Thistles and the Ottawas, was played off this afternoon on the Montreal rink.

The Peterborough curlers have not returned home yet and it is expected that they will remain over until Monday. General expressions of regret are heard on all sides that the Peterborough curlers were so near and yet so far from defeating Ottawa and thus entering the third draw.

THREE FIRES IN ONE NIGHT.

THE QUEEN'S HOTEL, LINDSAY, REDUCED TO ASHES.

The Waterworks Pressure Not Up to the Standard—An Ice House and Barn Burned—A Dwelling Consumed—All Caught by Accident—Luckily it was a Calm Night.

The fiery element made a terrible onslaught upon Lindsay last night, no less than three serious fires occurring within the short period of five hours. The most disastrous one was that of the Queen's Hotel which was entirely consumed about 1.30 o'clock this morning. The building was a substantial two story brick structure situated just across the bridge which spans the Scugog river and near the old G.T.R. depot. The Queen's was owned by Mr. J. J. Lundy, town, and has been occupied by Mr. John McArthur for the past three years. The fire originated in the cellar from a stove, which is utilized in heating the basement, and which it is supposed upset during the night. The walls of the structure are all that were left standing, and they were pulled down to-day by order of the mayor of Lindsay, for fear of their collapsing. All the boarders and servants escaped unhurt, but had their clothing and other belongings burnt. Mr. McArthur's loss on the effects and belongings will be heavy, insured for $2,000. The building was worth fully $5,000 and Mr. Lundy had an insurance on it of some $3,000 in the London, Liverpool & Globe. Mr. Lundy stated to-day that there was an insurance of some $500 on the outbuildings, but he understood that these remained intact. The waterworks fire pressure is said not to have been up to the average. Fortunately the night was a calm one, or the numerous mills and storehouses all along the river would have been converted into ashes. Mr. R. R. Hall, barrister, town, was in Lindsay last night and witnessed the conflagration.

Before the blaze at the Queen's, two other fires also occurred. About 9:30 o'clock Geo. Horner's frame dwelling house caught on fire and was burned to the ground at a loss of some $500. Soon after Mr. Frank Marks large ice house and barn were visited and also consumed before the blaze could be extinguished. Loss is some $300 with no insurance. It is authentically stated that all the fires were caused by accident or otherwise and none due to incendiarism.

"Plain as a Pike-staff."

Notice the fact! The original prices of our clothing is invariably rated low, and as we sell for cash, the profit is naturally lower—much lower—than ... credit profit. Our clearing sale prices just now are, therefore, better than when a very large discount is taken off prices originally placed high. This is as "plain as a pike-staff" and gentlemen in search of the cheapest clothing house should always patronize the MONTREAL CLOTHING HOUSE. It's bargain day, every day, at the MONTREAL CLOTHING HOUSE.

NORTH GALVESTON, TEXAS,

Is an Industrial City on Galveston Bay, near the Gulf of Mexico. In 1890, Galveston Bay was selected as the deep water and land locked harbour of the southern coast, and for the improvement of which Congress appropriated and are now expending $6,200,000, and an application has recently been made for a further grant of one million dollars to fully complete the work. This vast expenditure was rendered necessary for the purpose of affording a direct outlet to the seaboard, for the products of twelve of the most productive states of the union, representing about twenty millions of the American people, where millions from land and millions from water meet, in a latitude affording one of the finest climates in the world, on a situation unsurpassed for elevation, beauty and extent, owned by men of unlimited means, filled with enterprise, and men who know not failure in any undertaking. Need any man hesitate about investing his money in such a place, yet in its infancy—only six months old. Land is cheap, and the man who buys now and buys right must become a millionaire.

NEW YORK (SPECIAL.)

THE girl with the Louis VI cape on, its collar turned well up about her pretty ears, and a tiny toque poised above with one big rose nodding over it does look uncommonly like a jardiniere, plant and all, marching out to take the air. As for her shadow as she comes out in the electric light these evenings, well, the whole thing looks as if the young man was taking a floral tribute, of very big dimensions, to his girl, instead of taking the dear girl herself to the theatre. The girl who wears the terraced coat vies with the cape girl for looking like something besides a girl. The terraced girl looks in a high wind, for all the world, like a Chinese pagoda on a rampage. But, be it understood, the Chinese pagoda on a rampage is a very lovely spectacle, and we wish there were more of them.

The initial illustration shows a visiting toilet of yellowish drab cloth, trimmed with a border of white lamb's wool. Bands of white cloth could be substituted for the border if preferred. With the costume is worn a pink felt hat, the brim of which is curved upwards both back and front. The small low crown is black and a roll of black velvet surrounds it, forming a large wired bow at the back. This hat can also be made in any other combination of colors preferred.

Do the creators of modes realize that when crinolines were worn years ago it was a different country from what it is now? There were only about eight lines of cars here in New York. Of those only the Fourth avenue and the University Place lines were used by the "better class" and the swells. The charge was ten cents a ride, and there was no such crowding and jamming as there is these days. The Broadway stages were big then. There were stages on Fourth avenue, too, and they were big and roomy. Almost every house of any consequence had its own stable. Cabs were, in proportion, much more used than now, and carriages were regarded much more a matter of necessity to the well-off than they are now. Besides, there were fewer people. Nothing was crowded and jammed. Oh, my dears, consider a Fourth avenue car with its daily jam on! And imagine it jammed with women crinolined and hooped! Remember, our grandmothers did not have to take the cars to go shopping. They walked around the corner from Union Square and Washington Square and bought thei buttons and tape. They didn't come from 125 street on the L. Oh, pause, my children, and consider how different things are now, and don't do it.

The cloak seen in the next picture is of plum colored cloth, with revers and peler-hang long pendants of passementerie which line in velvet. The collar and cuffs are of beaver, and the large felt hat is trimmed with feathers and velvet.

The dress on the right hand in the third picture is made of lead or mouse gray striped rep goods, and is trimmed with light fur, which is applied in such a way as to give it the appearance of a Zouave jacket. The sleeves have epaulets trimmed with fur. The figure upon the left wears a walking cloak made of wood-brown cloth. It is trimmed as shown with Persian band. The following sleeves have two narrow bands of the fur, and three rows run around the bottom of the skirt and are continued up the front. The high standing collar is fur-lined.

The right hand figure in the picture which shows two cloaks, wears a very stylish long coat or mantle having a cape ornamented with a Roman border of passementerie. A rich fur collar is worn with it. At the left you will see a stylish cape with a tight-fitting jacket beneath. Both cape and jacket are of red cloth and are made together. From the short upper cape end in ornaments of beads. Black feather trimming borders the bottom of the long cape and the Medici collar. The jacket is tight-fitting in front, is made with darts and fastens with buttons.

There is a very charming jacket of the Empire shape at the left in the last illustration. It is of dark green cloth, trimmed with imitation marten fur, and has a full collar of green velvet shot with old gold. This jacket would look, however, equally well in dark blue, drab or the fashionable "tabac." The hat shouln be in felt of the same shade as the jacket and the feathers either a shade lighter or black. The other figure is a very stylish jacket of gray cloth, double-breasted, with large buttons, and with the fashionable full sleeves. Simple as it looks it needs to be very well made and to fit perfectly.

For those desiring to know just how the handsome visiting dress of the initial picture is made, I give here a detailed description of it. The fur trimming which borders the entire dress, is carried up the front and around the jacket. The costume is cut princess fashion and is closed with hooks and eyes for about half a yard under the waist, this fastening being, however, entirely concealed by the fur trimming. Beneath this fastening, that is, at the lower part of the dress, the front is sewn together. The front of the waist can be made either with or without darts. If the curve of the bust is very full, these darts must be employed, being put toward the side as much as possible. If the bust is small or inclined to be flat, it is not necessary to use them, and the material can be laid flat on the lining. If a dart be employed, it is advisable to make it only in the outside material, not in the lining, so that when well ironed out. it is as little visible as possible. The back breadths are very much sloped, so as to set in tight to the figure, in order to preserve the bell shape, but the circumference should be at the bottom from three to three and one-quarter yards. The lining must be cut to the exact size of the upper material and must be sewn with the latter in such a manner as to fit line by line with it. The seams must be well dampened and very carefully ironed so that they show as little as possible. If you wish to avoid the middle seam at the back, slope the back side breadths very much, as this gives the same effect as goring the back and sewing it up. The skirt has no second muslin lining and the seams are made before being laid on the lining. This obviates any unnecessary fulness and stiffness, and makes the seams less easily seen. The whalebones are covered with bone-casing and must be sewn in only above the waist band; underneath that they must be either cut off or left loose so as not to outline the form too closely. The double jacket stands out a little behind from the dress and has seams only under the arm. The front breadths must be left considerably wider in order that they can be shirred in the manner shown. These pleats are made without lining, so as not to be clumsy and the material must be shirred before being laid on the lining. The lower part of the sleeves is cut bias, and the large balloon puffs are cut from straight material. Both the jacket and the high close collar are edged with fur. The ribbon belt is drawn in at the back so as to form a large rosette, and, after being brought round under the fur trimming in front, it fastens at the side with another rosette.

You can very often, in making sleeves, use lengths of silk you have left over, lengths you have saved, thinking to trim hats with them, or "something." Maybe they have faded, but never mind. Strew the stuff thick with beads. Old white silk that is positively streaked from keeping, when covered thickly with small metallic gold or silver beads is every bit as handsome as if it had started all right. Brocades that have lost brilliancy on the right side frequently show a soft brightness of color on the wrong side, and a quaint blending of the colors. There may be a suggestion of "wrong side" about it, but there won't be if you do some beading.

MACMASTER & McGIBBON, Montreal.

The Directors, who are now the owners of the entire Capital stock, have decided, at the request of numerous friends of the Company throughout Canada, to enlarge the proprietorship of its stock, and to offer for sale, at par, ten thousand shares, of one hundred dollars each, fully paid and non-assessable.

Payments are to be made as follows:—Five per cent. on application; fifteen per cent. on allotment; twenty per cent. each in one, two, three and four months from the date of allotment. Applicants have the right to pay in full on allotment.

Applications for shares will be received until February 15th, 1893, at any of the offices of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, at the offices of the Union Bank of Halifax, and at the head office of the company, N. Y. Life Building, Montreal.

Forms of application for shares may be obtained at any of the above places, or they will be sent by mail on request.

Should no allotment of stock be made to any applicant for shares, the amount paid will be returned in full, and in the event of the Directors finding it impossible to allot the full number of shares applied for, the surplus of the deposit will be credited toward the amount payable on allotment.

The right is reserved of withdrawing the offer in whole or part at any time before allotment, and of allotting to any applicant any less number of shares than the number applied for.

As the dividends of the Company are payable quarterly, beginning with the first day of March next, allottees of stock will be entitled to receive a proportion of the quarterly dividend as the case may be, corresponding to the amount paid upon their subscription.

It is proposed to apply to the Stock Exchanges of Montreal and Toronto for official quotations of the shares of the Company.

The Consumers Cordage Company was organized in June, 1890, with a capital of one million dollars, to operate several of the largest Cordage and Binder Twine Factories in Canada. It, at first, operated these under leases, but its operations having been successful, the Capital stock was subsequently increased to Three Million Dollars, and the leased properties were purchased.

The Company has no mortgage indebtedness; and, according to the law under which it was incorporated, none can be created without the consent of two-thirds of the shares holders, represented at a meeting called for the purpose.

The Company has placed in the hands of its Bankers:—

(a) Full statements of its affairs, certified to by Messrs. Caldwell, Tait & Wilks, Chartered Accountants.

(b) The following letter from Messrs. Abbotts, Campbell & Meredith, advocates, Montreal, upon the legality of its incorporation, and the issue of its stock:—

MONTREAL, January 5, 1893.

Consumers Cordage Co., Ltd., Montreal:—

GENTLEMEN,—We have examined the books and documents connected with the organization of the Consumers Cordage Company, Limited, and are of opinion that it has been properly incorporated, and that its capital stock of $3,000,000, as issued, is fully paid up and non-assessable, according to the provisions of the "Companies Act."

We are, yours truly,

(signed), ABBOTTS, CAMPBELL & MEREDITH.

(c). A report from Messrs. Macmaster and McGibbon, Solicitors of the Company, that the titles to its Mills have been duly examined, and that no encumbrances exist.

Applicants for shares may examine these documents, copies of which may be seen at the Company's offices, and at the various offices of the Banks mentioned above.

The Consumers Cordage Company is probably the second largest Manufacturer of Cordage and Binder Twine (in the world, and claims the following very material advantages over its competitors:—

1st. Ample capital to conduct its business which enables it:—

(a) To buy its raw material in larger quantities, and at lower prices.

(b) To use only the latest and most improved machinery, thus keeping its mills in the highest state of efficiency.

2nd. Economy in selling and distributing its manufactured product.

3rd. The business covers so wide a territory (its manufactured goods go to almost every civilized country in the world) that it cannot be seriously injured by local troubles; and its Manufacturing establishments are so scattered that the danger of severe loss by fire is very slight.

4th. Lower cost of production.

(a). By maintaining the sharpest competition between the several mills, it is enabled to introduce in all the best methods found in each.

(b). By spreading its commercial expenses over a larger output.

(c) By placing in one hand the purchasing of the Raw Materials and Manufacturing supplies for the several Mills, thus securing lowest prices.

(d). By manufacturing for themselves many of their supplies.

The Company has always found it in its interest to divide the economies effected in production and distribution with the Consumer, and since its existence the Consumer has, upon the average, had a better article at a lower price than previously.

The Company does not claim to have any monopoly, or to earn monopoly profits; in fact, it has not done so. Since its organization it has been able, owing to the advantages above referred to, to earn a net return on its present capital of not less than 10 per cent. per annum (as statements in their Bankers' hands will show), and the Directors believe that these profits will be maintained in the future, as the cost of production and distribution shows each year a marked decrease.

The Dividend for the year ending 31st October, 1892, was at the rate of 6½ per cent. per annum. The past record of the Company and its present position justify the Directors in believing that quarterly dividends of one and three quarters per cent. can be paid. Should the present year be as profits for the outlook promises, the large quarter's dividend might be increased.

Any further information may be had at the head office of the Company at Montreal.

OLD AGE.

Nothing More Beautiful Than a White-Haired Woman.

What is more graciously beautiful than a white-haired woman well into that period called "elderly?" Yet, for all the usual fashion books and columns say, one might fancy that all the women in the world were young, or that only young women wore modish clothes. There are almost as many beautiful possibilities in the dun and dull colors as in the gay ones. Rich velvets and brocades and laces are no longer the exclusive right of elderly folks and of beautiful old age itself, but, even so, never do they seem so entirely fitting as when worn with gray hair and the beauty that only years can bring. The beauty of youth is that of the unmarked page, never as significant as the beauty of accomplished development. As youth has in these days, adopted the rich fabrics that used to be denied, so elderly ladies have taken to wearing fabrics and colors almost undignified. It is such a mistake. What a delight the really old lady is, with her placid face on which the story of her sweet life is written in the delicate tracery of the years; with soft silver hair parted and covering temples and ears; and in a gown of rich soft gray or bronze brocade. It should be bronze if the kind eyes are brown—eyes less bright than years ago perhaps, but with a softness not a dimness from the years. About the slender wrists and throat there is a narrow edge of brown marabout, and the skirt is finished in the same way. I have her sketched as she sits in her arm chair, no picture of forgotten or unbeautiful old age, but gracious and dignified, and crowned with years as with a garland of pale roses. Not a type of regret, but of fulfilment.

HAWAII'S PROTECTOR.

The Stars and Stripes Flap Smartly Under the Volcano.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Feb. 10.—Advices from Honolulu by the steamship Australia, which arrived early yesterday, state that United States Minister Stevens has established a protectorate over Hawaii pending and subject to the negotiations at Washington.

The schooner Robert Lewis arrived from Honolulu last night, bringing late news of the Hawaiian revolution. The provisional government has received certificates of recognition from the representatives of Japan, Great Britain, Chili, Denmark, Germany, Austro-Hungary, Spain, Portugal, Peru and the Netherlands, recognizing the provisional government as the de facto government. The answer of the British consul says he recognizes it as the de facto government pending instructions from his Government. A number of laws have been passed by the provisional government. Among others is an act relating to the powers and duties of the president and Executive Council and conferring on the president of the provisional government all the duties heretofore performed by the sovereign. An act was also passed making it treason to bear arms against the provisional government.

The steamer Australia arrived off the Heads at an early hour yesterday with news that Minister Stevens had established a protectorate over the Hawaiian islands. The act was executed at 9 o'clock on the morning of the 1st inst., when the Stars and Stripes were raised over Auolani Hall, and the Minister issued the following proclamation, which was published officially on Feb. 1:

"To the Hawaiian people: At the request of the provisional government of the Hawaiian Islands, I hereby, in the name of the United States of America, assume protection of the Hawaiian Islands for the protection of life and property, and occupation of public buildings on Hawaiian soil, so far as may be necessary for the purpose specified; but not interfering with the administration of public affairs by the provisional government. This action is taken pending and subject to negotiations at Washington. John L. Stevens, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States."

Since the coming into power of the new Provisional Government matters have been going on very quietly, the Hawaiians all willingly acquiescing in the desire to await the decision of the United States Government. The indications, however, are that there is dissension existing amongst the members of the Executive Council of the new Government, and it is believed that a request has been made to the American Minister to take full control, pending the decision of the United States. Martial law still exists, and although there are no hardships reported, yet the people, both native and foreign, chafe under the situation. No arrests are being made, and only for the continued presence of armed men in the streets, the usual quiet prevails. The marines and sailors of the United States cruiser Boston are parading through the streets several times daily, but no open adverse comment is made on their presence.

Everything, as the steamer leaves, is quiet and there are no indications of any attempt at resistance to the new protectorate.

The provisional government has been busy since its inception. The executive and advisory councils formed the Legislature and held daily sessions to pass any such acts as were deemed immediately needful. One of the earliest acts was the repeal of the lottery franchise. Another provided the following form of oath for all residents desiring to affirm allegiance to the provisional government: "I do solemnly swear in the presence of Almighty God that I will support the provisional government of the Hawaiian Islands, promulgated and proclaimed on Jan. 17, 1893, not hereby renouncing, but expressly reserving all allegiance to any foreign country now owing by me."

All the judges and a number of other officials were empowered to administer this oath, and it was taken by hundreds the first day it was available. Another act prohibits the importations of firearms or explosives of any character except by the Government.

Other than the flag raising on the first Honolulu seems to have been without sensational occurrence since the provisional government was established. Some attempt was made to secure a suspension of martial law, but the council only complied to the extent of lengthening the dark hours during which it was not permissible to be abroad without a pass.

The Queen has spent most of her time out of the city, but is charged by one paper with returning at intervals to consult Kahunas in the house of some of her loyal adherents.

GENTLEMEN,—I have used Burdock Blood Bitters for biliousness and find it the best remedy for this complaint. I used several other remedies but they all failed to do me any good. However, it required only two bottles of B. B. B. to cure me completely, and I can recommend it to all.

THE HAWAIIAN AFFAIR.

THE DELEGATES TO BE RECEIVED BY HARRISON.

Negotiations Will Be Formally Carried On—The Delegates Are Hugging Themselves—Claus Spreckles Will Make the Eagle Scream Some For Him, Too.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—All the members of the Cabinet were present at the meeting yesterday, which lasted nearly an hour. The principal topic discussed was the action of Minister Stevens in establishing a protectorate over the Hawaiian Islands.

In view of the fact that the next steamer leaving San Francisco for Honolulu is scheduled for Tuesday, the 14th inst., it is not believed that any definite action will be taken approving or disapproving Minister Stevens' action until the day before the departure of the steamer for the Islands.

Secretary of State Foster was the first to leave the White House after the cabinet meeting. He intimated that the Government had plenty of time to act in a deliberate manner, and while the approval or disapproval of Mr. Stevens' action was necessary, yet in view of the impossibility of reaching him other than by mail communication, immediate action in the premises was not deemed necessary.

This afternoon's developments in the Hawaiian matter have been important. The commissioners from the islands are hopeful, if not confident, that to-morrow will see the practical, if not formal, conclusion of their labors.

Yesterday after office hours Secretary Foster held a conference with the commissioners at the State Department, which lasted until 6 o'clock. In the course of the proceedings the commissioners were informed that arrangements had been made for their reception by President Harrison to-morrow.

This announcement gave them great pleasure, as it marked the determination of the Administration to recognize them officially and to enter upon formal negotiations regarding the object of their mission.

With a view of keeping Canadian pleuro-pneumonia out of the United States the Secretary of the Treasury has instructed collectors of customs on the northern frontier that neat cattle can only enter the United States from Canada at Buffalo, N. Y., after passing the inspection prescribed by the Secretary of Agriculture.

A NOVEL PLAN.

An English Journal Advises a Trade for Hawaii.

LONDON, Feb. 11.—The Saturday Review says in its issue this week that it attaches no importance to the suggestion that the Hawaiian affair is really a sugar speculation. Reference to the more patent facts of all colonial history will show that sugar speculations have had a material influence upon the growth of the empire.

If the United States are really anxious to establish a protectorate the best use to which England could put her treaty rights would be to swap them for a thorough settlement of the endless fisheries difficulties.

Bumptious Ben's Blow.

OTTAWA, Feb. 11.—The United States treasury agent at Smith's Falls, Ont., was withdrawn yesterday, and ordered to report at Washington. This is the first serious blow aimed at the privileges enjoyed by the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Hitherto the treasury agent broke sealed cars in transhipment across Canada from one point in the United States to another point in the United States and transferred the goods to other cars. For instance, cars reaching Smith's Falls from Boston were opened, and goods destined for Chicago or Minneapolis were transhipped to other cars and dispatched by the Canadian Pacific main line or by the Soo branch line via Sault Ste. Marie.

A Gambler's End.

NICE, Feb. 11.—A professional gambler, after losing heavily in the casino at Monte Carlo last evening, suddenly became insane, attacked several men and then tried to take his life.

His violence caused a panic and men and women fled from the building. Three attendants and two players overpowered the maniac after a sharp struggle and removed him, shouting and fighting, to the police station.

HOMESTEAD CASE.

Bergman, a Printer, Says His God is Common Sense and Nature.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 11.—The two Anarchists, Henry Bauer and Carl Nold, were put on trial yesterday, charged with being accessory before the fact to the shooting of H. C. Frick by Alexander Bergman in July last. The jury was completed at 11 o'clock, and Assistant District Attorney Goehring opened the case for the prosecution.

Paul Eckert repeated his testimony of yesterday with slight changes under cross-examination. Eckert became greatly confused, contradicting himself repeatedly, otherwise the morning session was devoid of special interest. Bergman was brought into court just before noon adjournment.

The feature of the afternoon session was the testimony of Bergman, who testified to being a printer, that he came to Pittsburg for no other purpose than to kill Mr. Frick, that he had told no one of his intentions and was alone responsible for the attempted killing. He stated he had gone to Nold's and Bauer's residence because he was without funds. He brought a letter of introduction to Nold from a man in New York, but refused to disclose his name. Bergman was asked: "Do you believe in a God?" and replied, "What do you mean by a God? I believe in common sense and nature."

At the close of Bergman's evidence he was removed to the penitentiary, and the attorneys proceeded with the closing argument to the jury.

Judge Slagle then retired the jury and adjourned the court until this morning.

Graded By Their Clothing.

KINGSTON, Feb. 11.—In future the young and first conviction prisoners will be separated from the older and more incorrigible convicts at the penitentiary by the introduction of the isolated system. It is the intention of the warden to have the new cells ready for occupancy by May 1. The prisoners are now graded by the style of their clothing.

Charged With Murder.

NORTH BAY, Ont., Feb. 11.—A. F. Doyle, proprietor of the Winnipeg Hotel, was arrested here Tuesday afternoon on a charge of being the cause of the death of Alexander Poaillet, which occurred here last November. At the court held for investigation yesterday Doyle was committed to stand his trial at the assizes in Pembroke.

ANOTHER AZETC CITY.

The Ruins Discovered by an Editor and a Prospector.

PHŒNIX, Ariz., Feb. 11.—Col. Johnstone, former editor of The Gazette, and William Condon, an experienced prospector, returned yesterday from the mountains 25 miles northwest of this city and reported the discovery of the ruins of an old Aztec city, different from any before discovered. Among the many hieroglyphics are drawings of men, and on an oval-shaped stone is a serpent, cross and anchor. Around these ruins is a stone wall or fortification in a good state of preservation. The place indicates that there were at least 60,000 inhabitants.

It is singular that these ruins were not discovered long ago, but the country in the vicinity is mountainous and has been but little prospected.

The Ohio Is Swelling.

CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 11.—The Ohio is rapidly rising at all points above Cincinnati and a flood seems certain. At 10 o'clock there were 41 feet 2 inches in the channel, and the river was rising at the rate of four inches an hour.

The danger line is placed at 52 feet, although at 50 feet much damage is usually sustained.

At Pomeroy the river is rising two inches an hour. At Maysville the river has risen five feet since 6 o'clock last night, and is still rising three inches an hour.

COMPLETELY REMOVED

his Dry Goods Business from the old and antiquated store in Burnham's Block to his new and more central premises,

365 George Street,

ROWSE'S OLD STAND.

We part from the old stand with regret. But it is not our fault that the trade is going up town. We see that it is going, and who can control the movements of trade? For our part, we think the sensible thing is to follow.

Being now comfortably settled in the centre of trade, we are fully prepared for business, and hope to be able to serve all our old customers and many more new ones.

The ladies are especially invited to call and look through our handsome new premises, where they will find us surrounded with the latest modern store improvements, increased shelf room, better light, and other accessories for the more effective display of our large and well assorted stock of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods.

BARGAINS as BIG and as REAL as ever. Some lines of goods slightly damaged by smoke to be sold for whatever they will bring.

CLEARING SALE

—OF—

MEN'S, YOUTHS' AND BOYS' SUITS AND OVERCOATS.

Big Reductions in the Price of all kinds of Ready-Made Overcoats.

We utterly annihilate Profit, entirely ignoring Cost, for the next Six weeks. It's like finding money. This sale will eclipse any offer of the entire season. It is the result of several causes—lateness of season, the over-stocked condition of our Overcoat Department, but mainly the necessity of turning our stock into money.

500 WINTER OVERCOATS.

The Cream of our $15 and $18 Overcoats go for $13.
Our $12 and $14 Ulsters go for $10.
Our $10 Black Worsted and Melton Overcoats go for $8.
Our $8 and $9 Overcoats go for $6.
Our $4.50 Overcoats go for $3.50.

We do this not for love of our customers, nor for fun; but because it's hard to sell Overcoats now—because we must sell them now or carry them over until next winter. Our regular prices, as you know, are fully 25 per cent. lower than Clothing is usually sold at, but to make this an unprecedented sale, we entirely ignore cost for the next six weeks. DROP IN AND SEE US. Shrewd buyers will shop early.

NOTES FROM OTTAWA

Foster is Not Expected to Announce Many Tariff Changes.

OTTAWA, Feb. 13.—There are sad and sorrowing hearts at Rideau Hall to-day, and the angel of death is hovering over the second son of the Governor-General. Just a week ago yesterday a cablegram was received stating that the Hon. Arthur Stanley and the Hon. Victor Stanley were both ill, and the case was considered so serious that Lady Stanley left for New York, en route for England, and all social engagements at Rideau Hall were cancelled.

Later cablegrams, however, were so hopeful that Her Excellency returned to Rideau Hall on Thursday and the usual Saturday afternoon tobogganing party was held Saturday. This morning a sad change was caused by the following cablegram:

"Mr. Arthur Stanley much worse; head symptoms very serious; most critical; we can only hope for the best."

Last evening another and even less hopeful cable was received as follows: "The same, pulse quicker, but quite insensible."

The sad news was not generally known Saturday, but last evening it was the general topic of conversation about the lobbies of the House and the clubs and hotels, where the utmost sympathy was expressed for Lord and Lady Stanley.

Rev. Mr. Herridge referred to the sad news, and offered up a brief but impressive prayer for the sufferer.

There is naturally some little curiosity as to the budget speech on Tuesday, but the impression gains ground that no very great changes will be announced, and that Mr. Foster will confine himself very much to the lines laid down by him in the caucus, that it would be inadvisable to make any material tariff changes just at the moment that a new administration is about to assume office in the United States, pledged to tariff reform, and that it would be best to wait another year.

Nothing, however, is definitely known as to what Mr. Foster will announce, except that it is freely said by those who are assumed to know that there will positively be no change in the matter of Indian corn, which will not be put on the free list.

The annual meeting of the press gallery was held Saturday, when the following officers were elected: President, Fred Cook, Toronto Empire; vice-president, A. J. Magurn, Toronto Globe; secretary, W. J. Healey, Toronto Mail; executive committee, J. A. Phillips, Toronto World; A. R. Payne, St. John Sun; Fred Williams, Montreal Herald; R. M. MacLeod, Ottawa Citizen; J. D. Clarke, London Advertiser. The annual dinner will probably take place on the 25th instant.

The Executive Committee of the World's Fair has received assurances from the Chicago Executive that Canada will be well represented in the judges in classes in which Canada competes.

As the opening of navigation approaches the question of the removal of the cattle embargo by Great Britain attracts more attention. There does not seem to be much hope that the embargo will be removed, although the Canadian Government is leaving no stone unturned to accomplish that end. In this connection it has been ascertained here that since the cases of alleged pleuro-pneumonia last October 58 cargoes of Canadian cattle, comprising over 13,600 head, have been landed in Great Britain without the slightest trace of disease being found.

TOBOGGAN ACCIDENT.

Miss Crawford of Windsor Killed Instantly.

MONTREAL, Feb. 13.—A terrible toboggan accident occurred near this city Saturday night by which Miss Jane Crawford, a young lady 16 years of age, from Windsor, Ont., was instantly killed.

Miss Crawford, accompanied by her eldest sister, Miss Mary Crawford, and escorted by a young gentleman friend, James Montgomery of Montreal, visited the Park toboggan slide behind the mountain, where they spent the evening tobogganing. On their way home they agreed to go down the Cote Des Neiges Hill, a very steep public thoroughfare leading from the mountain into the city. Young Montgomery, who was steering, lost control of the toboggan, which was going with lightning rapidity, and at a turn in the road the toboggan ran into a telegraph pole.

Miss Jane Crawford, who was sitting in front of the toboggan, was dashed head foremost against the telegraph pole and instantly killed. Her skull was terribly fractured.

Her two companions escaped unhurt. The young woman's body was removed to her mother's apartments. Miss Crawford with her mother and sister came from Windsor, Ont., last fall to pass the winter in Montreal. One of her brothers is proprietor of the Crawford House at Windsor, Ont.

PINNED BY A STONE.

And Died Five Hours Afterwards—Another Man Lost a Thumb.

BELLEVILLE, Ont., Feb. 13.—Miles Robertson, aged 42 years, was Saturday afternoon the victim of an accident at the Point Ann quarry which proved fatal. He was, as one of the foremen, superintending the hoisting of a large stone, when it tipped upon one side, pinning the unfortunate man against a wall of stone. When extricated it was found that he had sustained severe internal injuries. Although medical aid was soon secured he died five hours after the accident.

He leaves a wife and four children. The remains were sent to Thorold for interment. He had worked at the quarry for three years and was a favorite with the men.

Another man named Banford, in attempting to save the stone from falling, had a thumb taken off by one of the chains.

THE CLERK WAS THERE.

And a Burglar Did Not Rob the Simcoe Postoffice.

SIMCOE, Ont., Feb. 13.—An attempt was made here yesterday morning to rob the post-office. The night clerk was awakened about 2 o'clock by some person in the front part who was trying to make his way to the room containing the safe.

The clerk immediately turned up the light and called to the burglar to stop, who, finding that he was discovered, made his escape. An examination showed that the front door of the office had been broken open. Policeman Coates was at once notified and is keeping a close watch.

Dr. Green Dead.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 13.—Dr. Norvin Green, president of the Western Union Telegraph Co., died in this city at 7.30 o'clock yesterday morning.

RAILWAYS AND CANALS.

The Yearly Report Increase in Revenue and Expenditure.

OTTAWA, Feb. 13.—The annual report of the Department of Railways and Canals was laid on the table by the Hon. John Haggart Saturday. From it it appears that the number of railways, including Government roads in operation, was 78; the number of miles of railway completed was 14,633 (besides 1664 miles of sidings), of which 13,869 were laid with steel rails. There were 14,009 miles of railway in actual operation. The paid-up capital amounts to $816,662,758; the gross earnings to $13,239,649; the number of passengers carried was 13,222,568, and 21,753,290 tons of freight were conveyed by these roads. The number of miles run by trains was 43,899,178. The total amount expended by the Government for the construction of railway works, for subsidies to railways down to June 30, 1892, was $133,498,706. The net loss on the Government railways in operation was $612,204. The number of passengers carried on the Intercolonial was 1,297,732, a decrease of 572. The number of barrels of flour carried was 904,915, a decrease of 59,314; of grain, 3,776,677 bushels, an increase of 885,756 bushels. The quantity of lumber carried decreased 8,713,984 feet. The number of live stock was 7640 head less than last year, and the quantity of coal carried decreased 64,232 tons. The quantity of raw sugar carried was 21,637 tons, an increase of 3664 tons, and of refined 32,721 tons, an increase of 16,127 tons.

With regard to canals, the report states that the total expenditure on canals to June 30, 1892, was $68,548,086. The expenditure during the year was $1,637,819 for construction, $239,800 for repairs and $349,478 for staffs and maintenance. The total canal revenue was $624,675. With reference to the question of canal tolls the report says: "It seems proper here to records briefly certain facts relative to the tolls charged for the passage of wheat and other food products through the Welland and the St. Lawrence Canals. In the year 1882 tolls on the Erie Canal were abolished. In the year 1884, on urgent representations from shippers and others interested in the grain trade, orders in council were passed with a view to meeting the abolition of the Erie Canal tolls. They reduced for the then current season by one-half the tolls for passage through the Welland and St. Lawrence Canals on wheat and certain other food products shipped from Montreal or other Canadian ports west of Montreal. In the following year, 1885, tolls were further reduced on such products at 2 cents per ton, and thenceforward, year by year, up to and including 1891, this concession has been made by special orders in council. In the year 1892 the reduction was conditioned by the provision that it should be applicable only to products actually exported."

In August, 1892, the United States adopted a system of tolls on the Sault Ste. Marie canal, levying 20 cents per ton on all freight carried "to any port in the Dominion of Canada." It may be noted that the Sault Ste. Marie Canal was transferred from the control of the State of Michigan to that of the Federal Government, with the distinct purpose that it should be forever free from toll, and that such transfer took place subsequently to the Treaty of Washington, and the undertaking of the state conformably thereto that British subjects should have the use of the canal on terms of equality with the inhabitants of the United States. The report states, with reference to the Sault Ste. Marie canal, that an agreement was made on Nov. 22, 1892, by which the canal is to be completed by July 1, 1894. The canal proper will have a width at low water of 192 feet, and a depth of 20 feet. The lock is to be 900 feet long, with a width of 65 feet, and will lock three vessels at once. The expenditure on this work during the fiscal year was $341,474. Between July 1 and December 31, 1892, a further expenditure of $296,275 was made, and the total expenditure on the works so far has been $1,182,767. The expenditure on the Soulanges Canal to December 31 was $118,661. Contracts have been let for eight out of the 13 sections.

The statement of revenue and expenditure for January shows the former to have been $3,213,576 and the latter $5,347,396, an increase of $249,604 in the former and a decrease of $119,470 in the latter as compared with January last year. For the eight months of the fiscal year the revenue has been $21,772,601, against $20,716,451 for the same period last year, an increase of $1,056,150. The expenditure for the eight months has been $19,189,893, as against $19,868,325 last year, a decrease of $678,432. The surplus at present is $2,582,707, as compared with a surplus of $848,126 at this time last year.

The statement of the public debt on Jan. 31, 1893, is as follows:

Gross debt	$297,373,854
Assets	57,328,963
Net debt	$240,044,891

This shows an increase in the debt during the month of $2,127,386, which is $137,253 less than the increase in the month of January, 1892. Compared with June 30, 1892, the end of the last fiscal year, the net debt on Jan. 31 showed a decrease of $1,066,553. The expenditure on capital account during January was $328,243, and for the eight months $2,276,364, compared with $356,515 in January, 1892, and $2,104,419 for the eight months.

Vessel Lost, Crew Saved.

POINT PLEASANT, N.J., Feb. 13.—The British brig, Ella Carter, Capt. Darrall, from Bermuda for New York, stranded in a heavy gale at Harvey-Cedars, N.J., Feb. 9, at 11 p.m. She was discovered by one of the surfmen, who summoned the life-saving crew of the Harvey Cedars Station. The Lyle gun was brought into service and a life line was thrown over the vessel, which was 400 feet from the shore. The line was made fast by the crew of the brig and the rescue was made by the use of the breeches buoy. The crew of the brig were thoroughly drenched by the sea, which broke completely over the vessel. The brig has become a total wreck.

Swallows His Palate.

UTICA, Feb. 13.—Joseph Wiegand suffers from a peculiar accident that his doctor fears may prove fatal. He started for Albany with a freight train. His engine gave out at Frankfort. While repairing it his palate got in his throat. While trying to replace it with his fingers he irritated the top of the larnyx and the muscles contracted. He became unconscious from difficulty to breathe. He regained consciousness 12 hours later, but cannot speak.

LOST ON THE ATLANTIC

WHAT A HEAVY SEA DID ON AN ALLAN LINER.

The Captain Killed, And the First and Second Mates, Several Other Seamen and Four Passengers Drowned—The Total Victims Number Twelve.

LONDON, Feb. 13.—The Allan Line steamer Pomeranian from Glasgow, Jan. 27., via Moville for New York, has returned to Greenock after losing a number of her crew and passengers in a heavy storm. The Pomeranian was about 1150 miles westward from Glasgow when she encountered weather of unusual severity.

The gale had increased with great suddenness until a heavy sea unexpectedly swept over the deck, carrying everything before it like an avalanche. The deck saloon, the chart house, the bridge and the boats were smashed and swept away by the tremendous force of the waves, and when the sea had passed over the decks were a scene of ruin and the shrieks of perishing sailors and passengers could be heard in the waves that surged about the dismantled steamer. Capt. Dalziel had been on the bridge when the avalanche struck the vessel. He was swept from his post and was dashed against the bulwarks, where he lay stunned and helpless.

The mates, John Cook and John Hamilton, who were on the bridge with the captain, were swept out to sea and drowned. Besides the first and second officers named, two quartermasters, two stewards, four first cabin passengers and one second cabin passenger perished by drowning.

Sames and Lilian Gibson of Dalkeith, Jane Caffery of Londonderry and John Stuart of Glasgow were the first cabin passengers lost. They were in the deck saloon at the time of the disaster and were hurled overboard with the ruins of the saloon. They were never seen again, but survivors say a despairing cry pierced the air even amid the thunderous roar of the waters.

Peter Forbes of Dundee was the second cabin passenger missing and the stewards were James Pritchard and Fred Westbury. The stewards were engaged at the time in their usual duties when borne off their feet and swept into the sea.

Two seamen named Pete McLean and William Urquhart, who were on duty at the time, also perished.

For a moment after the catastrophe the survivors were too stunned to act. With captain disabled and the first and second officers drowned, there was no one for the moment to give orders from whom orders were expected. Everyone looked about to see who was in command. Then the third officer quickly brought the crew to their senses and took prompt action to save the steamer and its human freight from further calamity.

All the instruments for navigation had been swept away except the after-compass, by which the steamer had to be navigated.

Capt. Dalziel was borne below. His injuries were fatal and he died on the following morning.

The crew cleared away the wreckage, and the vessel started on its return voyage, making its way back slowly and carefully to Greenock.

The survivors of the passengers and crew are in a very exhausted condition after their terrible experience.

After the Pomeranian arrived in Glasgow additional accounts regarding the terrible calamity were secured. It appears that after Capt. Dalziel had been carried below unconscious the vessel was brought about by the order of the officer in command and kept running before the gale.

The crew cleared away the debris and battened down the hatches. The waves swept over the deck from stem to stern and flooded the passengers' quarters. There was no panic, and the crew had everything snug before dark. The gale continued to rage with fury until Wednesday last, when it abated somewhat. On Thursday the weather again became stormy and gradually rose to a hurricane.

Innistrahull Light, off the most northerly part of the Irish coast, was sighted on Thursday evening and the position of the vessel ascertained. Owing to the terrific weather it was necessary to lie to until Friday morning, when the Pomeranian was steered for Greenock.

The scene at the burial of Capt. Dalziel was one of the saddest ever witnessed at sea. The captain breathed his last on Sunday morning, and at mid-day his body was committed to the sea. The crew and passengers stood by, silently weeping during the simple and mournful ceremony. The waves were running mountains high, and all felt that they, too, might soon be with their departed captain.

Veteran sailors who were on board declare that during an experience of 20 years the storm was the worst they ever encountered. If the ship had not been staunch and well disciplined it would have foundered.

Purser Low was asked, in an interview, why the vessel didn't continue on its way westward. He replied that had not the surviving officers decided to turn back none would have been left to tell the tale. One heavy sea, he stated, carried away the two quartermasters from the wheel, swept away the charts and compasses and disabled the steering apparatus. The Pomeranian then swung her head around and the officers saw no alternative but to keep away by the wind as much as possible.

Speaking of the funeral of Capt. Dalziel, Purser Low said that it was the most solemn spectacle he had ever witnessed. One hundred and twenty people were grouped around the body, mutually anticipating their own death and following with tear-swimming eyes the remains of their late commander disappearing in the hungry waves that seemed to roar for additional prey. The passengers were delighted on learning that the vessel was turned back.

Although the discomfort that had been endured was very great nobody complained. Everybody looked forward with eagerness to their safe arrival on land. All were only too glad to be alive to complain of lack of accommodation.

The interior of the Pomeranian is badly damaged, and will require extensive repairs.

TO PROMOTE THE FARMERS' INTERESTS.

Another Important Move by the Ontario Government—Farmers Sons to be Taught the Advantage of the Farm.

Last Wednesday evening Hon. John Dryden, Minister of Agriculture, delivered an admirable address before the Central Farmers' Institute. The portion of his address relating to a proposition of the Government looking to teaching agriculture in the public schools, is given below :

I think that the time has now come when there should be some partial effort put forth to induce agricultural instruction in our common schools. It would appear that public sentiment has decreed that neither fame, position, wealth, honour nor happiness can be secured in the country, and is to be found only in connection with town or city life. An undue proportion of our young people, male and female, are leaving rural life and rural pursuits for what appears to them to be a better place, but which is surrounded by uncertainties and difficulties. They seem to lose sight altogether of the beauties of country life, and of the pleasures that may be found there, and haste away to a field by them unexplored and entirely unknown. I do not say that some should not go, because I am aware that nature has fitted them for such a life, but what I do say is that hundreds are being lured away whose tastes do not lie in that direction. Already serious results are witnessed, and these results will be intensified in the near future.

Can nothing be done to stem this tide? I answer, yes, I think something can be done. I would like to see in all our common schools an effort made to change this mistaken sentiment. I would like that even the youngest child of these schools should hear something about the attractions and duties of rural life; about the importance and dignity of labour, and about the honour which may come to a man who excels in agricultural pursuits. The first step to bring about results in this direction is to provide properly equipped teachers for such a work. This undertaking the government

HAVE DECIDED TO COMMENCE AT ONCE.

It is proposed to open a summer school at Guelph during the summer holidays to which the teachers of our rural schools will be invited. There will be given a series of 40 or 50 lectures on subjects appertaining to agriculture, including chemistry, botany and geology, not with a view of fitting them in that short time to teach technical agriculture, but to prepare them to give a series of popular talks to the children on plant and animal life, nature of the soil with special reference to their immediate surroundings. and other kindred subjects which will naturally present themselves in this connection. No additional subject will be placed upon the school curriculum, which is already fully loaded, but the teacher will be advised to take up some of these subjects, say on Friday afternoon, a part of which is now usually devoted to readings, recitations, etc.

The success of the work will naturally depend a great deal upon the skill and tact of the teacher, but it seems to me that the subject may be so presented as to interest even the smallest among the children. I think it is possible in this way to turn the attention of the children to the beauties in nature all around them, and also to the possibilities of rural life and pursuits. They will thus early in life see in their own home gardens, the fields and the waysides, attractions

WHICH HAVE NEVER BEEN SEEN BEFORE.

As they grow up they will want to know more of these subjects, and thus a demand will arise for a continuation of the instruction thus commenced.

This scheme is but a commencement of this work. It may not be the ideal, but the expense of it to the country will be so small that it appears to the government to be worth testing. Should the teachers make as good use of it themselves the next few years as they may, I think I can prophesy that within the next ten years you will find that instead of the brightest and best of our young people making haste to the city, they will be turning their attention to those studies connected with agricultural pursuits which will in the end give such an impetus to the prosperity of this country as never before existed.

At the conclusion of this course it is proposed to have a short examination, in connection with which a certificate will be granted, which will give school trustees an idea of the attainments of the teacher in this regard. I apprehend that a teacher who is successful in presenting these subjects will be worth more than one who has paid no attention to them. The cost of all this to the teachers themselves will be trivial. It may be necessary to impose a small fee for the payment of the professors who will be engaged during a portion of their holidays in this work, but there will be no expense beyond that, except the bare cost of board, which will be furnished to those who can be accommodated at the college at cost—say $2.50 per week.

This is another of the numerous evidences the Ontario Government, has practically given of its interest in the farming profession. The new departure may represent some expense, but nothing in comparison with the advantages involved. The farmers are heavily taxed in the interests of manufacturers, a taxation which brings them no return ; and certainly an expenditure is justifiable which does not take one cent from the farmer's pocket, but on the other hand is calculated to do an immense amount of good to his calling.

THE MOTHER'S LOVE FOR HER CHILD.

There dwells in the mother's heart a sacred and holy love for her child which defies the powers of description. We cannot properly fathom that love ; it is too deep—too mysterious.

The child's life depends upon the mother's care and love ; without these it fades and dies.

Thousands of loving mothers, owing to lack of experience and thought, lose their dear ones. The little clinging tendrils wither and die, simply because they are improperly fed. It should be borne in mind that the infant's stomach is extremely weak, and easily put out of order. In ninety-nine cases out of one hundred, the infant's death is due to stomach difficulties and impaired digestion.

The common foods of the present day are conducive to diarrhœa, dysentery, constipation and other troubles which cut off thousands of young lives. When mothers are obliged to use artificial foods, it will be well to remember that there is only one make in the world that is in every way suited for the young and tender child. Physicians everywhere, who thoroughly understann dieting, are prescribing the celebrated Lactated Food. This grand food contains all the nourishing elements of pure breast milk, and is easily digested. Lactated Food gives health and strength ; it produces flesh bone and muscle, and keeps the digestive organs in perfect condition. Give it a trial at once, dear mother, if you would see your child healthy and happy.

A MYSTERIOUS AGENT!

It Possesses Wondrous Powers!

Well and Truly Tested in Canada!

IT IS CALLED

"Our Country's Benefactor!"

Canada's great benefactor, although a mysterious agent to the thousands who use it, possesses such wondrous powers for good in every community, that it has been placed at the top round of the ladder of fame. Our people stand amazed at the magnificent results achieved from day to day, when the best medical efforts fail. Paine's Celery Compound rescues and saves those who are suffering and diseased, and who have been given up by the doctors. The following extracts from a letter written by Mrs. M. W. Brown, Mattox Post Office, Prince Edward Island, will show the value of the grand medicine to weary sufferers: "Had rheumatism in a distressing form for seven years; could not walk or use my arms; at times I could not eat or sleep; was very melancholic and completely run-down. I tried other medicines, but could not get cured. After reading about Paine's Celery Compound, I commenced to use it, and I am now free from all pains; have a good appetite, sleep well, and my health is renewed. I am thankful for the great boon, and would like the world to know what Paine's Celery Compound can do."

Reader, it will do the same for you; it never fails to cure.

THE DIPHTHERIA EPIDEMIC.

The Bobcaygeon Independent says:—No new cases have been reported for some time and the Board of Health at the meeting on Friday decided to take immediate action in having the village disinfected, the medical men have been called upon to report all cases of infectious disease, for the last four months, and they are assisting the board in its efforts. There were cases unattended by the doctors, and these should be reported by the persons themselves, or by any person who is aware of others having been affected. It should be distinctly understood that the most virulent type of diphtheria may be contracted from a child or person, having so mild a form of the disease, as to be apparently nothing more than indisposed. To restore confidence to the village, and the surrounding neighborhood, the Board must be able to give a clear bill of health. That official declaration is demanded by the community, and must be given at the earliest moment. To do that every house in which there has been the slightest sign or suspicion of contagion must be reported on, as being disinfected. To do unto others as you would they should do unto you, is one of the elementary principles of the religion that is so generally professed, and presumably taught from the five village pulpits. There should therefore be no difficulty in getting every one to rid themselves of any risk of giving disease to their neighbors, and enable the Board within a few days to give official assurance of public safety. Parties knowing of cases of sore throat, no matter how slight, where disinfecting precautions have not been taken should report to the medical officer, Dr. Baker, who will of course receive the report in confidence. To know of such cases and not report is to become a party to a grossly unchristian and criminal, endangering of the public health.

PETERBOROUGH, Jan. 31st, 1902.

To the Peterborough Medicine Company:

GENTLEMEN,—If there is any medicine in the world that I pin my faith to it is Membray's Kidney and Liver Cure. In my business I have to stand on my feet a good deal. About a year ago my back began to give out, weakening pains set in across my kidneys, I felt tired all the time and could hardly stand up to my work. I began to lose strength and at last had to give up work altogether. A customer advised me to try your cure which I did. Before half the bottle was used, I felt the pains and weakness leaving me and to-day I enjoy good health and can bear fatigue and work all right. One bottle was all I used.

The Coldest January on Record.

Number one—January—in welcoming in the year at the same time gave us to understand I am still a winter month—the whole of it being cold. We only had four days at 1 p.m. at or above the freezing point, and one day, the 29th, at 40 degrees above, but in the morning 28 degrees, it being the highest, and at night also 28 degrees being the highest. So now we come down to business with our zero readings in the morning observations. We had it nine times at, and 10 deg. below zero, as follows: on the 3rd at 10 deg. below, the 4th at 11 deg. below, the 8th at 11 deg. below, the 10th at 20 deg. below, the 11th at 27 deg. below, the 12th at 21 deg. below, the 15th at 27 deg. below, the 21st at 23 deg. below, the 22nd at 13 deg. below. Now at 1 p.m.:—the 10th at 16 deg. below zero, the 11th at 22 deg. below, and again at sunset the 3rd at 10 deg. below; the 10th at 17 deg. below, the 11th at 12 deg. below. Now, between 10 deg. and zero during the night: on the 7th at 2 deg., the 11th at 4 deg., the 16th at 3 deg., the 30th at 5 and the 31st at 3 deg., all below. At 1 p.m. the 3rd at 8 deg. below, and we had it five times at zero, thrice in the morning and twice at night. It will readily be seen that the 10th and 11th was the coldest, the thermometer rising little throughout the day, altogether leaving the mean temperature of the month at 17 deg. consequently one of our coldest months on record. We had rain on three days, but only to the depth of 60/100 of an inch and snow on fifteen days about half of the month to the depth of 26 inches, white frost and fog on two mornings, four times a halo and one severe gale. By paying the points from which the wind was blowing at sunrise during the month, it will be seen that from the northwest it was blowing on 20 mornings, being nearly two-thirds of the months, namely northwest 20 days, southeast 4 days, east 4 days, southwest 2 days and west 1 day.—THOMAS TELFORD.

THE FACT

That AYER'S Sarsaparilla CURES OTHERS of Scrofulous Diseases, Eruptions, Boils, Eczema, Liver and Kidney Diseases, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, and Catarrh should be convincing that the same course of treatment WILL CURE YOU. All that has been said of the wonderful cures effected by the use of

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

during the past fifty years, truthfully applies to-day. It is, in every sense, The Superior Medicine. Its curative properties, strength, effect, and flavor are always the same; and for whatever blood diseases AYER'S Sarsaparilla is taken, they yield to this treatment. When you ask for

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

don't be induced to purchase any of the worthless substitutes, which are mostly mixtures of the cheapest ingredients, contain no sarsaparilla, have no uniform standard of appearance, flavor, or effect, are blood-purifiers in name only, and are offered to you because there is more profit in selling them. TO BE OR NOT TO BE "IN IT."

A Life Agent called at a friend's place one day,
HE WASN'T IN IT;
He had seen "the bore" coming and fled from his way
HE WASN'T IN IT;
He had heard so much said, he was tired and sick
Of insurance and agents—'twas all a blank trick,
When one's coil must be shuffled to win it,
HE WASN'T IN IT.

A bit of a draft blew o'er his bald head,
HE WAS IN IT;
Pneumonia sent him straightway to his bed,
HE STAYED IN IT;
His doctor made of it a "quite special" case,
To save him for running still more of life's race,
But the grave took some chances to win it,
AND HE'S IN IT.

When approached by a gent for insuring your life,
GET RIGHT IN IT;
It's the right thing to do for your children and wife,
THEN STAY IN IT.
Remember that fires take your goods "out of sight,"
And that accidents happen each day and each night.
While insurance protects every minute,
IF YOU'RE IN IT.

A Bank Manager's Opinion.

HE IS "IN IT."

The General Manager of one of the leading banks in Canada, writing to a personal friend, says:—"I have no hesitation in saying that I place the CANADA LIFE upon the highest platform. It is in my opinion carefully, economically and honestly managed; its Reserve Funds are well invested; its rates of Premiums are low, and its future is, I think better assured than a great majority of Companies. I have my own life insured in the Company for a round amount, and would not hesitate to increase the amount of my policies should I decide upon taking out further insurance."

A Government Insurance Actuary's Opinion

On the Relation between Ordinary and Tontine Service.

It is frequently assertedby Companies whose business is nearly all tontined, that although the CANADA LIFE may and does pay large ordinary profits, yet it cannot compare so favourably on a long term distribution or tontine period, and that in the end better results can be obtained on a tontine policy in a large American Co. than on an ordinary or tontine policy in the CANADA LIFE. To prove the absurdity of this statement, the following piece of common sense is quoted from Mervin Tabor, late Actuary of the Illinois Goverment Insurance Department. In his well known book, "The Three Systems of Life Insurance," he says: "A company that gives large dividends on the ordinary kind of policies, can give much larger on the same kinds when Tontined, and a company that pays but meagre dividends on the usual forms, adopting perhaps the Tontine system to "cover up" its small surpluses, cannot be relied on for large returns of surplus under the Tontine Forms of Insurance."

The CANADA LIFE does not "cover up" its Quinquennial profits as some Companies do, but publishes them throughout the country.

It can and does surpass other Companies on Quinquennial profits. It should and will surpass them on Tontine profits.

WHY TO BE "IN IT."

BISHOP HAWKE'S REASON:—"I claim that Life Insurance is not only a a humane, but I might say a Christian Institution."

LORD LYNDHURST'S REASON:—"A Policy of Life Insurance is always an evidence of prudent forethought. No man with a dependent family is free from reproach if not insured."

WHEN TO BE "IN IT."

The younger, the cheaper. Therefore insure when young. Besides by insuring in the CANADA LIFE now, you will share in three years' profits.

WHERE TO BE "IN IT."

The best place to be "in it" is in the Company that gives the best returns for the least money, consistent with absolute security. Therefore, in order to be "in it," choose the Lindsay Horses to the Fore.

The following paragraph from the Lindsay Post, which refers to two well known Lindsay trotters, will be not uninteresting to local horse men:—After capturing first money in their respective classes at every ice meeting since the season opened, Messrs. W. H. Simpson, owner of the speedy mare Mamie S., and J. J. Daly, the proud possessor of Blackstone, who created a new record on the Woodbine course, Toronto, last summer, decided to enter their horses at the Montreal meet which opened on Tuesday. They were accompanied by Mr. George Curtis, whose horse B. B. is showing a good turn of speed. Curtis entered the 2.50 class Tuesday, but only managed to obtain sixth place, there being thirteen horses in the race. The same day Blackstone took the free-for-all in three straights, and the big end of a purse of $500, and on Wednesday Simpson's Mamie S. won in the 2.35 class also in three straights. The purse was $300. Mamie S. and Curtis's B. B. were also entered in the 2.40 class yesterday (Thursday). To-day (Friday) Blackstone goes in the free-for-all trot and pace. Every person will rejoice to hear of these victories won by our enterprising horsemen....As we go to press we learn that Mamie S. has taken second place.

"Plain as a Pike-staff."

Note this fact! The original prices of our clothing is invariably rated low, and as we sell for cash, the profit is naturally lower—much lower—than a credit profit. Our clearing sale prices just now are, therefore, better than when a very large discount is taken off prices originally placed high. This is as "plain as a pike-staff" and gentlemen in search of the cheapest clothing house should always patronize the MONTREAL CLOTHING HOUSE. It's bargain day, every day, at the MONTREAL CLOTHING HOUSE.

The "Stowaway" To-night.

The grand and gorgeous scenic production "The Stowaway" will appear at Bradburn's Opera House to-night. It is safe to say no finer or grander performance has ever been given in this city. "The Stowaway" tells a story of intense human interest which will be interpreted to-night by the same excellent company which has been appearing in this same production in all the principal cities of the United States. "The Stowaway" closed a brilliant engagement last Saturday at the Grand Opera House, in Toronto, to a succession of large and fashionable audiences giving the very best of satisfaction. Among the many realistic scenes in "The Stowaway" is the famous yacht scene, one of the prettiest stage pictures ever produced. In the second act the famous safe burglary scene occurs wherein a real safe is blown open by the reformed burglars Spike Hennessy and Kid McCoy. A most enjoyable performance is in store for all who attend.

The North Galveston Brick Plant.

The kiln of red pressed brick that was opened a few days ago at North Galveston, Tex., revealed a quality of material which was pronounced by experts as fully equal in density, durability and color to the best St. Louis pressed brick. The North Galveston Brick Company is a pretty big concern. The machines, buildings, yards and general capacity equals some of the best plants in the country. More factories being built, a steady increase in population and an abundant influx of capital seems to be the present record of this thrifty young city. For particulars call on or address T. Hurley, Peterborough, Ont., the local agent, or address the North Galveston Association, Box 963, Minneapolis, Minn.

By Hood's Sarsaparilla—Blood Poisoned by Canker.

Read the following from a grateful mother: "My little boy had Scarlet Fever when 4 years old, and it left him very weak and with blood poisoned with canker. His eyes became so inflamed that his sufferings were intense, and for seven weeks he Could Not Open His Eyes.

I took him twice during that time to the Eye and Ear Infirmary on Charles street, but their remedies failed to do him the faintest shadow of good. I commenced giving him Hood's Sarsaparilla and it soon cured him. I have never doubted that it saved his sight, even if not his very life. You may use this testimonial in any way you choose. Alarm Clocks!

There are a great many small Alarm Clocks which have been running for a few years and are now out of order, which the owners are allowing to remain idle, because they think it will cost too much to repair them. If you bring them to us you will find that we will make them run as well as they ever did, at a very small charge. We have already changed hundreds of them from being merely rubbish into good timepieces. If you want to buy a new one, we will sell you an Alarm Clock at a lower price than any one else in the trade. Make sad havoc when it gets into a large stock of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods. It also makes a great difference in prices. Our whole stock must be cleaned out and the building renovated and papered before our Spring Importations from Europe arrive. In order to do this, the goods are being sold at what they will bring. The rush has been so great thus far we find it impossible, with all the help we had room for, to wait on all our customers. Those who were unable to get in before, will find just as good bargains still as our stock was so large and varied. Below we enumerate a few prices:

Grey Cotton, 22 yards for $1.00. (Nice weight.)

White Cotton, 12 vards for $1.00.

Towelling at 10c. a yard, wide widths and heavy.

Anconia Cloth at 10c. a yard, heavy weight, suitable for ladies' wrappers.

Cottonade, heavy weight, burned on one edge only, at 50 per cent. off regular prices.

Shirtings in quantities, smoked only on edges, 30 per cent. off regular prices.

Dress Goods—The damage on these goods was slight, only the outside folds being smoked. We are selling them at Sweeping Reductions.

THE LABOUR DEMAND OF BRITISH COLUMBIA.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—As it is getting near the time of year that emigration sets in I thought for the benefit of those thinking of coming to the coast, I would give them a few facts regarding the labouring class here. In the first place there are hundreds of good, steady, hardworking men and women unable to find work of any kind to pay their board, and yet in the face of all that, the newspapers under instructions from some of the one-horse contractors both in Vancouver and Westminster, advertise "Men Wanted," for no other reason than to pull the wages down of the few men they have already at half wages, and some advertise for men when they don't want a man at any price simply to make themselves appear popular. Others want men and when one applies they charge him one or two dollars and send him to Mr. Somebody that never wanted a man in his life. They are the kind that styles themselves labour agents. I have known this to be done within the last month and the country is flooded with men, some of them glad to work for fifty cents per day to earn enough to take them out or to keep them in victuals. Of course there is some men that wont work here the same as in other places. And the men that talk and advertise so much about plenty of work and high wages, would they give a white man a job? "No," they would have a Chinaman and I could tell some of them the reason they keep the Cleestials around them. The class that employ Chinese are they think the Nabobs of British Columbia, but thank Providence they are not and any one that will employ Chinese labour when they can get a good white man or womanare not counted fit society for decent people or have they any good wishes for their own countrymen or country. And these are the men that give the information to travellers that come on purpose for information about British Columbia. I have read columns of several parties that came to Vancouver and I can prove that two thirds of it is false and the balance should be reduced one half. If, parties who come to this country either on their own account or sent, would either look for themselves or ask some one that would be likely to know, they would find quite a different state of things than any I ever saw published. Now, sir, I am an "old timer" in this country and I don't want to do it any harm; but when I see and read so many falsehoods about this country for the purpose of leading working men, especially, astray, I think it time some one would give them the correct state of things and then they can please themselves. Hoping that you will publish this for the benefit of the working man, and that others will copy it, I will close, and any one wanting information about any other things that I have not mentioned, it will be freely supplied.

Your truly,
OLD TIMER.

CRISP CURLING CHRONIQUES.

What is Going on at the Rink Where Curlers Most do Congregate.

Messrs. P. Butler and Dan Hilliard played a thirteen point game at the rink on Saturday afternoon. The former was successful by a score of 13 shots to 3.

The Montreal rink consisting of R. S. Davidson, C. McGill, S. Ray, and T. Rutherford, skip, returned home on Sunday morning at five o'clock. They report having had a splendid outing and were hospitably entertained by the Montreal curlers who could do nothing too good for them. Mr. Patterson, agent for the Phœnix Insurance Company, met the visitors and treated them to a recherche repast at the St. James club. The Peterborough gentlemen will not soon forget his kindness. The home team take defeat with easy grace and are satisfied on the whole with the arrangements made on the various draws of the bonspiel contest which was won by by their victorious rival, Ottawa. Ottawa after defeating Peterborough in a very close contest by one shot, played a Cornwall quartette and vanquished them by 10 shots, and then triumphed over the Thistles, of Montreal, by one shot, securing the coveted trophy. The games were all 19 ends one, and Peterborough played her first two matches on the Thistles' rink, which is rather confined, and with Ottawa on the Caledonian rink. The various struggles were watched by large crowds.

An interesting curling match took place at the rink on Saturday night between quartettes skipped by Messrs. E. B. Edwards and Geo. Edmison. The latter won easily in a 12 end competition by a score of 10 shots. Following is the result:—

G. M. Roger,	C. J. Leonard,
W. D. Parker,	W. G. Morrow,
F. J. Lewis,	D. W. Dumble,
E. B. Edwards, sk..9	Geo. Edmison, skip..19

The two Peterboruogh rinks which went to Lakefield on Saturday afternoon to play a friendly game with the curlers of that village, were not forehanded enough to win, and as a consequence returned homeignominiously defeated. However, it is to be hoped that the Thistles will do a little sharper work next time, and prick their opponents with defeat. Following are the results:

RINK NO. 1.

W Snowdon,	W Reynolds,
W H Robertson,	J Dinwoodie,
D Bellegham,	T F Wallace,
A McNeil, sk 6	J G Grylls, sk.....16

RINK NO. 2.

G Howson,	Dr Blanchard,
V McGill,	Robt Munroe,
E Rutherford,	G Ralston,
G Boucher, sk 10	G A Strickland, sk....26

Total majority for Lakefield, 26 shots.

UNSPORTSMANLIKE SPORTS.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—Some time ago there appeared in your paper a letter over the signature of "Sportsman," setting forth the evils resulting from the lax manner in which the Game Laws are enforced on Pigeon Creek and vicinity. Later on there appeared a letter over the signature of "Hunter," denying everything in "Sportsman's" letter in toto, and making several false statements. As "Sportsman" has not replied, I feel it incumbent upon me to let "Hunter" see what I know about affairs on Pigeon Creek. I speak from my personal knowledge, having lived in the vicinity of Pigeon creek for over 25 years, and remember well the time when it was veritably a sportsman's paradise. But shooting and fishing have been carried on out of season to such an extent that it is almost depleted. Fishing was splendid until six winters ago when snaring first started, when it was a common occurrence for a man to catch 15 or 20 lunge in a day. The following year the government passed a law prohibiting snaring, nevertheless it has been carried on to such an extent until at the present time the fishing is almost entirely destroyed. Snaring is not the only thing that has depleted the fish. All kinds of unlawful means have been used at all seasons of the year. If the inspector will take the trouble to go over to the creek almost any day he will be able to see three or four, and some days more people, fishing, and be able to see where others have been fishing.

Mr. "Hunter" says the inspector does his duty without fear, favour or hope of reward, but your correspondent knows differently.

Mr. Editor, as you have given "Sportsman" and "Hunter" space for their letters kindly grant me a like privilege, and oblige a subscriber as well as a sportsman.

Yours truly,
THOS. EVANS.

the poison in your blood, however it may have come or whatever shape it may be taking, is cleared away by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is a remedy that rouses every organ into healthful action, purifies and enriches the blood, and through it cleanses and invigorates the whole system. Salt Rheum, Tetter, Eczema, Erysipelas, Boils, Carbuncles, Enlarged Glands, and the worst Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, are perfectly and permanently cured by it.

Unlike the ordinary spring medicines or sarsaparillas, the "Discovery" works equally well at all seasons. All the year round and in all cases, it is GUARANTEED, as no other blood medicine is. If it ever fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back. You pay only for the good you get.

Isn't it safe to say that no other blood purifier can be "just as good?"

If it were, wouldn't it be sold so?

CHURCH CHIMES.

Mr. Louis Croly conducted the service at the Park street Baptist mission last night.

During Lent service will be held in St. John's church, each evening at 5.15 o'clock.

The choir of George street church last night sang Crowe's "Jubilate" with much expression.

Mr. R. J. Winch assisted at the services in the Keene Methodist church on Sunday evening.

Mr. W. F. Chapman gave the address in the Auburn mission last night. There was a large attendance.

Messrs. Gray, Sheers, Squires and Wesley sang a quartette very effectively at the Y.M.C.A. meeting last night.

The Y.M.C.A. band will take part in an entertainment to be given at Auburn mission on Friday night next.

Mr. Ballard, a student of Trinity College, Toronto, conducted the service at St. Mark's church, Otonabee, yesterday.

In St. John's church last evening Master Maitland Boswell sang Gounod's "King of Love, My Saviour," in a very sweet and sympathetic voice.

On Friday evening at 7.30 o'clock in St. Luke's church the rector will give an account of the newly discovered document, called "The Gospel of Peter."

Rev. Geo. Edwards, pastor of the Charlotte street church, and Rev. J. E. Trotter, pastor of the Murray street Baptist church, exchanged pulpits last evening.

Rev. Dr. Willoughy addressed a crowded meeting on Sunday evening at the Y.M.C.A. hall on the 1st Psalm, expounding in an impressive manner the blessed state of the godly as compared with the ungodly.

There will be a Sunday school entertainment in the Auburn mission on Friday evening next. The children have prepared a good programme, and it is hoped that there will be a large attendance.

The Y.P.S.C.E. of St. Andrew's church will hold a free social in the Sunday school rooms to-morrow evening. A fine programme has been prepared and the Y.M.C.A. band will contribute several selections.

The singing in St. Andrew's church last night had to be done without the accompaniment of the organ. The instrument broke down completely during the opening hymn, one of the reeds getting out of order.

Next Wednesday being Ash Wednesday there will be service in St. Lukes church at 10.30 o'clock in the morning and again at 7.30 o'clock in the evening when Rev. J. C. Davidson, of St. John's church will deliver the address.

At Vespers in St. Peter's Cathedral on Sunday, V. Novello's arrangement of "Inclina ad Me," from Himmel was beautifully rendered by Misses M. McCabe, M. and K. Dunn, and Messrs. Hiller and Gendron, the latter gentlemen taking the bass solo.

Lieut. Barrows, of the eastern district, assisted in the services at the Salvation Army here yesterday. He is a good speaker and a hard worker. Last evening there were over 500 persons assembled in the barracks. Three converts were the result of yesterday's services.

Miss McClelland presided efficiently at the organ at St. Paul's church yesterday in the absence of Mr. Arlidge. Mr. Arlidge was in town on Saturday preparing for the musical services, when he was suddenly called home on receipt of a telegram announcing the dangerous illness of his son.

Rev. Dr. Willoghby, ex-pastor of the George street Methodist church who is at present on a visit to his former flock preached two practical and able sermons in George street church yesterday. In the evening there was an unusually large congregation present and the minister discoursed eloquently from John 14th chapter, 2nd and 3rd verses.

The revival services now being conducted by the Christian Alliance had a highly favorable beginning last night. There was a large attendance, and the service, which was bright and inspiring, was addressed by Pastors Zimmerman and Fisher. The meetings will be continued each evening of the present week.

Next Sunday will be a red letter day in the George street Methodist church, it being the occasion of the annual missionary services. Rev. John Burwash, of Victoria College, Toronto, and brother of Dr. Burwash, Chancellor of Victoria College, will preach in the morning. At night a platform meeting will be held to be addressed by Rev. Mr. Burwash and Mr. Jos. Tait, M.P.P., Toronto. In the afternoon a mass meeting of the Sunday school scholars will be held in the body of the church, to be addressed by Mr. Tait and Mr. Burwash. Special music will be furnished by the pupils of the school.

The rector, Rev. Mr. Davidson, in St. John's church last evening, among the special notices for the week announced on Wednesday next, being Ash Wednesday and the first day of Lent, an evening service to be held in the church, to be addressed by laymen. These special Wednesday evening services will continue throughout Lent and will be addressed alternately by clergymen and laymen. Messrs. S. R. Gorman, commercial traveller, Belleville, and Spencer Waugh, of Toronto, General Secretary of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew for the Dominion, will address the service on Wednesday night. The subject will be "Outspoken Religion."

For that tired worn-out feeling and lack of ambition that so many women complain of, try Dr. Butler's Golden Pills. They act like magic. One box a cure.

AN EXCELLENT DEVICE.

Handy Arrangement for Hanging Wagon Beds and Hay Riggings.

After a lengthy experience no system of ropes and pulleys to directly raise a wagon box or rigging is satisfactory unless the ceiling be sufficiently high to permit the suspension out of reach of the heads of men and horses, and usually of top carriages. A better plan requiring less tackling is a pair of heavy brackets on the side of the shed or hay mow with a rope and single pulley in the side wall of barn frame above where the box or rigging will reach when turned on edge upon the bracket. On removing the rigging, etc., drive close beside the brackets and attach the rope to its opposite side. Having caught one edge on the brackets draw up on the pulley and turn the awkward thing up out of the way. A short rope or chain will hold it where it is put. The brackets can be made of two inch plank as shown or natural knees may be cut in the woods and hewed into shape.—Farm Journal.

SUCCESS IN THE APIARY.

Depends Upon Good Management, Well Bred Bees, and Hives.

The elements of success, in the well managed apiary, are found in the man, in the bee, and in the hive. When these three departments are well filled, good results are assured. Almost all failures in this enterprise are traced to some defects in one or all of these functions. First, the man. He who controls the apiary should be a person of varied "gumption." Good common sense is required at his hand; and the man or woman who excels, usually reaches this success from a gift of nature. It is true the common man of common capacity, by patient study and toil, may become fairly successful in time; but to become a master quickly in this, requires some previous aptitude for the business. It is easy to all those whose brain and heart are in the work.

Second, the bee. All bees, like all men, are not of equal value. As with horses, cows, sheep and swine, blood will tell. We find it true of all organic life, that prolonged inbreeding of the same blood diminishes the vital forces, and also that continual crossing between the different races improves the stock. And so it is with bees. About the first mistake the novice makes in starting his apiary, is the notion that all bees are alike; and from the old box hives in the country where bees are cheap and worthless, he seeks his supply. As he flounders along, keeping bees, with hardly a pound of honey for his table, he calls it "hard luck," until finally his bees hibernate in the sleep of death. The trouble is in the bees. They lack blood. In starting this work, we do well to patronize our most reliable breeders, who will furnish us with the best imported stocks. The Italians are a well tried race, and these, crossed with several other kinds, make the best workers.

Third, the hive. The bee-hive is the workshop of a most wonderful industry. It is the home of a very numerous family. Houses are for domestic labor and protection, and they are of an endless variety, adapted to meet the wants of the varied localities. A slight affair may answer for the sunny South, but for our climate we need thick walls and double windows. So with the house of the bees. If man needs protection from the blasts of winter, how much more should this little, tender creature be well sheltered, which, unprotected, could not stand the cold blast for two minutes. One point in a good hive, says a writer in Maine Farmer, is to so construct it as to have the bees close to their honey. More bees die in stern winter by being remote from their stores than nearly all other causes put together. If bees are Wintered in the cellar, almost any thickness of walls or any dimensions of hive will do good service; but when they are wintered on summer stands, it is necessary to have thick pine walls and nearly cubic hives.—Mrs. L. Harrison, in Orange Judd Farmer.

Salt.

Feeding salt to poultry is like playing with edged tools—it must be handled with care; must be thoroughly mixed with food and free from dangerous lumps. The New York State experiment station reports a trial in which small amounts of salt mixed with feed were fed to hens without injury. When the amount was increased so as to give half a pint daily to 100 hens several of the hens had diarrhœa, and the amount was again lessened. Still the hens fed the salted food produced twice as many eggs as the others, and the conclusion is that for mature hens salt at the rate of one ounce per day for 100 hens may be fed with advantage. It will not do to have salt where small chicks can get it as they will eat enough to kill them. It is fatal in small amounts to young turkeys. Ducks and geese, on the contrary, like salt, and it is a plan of old-fashioned housewives to give them a bath while young in water made as salt as the sea, for the purpose of strengthening them.—Western Rural.

To Prevent the Grip

Or any other similiar epidemic, the blood and the whole system should be kept in healthy condition. If you feel worn out or have "that tired feeling" in the morning, do not be guilty of neglect. Give immediattention to your self. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla to give strength, purify the blood and prevent disease.

HOOD'S PILLS cure liver ills, jaundice, billiousness, sick headache, constipation.

Reduced to a Science.

The treatment of disease is now almost reduced to a science. A scientific product of medical skill for the cure of all blood diseases from a common pimple to the worst scrofulous sore, which has held popular esteem for years and increases steadily in favor, is Burdock Blood Bitters. Its cures prove its worth.

THE FIRE AT DOVER.

Forty-One Inmates of the Asylum Were Burned.

DOVER, N.H., Feb. 11.—Last night in the chapel at the county farm building on the settees, and which have heretofore held devout worshippers, lie what can be found of 34 fearfully burned and charred bodies from the fire in the insane asylum.

The others who were known to have perished in the flames have not yet been found, for the cellar is full of water and the debris has not yet been removed. The bodies taken out were horribly burned and a large proportion entirely unrecognizable.

The search of the ruins will be continued to-morrow. James Daily, one of the escaped inmates, seems to have become sane since the fire. It now appears that there were 44 inmates, three of whom escaped.

MEETING OF CANNING PACKERS.

Raises American Competition—The Officers for the Current Year.

TORONTO, Feb. 10.—The annual meetaig of the Canadian Canning Packers' Association was held at the Walker House yesterday.

President W. Boulter, Picton, in his annual address pointed out that competition among canners and packers was so keen that our prices were 25 per cent. below those ruling in the United States. The supply in Canada of canned goods was much greater than the demand. Some relief had been obtained from placing 50,000 cases on the British market in face of keen American competition. This, together with the exports to the American markets, had still left them with a small surplus of canned stock.

The election of officers resulted:

President—W. Boulter, Picton.

Vice-President—William Ferguson, Delhi.

Secretary-Treasurer—J. B. McLean, Toronto.

Executive Committee—William P. Innes, Simcoe; J. B. Dolan, St. Catharines; A. E. Carpenter, Hamilton.

Auditors—F. Miller, Trenton; H. M. Douglass, Strathroy.

The association continue their session to-day.

There is no claim made for Ayer's Sarsaparilla which cannot be endorsed by scores of testimonials. This fact plainly proves that the blood is the source of most disorders and that Ayer's Sarsararilla is the best of blood purifiers. Try it this month.

Harsh purgative remedies are fast giving way to the gentle action and mild effects of Carter's Little Liver Pills. If you try them, they will certainly please you.

TWO CLOAKS.

An Opera Cloak and That Called the Stole.

An opera cloak is a necessary adjunct to every fashionable woman's wardrobe, and the one illustrated is very stylish. The material is fawn vicuna, lined with rose silk and trimmed with soft white Mongolia goat, and is a particularly comfortable and becoming model.

A cloak called a stole is made of chamois-colored cloth. It comes to the hem of the dress, and has a sort of cape that hardly covers the hands. This cape hangs without fulness and comes around to the front of the shoulders. Then it is cut away, so that the sleeves beneath and the under part of the garment can be seen. The cape further has a straight, panel-like piece let in the front. This is continuous with the cape at the neck. You see there is, as it were, a triangle cut out at each side of the front of the cape, the base of which would have finished out the edge of the cape the apex of which is near the collar. This straight, flat hanging panel in front is what lends name and character to the garment. The whole cape, panel part and all, is edged about with a narrow band of fur, and the cape and panel are handsomely lined with satin. It is a very trying kind of cloak for anyone to wear, and only the best looking girl can dare to have one.

What we now call Louis XVI fashions are merely the fashions of the men of that time as adapted by the women. The women in the time of Louis XVI, however, had some inducement to adopt and adapt their lords' wear, because it was most picturesque. For example, witness our present double capes, big hats, frills and waistcoats, our stunning double-breasted, big-buttoned, wide-skirted coats, and our buckled shoes. One pretty thing we do not use—the canes. Why, I wonder.

Consumptives, Cheer up!

If you take Miller's Emulsion you will gain from five to ten pounds of flesh with each bottle. There is no use wasting words. A hint should be enough to a consumptive of the fact that Miller's preparation of Cod Liver Oil SAVES. In big bottles, 50c. and $1, at all Drug Stores.

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN NERVINE TONIC
—AND—
Stomach and Liver Cure
The Most Astonishing Medical Discovery of the Last One Hundred Years.
It is Pleasant to the Taste as the Sweetest Nectar.
It is Safe and Harmless as the Purest Milk.

This wonderful Nervine Tonic has only recently been introduced into this country by the proprietors and manufacturers of the Great South American Nervine Tonic, and yet its great value as a curative agent has long been known by a few of the most learned physicians, who have not brought its merits and value to the knowledge of the general public.

This medicine has completely solved the problem of the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia, and diseases of the general nervous system. It is also of the greatest value in the cure of all forms of failing health from whatever cause. It performs this by the great nervine tonic qualities which it possesses, and by its great curative powers upon the digestive organs, the stomach, the liver and the bowels. No remedy compares with this wonderfully valuable Nervine Tonic as a builder and strengthener of the life forces of the human body, and as a great renewer of a broken-down constitution. It is also of more real permanent value in the treatment and cure of diseases of the lungs than any consumption remedy ever used on this continent. It is a marvelous cure for nervousness of females of all ages. Ladies who are approaching the critical period known as change in life, should not fail to use this great Nervine Tonic, almost constantly, for the space of two or three years. It will carry them safely over the danger. This great strengthener and curative is of inestimable value to the aged and infirm, because its great energizing properties will give them a new hold on life. It will add ten or fifteen years to the lives of many of those who will use a half dozen bottles of the remedy each year.

IT IS A GREAT REMEDY FOR THE CURE OF

Nervousness,	Broken Constitution,
Nervous Prostration,	Debility of Old Age,
Nervous Headache,	Indigestion and Dyspepsia,
Sick Headache,	Heartburn and Sour Stomach,
Female Weakness,	Weight and Tenderness in Stomach,

Pains in the Heart,	Liver Complaint,
Pains in the Back,	Chronic Diarrhœa,
Failing Health,	Delicate and Scrofulous Children,

Summer Complaint of Infants.
All these and many other complaints cured by this wonderful Nervine Tonic.

NERVOUS DISEASES.

As a cure for every class of Nervous Diseases, no remedy has been able to compare with the Nervine Tonic, which is very pleasant and harmless in all its effects upon the youngest child or the oldest and most delicate individual. Nine-tenths of all the ailments to which the human family is heir are dependent on nervous exhaustion and impaired digestion. When there is an insufficient supply of nerve food in the blood, a general state of debility of the brain, spinal marrow, and nerves is the result. Starved nerves, like starved muscles, become strong when the right kind of food is supplied; and a thousand weaknesses and ailments disappear as the nerves recover. As the nervous system must supply all the power by which the vital forces of the body are carried on, it is the first to suffer for want of perfect nutrition. Ordinary food does not contain a sufficient quantity of the kind of nutriment necessary to repair the wear our present mode of living and labor imposes upon the nerves. For this reason it becomes necessary that a nerve food be supplied. This South American Nervine has been found by analysis to contain the essential elements out of which nerve tissue is formed. This accounts for its universal adaptability to the cure of all forms of nervous derangement.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, IND., Aug. 20, '86.
To the Great South American Medicine Co.:
DEAR GENTS:—I desire to say to you that I have suffered for many years with a very serious disease of the stomach and nerves. I tried every medicine I could hear of, but nothing done me any appreciable good until I was advised to try your Great South American Nervine Tonic and Stomach and Liver Cure, and since using several bottles of it I must say that I am surprised at its wonderful powers to cure the stomach and general nervous system. If everyone knew the value of this remedy as I do you would not be able to supply the demand.
J. A. HARDEE, Ex-Treas. Montgomery Co.

REBECCA WILKINSON, of Brownsvalley, Ind., says: "I had been in a distressed condition for three years from Nervousness, Weakness of the Stomach, Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, until my health was gone. I had been doctoring constantly, with no relief. I bought one bottle of South American Nervine, which done me more good than any $50 worth of doctoring I ever did in my life. I would advise every weakly person to use this valuable and lovely remedy; a few bottles of it has cured me completely. I consider it the grandest medicine in the world."

A SWORN CURE FOR ST. VITAS' DANCE OR CHOREA.
CRAWFORDSVILLE, IND., June 22, 1887.
My daughter, eleven years old, was severely afflicted with St. Vitus' Dance or Chorea. We gave her three and one-half bottles of South American Nervine and she is completely restored. I believe it will cure every case of St. Vitus' Dance. I have kept it in my family for two years, and am sure it is the greatest remedy in the world for Indigestion and Dyspepsia, and for all forms of Nervous Disorders and Failing Health, from whatever cause.

INDIGESTION AND DYSPEPSIA.
The Great South American Nervine Tonic
Which we now offer you, is the only absolutely unfailing remedy ever discovered for the cure of Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and the vast train of symptoms and horrors which are the result of disease and debility of the human stomach. No person can afford to pass by this jewel of incalculable value who is affected by disease of the stomach, because the experience and testimony of many go to prove that this is the ONE and ONLY ONE great cure in the world for this universal destroyer. There is no case of unmalignant disease of the stomach which can resist the wonderful curative powers of the South American Nervine Tonic.

HARRIET E. HALL, of Waynetown, Ind., says: "I owe my life to the Great South American Nervine. I had been in bed for five months from the effects of an exhausted stomach, Indigestion, Nervous Prostration, and a general shattered condition of my whole system. Had given up all hopes of getting well. Had tried three doctors, with no relief. The first bottle of the Nervine Tonic improved me so much that I was able to walk about, and a few bottles cured me entirely. I believe it is the best medicine in the world. I can not recommend it too highly."

MRS. ELLA A. BRATTON, of New Ross, Indiana, says: "I cannot express how much I owe to the Nervine Tonic. My system was completely shattered, appetite gone, was coughing and spitting up blood; am sure I was in the first stages of consumption, an inheritance handed down through several generations. I began taking the Nervine Tonic, and continued its use for about six months, and am entirely cured. It is the grandest remedy for nerves, stomach and lungs I have ever seen."

No remedy compares with SOUTH AMERICAN NERVINE as a cure for the Nerves. No remedy compares with South American Nervine as a wondrous cure for the Stomach. No remedy will at all compare with South American Nervine as a cure for all forms of failing health. It never fails to cure Indigestion and Dyspepsia. It never fails to cure Chorea or St. Vitus' Dance. Its powers to build up the whole system are wonderful in the extreme. It cures the old, the young, and the middle aged. It is a great friend to the aged and infirm. Do not neglect to use this precious boon; if you do, you may neglect the only remedy which will restore you to health. South American Nervine is perfectly safe, and very pleasant to the taste. Delicate ladies, do not fail to use this great cure, because it will put the bloom of freshness and beauty upon your lips and in your cheeks, and quickly drive away your disabilities and weaknesses.

Large 16 ounce Bottle, $1.00.
EVERY BOTTLE WARRANTED.
Sold by H. S. McDONALD, of Peterborough, and all Druggists in the Dominion of Canada. If your druggist does not happen to have the remedy in stock, ask him to procure it for you from his regular wholesaler.

DONE CHEAP AT THE EXAMINER OFFICE

THE CANAL SCANDAL.

The Enquiry Commission Are Putting on a Spurt.

PARIS, Feb. 11.—Henri Cotta and Charles De Lesseps have decided to appeal from yesterday's judgment.

The discontent caused by the dismissal in the chamber of indictments of the true bills found for corruption against Deputy Rouvier and Senators Grevy, Dreo and Renault has moved the Parliamentary Commission of Enquiry to a renewal of its activity. The commission now proposes to summon and examine all deputies who have been accused of corruptness, whether acquitted or not, and to obtain the Reinach list of men who were compromised by money transactions with Reinach, Arton or Herz.

The commission purposes also to apply to the chamber for additional powers, which, if granted, will increase greatly the scope and thoroughness of the investigation. Should the Court of Cassation reject the appeal of Ferdinand de Lesseps against the decision of the Court of Appeal, his name will be stricken from the lists of the Institute and the Legion of Honor.

Joseph Reinach, son-in-law of the late Baron Reinach, has sent to M. Monchecourt, official liquidator of Panama Canal Company, the sum of 37,500 francs, which he had received from his father-in-law in 1888.

Reinach had received this money as a dowry from his wife, but he gave notice some time ago that he would return it if proved to have come from the Panama funds.

THE BANKERS ARRESTED.

They Lent Money, Sold Groceries and Drinks and Owned Three Newspapers.

LONDON, Feb. 11.—H. and W. Burker, the principal members of the banking house of J. Barker & Co., late of No. 32 Mark-lane, which failed on June 22 last, with liabilities amounting to $3,250,000, have been arrested on a charge of fraud. They will be prosecuted by the Treasury.

The greatest sufferers through the failure were a host of poor, thrifty persons, who were induced by the exceptionally high interest offered to deposit money with the firm. The average rate of interest promised was 7 per cent.

Aside from its banking business the firm conducted three papers—The Daily Oracle, The Weekly Oracle and The Weekly Trade and Finance. It also ran a money-lending concern, a grocery store and a public house. None of these ventures succeeded.

The complaint against the Barkers states that the frauds committed by them amount to $2,500,000.

PRINCESS MAY OF TECK.

The Duke of York Will Make Her the Duchess.

LONDON, Feb. 11.—Trustworthy advices from Cowes state that the betrothal of the Duke of York and Princess May of Teck will be announced formally to-day at a large dinner to be given them by the Queen at Osborne House.

The Duke of York has gone already to Osborne House and Princess May of Teck and the Princess of Wales will go there to-morrow.

The dinner given by the Prince of Wales on Wednesday evening to Mr. Gladstone and the other ministers is believed to have been the official prelude of the announcement.

CHOLERAIC COMPLAINT.

Marseilles Cannot Believe the Scourge is There.

MARSEILLES, Feb. 11.—Twelve deaths of the cholersic complaint, prevalent in this city, were reported. Among the fresh cases is one in Valette, a suburb not infected before. The authorities continue to give clear bills of health to vessels leaving for other French ports. The Greek and Portuguese consuls, however, refuse such bills to vessels sailing for Greece or Portugal.

The physicians who have been appointed to investigate and report on the epidemic still withhold their statement. It is said that in only one case were comma baccili found. In the other cases the results of the analysis were negative.

A BAD BREAK.

It Would Be Another Johnstown Horror.

CLEARFIELD, Pa., Feb. 11.—The residents of the low lands along the west branch Valley between Curwensville and Clearfield are to-day threatened with a second Johnstown horror. At the former place is located the large saw mill of the Curwensville Lumber Co.

In order to hold out the logs that are cut during the cutting season, a large boom is located at the mill and extends two miles up the river. At present there are over 5,000,000 feet of logs in this boom and on top of these logs is gorged at least 15 feet of ice.

The ice gorge extends a distance of six miles and the water is overflowing the banks all along the river for a distance of ten miles, and this evening is above the 10-foot flood mark, as all the ice from Curwensville on down has left the course.

If a break occurs the whole gorge may come down upon them at any minute. All that gives the people hope now is that since the middle of the afternoon the weather has been colder, and if it freezes hard to-night at least another day will pass without danger.

As a cure for cold in the head and catarrh Nasal Balm is endorsed by prominent men everywhere. D. Derbyshire, President of the Ontario Creamery Association, says "Nasal Balm beats the world for catarrh and cold in the head. In my own case it effected relief from the first application." Sold by dealers or sent by mail on receipt of price—50c. and $1 a bottle. Fulford & Co., Brockville, Ont.

Small sugar-coated Burdock Pills do not gripe or sicken. They are mild and effectual.

Endorsed by the Leaders.

When a remedy is endorsed by ministers, editors, merchants, farmers and leading men of all classes, it is strong evidence that that remedy has great merit and does what is claimed for it. Such a remedy is Burdock Blood Bitters, its wonderful success as a cure for dyspepsia, bad blood, etc., is well known to old and young.

A Cure for Constipation and Headache.

Dr. Silas Lane, while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots leaves, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick-headache in one night. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50c. a package.

Not a Particle.

A feature worth noticing in regard to Burdock Blood Bitters is that it does not contain one particle of poisonous matter. It cures and cures quickly without the use of any injurious ingredients. B.B.B is a purely vegetable specific for dyspepsia, constipation, bad blood, headache, billiousness and all diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels and blood.

HAWAII TO BE ANNEXED

THE AMERICAN EAGLE TO SOAR OVER THE PACIFIC.

All Details Settled and the President to Notify Congress in a Special Message—The Queen to be Compensated for Her Loss of Rank.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Hawaii is to be ours. The Commissioners were told that the United States would annex the Sandwich Islands, and that the President would notify Congress in a special message. The commissioners were shown the articles of annexation and said they were satisfied. The discussion was the mere closing up of the case and reading the annexation treaty, which the President will send to Congress with his message.

The question of compensating the Queen for the loss of rank and privileges and the Princess for damage to her prospects will be considered.

The ex-Queen's income has been about $100,000 a year, but if provision is made for her it will be on a much more modest basis.

COMES UP SMILINGLY.

Mr. Gladstone Able to Stand Late Hours With the Best of 'Em.

LONDON, Feb. 13.—Although Mr. Gladstone remained in the House of Commons until 20 minutes after 1 o'clock Saturday morning he appeared in the House at noon looking as fresh as a daisy, and made a long and effective response to an amendment offered by the Right Hon. J. Lowther, asking for a bill to restrict the immigration of destitute aliens. Mr. Gladstone argued that Great Britain exported more working people than it imported, and that any restriction would afford an excuse for other nations to stop the entrance of British emigrants to their dominions. Still, Mr. Gladstone added, the Government was willing to grant a commission of inquiry on the subject. The Board of Trade was about to send a commission to the United States to ascertain how far the American system could be applied to England.

Mr. Gladstone made passing reference to the death of the late Louis J. Jennings, M.P. for Stockport, and bore generous tribute to the value of his public services. Mr. Jennings, he said, had made him the hero of a book convicting him of every kind of inconsistency. He had not had time to read the book, but nevertheless, he regarded the ability of the writer and regretted his death.

While Mr. Gladstone was speaking the Right Hon. A. J. Balfour, Conservative leader and formerly Chief Secretary for Ireland, entered the House in company with the Right Hon. J. Morley, the present Chief Secretary for Ireland, and the two shook hands before taking their seats. People outside had been amazed at seeing the two political foes coming from Downing street in close conversation. Mr. Balfour's earnest manner indicated that the topic was one of importance. The unique incident of the two hostile leaders thus linked in friendly companionship aroused no little interest. It is reported that Mr. Morley extended to Mr. Balfour the unusual courtesy of communicating to him the outlines of the Home Rule bill.

In the House of Commons to-day the Queen's speech was approved, and Mr. Gladstone announced that, in the event that the debate on Home Rule should not be finished on Monday, he would move that it take precedence on Tuesday.

Looks Well on Paper.

ROME, Feb. 13.—Signor Grimaldi, Minister of the Treasury, reviewed the country's financial condition in the Chamber of Deputies to-day. He said that the budget for 1892-93 showed a definite surplus of $2,000,000, and that the budget for 1893-94 showed an estimated surplus of $280,000. He calculated that for the next 10 years budget deficits, if there were any, would be trifling.

The Sultan After Revenge.

TANGIER, Feb. 13.—In a recent fight with the rebels the Sultan's troops were routed. The Sultan's son, Muley Homan, was wounded, and his uncle, Hosain Amaranth, was slain. The Sultan is collecting his forces to avenge the defeat.

INDIAN RIOTS.

They Kill Time and Themselves While Awaiting an Agent.

DEER RIVER, Minn., Feb. 13.—Several hundred Indians have been rioting here for three or four hours, using knives and clubs. Many of them are wounded and probably two or three killed, though nobody at the agency dared to go near them. There are rumors of a massacre and none of the whites will sleep to-night.

T. L. Vance, the post trader, has lost all control of the savages. A week ago the Indians were notified that they would be paid by the Government here at noon Saturday. When the reds arrived in the morning and found no agent had appeared they were furious. The explanation that heavy snowstorms had prevented the agent from coming to Bear River did not satisfy them, and after filling up on bad whisky they took possession of the town.

ACCIDENT IN MINDEN.

A Young Married Woman and Her Brother Drowned.

MINDEN, Ont., Feb. 11.—Mrs. Norman Fetterley, a young married woman, and her brother, Joseph Mitchell, were drowned about 5 o'clock Saturday in Gull River, about half a mile above this village. They, with a companion, Miss Best, were crossing the river in a small punt and the punt filled and sank.

Miss Best managed to cling to some ice and was rescued after being in the water some minutes. The body of Mrs. Fetterley has been recovered and a large search party are at work at present looking for Mitchell's body. Mrs. Fetterley leaves a family of two young children.

Under Martial Law.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 12.—Daniel Sweeney, an American merchant who returned yesterday from a three months' trip through Central America, reports that Honduras, Nicaragua and Salvador are all under martial law, and that it is dangerous for a stranger to travel there, even when provided with a pass issued by the military authorities. Anyone caught without a pass and unknown to the officials is thrown into prison.

Traveling Home.

BUFFALO, Feb. 13.—A train of seven cars is being put in shape at the Wagner palace car shops for Dr. W. Seward Webb, president of the Wagner company, for a trip over the continent, which he proposes to take in March. One car will be used for sleeping rooms, another as the dining-car, one for the toilet, one for hunting utensils, another for a library, etc. Dr. Webb will go to California and then embark for Honolulu. The train, it is said, will be one of the finest ever turned out of the Wagner shops.

HANLAN AND GAUDAUR.

To Contest for the Canadian Sculling Championship.

LONDON, Feb. 13.—George Bubear, champion oarsman of England, called at The Sporting Life office yesterday and issued another challenge to row Edward Hanlan over the Thames championship course for £500 aside and the Richard K. Fox championship challenge cup and agreed to allow Hanlan £50 for expenses on his arrival in England when articles are signed.

The prevailing opinion here is that a single scull match between Hanlan and Bubear will finally be made, as the Englishman has at last raised the necessary $2500. The terms of the championship, which Bubear holds, are that the next match shall be rowed on the Tyne, but the trustees of the trophy have consented that it shall be on the Thames. Hanlan will probably be the favorite, as people here cannot believe that the ex-champion has lost form.

[It is scarcely probable that Bubear will demand any concessions or favors, and little difficulty will be looked for in arranging the race. Hanlan naturally expected his expenses. The £50 allowed, as above, is just what the Toronto man demanded, and he will start for England this week. Hanlan will stipulate that the race be rowed in April. The Thames or Tyne would either be suitable. The stakes will likely be £500 a side. The Englishmen are correct in the relative form of the two men. Hanlan has taken pretty good care of himself lately, and Canadians generally will be surprised if he doesn't easily defeat the Englishman.]

CLEARING SALE

—OF—

MEN'S, YOUTHS' AND BOYS' SUITS AND OVERCOATS.

Big Reductions in the Price of all kinds of Ready-Made Overcoats.

We utterly annihilate Profit, entirely ignoring Cost, for the next Six weeks. It's like finding money. This sale will eclipse any offer of the entire season. It is the result of several causes—lateness of season, the over-stocked condition of our Overcoat Department, but mainly the necessity of turning our stock into money.

500 WINTER OVERCOATS.

The Cream of our $15 and $18 Overcoats go for $13.
Our $12 and $14 Ulsters go for $10.
Our $10 Black Worsted and Melton Overcoats go for $8.
Our $8 and $9 Overcoats go for $6.
Our $4.50 Overcoats go for $3.50.

We do this not for love of our customers, nor for fun; but because it's hard to sell Overcoats now—because we must sell them now or carry them over until next winter. Our regular prices, as you know, are fully 25 per cent. lower than Clothing is usually sold at, but to make this an unprecedented sale, we entirely ignore cost for the next six weeks. HOME RULE BILL.

A Masterly Speech By Gladstone.

IRELAND'S RIGHTS DECLAIMED.

To Be Represented In Imperial Councils.

The Key Note of the Bill Is That Irish Members Will Have Seats In the British Parliament—The Idea Is To Make the Unity of Great Britain As Strong As Possible—Gladstone's Special Plea For the Passage of the Bill Is That the Heritage of Discord May Cease As Soon As Possible and Forever.

LONDON, Feb. 14.—Mr. Gladstone is in admirable form and looking forward with pleasure to the exertion of the day. He slept well during the night and began work at 9.30 a.m. yesterday, assisted by his secretaries. From early morning the scene in the Palace Yard, Westminster, was of the most animated description, groups of people assembling to watch the arrival of members. At 9 o'clock a number of representatives of the Irish cause were at the door of the House, and by 10 60 members were waiting for admission. When noon arrived the inner lobby was packed with members and the approaches were crowded, and when the doors opened there was a disorderly rush for seats, the members shouting and struggling like a mob of excursionists, several being thrown to the floor in the excitement. The veteran Caleb Wright, Liberal M.P. for Southwest Lancashire, who is 82 years of age, fell in the doorway and was trampled upon, but John Burns, M.P. for Battersea, rescued him. Meantime the struggle for entrance grew more exciting, and cries could be heard of "Keep back!" "Don't kick!" and other exclamations of a more emphatic character. Mr. Gladstone entered the House at 3.30 o'clock. Every Liberal and Irish Nationalist in the House stood up. When Mr. Gladstone arose at 43 minutes past 3 o'clock to introduce the Home Rule Bill there was another demonstration, so earnest, so enthusiastic and irrepressible that it was several minutes before he could be heard.

Mr. Gladstone spoke as follows in a clear, strong and resonant voice: "I may without impropriety remind the House that the voices which usually pleaded the cause of Irish self government in Irish affairs have within these walls during the last seven years been almost entirely mute. I return therefore to the period of 1886 when a proposition of this kind was submitted on the part of the Government of the day, and I beg to remind the House of the position then taken up by all the promoters of these measures. We said that we had arrived at a point in our transactions with Ireland where the two roads parted. You have, we said, to choose one or the other. One is the way of Irish autonomy according to the conceptions I have just referred to; the other is the way of coercion. That is our contention. It will be the recollection of the House how that contention was most stoutly and largely denied. It was said over and over again by many members opposite, 'We are not coercionists; we do not adopt that alternative, and neither can we adopt it.' [Ministerial cheers.]

"That assertion of theirs was undoubtedly sustained by the proposals, especially from the dissentient Liberals, of various plans dealing with Irish affairs. Those plans, though they fell entirely short in principle and in scope of Irish self-government, yet were of no trivial or mean importance. They went far beyond what had heretofore been usually proposed in the way of local self-government for Ireland. Well, what has been the result of the dilemma as it was then put forward on this side of the House and repelled by the other? Has our contention that the choice lay between autonomy and coercion been justified or not? [Liberal cheers.]

"What has become of each and all of these important schemes for giving Ireland self-government in provinces, and giving her even a central establishment in Dublin with limited powers? All vanishes into thin air, but the reality remains. The roads were still there—autonomy or coercion. The choice lay between them, and the choice made was to repel autonomy and embrace coercion.

"You cannot always follow coercion in an absolutely uniform method. In 1888 for the first time coercion was imposed on Ireland in the shape of a permanent law added to the statute book. This state of things constituted an offending against the harmony and traditions of self-government. It was a distinct and violent breach of the promise on the faith of which union was obtained. That permanent system of repression inflicted upon the country a state of things which could not continue to exist. It was impossible to bring the inhabitants of the country under coercion into sympathy with the coercive power."

Mr. Gladstone proceeded to debate at length upon the circumstances under which the Act of Union was passed, the promise of equality in the laws and of commercial equality under which union was effected. It was then prophesied confidentially, he said, that Irishmen would take their places in the Cabinet of the United Kingdom, but it had been his honored destiny to sit in Cabinets with no less than 60 to 70 statesmen of whom only one—the Duke of Wellington—was an Irishman, while Castlereagh was the only other Irishman who had sat in the Cabinet since the union. Pitt promised equal laws when the union was formed, but the broken promises made to Ireland were unhappily written in indelible characters in the history of the country.

"Coming to 1832, when the resurrection of the people began and thence down to 1880, Ireland could present here only a small minority in favor of restoring to her something in the nature of constitutional rights and practical self-government. It is to me astonishing that so little weight is attached by many to the fact that before 1886, before 1885 in fact, Irish wishes for self-government were represented only by a small minority. Since 1885, when the wide extension of the franchise was protected by secret ballot, Ireland's position has been improved in Parliament. In 1886 there were 85 Nationalists, or more than five-eighths. [Cheers.] They have been reduced from 85 to 80 under circumstances somewhat peculiar—[hear, hear]—and I must frankly own, to myself among others, for reasons totally and absolutely unintelligible. [Loud cheers.]

"Let us look at the state of the case as it now stands. There are but 80 out of 101, that is to say, the wishes of Ireland for Irish self-government in Irish matters are represented only by four-fifths. [Laughter.] Honorable gentlemen seem to have no respect for such a majority as that. Do they recollect, sir, that never in England has there been such a majority? [Cheers.] No Parliament of the last 50 years has come within reasonable distance of it. If there be anything in the great principle of self-government, which, if it be a reality, never can work except through the machinery and by the laws of representation, at any rate the voice of the Irish people, the persistency of the Irish people in delivering that voice and the peaceful constitutional circumstances under which it has been delivered—[Ministerial cheers and Opposition laughter]—constitute a great fact in history.

"It is said, and I admit with truth, that Ireland is not a united country. I don't deny that the division which exists is a fact of great moment. In truth, were Ireland united, anything that can render Ireland formidable would become much more formidable. Were Ireland united all opposition would vanish as a shadow. [Hear, hear.] Ireland is not united in the sense that in one portion of the country not a mere majority of the higher classes but a considerable popular feeling is opposed to the present national movement. I will not attempt to measure this numerical strength of the minority. It is said by the party opposite that the minority in the North of Ireland is arrayed in unalterable opposition to Home Rule. Unhappy at the successful instigation of those whose plot it was to divide the people of Ireland when they were united at the close of the last century through the medium mainly of Orange lodges and through religious animosity, there was an alteration of feeling, but the Protestants of Ireland, during the period of the independent Irish Parliament, were themselves not only willing, but zealous, enthusiastic supporters of Irish nationality. Inasmuch as their political life was at that period more highly developed they led on the Roman Catholic population in the political movement which distinguished that period. [Cheers.]

"This is written broadcast upon the history of the time. Genuine national sentiment in the sense of national unity had at one time prevailed among North of Ireland Protestants. We who have seen them alter, not through their own fault, are not ready to be persuaded that they will not alter back again to the sentiment of their own ancestors—[cheers]—and with their own blood and their own people form one, in noble, glorious unity."

Alluding to English feeling toward Irish Home Rule Mr. Gladstone said he would refrain from urging that England would find herself exhausted, her work made impracticable by resistance to Irish demands. He could well conceive England maintaining, if so minded, resistance to Irish demands, but England's conversion to Home Rule had been rapid. In 1886 England's majority adverse to Home Rule was 211. It now had declined to 71. In the face of such a fact who would guarantee the permanency of the opposition of the remainder? [Cheers.] He would now ask the patient indulgence of the House while giving an account of the bill. [Cheers.] He could not undertake to supply a mere table of contents. The bill, if he did, would probably bewilder his hearers, he would rather seek to present the salient points, hoping to leave a living impression on the minds and memories of his hearers; he begged them to wait and consult the bill itself, which he hoped would soon be in their hands. It would be remembered that the bill of 1886 laid down five propositions as cardinal principles to which he had endeavored to closely adhere. Change there was, but not a trenchant change from the principles of 1886. The object of the bill remained, as in 1886, to establish a legislative body in Dublin for the conduct of both legislation and administration in Irish as distinct from Imperial affairs. [Cheers.] The limiting conditions which were then observed and have since, so far as we were able to do so, been sedulously and closely served were these: We were to do nothing inconsistent with Imperial unity. Of this I will say, whatever our opponents may say, that so far as our convictions and intentions are concerned, they would be but feebly stated by being couched in the declaration that we do not mean to impair it. We wish to strengthen it. [Cheers.] We wish to give it greater intensity than it has ever yet possessed.

First, then, Imperial unity is observed and the equality of all is observed.

Secondly, The equity of all the kingdoms would be borne in mind; and thirdly, there would be equitable reparation of Imperial charges.

Fourthly, Any and every practicable provision for the protection of minorities would be included. The plan proposed ought to be such as to present the necessary characteristics of a real and contented settlement. In the first place we have made it a desire to meet what we thought was no unreasonable demand for express mention of the supremacy of the Imperial Parliament. There were two methods in which that might be done: it might be done by clauses; it might be done in the preamble. We have chosen the preamble as the worthier and better, for if it were done by clause it would be too much in the character of a mere enactment. It is not necessary to say many words for such a purpose.

Our words are, "Whereas it is expedient without impairing or restricting the supreme authority of Parliament." And then the preamble goes on to declare the creation of an Irish legislature. With reference to the charge, frequently with good faith made against us, that we are destroying the Act of Union, I wish to challenge enquiry upon this fundamental point. What is the essence of the Act of Union? [Hear, hear.] That essence is to be appreciated by comparing the condition of things found in the country before 1800 with the condition of things now subsisting in England. Before 1800 we had two sovereignties in the country. One of these was collectively lodged in the King, the Houses of Lords and Commons of Ireland.

There was no more right in a true historical and legal sense in the sovereignty residing in Great Britain to interference with the sovereignty of Ireland than there was in the sovereignty of Ireland to interfere with the sovereignty of England. This bill respects and maintains these rights of sovereignty equally throughout the entire range of the three kingdoms.

Then, coming to exclusive powers, we retain the Viceroyalty of Ireland, but we divest it of the party character heretofore borne by making the appointment run six years, subject to the revoking power of the Crown. Then also the post is freed from all religious disability. [Cheers.]

Then comes a clause which may be considered formal, although it is of great importance, providing for the full devolution of executive power from the sovereign upon the Viceroy.

Then comes an important provision for the appointment of an Executive Committee of the Privy Council of Ireland. We propose to make this an Executive Council for the ordinary affairs of Cabinet of Viceroy. The question arises, shall there be any Legislative Council? All decided that there ought to be such a council. It has appeared to us to be highly inconvenient to alter the numbers of the Legislative Assembly.

If we were to increase the number we do not know what the increase ought to be. If we were to reduce it we run serious risks of causing practical inconvenience in Dublin, especially at the time when the functions of internal government come to be newly exercised, and then probably there will be a great deal to do. We therefore leave the number at 103 and we fix the term at five years. We leave the constituency as it is now.

Next, as to the legislative council, Mr. Gladstone said he did not think they would have been warranted without some strong necessity in establishing the system of a single chamber; but in Ireland, he added, far from finding any such necessity, we look to the Legislative Council as enabling us to meet the expectation that we shall give to the minority some means of freer and fuller consideration of its views.

The next thing is shall the Legislative Council be nominated or elected? We came to the conclusion that a nominated council would be a weak council. [Ministerial cheers.] If it should be made weak the council would probably enjoy a very short term of existence. We, therefore, propose an elective council, believing it to be the only form wherein we can give any great force to the vitality of the institution.

Well, then, how do we differentiate this council from that popular assembly? We propose to fix the number at 48, with an eight years' term of office, the term of the popular assembly being less. We then constitute a new constituency. The council constituency must in the first place be associated with a rateable value of £20, whereby to secure an aggregate constituency approaching 170,000 persons, including owners as well as occupiers, but subject to a provision that no owner or occupier has a vote in more than one constituency. Then there is no provision in the bill making the legislative council alterable by Irish acts.

Regarding the legislative assembly, these 103 members must be elected for Irish legislative business by constituencies in Ireland.

We make these provisions in regard to the assembly alterable in respect to electors and constituencies after six years, but in altering constituencies the power of the assembly will be limited by the declaratory act to the effect that due regard must be had to distribution of population.

The bill must include a provision for meeting what is called a deadlock. In a case where a bill has been adopted by the Assembly more than once and where there is an interval of two years between the two adoptions or a dissolution of Parliament, then upon its second adoption the two Assemblies may be required to meet and the fate of the bill is to be decided in joint assembly. [Cheers.]

Next, all appeals shall be to the Privy Council alone, not to the Council and Lords. The Privy Council may try the question of the invalidity of any Irish act—that is, try it judicially and with reasonable judgment under the initiative of the Viceroy or Secretary of State.

This judicial committee is now recognized by us as the only approach we can make to the Supreme Court of the United States. In composing this judicial committee due regard must be had to the different elements of nationality. [Cheers.] We have not apprehended any difficulty there.

Other clauses provide for the security of the emoluments of existing judges and officers generally. Then there is a clause intended to correspond with the colonial validity law, the effect of which is that if the Irish Legislature should pass any act in any way contrary to acts of the Imperial Parliament, such law shall be good except in so far as it is contrary to the Imperial enactment. Two exchequer judges shall be appointed under the authority of the crown, mainly for financial business. Besides the exchequer judges, it is provided that for six years all judges shall be appointed as now.

We do not reserve for the Imperial Parliament the power to fix emoluments. These will be fixed in Ireland and the effect will be to establish a joint control of these appointments.

The month of September is probably the most convenient month for the assembly to meet. Therefore, a clause provides that it shall meet on the first Tuesday in September. [Prolonged Irish cheers.]

Certain clauses secure the initiative in regard to money bills to the assembly.

We are now coming to the important question of constabulary. We propose a gradual reduction and the ultimate dissolution or disappearance of that force, with the discharge of every obligation towards them in such a way as will not adversely affect the interests of that honorable force. During the period of transition they are to be under the control of the Viceroy. It is contemplated they will be replaced by a force owing existence to Irish authorities in local areas.

On the important subject of the retention of Irish members in the Imperial Parliament I do not regard and never have regarded it as touching what are sometimes called the fine principles of the bill. It is not included in any one of them, but whether it be a principle or whether it be not, there is no question that it is a very weighty and organic detail which cuts rather deep in some respects into the composition of the bill. There are strong arguments which may be alleged in defence of the retention of Irish members in Parliament, but there is one argument I must put aside as a most dangerous argument and in itself quite untenable—the argument of those who say unless you retain the Irish members there is no parliamentary supremacy over Ireland. I entirely decline to admit that argument. I say that if you do admit it at a stroke you shatter parliamentary supremacy in this country. Although I do not at all admit that parliamentary supremacy depends upon the retention of Irish members, I yet quite admit that the retention of Irish members has great practical importance, because it visibly exhibits that supremacy in a manner intelligible to the people.

Retention involves two points, first, as to number, and secondly, as to voting power.

Now, as to the first question, that of numbers. Is Ireland to be fully represented in the House? [Hear, hear.] Well, probably the feeling will be in favor of the affirmative. Then arises another

THE STATE OF THE COUNTRY.

Result of the Investigations of the "Globe's" Special Correspondents—Strong Free Trade Feeling—Earnest Demand for Tariff Reform—Farmers of Opposite Politics Agree on Tariff and Trade Questions.

During the past two months the Daily Globe has been publishing from two special correspondents, one Conservative and the other Liberal, letters showing the results of personal interviews with all classes of citizens of both political parties and in Monday's issue appears the last of the series for both, and below are printed extracts giving a general summary of the results of their investigations.

THE LIBERAL CORRESPONDENT.

Mr. J. E. Atkinson says:

In concluding the inquiry into the state of the country, which has lasted for two months and been prosecuted in various parts of the province, I venture to hope that the bona fides of the investigation and the accuracy with which interviews have been reported have been apparent in the letters. In the localities visited I believe their reliability will not be questioned. The endeavor has been to give no ground of complaint to those whose views have been reported. The confidence of the interviewed who did not wish their names published has been kept. Their names are, however, in my note book at the top of my notes of their remarks, and I have no hesitation in saying that if these names had been attached to the published views it would have been seen that the mutiny against the national policy includes well-known Conservatives in every locality we visited, and in some the president, vice-president and secretary of Conservative associations. There is no truth in the charge made in one paper that only Grits and disgruntled Tories were called upon. The Conservatives in St. Catharines, Port Hope, Millbrook, Niagara, Lindsay and other places know that it was not the case. The mission wherever the inquiry was pursued was more or less generally known, and the canvass was made without respect to parties, other than that the public mind with regard to the national policy was an important part of the investigation. I preferred to call upon Conservatives to obtain their opinions rather than upon Liberals, among whom there was no reason to suspect any change of opinion with regard to it.

CONDITION OF THE FARMERS.

Reviewing the result of the enquiry, it has shown a surprising unanimity with regard to the condition of farming in Ontario. In counties where cattle feeding is engaged in extensively there is less depression, but so far as grain farming is concerned the past year has left the farmers in a bad way. The best of them declare the impossibility of doing more than get a living from an average 100-acre farm. Tenants are unable to pay their rents, and mortgaged owners are being carried over by the loan companies. The enquiry has gathered a considerable amount of evidence to show that according to the existing farming methods the British market does not make up for the loss of the United States market, and will not until the time arrives that cattle feeding and dairying will be the mainstay of Ontario farmers, and beef, butter and cheese instead of their grain will be marketed. When this change is made the Province as a whole will be the richer for it, but if it be forced by exclusion from the American markets I am afraid a large number of the grain farmers of Ontario will go under water during the process. There are other causes than the McKinley tariff for the existing depression, but that measure has weighted the farmers' burdens almost past the point of endurance. Its continuance may hurry along the transition from grain cropping to cattle feeding and dairying, but it will also hurry the ruin of perhaps one-third of the farmers even in those parts of the country where the change is practicable. And what about those parts of the Province where dairying or cattle feeding cannot be made as profitable as grain growing?

VALUE OF THE AMERICAN MARKET.

There is really no difference of opinion in the country districts respecting to the benefits of access to the United States markets for our natural products. So far as Ontario is concerned, now that the wheat crop is of diminishing importance, the British market is, on the whole, only a second best. This is the conclusion which must be arrived at after a careful consideration of the experiences of shippers of horses, eggs, hay barley, poultry, apples and other products. The farmers have no doubt about the value of the American market, and are a unit on the question of reciprocity. Conservatives as well as Liberals express themselves freely, and a number of them who voted with the government at the last election have told me they did so because they expected a treaty would be made. With regard to the national policy there is a weakening of the adherence of the rank and file and an outspoken desire that it be materially modified. There is a growing feeling that the manufacturers have had a long enough time to get out of their infancy and their protection should be lessened or removed, that their interests should not be allowed to stand in the way of making a treaty with the United States, and that the effort to establish industries which the experience of years has shown cannot be profitably operated in this country should be abandoned. Further than this there is a not insignificant number of Conservatives, including officers in some riding associations, who talk an astonishing degree of free trade—not theoretic but practical, operative free trade. Free trade sentiment generally has increased in vigour as well as in volume. The success of the Democratic party has given encouragement to free traders in Canada. In some localities there is a considerable feeling for annexation, but a reasonable reduction of the tariff and a measure of reciprocity with the United States would dispel most of it in a night. The comparatively few annexationists who would not gladly accept free trade with the States instead of political union shows, I think, a strong, sound Canadian spirit.

THE CONSERVATIVE CORRESPONDENT,

Mr. H. K. Cockin, thus summarizes his investigation upon the trade question and and the state of public opinion in relation thereto:

In presenting a summary of the result of the Globe's trade inquiry, I am particularly impressed with the fact that nothing short of a direct modification of the tariff can resolve the conflicting interests of the Dominion into anything like harmonious proportions. Writing simply from what I have seen and heard during the past two months, it seems to me that the various opinions recorded from time to time in these columns are the direct outcome of personal and local interests, strengthened or checked by party feeling. The farmer and the manufacturer argue from different platforms. "Let alone," says the manufacturer; "we must have a change," says the farmer. The country storekeeper sides with the latter; as a rule the mechanic and the clerk are ranged on the side of the manufacturer. Owing to our small population the farmer requires the larger market, which free trade alone can give him. In the campaign of 1878 he was assured that the introduction of the national policy meant the springing up of manufacturing towns throughout the land. He was told that the consequent increase of population would build up a ready and constant market for his produce. After fourteen years of such protection he finds that these teeming thousands have not materialized. Worse still, he finds his market still more restricted than it was in 1878, and, rightly or wrongly, he imagines that such additional restriction is caused by a retaliatory spirit on the part of the Americans on account of the national policy. Under these circumstances it is hardly surprising to find that the average farmer, whether Liberal or Conservative, has become a decided convert to free trade principles. The fruit farmer of the Niagara district is a protectionist from self-interest, but his neighbor, the general farmer of the Niagara peninsula, is a straight free trader from similar motives.

In Petrolea, a community of interest makes the Liberals and Conservatives alike protectionists. West Lambton, the Bruces, Victorias, Ontarios, Durham and West Northumberland go straight for free trade. Oshawa is just as solid for protection. In the latter place the sigh of one or two Liberals for the lost barley trade of that district is drowned by the roar of execration which goes up at the mention of free trade for Oshawa.

As a cure for cold in the head and catarrh Nasal Balm is endorsed by prominent men everywhere. D. Derbyshire, President of the Ontario Creamery Association, says "Nasal Balm beats the world for catarrh and cold in the head. In my own case it effected relief from the first application." Sold by dealers or sent by mail on receipt of price—50c. and $1 a bottle. Fulford & Co. Brockville Ont.

GOUGH BROS.' CABINET FORMED AND A POLICY DECIDED ON!

February is the month of clearing up. Goughs have re-organized business for 1893 and start out to clear off the slate for spring. Trade for 1892 has been larger than ever. Profits have been smaller. Goughs have cut their prices to meet the low price of wheat; and if wheat goes lower, down go Goughs' prices. They will not be undersold by the farmer or see the farmer undersold.

CLEARING UP THE STOCK FOR SPRING.

Stock-taking is over. A lot of odd lots remain. These must go. Goughs will almost give them away to clear. Come in and run through the counters and see your opportunity.

Clothing, Overcoats, Boys' Suits, Underclothing, Boots & Shoes

ESTIMATION AND REALIZATION, TWO DIFFERENT THINGS.

On Figures on Ontario's Wheat Yeild in Eighteen and Ninety-two.

Many tell us that no farmer in his calling can succeed
Unless all agriculture notes he carefully does read
He is called an ignoramus or an old know} nothing crook,
That does not keep up with the times and farm by rule and book;
Some things are right, as many wrong, for success upon the farm.
Unless you have a roll of bills as large round as your arm,
I know of numbers tried the plan but nine out ten did fail
And signed a mortgage on the farm to save a sheriff's sale;
High chemistry and science has advanced to such a head
It's advocates almost assert it turns the stones to bread,
Their highest artificial stuff fails good crops to secure—
For cheapness and enduring good apply rich bone manure.
That ink and paper farming may please and persuade one-half
Their estimates on growing crops last summer made me laugh,
The experts in their office sat and figured out to you
As if the countries fields of wheat were all before their view,
Perhaps they never wont abroad to calculate on each field,
Still they told every acre sown and bushels it would yeild,
They may have driven past one field, its waveing beauty watched,
And like the wife that chickens counts before the eggs are hatched,
Their sharp imaginative brains struck the prophetic rut,
And told out plain each acre's yield before the wheat was cut.
Clear estimations penned and passed to either press or shelf,
Numbering the bushels each man had before he know himself;
Their music swelled, the tune was wheat, struck on the highest key,
That twenty bushels average yield per acre it would be;
But when they heard it whispered 'round that signs of rust were seen
The sly chaps touched a lower note and placed it at sixteen.
These figures stood, the harvest came, some farmers' hopes were high,
Such calculations they had read and on them did rely.
On disappointment's darkest cloud they had not long to wait,
For when the threshing mill came round, many had scarcely eight,
Such estimates on growing crops their evils are fourfold,
They cheer the farmer's heart with joy, then leave him in the cold;
They make him build upon false hopes, perhaps in debt to run,
Before one-half his debts are paid his stock of wheat is done.
On last year's crop and yield of wheat, on clearest proof I say,
These office calculator's notes were wrong and far astray;
If they will leave their sanctum chairs and straight to some barns drive,
Bushels per acre, threshed and cleaned, they often would find five.

KNOWN IN HAMILTON.

HAMILTON, Feb. 13.—Mrs. Ellen Brown, of Toronto, who was so marvellously cured of Bright's Disease by Dodd's Kidney Pills, is well known in Hamilton, having been in the Hospital here, where the authorities, like those of the Toronto Institutions, pronounced her case incurable. People who knew her here are surprised to learn that she is cured, as they thought she was in the Home for Incurables in Toronto, and never expected to see her outside of that place again. Mr. Geo. Parke, the popular druggist of this city, says that the sales of Dodd's Kidney Pills are very large and increasing, as all those to whom he has sold them are receiving a great benefit from their use. The success of Dodd's Kidney Pills over all other kidney remedies is owing to the fact that they never fail when used for Bright's Disease, Dropsy, Backache, Rheumatism, and all diseases of the Kidneys and blood.

A CORRECTION.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I notice in the Young's Point correspondence of the Review a reference to peddlars in which it is questioned "if one old fellow who drives up from Lakefield once a week selling groceries, coal oil, etc., has a license." Now if the correspondent who is so much afraid of opposition will only investigate he will find out that I have just as much right to do business in Young's Point as he has. If he asks me civilly I wouldn't mind showing him my license.

Yours, etc,
WM. BATE.

IN MEMORIAM.

Of the Death of Adam Woodcock, who Died Jan. 20th, 1893.

A mother's joy, a father's pride,
A tender, brother dear,
Has bid farewell to earthly friends,
And gone away from here.

At the early age of twenty-one—
Just full of life and bloom—
Young Adam Woodcock, of Rawlinson's [mill,
Met an untimely doom.

He arose one Sunday morning,
As usual blithe and gay,
No shadow of his coming fate
Across his spirits lay.

He little thought as he began
To pass the hours away,
He'd join the great majority
Before the coming day.

When going with his fellow friend
Into a shed close by,
Which with weight of ice and snow upon
It suddenly gave way.

Instantly it shattered down,
Like an arrow from a bow,
And struck young Adam on the head
A cruel and fatal blow.

His awe-struck comrade hastened then
And raised him in his gore,
And marked the ebbing tide which told
His life would soon be o'er.

Physicians worked with all their skill
His precious life to gain,
But in yonder graveyard lies at rest
Young Adam's crushed remains.

To absent friends the message flew,
And, O, how sad the shock!
But then it was God's will they knew,
To have him with the chosen flock.

While living on this earth below,
And mingling with the throng,
He lived as though he seemed to know
His stay would not be long.

In haste God's sudden call was sent
To bear him to the skies,
And loving friends with grief are sad,
But God can dry their eyes.

Weep not for him, his parents dear,
Though the trial be hard to bear,
We trust you'll meet your darling boy
In Heaven's brighter sphere.

The cruel fate that crushed to earth
That manly form so fair,
Lies all unconscious of the death
That awaits all mortals here.

Root and Branch.

the poison in your blood, however it may have come or whatever shape it may be taking, is cleared away by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is a remedy that rouses every organ into healthful action, purifies and enriches the blood, and through it cleanses and invigorates the whole system. Salt Rheum, Tetter, Eczema, Erysipelas, Boils, Carbuncles, Enlarged Glands, and the worst Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, are perfectly and permanently cured by it.

Unlike the ordinary spring medicines or sarsaparillas, the "Discovery" works equally well at all seasons. All the year round and in all cases, it is GUARANTEED, as no other blood medicine is. If it ever fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back. You pay only for the good you get.

Isn't it safe to say that no other blood purifier can be "just as good?"

If it were, wouldn't it be sold so?

Reduced to a Science.

The treatment of disease is now almost reduced to a science. A scientific product of medical skill for the cure of all blood diseases from a common pimple to the worst scrofulous sore, which has held popular esteem for years and increases steadily in favor, is Burdock Blood Bitters. Its cures prove its worth.

A Cure for Constipation and Headache.

Dr. Silas Lane, while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots leaves, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick-headache in one night. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50c. a package.

TO BE OR NOT TO BE "IN IT."
A Life Agent called at a friend's place one day,
HE WASN'T IN IT;
He had seen "the bore" coming and fled from his way
HE WASN'T IN IT;
He had heard so much said, he was tired and sick
Of insurance and agents—'twas all a blank trick,
When one's coil must be shuffled to win it,
HE WASN'T IN IT.

A bit of a draft blew o'er his bald head,
HE WAS IN IT;
Pneumonia sent him straightway to his bed,
HE STAYED IN IT;
His doctor made of it a "quite special" case,
To save him for running still more of life's race,
But the grave took some chances to win it,
AND HE'S IN IT.

When approached by a gent for insuring your life,
GET RIGHT IN IT;
It's the right thing to do for your children and wife,
THEN STAY IN IT.
Remember that fires take your goods "out of sight,"
And that accidents happen each day and each night.
While insurance protects every minute,
IF YOU'RE IN IT.

A Bank Manager's Opinion.
HE IS "IN IT."
The General Manager of one of the leading banks in Canada, writing to a personal friend, says:—"I have no hesitation in saying that I place the CANADA LIFE upon the highest platform. It is in my opinion carefully, economically and honestly managed; its Reserve Funds are well invested; its rates of Premiums are low, and its future is, I think better assured than a great majority of Companies. I have my own life insured in the Company for a round amount, and would not hesitate to increase the amount of my policies should I decide upon taking out further insurance."

A Government Insurance Actuary's Opinion
On the Relation between Ordinary and Tontine Service.
It is frequently assertedby Companies whose business is nearly all tontined, that although the CANADA LIFE may and does pay large ordinary profits, yet it cannot compare so favourably on a long term distribution or tontine period, and that in the end better results can be obtained on a tontine policy in a large American Co. than on an ordinary or tontine policy in the CANADA LIFE. To prove the absurdity of this statement, the following piece of common sense is quoted from Mervin Tabor, late Actuary of the Illinois Goverment Insurance Department. In his well known book, "The Three Systems of Life Insurance," he says: "A company that gives large dividends on the ordinary kind of policies, can give much larger on the same kinds when Tontined, and a company that pays but meagre dividends on the usual forms, adopting perhaps the Tontine system to "cover up" its small surpluses, cannot be relied on for large returns of surplus under the Tontine Forms of Insurance."
The CANADA LIFE does not "cover up" its Quinquennial profits as some Companies do, but publishes them throughout the country.
It can and does surpass other Companies on Quinquennial profits. It should and will surpass them on Tontine profits.

WHY TO BE "IN IT."
BISHOP HAWKE'S REASON:—"I claim that Life Insurance is not only a humane, but I might say a Christian Institution."
LORD LYNDHURST'S REASON:—"A Policy of Life Insurance is always an evidence of prudent forethought. No man with a dependent family is free from reproach if not insured."
WHEN TO BE "IN IT."
The younger, the cheaper. Therefore insure when young. Besides by insuring in the CANADA LIFE now, you will share in three years' profits.
WHERE TO BE "IN IT."
The best place to be "in it" is in the Company that gives the best returns for the least money, consistent with absolute security. Therefore, in order to be "in it," choose the Fatal Accident in Omaha.

News has just been received of the death at Omaha of Mr. Israel Black Edmison, a former resident of Peterborough, and a brother-in-law of Mr. John Brown of this town. About thirty years ago Mr. Edmison carried on the carriage making business in Peterborough. Afterwards he removed to Bobcaygeon, where he resided about ten years, and about eleven years ago went to Omaha. It appears that Mr. Edmison was engaged in a elevator, when the fastenings gave way when the heavy elevator fell, striking him on the head, killing him instantly. The deceased had many friends and relatives about Peterborough, who will regret to learn of his untimely death. Those who knew him in Peterborough speak very highly of his uprightness of character and of his worth as a citizen.

Auction Sale Every Night.

An auction sale every night this week and on Wednesday afternoon, at Miss Karch's late shop, 423 George street. Don't miss these sales. Everything must be cleared out—no reserve bid—everything goes. Lots of useful as well as ornamental articles going out every day at your own prices—toys, games, dolls, albums, vases. A few sacred pictures still to be sold. Every drop of the auctioneer's hammer brings a bargain.

"Plain as a Pike-staff.

Note this fact! The original prices of our clothing is invariably rated low, and as we sell for cash, the profit is naturally lower—much lower—than a credit profit. Our clearing sale prices just now are, therefore, better than when a very large discount is taken off prices originally placed high. This is as "plain as a pike-staff" and gentlemen in search of the cheapest clothing house should always patronize the MONTREAL CLOTHING HOUSE. It's bargain day, every day, at the MONTREAL CLOTHING HOUSE.

A Magnificent Production.

The "Stowaway" a magnificent production was put in the opera house last night before a large house. The play needs no recomendation, as it speaks for itself. The house went wild with delight and the lively interest was kept up all the way through the five acts. The characters were all well taken, the special scenic effects beyond description, and the yacht event realistic and marvellous. Manager Bradburn deserves credit for the fine production brought here through his efforts.

Pithy Puck Paragraphs.

The third game in the 2nd Draw Eastern District Ontario Hockey Association, between the crack teams of Cobourg and our own boys will come off at the rink this evening at 7 o'clock sharp. A great struggle is anticipated and the keenest interest is being exhibited by enthusiasts as to what the probable outcome will be of to-night's great battle.

The Peterboroughs have received a telegram that they are to play off with Queen's College, Kingston, some day this week at the Limestone City. The home boys may go down on Friday night.

February Nuptials.

Yesterday morning Mr. Fred Guerin was united in marriage to Miss Almina Barette, Rev. Father Collins performing the ceremony at the cathedral. The bridesmaid was Miss Marie Richer, and the groom was supported by Mr. Roth Brault.

A Successful Revival Begun.

There was a large attendance at Bethany church last evening. Pastor Fisher gave an inspiring address on Blind Bartimeus and Zaccheus. He spoke of their implicit faith in Christ and said the Saviour was as ready and willing to-day to reveal Himself with us all as he was unto them. He urged all to follow their example. At the close three persons sought regeneration. The meetings will be continued each evenin . A street meeting is held each night in front of the hall from 6.30 to 7 o'clock, in which all Christian workers are invited to take part.

Before the County Judge.

A reference is being conducted before His Honor Judge Weller this week to ascertain the amount of damage occasioned to Mr. J. M. Irwin, Bank of Commerce and others by reason of land taken and damage done by raising the water in the pond in the river contemplated by the dam of the Peterborough Water Company. Messrs. Hatton & Wood, for applicants; Messrs. Edwards & Murray, for Bank of Commerce, J. M. Irwin and others. Messrs. Aylmer, Keefer and Brough, civil engineers from Toronto are present and giving important evidence regarding levels measurements, etc., in the matter.

Two Habits that Must be Corrected.

Street Inspector Pope said to an EXAMINER reporter this morning "I wish you would call public attention to the fact that a great many citizens impede the progress of the snow ploughs by leaving their gates open or swinging. This necessitates a stop probably one or twice every block and thereby a great deal of extra work and trouble are occasioned; I would be glad if every householder would attend to this matter. You have called attention to this before but it would do no harm to do so again. Another practice I desire stopped is that acquired by some people of throwing their coal ashes in the street. This causes no end of annoyance and must not be done.

A Peterborough Man's Ingenious Invention.

Mr. L. A. Morrison, formerly of Peterborough but now one of the principal directors in the Perfection Hoop and Veneer Company, Eugenia, Ont., has completed an invention of a very clever and ingenious hoop heading and veneer mill. It is a model and complete in every respect. The machine embodies the most radical improvements for the manufacturing of cooppering stock, cut stock and every description of veneer work. It is claimed that it is the only machine which will be cut clean and smooth solid stock. Mr. Morrison's friends in Peterborough will be glad to learn of his successful and valuable patent.

POLICE COURT.

Tuesday, Feb. 14th.

At the police court this morning an information was laid by Mrs. Mary E. Hallihan against her husband, Patrick Hallighan, binding him over to keep the peace. The plaintiff in her evidence stated that her husband had threatened to take her life and she was afraid that he would do her bodily harm, and hence she wanted to bind him over to keep the peace. In answer to the magistrate as to whether he had anything to say, Hallihan remarked incoherently that he must have been drunk and was sorry for what he had done. This was his first appearance in court. The judgment of the court was that the defendant be committed to gaol in default of sureties to keep the peace, bail to be accepted, prisoner in bonds of $500 and two approved securities of $250 each.

SEVERAL SANITARY MATTERS

EXHAUSTIVELY DISCUSSED BY THE LOCAL BOARD OF HEALTH.

No Ice is being Cut on Little Lake for Domestic Purposes — Dr. Boucher Chosen Chairman Resolution Passed to Have the Town's Scavenging Done at Public Expense—Sanitary Engineer may be Employed to Take Note of Existing Grievances — Citizens, Make your Complaints of all Nuisances to the Medical Health Officer.

At the first meeting of the newly elected Board of Health for 1893 for organization purposes, held in the town clerk's office yesterday afternoon, the following members were present: Messrs. Robt. Innes, J. L. Hughes, Henry Denne, G. M. Roger and Dr. McGrath. Chief Roszel, sanitary inspector, Dr. Clarke, medical health officer, and John R. Cobb, secretary, were also present.

Mr. Cobb, secretary, reported the following as duly elected members of the board for 1893, since it was the first meeting: Messrs. H. Denne, Dr. Boucher, Robert Innes, J. L. Hughes, J. J. Hartley, Dr. McGrath, Mayor Kendry, T. A. Hay and G. M. Roger.

The first business was the election of a chairman, which was proceeded with at once.

DR. BOUCHER ELECTED CHAIRMAN.

Moved by Mr. Hughes, seconded by Mr. Roger, that Dr. Boucher be chairman for 1893.

There being no other nominations Dr. Boucher was unanimously elected, but not not being present to occupy the chair, Mr. Denne was appointed chairman pro tem.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and confirmed.

CUTTING ICE FOR DOMESTIC PURPOSES.

Mr. Hughes asked Dr. Clarke whether any ice was being cut in Little Lake for domestic purposes.

Dr. Clarke stated none was being cut for domestic purpose but that some was being taken out for refrigerating purposes which did not matter about its being pure.

Mr. Innes said he understood that Mr. Macdonald and other ice dealers were cutting up above Hillard's & Dixon's dam.

Mr. Hughes, "I am glad to find out that information as many people have been enquiring about it."

TOWN'S SCAVENGING DONE AT PUBLIC EXPENSE.

Mr. Hughes referred to the employment of scavengers. He would like to the council appoint a scavenger for each ward and have him not only clean out closets, but take away all refuse from hotels, private houses, etc. It would come far cheaper and if we were to be visited by a cholera epidemic cleanliness, was absolutely necessary. People, if this practice of scavanging was done would keep a box or something else in which to deposit their refuse and have it taken away by the scavangers. They would not then cover up their refuse as was now very often the case.

Mr. Roger—Who would you have pay for this?

Mr. Hughes—The council, according to the assessment plan.

Mr. Hughes continuing said the council had already showed a disposition to employ two scavengees for the purpose of cleaning the town, but he did not think two was enough.

THE BOARD HAS THE POWER.

Mr. Roger inquired if the Board had power to carry this out.

Mr. Hughes replied they had power to do this and charge the same to the town. He thought that the work should be begun in winter and continued all the year.

Dr. Clarke stated that there were about a dozen scavengers now at work part of the time.

Mr. Denne—If there is a certain portion of scavenging done I think two, as advocated by the town would be sufficient.

Mr. Hughes—Would four cost any more than two? In the past scavenging has been done at the expense of the citizens on notice from Board of Health but I would have it done at the public expense and in the principal parts of the town have scavengers go around every day cleaning up the garbage.

Mr. Denne—Whose place would it be to notify the scavenger?

Dr. Clarke—Citizens must notify the inspector when they wanted them to come around.

THE COST OF PUBLIC SCAVENGING.

Mr. Roger—What would it cost to do this?

Mr. Hughes—I don't know whether we could get it done for $2,000 a year or not—$500 a ward.

Mr. Cobb said the council by a resolution was committed to this work, but it was passed at too late a date to put in active operation.

Dr. Clarke stated in Brantford they started the same system as here, making the citizens pay for it, but they soon changed it and appointed public scavengers paid by the town—the same as advocated by Mr. Hughes.

Moved by Mr. Hughes, seconded by Mr. Roger, that the council be requested to arrange to have the scavenging of the town done by public scavengers at the expense of the municipality in a regular and systematic way—Carried.

SANITARY ENGINEER TO POINT OUT DEFECTS

Mr. Roger favoured getting the opinion of a sanitary engineer as to what plans could conveniently be adopted if circumstances did require unusual measures. It was well to be prepared beforehand.

Mr. Denne asked if Mr. MacDougall had done anything in this line.

Mr. Cobb—No; not in that line.

Mr. Roger, continuing, said that a sanitary engineer could join with Dr. Clarke and advise under existing circumstances what action could be taken if cholera should approach, or something else menace public health.

Mr. Cahill said the outfall of the George street sewer in the river was not as bad as generally reported. Down by the C. P. R. bridge nothing could be discerned at all, the sewage becoming oxydized.

Mr. Hughes called attention to the disgusting smell arising from the shaft at the junction of the Hunter street drain with the George street sewer.

Mr. Roger said if it was necessary to employ professional advice he would have all citizens lay before them their grievances under existing conditions and have all matters attended to.

Dr. Clarke asked what could be gained by this. It was only a temporary expedient to employ an engineer who might recommend sewerage.

HE COULD TELL US BEST WHAT TO DO.

Mr. Roger said the employment of an engineer was to guide us over temporary affairs in view of the approach of an epidemic which might visit us before we had a general sewerage system. Mr. Roger said the motion prohibiting the use of the George street sewer passed by the board some time ago, was a tremendously radical motion and nothing practical in the line of recommendations was offered those who used the sewer, instead. An engineer would recommend something not demoralizing but general, and would obviate all existing grievances.

Mr. Hughes endorsed Mr. Rogers suggestion. He thought the board should request information from all parties of affairs or matters that were detrimental to public health and have these sent into the medical health officer and sanitary inspector and the Board could tell at their next meeting whether to proceed or not.

COMPLAINT BOOK MAY BE USED.

Dr. Clarke said complaint books were used in large cities, and all complaints were inserted therein.

Mr. Cobb, when asked, said it would cost about $75 to employ a sanitary engineer.

Mr. Roger said it would set at rest many matters now agitating the public. For instance, several parties averred that the disposal of the Edison sewage into Little Lake was unhealthy, and an engineer's opinion would set at rest that much debated question whether such was the case or not.

Dr. Clarke stated in his annual report, already published, he had referred to nearly all these matters of interest to the public, and made many recommendations how to observe and preserve proper sanitary measures.

Mr. Denne said Dr. Clarke had not mentioned anything in reference to the existing unhealthy conditions re. shaft at the corner of George and Hunter street, the creek in the north part of the town, etc.

Dr. McGrath said since it appeared the the town could not have a proper system of sewerage he would favor Mr. Hughes' suggestion, that the town have a thorough and efficient system of scavenging.

THE HEALTH OFFICERS TO INVESTIGATE.

After some further converstional discussion Mr. Roger moved, seconded by Mr. Innes that the medical health officer be requested to present a report at the next meeting of this Board as to the existing condition of things in the town, as regards public health, especially in view of a possible cholera epidemic, and recommending any steps that he may consider immediately necessary in this regard, and that the public be invited to co-operate by bringing to his notice any existing or threatening sources of disease.—Carried.

FUTURE MEETINGS OF BOARD.

Moved by Mr. Innes, seconded by Mr. Roger, that all future meetings of the board be at the call of the chairman.—Carried.

The meeting then adjourned.

A SENATOR FOR PETERBOROUGH

THE EXAMINER is pleased to see that the Review agrees with its suggestion that efforts be made to secure the appointment, by the Dominion Government of a senator to represent this county and district. It is only natural that the justice of such an appointment should commend itself to any person who is anxious for the promotion of the interests or the upholding of the credit of the county in this regard. The EXAMINER in demanding the appointment of a senator from this county does not depart from the position we have always held as to the comparative uselessness of a senator but, as the senate exists and appointments are to be made, we are anxious that in justice to the claims of this county, a Peterborough citizen should be named for the honourable, if honorary, position. The Review believes that the government cannot fail to see the justice of Peterborough having a senator, and adds that a united presentation of the case will have weight with the government. In this matter the directest personal pressure is likely to be the most availing. To this end a deputation should be organized and the case presented to the government. We do not wish Peterborough to be ignored in everything; after pigeon-holing the Trent Valley Canal, the government cannot have the assurance to deny Peterborough a senator.

EAST PETERBOROUGH LIBERALS.

A meeting of the Reform Association of the electoral district of East Peterborough will be held in the Town Hall, Norwood, on Wednesday, February 22nd, 1893, at one o'clock p.m. for the election of officers and other important business that will be submitted. An address on the political question of the day will be delivered by a prominent speaker. A large representation is expected from all parts of the riding.

CRISP CURLING CHRONIQUES.

What is Going on at the Rink Where Curlers Most do Congregate.

A scratch match took place at the rink last night between quartettes skipped by Messrs. Ferguson and Pentland; 14 ends were played resulting as follows:—

W. Hall,	C. Wynn,
F. Bartlett,	Gus Sawers,
D. Belleghom,	John McClelland,
W. G. Ferguson, sk. 13	J. B. Pentland, sk.... 15

Don't forget the meeting of the curlers at the rink to-night at 10 o'clock in order to make arrangements for the return match with Toronto curlers here at an early date.

There were several lively scratch matches at the rink last night. Skip Sam Clegg made Skip Geo. Brown bite the dust by 6 shots in a 14 end game, with the following result:

J. C. Smith	S. Belcher
A. Blade	Geo. Edmison
C. Rutherford	T. P. Attrill
S. Clegg, skip.....17	Geo. Brown.....11

Three rinks of the Granites all skipped by "local legal lights" will play a match at the rink to-night with three quartettes supervised by the outside world. The barrister skips will be R. M. Dennistoun, Geo. Edmison and Judge Weller.

The two rinks which went to Lakefield on Saturday decided to play off for the oysters last night. Skip Boschers following, though the most ignominiously defeated at Lakefield of the two, still triumphed over A. McNeil by 3 shots, and consequently "Andy" had to foot the bivalves after the game ended.

THE PLANS ADVERTISED FOR.

By the Property Committee for the Erection of Two New School Buildings in Peterborough to Meet the Overcrowded State of the Schools.

The Property Committee of the Board of Education held a meeting last night. Present were J. J. McBain, chairman, and Messrs. Stevenson, Hamilton, Hartley and Law.

The matter of meeting the urgent demand for increased accommodation in our public schools was thoroughly discussed, and it was unanimously resolved to advertise for plans and specifications, which will be received up to Feb. 28th, for a six room addition to the Central school on the eastern side, and also for the erection of a four room separate building in the South Ward—probably in the neighbourhood of the Park street Baptist Mission. This latter move was decided upon as the most expedient and judicious to meet the need for greater accommodation in the South Ward school, where owing to its congested state the pupils in the junior forms are able to attend only half a day. The new building in the South Ward will, the chairman of the Property Committee thinks, cost about $6,000, will be two stories high, brick and so erected as the schools in Toronto all are, that an addition can be joined at any time adjacent, should it become necessary. As it is now the Property Committee in order to meet in a slight manner the overcrowded rooms, will, pending the erection of the new school have the seats re-arranged and set more closely together thus affording a little more room. The plans will be submitted at the next meeting of the board for consideration. The proposed erection of a six room addition, which will, practically speaking, only give four new rooms, was exhaustively discussed at the last meeting of the board, and the committee last night decided to carry out Mr. Hamilton's motion in reference to the advertising for plans. The committee further decided to put a new roof on the Central school building and to institute the well-known Smead Dowd system of heating and ventilating throught the old building as well as in the new addition. The extension will be about 34 x 28, and will cost about $5000, including the heating apparatus and repairs for the old building.

Mothers will find the PAIN-KILLER invaluable in the nursery, and it should always be kept near at hand in case of accident. For pain in the breast take a little Pain-Killer in sweetened milk and water, bathing the breasts in it clear at the same time. If the milk passages are clogged, from cold or other causes, bathing in the Pain-Killer will give immediate relief. Ask for the New Bottle.

Only a Few Days Longer.

The magnificent and costly fancy work done solely by the Singer sewing machine will be on exhibition at the local office, Water street, opposite the market, only eight or ten days longer. All persons interested in seeing, fancy and unique articles, are especially requested to call at once and inspect this magnificent assortment. It will well repay the visitor; a perfect revelation to all those who have not seen the fine work done by the Singer. W. LAISHLEY, agent. d31tf

NO QUARTER will do you as much good as the one that buys Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. This is what you get with them: An absolute and permanent cure for Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, Sick and Bilious Headaches, and all derangements of the liver, stomach, and bowels. Not just temporary relief, and then a worse condition afterward—but help that lasts.

Pleasant help, too. These sugar-coated little Pellets are the smallest, the easiest to take, and the easiest in the way they act. No griping, no violence, no disturbance to the system, diet or occupation.

They come in sealed vials, which keeps them always fresh and reliable; a convenient and perfect vest-pocket remedy. They're the cheapest pills you can buy.

There's nothing left of Catarrh when you use Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. The worst cases yield to its mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties.

DUROC-JERSEY PIGS.

A PURELY AMERICAN BREED WITH DISTINCTIVE QUALITIES.

Their Physical Characteristics and How They May be Known and Judged—An Able and Well-Posted Writer Gives a Full Description of the Breed.

The Duroc-Jersey like several other excellent breeds of swine, is a native American production, and like the others, it is the result of careful and skilful breeding and selection. They are sometimes called the American Tamworths, but this is hardly just to them, for American breeders, who have imported Tamworths, have found them less satisfactory than the Duroc-Jersey which they resemble in color and some other points. The color, in fact, is no very definite indication of the origin of a breed. The swine which found their subsistence in the forests of Saxon, England, and prevailed there for many centuries the conquest, were mainly, if not wholly, reddish in color, as are most of the native pigs of Hungary and other parts of continental Europe.

Red hogs have been reared and fattened in some parts of New Jersey for at least seventy-five years. The principal point bred for was size, and enormous weights were sometimes attained, whole litters being made to average 500 or 600 pounds at eighteen months. Mr. Joseph B. Lyman, an accomplished agricultural writer and editor, was the first to apply the term Jersey Red to these large, vigorous, but rather heavy-boned animals. Meantime, however, a much finer type of red hog became quite prevalent in Eastern New York and the adjoining parts of Vermont. A prominent farmer of Saratoga county, Mr. Isaac Trink, bought some fine red pigs from the owner of the celebrated thoroughbread horse Duroc, and called them Durocs, in compliment to the horse.

For years the Jersey Reds and the Durocs were bred without much care, and the names were applied somewhat indiscrimirately. But, about ten years ago, the breeders of red swine saw the advisability of coming together. A meeting was held at Elkhorn, Wis., June 1, 1883, at which steps were taken leading to a full organization of the Duroc-Jersey Swine Breeders' Association. The temporary secretary was W. H. Morrison, who has since greatly distinguished himself in promoting agricultural training. The first permanent secretary was Chas. H. Holmes. At the head of the executive committee was Col. F. D. [illegible], a noted breeder. The first volume of the "American Duroc-Jersey Record" was published in 1885, under the editorial management of Mr. Holmes. The materials for a second volume were collected, but remained for a long time unpublished. At length it became known that the Association was under financial embarrassment. This was removed. At the annual meeting in Chicago, November, 1888, a complete reorganization was effected, and in the ensuing December the Duroc-Jersey Swine Breeders Association was fully incorporated under the laws of Illinois, with a capital stock of $1,000. Thomas Bennett, of Rossville, Illinois, was elected president and S. E. Morton of Camden, Ohio, secretary and treasurer. Volumes two and three combined, were issued in 1890, the entire number of animals recorded being 2,259 boars and 6,000 sows. The breed may be regarded as permanently established, under the auspices of an association composed of wide-awake enterprising breeders.

The Duroc-Jersey breed may be described in a general way as systemmatrical, hardy, prolific, easily reared, and good "rustlers." The standard qualifications adopted by the association, embrace the following: Head small in proportion to size of body; wide between the eyes; face nicely dished and tapering well down to nose; surface smooth and even; eyes lively, bright and prominent; ears moderately thin, pointing forward, downward, and slightly outward, carrying slight curve. Neck, short, thick and very deep; slightly arching. Jowl broad, full and neat, carrying fullness back to point of shoulders and on line with breast bone. Shoulders moderately broad, very deep and full, not extending above line of neck. Chest largeand very deep, filling full behind shoulders. Back medium in breadth, straight or slightly arching, carrying even width from shoulders to ham. Sides very deep; medium length, and carrying out full down to line of belly. Rams broad, full and well down to hock; legs medium in size and length, straight, nicely tapering, wide apart, and well set under body; pasterns strong and short; feet short, firm and tough. Tail medium large at base, nicely tapering and rather bushy at point. Coat moderately thick and fine, straight and smooth, covering the body well; color, cherry red without admixture.

Males, two years old and over, should weigh 600 pounds, sows same age and condition 500 pounds; boars and sows from six to twelve months old, 150 to 340 pounds. The action should be vigorous and animated, and the disposition quiet and gentle, the animals being easily handled or driven. With their vigorous constitutions the Duroc Jersey are remarkably exempt from disease. They are good grazers and when turned into succulent clover, will make rapid, healthy growth especially if the green feed is supplemented by skim-milk and butter-milk with middlings. The pork thus fed, is well marbled, and the hams juicy and sweet. [The accompanying illustration shows a group of prize Duroc-Jersey pigs, exhibited at the New York State Fair.]—American Agriculturist.

The following extract from a recent novel exhibits manners, if not morals, in a curious way: "Husband and wife ate on together in silence. There was manifestly an ill will and feeling between them. The husband devoured a plate of soup, half a fish, a piece of roast beef and a slice of plum pudding, without ever once opening his mouth!" How on earth did he manage it?

If we could get rid of the tremendous war and governmental machinery, says Charles Dudley Warner, life would be a sort of picnic, and then women would come even more to the front, for they manage a picnic much better than men do or can. This is the highest sort of compliment, for woman has a head for organization, and details, and economy, as is sufficiently evident in the most highly civilized modern nation, France, where she is pre-eminent in business matters.

Tennyson was a good deal of a theologian. His "Idyls of the King," taken together, have been well called a profound allegory, of which the "Holy Grail" may be considered the climax. The hall of Merlin, "girt with four great zones of sculpture," suggests the whole ascent of life, from the animal plane to the angelic:

And in the lowest, beasts are slaying men;
And in the second, men are slaying beasts;
And on the third are warriors, perfect men;
And on the fourth are men with growing wings.

Don't waste time, money, and health, trying every new medicine you may see advertised in the papers. If the cause of your trouble is in the blood, liver, stomach, or kidneys, take Ayer's Sarsaparilla at once and be sure of a cure. Take no other.

Small sugar-coated Burdock Pills do not gripe or sicken. They are mild and effectual.

Why you take Cold and Cough.

Generally caused by exposure to cold, wet feet, sitting in a draught, coming from hot and crowded places, in thin dress, or wearing damp clothes, stockings, or any other cause tending to check suddenly the perspiration. The result produces inflammation of the lining membrane of the lungs or throat, and this causes phlegm or matter, which nature tries to throw off by expectoration. In many cases she is unable to do so without assistance, and this is Why you use Allen's Lung Balsam.

A VISITING DRESS.

A Costume Having Wide, Rough Persian Stripes.

Here is a costume of wool material having rather wide, rough Persian stripes, between which are very narrow ones of green, marine blue and red. The goods is double width and the velvet trimming can be either dark blue or dark green. The skirt is bell-shaped and lined with silk. There is a silk balayeuse, and on the outside of the skirt a band of bias velvet. The back is pleated towards the middle at both sides and gored to obtain the bell form. The skirt can be made of two breadths, or, if necessary, two gored pieces can be added at the bottom to make it at least three yards wide. The back seams were also gored, so as to form a perfect point when sewed together. The waistband is covered by a velvet belt, which hooks at the back. The waist extends under the skirt, and is made over a tight-fitting lining. It has only one seam in the back, and is cut so that the stripes match accurately. In front it is laid in plaits over the lining and bordered and hooked. The sleeves, made on the bias, are sewed to the waist and are lined. The velvet cuffs fasten to the lining, and the puff above ends in a ruffle of velvet drawn in by an elastic. The little jacket is without sleeves, and the fronts are cut in such a way that the rough stripe of the material makes the trimming. The waist has a velvet collar to which the jacket fastens and hooks at the side. Velvet bands border the jacket which is lined with silk. The velvet ribbon at the waist crosses in front and is held either by a small buckle or rosette. The materials needed are seven or eight yards of woollen stuff and two and a half of velvet.

FLORETTE.

A little sulphur occasionally in the feed, is good for hogs.

Steady feed makes steady growth and every fibre of wool.

Meal is good for cows, but it is possible to feed too much.

Fodder should be as little exposed as possible in curing.

If you raise double crops, double the amount of manure.

Sheep always select the driest and highest land to sleep on.

The large breeds do not mature as rapidly as the smaller ones.

If you like Merino mutton as well or better than Southdown, take your choice.

There will not be much waste of manure when spread on the ground before it is frozen.

Is it more possible to succeed in breeding for a double purpose than to serve two masters?

Shredded Chicken.

Stew a chicken in just enough water to cover until tender. Pick the meat from the bones in long thin pieces. Reduce the water in which it was boiled one-half; thicken with one teaspoonful of flour stirred into one teaspoonful of butter. Season with salt and pepper and pour over the prepared chicken on a hot platter.

Consumptives, Cheer up!

You are not going to die if you will but exercises a little common sense, and spend a paltry sum. You may be very feeble now, sitting bolstered up in the big arm-chair, but you may now throw up your hat or bonnet, and shout for joy! Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil will save you if you take it according to directions. What you need is good new blood and rebuilt tissues. If you take Miller's Emulsion you will gain from five to ten pounds of flesh with each bottle. There is no use wasting words. A hint should be enough to a consumptive of the fact that Miller's preparation of Cod Liver Oil SAVES. In big bottles, 50c. and $1, at all Drug Stores.

Couldn't Keep on His Feet.

PETERBOROUGH, Jan. 31st, 1892.

To the Peterborough Medicine Company:

GENTLEMEN,—If there is any medicine in the world that I put my faith to it is Membray's Kidney and Liver Cure. In my business I have to stand on my feet a good deal. About a year ago my back began to give out, weakening pains set in across my kidneys, I felt tired all the time and could hardly stand up to my work. I began to lose strength and at last had to give up work altogether. A customer advised me to try your cure which I did. Before half the bottle was used, I felt the pains and weakness leaving me and to-day I enjoy good health and can bear fatigue and work all right. One bottle was all I used.

GERMANY'S SOCIALISTS.

THEY ARE DEEPLY INTERESTED IN GREAT BRITAIN.

And Wonder Why the Britishers Accept the Assistance of Either of the Two Great Political Parties—A Journal Denounces Chamberlain.

BERLIN, Feb. 13.—Despite the valiant efforts of the semi-official press and the semi-official orators the prospect of passing the army bill without substantial concessions from the Government is again darkening. The statistical campaign of the last three weeks has failed to move popular opinion to the extent expected, and the dailies having connection with Chancellor Caprivi's press bureau have been reduced to ringing the changes on the statement that the triple alliance has but 1,176,838 men in its standing armies, while the dual alliance has 1,306,000, a disparity of numerical strength to be altered only by Germany's taking the lead of Austria-Hungary and Italy in increasing her peace effective.

The Home Rule conflict in Great Britain is casting its shadow in Germany. Among the social Democrats especially the progress of the debates in the House of Commons is watched eagerly, and many newspaper leaders are devoted to the conduct of the Parliamentary representatives of the independent labor movement. The Social Democratic chieftains express contemptuously their surprise that English labor leaders should condescend to accept the assistance of the Liberal bourgeoisie or the Tory land owners

The Vorwaerts, central organ of the social Democrats, in a half conciliatory article, explains that the labor interests of Great Britain may be able to gain some important points from the Liberal Cabinet just now, while Mr. Gladstone is hard pressed for a Home Rule majority and exhorts the Parliamentary labor contingent to demand its pound of flesh in return for its support of the Home Rule bill.

The Vorwaerts lets loose a torrent of abuse upon Joseph Chamberlain, who is denounced as the renegade leader of apostate Radicals whose only present object is obstruction to please their Tory allies. Mr. Chamberlain is depicted as an "ambitious demagog," the most disagreeable person in the present legislative squabble either inside or outside the House, and as "more Tory than the Tories themselves."

Work on the bill for the prevention, suppression or supervision of epidemic diseases by Imperial authority has not made satisfactory progress. The draft of the bill will be published to-day or to-morrow probably, and in the ordinary course of legislation the bill will not be passed before the middle of April. The delay has caused much adverse criticism among medical authorities on cholera, who have been urging constantly the necessity of immediate action.

Prof. Koch is said to have predicted last November in an official memorandum that cholera would reappear in Hamburg and other cities infected last fall during the first fortnight in next March, and his opinion has been fortified recently by the epidemic in Nietlehen, and the occasional deaths from cholera in Hamburg and Altona.

Unless the bill be rushed through the Bundesrath and Reichstag in panicky haste it is likely to become operative too late for the accomplishment of anything like prevention.

Most of the European powers have accepted the Government's invitation to an international conference concerning cholera. The conference will meet probably in six or eight weeks and will take steps toward international co-operation in checking the progress of the epidemic from country to country, while interfering as little as possible with the course of international trade and travel.

The St. Petersburg correspondent of The Koelnische Zeitung says that the defective work of the Russian small arms factories on the new small calibre rifles will delay for four years the re-arming of the Russian infantry. According to the understanding between the War Offices of Russia and France, he says, French factories were to make some 500,000 of the rifles and the Russian Government factories were to provide the rest, so that the deliveries should be completed simultaneously. France delivered her share of the rifles last summer. The Russian factories, however, have delivered up to date but 5000 rifles which would stand the test. The Russian War Office is making an investigation of the causes of the defectiveness of the work and is trying to fix the responsibility among the officials in charge.

HOME RULE BILL.

difficulty, What is full representation for Ireland?

In 1834 the House treated Ireland in a wise and liberal spirit by assigning 103 members to that country. That number was then beyond what, according to the calculations of population in this country, Ireland was entitled to, and it is claimed that, unhappily, the disparity has since been aggravated by a double process. The population of Great Britain has increased, while that of Ireland has diminished and has now reached a point that, whereas formerly entitled to 103 members, it would, according to this same ratio, now have 80.

There ought to be a general determination to interpret full representation as meaning representation according to existing population. Speaking of full representation then, I imply that the representation in the House from Ireland would be composed of 80 Irish gentlemen. Of course it follows that there would have to be an election.

These 80 members from Ireland in the House would probably be indisposed to recognize a commission given to 103 members, so when it had been determined that 80 was the proper number, we endeavored to arrange the schedule of the bill in such a manner that this Imperial representation would practically not clash with representation in the legislature at Dublin.

Now comes the greater difficulty, what voting power are these 80 members to have? Ireland is to be represented here fully.

That is my first postulate. My second postulate is that Ireland is to be invested with separate powers, subject, no doubt, to Imperial authority. Yet, still, as we must from experience practically separate a certain independent power, as has been done in other legislatures of the empire, Ireland is to be endowed with separate powers over Irish affairs. Then, the question before us is: Is she, or is she not, to vote so strongly upon matters purely British? I propose this question in the true parliamentary form: Aye, or No. There are reasons both ways.

We cannot cut them off in a manner perfectly clean and clear from these questions. We cannot find an absolutely accurate line of cleavage between questions that are Imperial questions and those that are Irish questions. [Cheers.]

Unless the Irish members are allowed to vote on all British questions they must have too little or too much, because there are questions which defy our efforts to arrange them with accuracy and precision on the proper side of the line as either English or Irish. We do not see the possibility of excluding them from one of the highest and most important functions of the House, viz.: that of determining the composition of the executive power.

A vote of confidence is a simple declaration, but may be otherwise. I do not see how it is possible to exclude Irish members from voting on that great subject.

Next, unless Irish members vote on all questions you break the Parliamentary tradition. The presence of 80 members with only limited powers of voting is a serious breach of that tradition, which, whether you resolve to face it or not, ought to be made the subject of most careful consideration.

Now come the reasons against the universal voting power. It is difficult to say: "Everything on that side Irish; everything on this side Imperial." That, I think, you cannot do. If you ask me for a proportion, I say nine-tenths, nineteen-twentieths perhaps ninety-nine one-hundredths, of the business of the Parliament can without difficulty be classed as Irish or Imperial. It would, however, be a great anomaly if these 80 Irish members should come here continually to intervene in questions purely and absolutely British. If some large question or controversy in British affairs should then come up, causing a deep and vital severing of the two great parties in this House, and the members of those parties knew that they could bring over 80 members from Ireland to support their views, I am afraid a case like that would open a possible door to wholesale, dangerous political intrigue. [Hear, hear.]

My colleagues found themselves not well able to face a contingency of that kind. They inserted in the bill limitations on the voting power of the Irish members to exclude them: (1) from voting on a bill or motion expressly confined to Great Britain; second, from voting on a tax not levied upon Ireland; third, from voting on a vote or appropriation of money otherwise than for the Imperial service; fourth, from voting on any motion or resolution exclusively affecting Great Britain.

The whole subject is full of thorns and brambles, but our object is the autonomy and self government of Ireland in all matters properly Irish. The Irish people certainly did not raise the difficulty to which I have just alluded—the retention of Irish members in the House. This is a secondary matter in their eyes and ought not to interfere with the principal aim. In face of feeling that a shade of uncertainty still hangs over the question of retention of the Irish members, we have affixed to the paragraph concerning this question the words: "Excepting and until Parliament shall determine the coming financial legislation." I wish to supply the keynote to the financial part of the legislation. That keynote is to be found in the provision included in our plans from the first, and wisely and generously acceded to by Ireland through her representatives, that there is to be but one system of legislation for all the kingdoms, as far as external things are concerned, that will be found to entail very important consequences.

It has guided us to the conclusion at which we have arrived, of unity of the commercial legislation for the three kingdoms. This includes customs and excise duties, postoffice and telegraphs. By adopting this keynote we can attain to the most valuable results and will be likely to avoid the clashing friction of agents of the Imperial and agents of the Irish Governments. We can make under cover of this proposal a larger and more liberal transfer to Ireland in the management of her own affairs than we could make if we proceeded on any other principle. We hope to escape in this way all collection in the interior of Ireland of any revenue whatever by Imperial authority. The principle to which we are bound to give effect in Ireland is, Ireland has to bear a fair share of the Imperial expenditure. [Hear, hear.]

The word "imperial" is defined in the schedule which gives the list of Imperial burdens. There are three modes in which this fair share may be apportioned. The first method is the lump sum payment adopted in 1886. This method, we thought, should disappear naturally from the new bill, for through the retention of Irish representation here Irish members will vote the Imperial expenditures. Consequently, it would seem strange under these circumstances to revert to the method of a lump sum.

Another method is what may simply be described as the method of a quota—that is to say that Ireland shall pay six per cent. or five per cent. or 4 per cent. on what you please of the Imperial expenditure, which shall be taken out of the common fund. She will be debited to that extent, and will have to pay it over from her own account to ours. If you fix the quota, and the quota is adequately elastic, should the Imperial expenditures swell, the principle of the quota would still secure the relative share to be contributed by Ireland.

But there is a third method, which one we adopt, that of deducting from the Irish revenues the amount due England. There is one of these revenues to which the greatest difficulty adheres. When explaining the subject in 1886 I pointed out that there was a large revenue locally received in Ireland, but really belonging to Great Britain. The principal of that revenue was within the excise department. With the advantage of the consideration which the inland revenue department has had since the former plan was produced, we get rid of the difficulty altogether as far as the inland revenue is concerned. We provide that revenue levied in Ireland shall be revenue really belonging to Ireland, that is revenue from goods consumed in Ireland. It is not so with the Customs. With the Customs there is a large debt from Ireland to this country. It is not so large as is involved in the case of excise, but still it comes up to several hundred thousands. If we adopted the method of a quota we should expose Irish finance to large and inconvenient shocks from changes introduced in English budgets. Imperial reasons also would perhaps make it necessary for us to do what we are, I think, very unwilling to do, viz., to give to Imperial officers a meddling and intervening power in relation to Irish affairs. [Hear, hear!]

The third plan is to appropriate a particular fund. Say this fund shall be taken by us and shall stand in acquittal of all obligations of Ireland for Imperial services. This fund will sweep away all the difficulties of calculation and intervention which might belong to the quota method.

Then we have the fund practically in our hands, the management of the customs revenue of Ireland, which must be British. Consequently we shall be receivers of a fund which will never go near the Irish exchequer. If it be deemed a fair and convenient arrangement there can be no question of handing it backwards and forwards. We should keep it and give Ireland a receipt in full instead of coming upon her for heavy payments from year to year.

Then, next, the Customs fund would be very nearly the right amount. I do not know what the House might consider the right amount. Judgments might fluctuate. Some might say four per cent., some five per cent., some a little more than five per cent. But the amount is this, £2,430,000 yearly gross. Sixty thousand pounds allowed for collection leaves £2,370,000 net. With the Imperial expenditure at £59,000,000 £2,370,000 is a sum that drops between a charge of four per cent. and a charge of five per cent.

The Irish members will observe that by that means everything of a practical nature we will hand over to them. Though the rates of excise and the post and telegraph rates will be a fixed amount, the authority and the whole control over them will be absolutely in the hands of Irish officers. The fund plan falls short of the exactitude of the quota plan. The latter method meets every exigency of peace and war; but this plan is not quite so exact.

Questions may arise such as: Are we assured we shall obtain from Ireland a fair share of assistance in a great Imperial emergency? I myself am bound to say that I think there is very little to fear from trusting the patriotism and liberality of the Irish Legislature. [Opposition cries of "Oh, oh," and cheers from the Government benches.]

We propose that Ireland shall take part of the constabulary charges amounting to £1,000,000. This would bring the Irish charges to £5,160,000. We propose that she shall receive against that the items I have put to her credit amounting to £5,660,000. Thus she will have a clear surplus of £500,000 with which to start on her mission.

I would ask you to contrast the present condition of the Irish people with what it was at the time of Swift when the Irish ascendancy Parliament begged to be admitted to the British Parliament and was refused, or with what it was at the beginning of the century immediately after the union when Irish voters were trooped to the polls for the simple purpose of recording their votes in order to return landlords to Parliament.

We have concluded that we have before us now a different state of things. Ireland has on her side the memory of vast victories earned by the sweat of labor, but really earned and recorded on her behalf. Ireland has mighty sympathies. She requires this larger and stronger island. She has obtained the suffrage of Scotland and the suffrage of Wales, and in the short space of seven years she has changed a majority of more than 200 against her in England to one-third that number.

She was stinted in franchise and means of representation. Now she possesses a most extended franchise with most perfect protection. Her remaining objects she has not yet attained to, but she looks forward to the attainment of them with more means in her hands.

One other source of strength she has—the moderation of her demands. [Hear, hear.] She has ever since 1886, if not before, but unequivocally and nationally since abandoned the whole argument that perhaps she was entitled to make on the subject of the Act of Union. She has asked you to save for yourselves every Imperial power. She has consented to accept the House of Commons and the universal supremacy of the Empire. In return she has asked you only that she have the management of her own affairs, which reason and justice, combined with the voice of her people, I hope, will soon move this nation to say soon shall be awarded her.

If this is to be the end of the matter I think dispassionate men would say, the sooner ended the better; the sooner we stamp the seal which will efface all former animosities and open the era of peace and good will, the sooner done the better.

But these are matters which human vision is hardly equal to penetrating. I must say, however, for my own part, that I never will and never can be a party to bequeathing to my country the continuance of this heritage of discord which has been handed down from generation to generation with hardly momentary intermission for seven centuries—this heritage of discord with all the evils that follow in its train.

I wish no part nor lot in that process. It would be misery for me if I had foregone or omitted in these closing years of my life any measure it was possible for me to take towards upholding and promoting the cause, which I believe to be the cause not of one party or one nation, but of all parties and all nations. To these nations viewing them as I do with their vast opportunities under a living union for power and happiness to these nations, I say: Let me entreat you. If it were my last breath I would so entreat you. Let the dead bury their dead and cast behind you former recollections of bygone years; cherish, love and sustain one another through all the vicissitudes of human affairs in times that are to come. [Prolonged Liberal cheers.]

Takes pleasure in announcing to his numerous customers and friends that he has now

COMPLETELY REMOVED

his Dry Goods Business from the old and antiquated store in Burnham's Block to his new and more central premises,

ROWSE'S OLD STAND.

We part from the old stand with regret. But it is not our fault that the trade is going up town. We see that it is going, and who can control the movements of trade? For our part, we think the sensible thing is to follow.

Being now comfortably settled in the centre of trade, we are fully prepared for business, and hope to be able to serve all our old customers and many more new ones.

The ladies are especially invited to call and look through our handsome new premises, where they will find us surrounded with the latest modern store improvements, increased shelf room, better light, and other accessories for the more effective display of our large and well assorted stock of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods.

BARGAINS as BIG and as REAL as ever. Some lines of goods slightly damaged by smoke to be sold for whatever they will bring.

CLEARING SALE

—OF—

MEN'S, YOUTHS' AND BOYS' SUITS AND OVERCOATS.

Big Reductions in the Price of all kinds of Ready-Made Overcoats.

We utterly annihilate Profit, entirely ignoring Cost, for the next Six weeks. It's like finding money. This sale will eclipse any offer of the entire season. It is the result of several causes—lateness of season, the over-stocked condition of our Overcoat Department, but mainly the necessity of turning our stock into money.

500 WINTER OVERCOATS.

The Cream of our $15 and $18 Overcoats go for $13.
Our $12 and $14 Ulsters go for $10.
Our $10 Black Worsted and Melton Overcoats go for $8.
Our $8 and $9 Overcoats go for $6.
Our $4.50 Overcoats go for $3.50.

We do this not for love of our customers, nor for fun; but because it's hard to sell Overcoats now—because we must sell them now or carry them over until next winter. Our regular prices, as you know, are fully 25 per cent. lower than Clothing is usually sold at, but to make this an unprecedented sale, we entirely ignore cost for the next six weeks. DROP IN AND SEE US. Shrewd buyers will shop early.

THE HOME RULE BILL.

BALFOUR SAYS IT IS NOT A PRACTICAL MEASURE.

He can Find No Reason for Giving Ireland Home Rule and at the Same Time Representation in the Imperial Parliament.

LONDON, Feb. 15.—In the House yesterday Right Hon. A. J. Balfour, the Conservative leader, asked Mr. Gladstone whether, under the provisions of the Home Rule Bill, the contributions from the Imperial Exchequer to local purposes in Ireland would be continued, and if they were not, then be desired to ask what security British taxpayers would have for advances under the Land Purchase Act.

Mr. Gladstone replied that contributions from the Imperial Exchequer for Irish local purposes would cease and the bill creates a first charge on the Irish consolidated fund in favor of the British Exchequer for repayment under the Land Purchase Act. It further provides a summary method to recover from the Irish Exchequer without the direct intervention of Irish authority any sums due to the British Exchequer.

Lord George Hamilton asked Mr. Gladstone when he proposed to introduce a bill dealing with the Irish land tenure.

Mr. Gladstone declined to commit the Government to any pledge to introduce a land bill. He said the Government certainly did not intend to run a land bill alongside the Home Rule Bill. The administration of the land laws would meantime follow the usual course in the hands of the local authorities.

Mr. Balfour then rose amid loud Unionist cheers and began his reply to Mr. Gladstone's speech of last evening. He said:

The House first of all has the right to enquire, Why is any bill, good or bad, required? This is a question which the Prime Minister has tried to answer on two famous occasions, once in 1886 and again last evening. Seven years ago he laid the whole strength of his argument upon the absence of social order from Ireland. He told the House then that the juries in Ireland could not be trusted to do their duty, and that evictions, just or unjust, were looked on with suspicion by the agrarian population. Why, you all know the present Chief Secretary for Ireland has told you recently that there never has been a time when rents were better paid. So great is the confidence in the manner in which Irish juries do their duty that the Chief Secretary would not even retain in the bill a provision for a change of venue, which his colleagues declared was no limitation of the liberty of the subject.

By universal admission there are two causes of trouble in Ireland. One, the agrarian condition of the country; the other, the fact that it is possible, owing to the unhappy history of the land question, for persons with a political object to serve to arouse criminal agitation throughout Ireland.

I do not care which of these alternatives is chosen. Whichever is chosen it does not point to the necessity of Home Rule, but rather to the impossibility of its adoption.

When the Reform Bill of 1884 was brought in the present Prime Minister was fairly warned what the consequences might be upon Irish representation, but with all that knowledge he declared that English majorities were not likely to be moved by Ireland's sending a largely augmented number of Home Rulers to Parliament. Perhaps the only sound constitutional way of assuring public opinion upon this point would be to take the votes of the House without too curiously enquiring from what country they came.

If they were going to adopt any principle let them adopt it in its entirety. Why were they to look to a Nationalist majority in Ireland without looking to a loyal majority in Ulster? By what right were they to proceed to cut off Ireland from the rest of the United Kingdom because a majority from an arbitrarily-selected area wanted Home Rule? When Protestant Ulster, with an absolutely unanimous voice, declared against the measure with aversion and abhorrence, then majorities ought not to count; they became mere local ebullitions of feeling. Ulster at least deserved exceptional treatment for which no provision appeared in the bill now placed before the House.

Proceeding to discuss the proposals of the bill in detail, Mr. Balfour contended that the plan outlined for dealing with the constabulary and with the civil servants of the Government would certainly lead to the infliction of great hardships.

Mr. Balfour next proceeded to criticise the plan of creating three constituencies of different forms in Ireland, sending members to the Irish Assembly to the Imperial Parliament and to an Irish second chamber. The adoption of such a scheme would, he declared, plunge affairs into a condition of hopeless entanglement. [Hear, hear.]

He did not think the proposal for a second chamber would stand the fire of free parliamentary criticism. Its professed object was the protection of minorities, but the minority sought to be protected was one concerned in the ownership of land.

The whole scheme was one fertile with danger. As to the exercise of a veto power by the Imperial Parliament Mr. Balfour held that such a provision would lead to a legislative deadlock in either the English or the Irish Parliament. [Hear, hear.]

It was idle for Mr. Gladstone to talk to them of the analogies of Colonial Legislatures. [Hear, hear.] The question now under discussion could not be argued as if Ireland in any respect resembled a colony. As to the question of Imperial supremacy they were told that supremacy would figure largely in the preamble of the bill, but what he desired to know was whether there would be in the bill itself a valid declaration that the British Parliament would have a real operative supremacy over the Irish Parliament. It had been said from the Irish benches that there would be Imperial supremacy on the understanding that an honorable bargain was entered into between the Imperial Government and the Irish Parliament. Such a supremacy would never be exercised. [Laughter.] Speaking for those honorable members who agreed with him in political matters, Mr. Balfour declared no such bargain was possible or would be made.
